Voters Choose Czajkowski And Thoren In Dist. 54

Incumbent School Board Pres. Gordon Thoren easily won reelection to one of two 2-year seats available on the Schaumburg Township Dist. 54 Board of Education.

During Saturday's election Schaumburg Township residents also seated Arlene Czajkowski, the only candidate who came close to Thoren's total 536 vote.

Mrs. Czajkowski was greeted as the apparent winner when she arrived at district administrative headquarters as the last precinct was being tallied. Final tallies showed her total vote to be 417.

"It's official now," said Mrs. Czajkowski who spent ten years working within the district active in PTA and committee work.

Mrs. Czajkowski joked with her new fellow board members present at the office and said "now instead of sitting in the back and making faces I can vote."

OTHER CANDIDATES who were unsuccessful in their bid for election and the total votes cast for them are as follows:

Connie Schoeld, 271; James A. Rogers, 212; Dr. Bernard J. Powell, 202, and Maurice G. Julius, 183.

The total vote cast in the district was light. The sum of all nine precincts was

Gordon T. Thoren

Arlene Czajkowski

1,831.

Precinct 8, the Thomas Dooley School in Schaumburg with a total of 302 votes cast, had the heaviest vote in the district.

In Precinct 8 Mrs. Czajkowski led with 157 votes, Dr. Powell received 114 and Thoren 111.

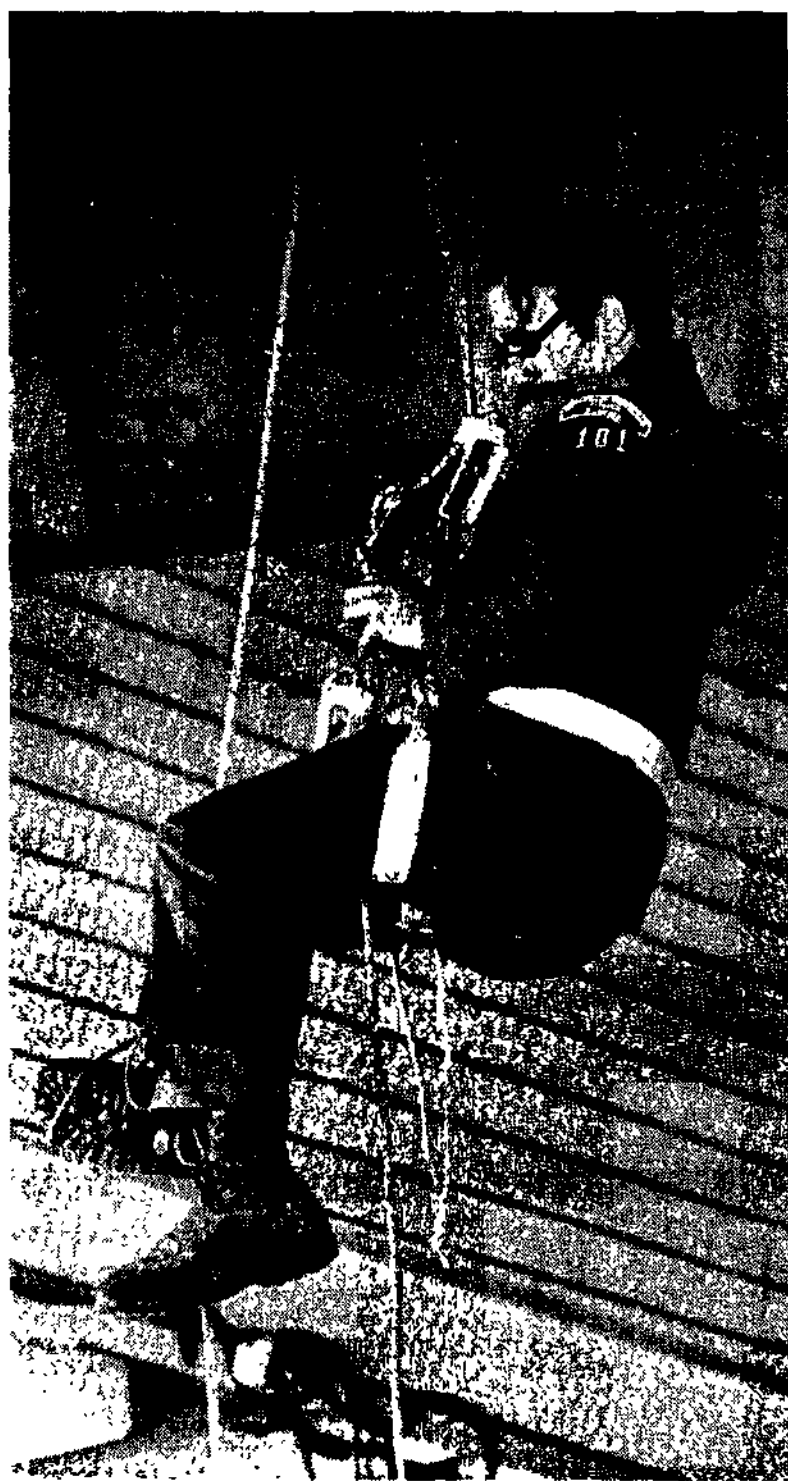

A Schaumburg United Party (SUP) letter sent out to members urged a vote for SUP member Dr. Powell.

The letter stated that if Powell were to fail in his bid for election Schaumburg would be without a voice on the board of education.

Thoren of Hoffman Estates, has held a seat on the school board for the past three years. He said he will continue to work hard on the board as he has in the past.

Mrs. Czajkowski, a resident of an unincorporated part of Schaumburg Township said she will strive to achieve those campaign promises she made.

Mrs. Czajkowski is in favor of a broader curriculum, especially on a junior high school level and wants to lengthen kindergarten sessions while eliminating the middle session.

5.5% Hikes Approved For Area Officials

Raises averaging 5.5 per cent have been granted for the 1972-73 school year to administrators in Schaumburg Township School Dist. 54. The increments were unanimously approved Thursday by the board of education.

Superintendent Wayne Schaible who is being paid $27,500 this year will receive $29,250 for 1972-73. In addition to the cash raise the district will provide Schaible with an auto in lieu of the mileage stipend he is receiving.

Central office administrator's annual salaries are: Milton Derr, assistant to the superintendent, $22,000; Ronald Ruble, assistant superintendent and in charge of personnel and transportation, $21,500; Kim Driggers, curriculum director, $19,250; Mildred McClure, director of special services, $19,650; Marvin Lapicola, business director, $22,900; and Joseph Vaso, superintendent of buildings and grounds, $17,800.

THE DISTRICT will also pay a total of $1,686.72 in health insurance payments and $437 in life insurance payment for the top seven administrators.

The following annual salaries for principals were also approved: James Binder, $18,975; James Briggs, $19,325; Curtis Casey, $18,275; Robert Cizek, $19,080; Leonard Cook, $15,275; Roger DuBois, $17,400; Carl Greenleaf, $19,150; Marvin Husby, $18,475; John Jones, $18,725; Darrel Little, $18,975; William Litwitz, $18,725; Susan McCann, $20,450; and Larry Olson, $18,650.

Others are: Bernard Osterberger, $17,725; Karl Plank, $18,425; Donald Stocker, $16,575; Richard Summerfield, $18,825; Frank Tavano, $18,825; Maynard Thomas, $18,850; Douglas Williams, $14,525; and Mary Zimmerman, $19,600.

Principals also will benefit by a $10,000 life insurance policy paid by the district. For all 21 principals the district will pay a total of $1,310 annual premium.

Consultants also received paid $10,000 life insurance benefits with the district's total payment for the six consultants totaling $374 annually.

Consultants salaries are: Carl Seltzer, $17,475; Len Sirotski, $16,775; Larry Small, $16,125; Gregory Gorski, $18,075; Jo Telford, $15,775; and Archie Wilson, $15,325.

Annual salaries for the two school psychologists are Robert Hanlon, $16,650 and Joanne McCarthy, $18,950.

3 Win Seats In Dist. 211

Glenn Hargrave, Anna Countryman and Bill Stenstrom will take their seats on the High School Dist. 211 board Thursday evening.

The three Palatine residents won election Saturday over six other candidates. Running unopposed for the unincorporated seat, Hargrave led with 945 votes. Mrs. Countryman received 732 votes, followed by Stenstrom with 708 votes.

All three candidates will serve a three-year term on the school board. None of the winners have run for public office before.

Hargrave, who didn't do any campaigning apart from appearing at "candidate nights," said he was quite surprised at the election results. "Since I was running unopposed, I thought the voters would pass me over."

Bill Stenstrom

Anna Countryman

HARWOOD, manager of the midwest region for Columbia Plywood Corp., ran on a platform citing his ability in the construction industry. He advocates a stronger vocational education program, local district control, and more communication in the schools. However he takes a stand against countywide busing and parochialism.

Also supporting a stronger vocational education program, Stenstrom said he plans to join the board with a positive attitude. "We have a marvelous program in the district now and I am looking forward to an even better program in the future."

Pointing to his experience as a personnel manager at Interstate National Corp., Stenstrom said he should be helpful in areas such as salary negotiations. He lists curriculum and counseling as top priorities. And he advocates greater cooperation between taxing districts and state aid to parochial schools.

An active volunteer in PTA and other civic groups, Mrs. Countryman also called for stronger vocational education and counseling programs. She said she is interested in studying proposals for a 12-month school year and district consolidation, and she called for the establishment of lay advisory boards.

Other vote totals showed Edward Krause, 231; Edwin Johnson, 298; Walter Anderson, 500; William Langbauer, 388; Ray Barber, 550; and Boyd Saum, 230.

PTA Will Sponsor An Ice Cream Social

Anne Fox PTA is sponsoring an ice cream social at the school, 1035 Parkview Dr., Hanover Park, April 14 at 7:30 p.m.

The evening will feature food and entertainment. Ice cream cups and pound cake will be sold as well as other foods.

Students will provide the entertainment from class experiences. Top athletes will perform a gymnastics routine. The fifth grade boys and girls chorus will sing and the final feature will be an arts demonstration with students working during the evening. Other children with exceptional art talent will have their work on display.

Preliminary U.S. Report On 'The Bridge' Favorable

by DOUG RAY

The U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare is in the midst of a study of The Bridge, an area youth services bureau, to determine whether its programs are adequate to combat juvenile problems.

A preliminary report is "very favorable" to The Bridge, according to Bill Underwood of the California Department of Youth Authority, who spearheaded the nationwide study that includes The Bridge.

"The Bridge looks pretty good" he said after receiving responses from teens and the communities it serves. The final report will be completed next November, he said.

The Bridge was one of three youth bureaus in Illinois chosen for the study to depict a cross section of the state, Underwood said. Rock Island and DeKalb also were included.

THE BRIDGE, 434½ E. Northwest Hwy., Palatine, is in its second year of operation, after being established as a pilot program in the state under the financial reins of the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission (ILEC) and Palatine Township. The Bridge received $23,591 from ILEC this year and $59,000 is proposed in the upcoming township budget.

It is supervised by the Palatine Township Youth Committee to serve youths in Palatine, Rolling Meadows, Arlington Heights and Inverness. The bureau also has a contract agreement with organizations in Hoffman Estates, Schaumburg and Barrington.

Special Bond Issue Parley Set Tonight

A special meeting to discuss the recently announced bond issue referendum will be held at 8 tonight by the Hoffman Estates Park District Board of Commissioners.

Among the items to be discussed will be the breakdown of the $675,000 allocated for neighborhood park improvement in the referendum.

The park board plans to prepare an itemized list of proposed park improvements and costs for each neighborhood park slated for development.

The meeting is in the Vogeley Park Administration Building, 650 W. Higgins Rd., Hoffman Estates.

This Morning In Brief

The Nation

A 29-year-old law enforcement student who was a helicopter pilot in Vietnam and amateur parachutist, was arrested on charges of hijacking a United Air Lines jet and bailing out with half a million dollars ransom. The suspect, Richard Floyd McCoy, Jr., was picked up by FBI agents at his home in Provo, Utah.

With fighting raging in South Vietnam, the Senate scheduled a key vote this week on a war powers bill that would require a president to obtain congressional consent before sending American troops into foreign conflict.

President Nixon rested at the Florida White House Sunday and made plans for a trip later this week to Canada that could produce a blunt talk about differences with Premier Pierre Elliott

Transport

An expert on the new campaign spending law said International Telephone and Telegraph Corp.'s controversial money pledge to help pay for the GOP National Convention would have been disclosed in detail had the law been in effect last year.

While Apollo 16's astronauts relaxed and went flying, their launch team made final preparations to begin the long countdown for next Sunday's flight to the moon.

About 80 nations, including the United States, the Soviet Union and Great Britain, will sign a treaty banning biological and toxic weapons at ceremonies in Washington, London, and Moscow.

The State

A spokesman at the Madison County sheriff's office said investigators were waiting for an autopsy report on a 13-year-old youth shot and killed from a passing car Saturday in Alton.

The World

The grave of former Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev became a major attraction for strollers observing Russia's orthodox Easter holiday. There was no monument marking the grave of Russia's one-time No. 1 atheist, but it was covered with a carpet of fresh flowers.

Roman Catholic priests in Belfast condemned from their pulpits the Irish Republican Army's terrorist tactics in Northern Ireland.

Security forces in a gun battle killed two of the assassins of Zanzibar President Sheikh Abeid Karume. The third of the four gunmen reportedly committed suicide.

The War

The South Vietnamese claimed their first major victories against the Communist offensive in a pair of tank battles on the northern front, but North Vietnamese forces drove government troops out of four bases and intensified the fighting near Saigon. Five Americans were killed in Communist attacks on two U.S. positions.

Seek Chicago Control Ouster

House Unit Petitioned For Takeover Of O'Hare

Almost 4,000 petition signatures from Northwest suburban residents, urging a state takeover of O'Hare Airport, were presented Friday to an investigative committee of the Illinois House of Representatives.

State Rep. Robert Juckett (R-4th) presented the petitions, gathered by the Maine Township Young Republicans, to Rep. Clarence Neff, (R-45th), chairman er in Park Ridge."

Some complained the planes fly too low — so low that when residents call the airport to complain, they can tell the control tower operator the serial number of the plane. "Some come in so low, you just duck from reflex."

One resident told of hearing the jet noise while she was recovering from an illness in Lutheran General hospital, in Park Ridge. A mother told the committee her son must take drugs to enable him to breathe the "kerosene" air around her home.

"If the dirt the planes dump will make my windows black, I can imagine what they are doing to the lungs of my kids," another said.

JAMES O'MERA, attorney who represents Park Ridge and Bensenville in a court case against O'Hare expansion, said the City of Chicago, not the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) is guilty of creating more noise and air pollution.

If Chicago wanted to, it could close O'Hare at night, O'Mera said. The city could also force airlines to use quieter jet engines, he said.

Juckett, who will seek reelection this November from a district which includes parts of Des Plaines, Mount Prospect and Arlington Heights, said his plan for a state airport authority would give suburbanites a voice in decisions about O'Hare expansion, and about creation of a third airport.

According to Juckett's proposals, in House Bills 155 and 156, introduced last January, the Chicago Airport Authority, whose members are appointed by Chicago Mayor Daley, would be replaced by a state authority, whose five members would be appointed by the Illinois Governor.

No more than three of the five would be members of the same political party, according to the Juckett plan. The members would be mostly suburbanites, he said.

The new authority would have power in eight Illinois counties: Cook, Lake, DuPage, McHenry, Kane, Will and Kane. If Indiana wished to join, two counties, Lake and Porter could be included.

The new airport authority would purchase O'Hare from the city. This could be done by selling revenue bonds to raise funds, and then repaying these from airline revenues, Juckett said.

JUCKETT, chairman of the influential House executive committee, said he expects "massive" Democratic opposition to his bills.

The first bill he introduced 'about O'Hare, which would have required the city to make its hearings about expansion known to suburban officials, was met with a walk-out by Democratic members of the transportation committee. The bill died, he said.

The transportation committee now has a majority of Republicans Juckett said, and if the committee approves of the bills, they may reach the House floor within two weeks.

In order to pass the General Assembly, the bills would require some Democratic support, he said.

of the House Transportation committee, during a hearing in Park Ridge on Juckett bills to replace Chicago control with a state airport authority.

Two members of the committee which will decide whether Juckett's bills will be brought to house vote, heard more than four hours of statements from suburban residents, and from school and municipal officials. Several committee members were unable to attend the hearing because of unexpected heavy snowfalls Friday, Rep. Neff said.

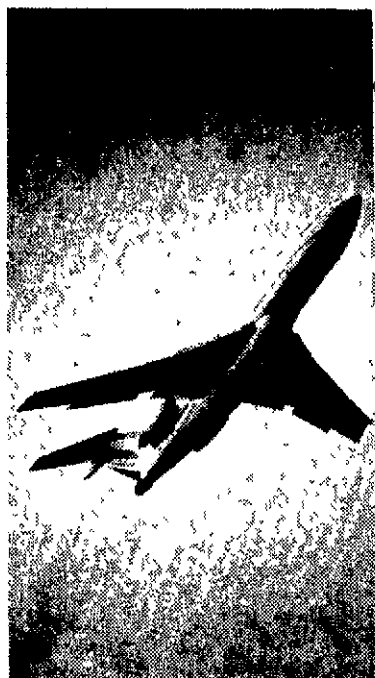

RESIDENTS TOLD of growing noise problems in once-quiet neighborhoods and of health problems caused by noise and air pollution.

One long-time Park Ridge resident told the committee about growing up in a tranquil, peaceful community, then becoming an adult where "it is suddenly impossible" to sit outside in the summer. We had to get central air-conditioning, and we have to leave our stormwindows on all year round. And we still hear it.

"My little girl comes screaming into the house with her hands over her ears. "I used to like gardening, but now I have to stay indoors, because of the noise."

One housewife said she kept count of the number of airplanes that fly over her home during the day. "They come every three minutes, 180 of them a day."

Another added "there is no silent pray-

Seek Chicago Control Ouster

House Unit Petitioned For Takeover Of O'Hare

Almost 4,000 petition signatures from Northwest suburban residents, urging a state takeover of O'Hare Airport, were presented Friday to an investigative committee of the Illinois House of Representatives.

State Rep. Robert Juckett (R-4th) presented the petitions, gathered by the Maine Township Young Republicans, to Rep. Clarence Neff, (R-45th), chairman in Park Ridge.

Some complained the planes fly too low — so low that when residents call the airport to complain, they can tell the control tower operator the serial number of the plane. "Some come in so low, you just duck from reflex."

One resident told of hearing the jet noise while she was recovering from an illness in Lutheran General hospital, in Park Ridge. A mother told the committee her son must take drugs to enable him to breathe the "kerosene" air around her home.

"If the dirt the planes dump will make my windows black, I can imagine what they are doing to the lungs of my kids," another said.

JAMES O'MERA, attorney who represents Park Ridge and Bensenville in a court case against O'Hare expansion, said the City of Chicago, not the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) is guilty of creating more noise and air pollution.

If Chicago wanted to, it could close O'Hare at night, O'Mera said. The city could also force airlines to use quieter jet engines, he said.

Juckett, who will seek reelection this November from a district which includes parts of Des Plaines, Mount Prospect and Arlington Heights, said his plan for a state airport authority would give suburbanites a voice in decisions about O'Hare expansion, and about creation of a third airport.

According to Juckett's proposals, in House Bills 155 and 156, introduced last January, the Chicago Airport Authority, whose members are appointed by Chicago Mayor Daley, would be replaced by a state authority, whose five members would be appointed by the Illinois Governor.

No more than three of the five would be members of the same political party, according to the Juckett plan. The members would be mostly suburbanites, he said.

The new authority would have power in eight Illinois counties: Cook, Lake, DuPage, McHenry, Kane, Will and Kane. If Indiana wished to join, two counties, Lake and Porter could be included.

The new airport authority would purchase O'Hare from the city. This could be done by selling revenue bonds to raise funds, and then repaying these from airline revenues, Juckett said.

JUCKETT, chairman of the influential House executive committee, said he expects "massive" Democratic opposition to his bills.

The first bill he introduced 'about O'Hare, which would have required the city to make its hearings about expansion known to suburban officials, was met with a walk-out by Democratic members of the transportation committee. The bill died, he said.

The transportation committee now has a majority of Republicans Juckett said, and if the committee approves of the bills, they may reach the House floor within two weeks.

In order to pass the General Assembly, the bills would require some Democratic support, he said.

of the House Transportation committee, during a hearing in Park Ridge on Juckett bills to replace Chicago control with a state airport authority.

Two members of the committee which will decide whether Juckett's bills will be brought to house vote, heard more than four hours of statements from suburban residents, and from school and municipal officials. Several committee members were unable to attend the hearing because of unexpected heavy snowfalls Friday, Rep. Neff said.

RESIDENTS TOLD of growing noise problems in once-quiet neighborhoods and of health problems caused by noise and air pollution.

One long-time Park Ridge resident told the committee about growing up in a tranquil, peaceful community, then becoming an adult where "it is suddenly impossible" to sit outside in the summer. We had to get central air-conditioning, and we have to leave our storm windows on all year round. And we still hear it.

"My little girl comes screaming into the house with her hands over her ears."

"I used to like gardening, but now I have to stay indoors, because of the noise."

One housewife said she kept count of the number of airplanes that fly over her home during the day "They come every three minutes, 180 of them a day."

Another added "there is no silent pray-

Between the Lines

How Do You Aid Failing Bus Line?

by NANCY COWGER

Times are hard for public transportation all over the country. Ironically, isn't it. Complaints rise from all sides about traffic congestion, super highways raping the landscape, pollution and dirt from motor traffic, the loss of clear blue skies to a cloudy haze and green growing things to concrete.

But all the while, people keep driving their own cars, building more roads, cutting trees and despoiling the landscape, while carefully plotting manicured "open space" where nature once provided open prairies.

The loss of bus service to Woodfield is a prime example of the contradiction between what man says and what he does. Residents of both Schaumburg and Hoffman Estates decry traffic jams at locations throughout the townships. Yet, when a bus is provided for a heavy traffic producer, with stops throughout the two villages, it cannot even recoup its expenses.

BUT THE BUS ROUTES' failure must be laid at the door of the bus company — not because the service was not good, but because not enough was done to promote its use. Persons who rode the line can say only good things about the service. One even described it as more of a taxi or limousine service than a bus route, since she found she could arrange for the bus to stop in front of her home.

But Schaumburg Transportation Co. did little or nothing to advertise. Leaflets could have been printed inexpensively to leave at the Woodfield information booth, grocery stores in the villages or the village halls. Signs identifying stops could have been installed along the routes. More could and should have been done to encourage bus use.

But laying blame is a useless gesture. The route is ended. Schaumburg's Mayor

Robert O. Atcher is making a constructive move in developing a plan to reinstate the service, although perhaps some points in the plan can be argued.

If Woodfield were to contribute to subsidize the system, as Atcher suggests, the mall could be pressured by other communities to do the same for them, and justifiably so. One also must question Woodfield's responsibility to subsidize the bus. Its employees work a variety of time schedules and many do not live in Hoffman Estates and Schaumburg. Unless the hours could be standardized, and employee residents of the village given enough incentive to use the bus, good business practices would oppose helping a failing bus route.

IF ANYONE HAS A responsibility to help the bus lines, it seems to be, the villages. It is village residents the routes are designed to serve. It is village government's responsibility to serve the residents, although not necessarily with public transportation.

But it would be difficult, for Hoffman Estates at least, to finance a subsidy. Depending on who you talk to, Schaumburg could easily afford it.

Why not seek federal or state mass transit funds for the two routes between the villages and the mall? Government officials have been heard to comment, "You can get any kind of grant you want, if you write a good enough application." While that may be an overstatement, it often seems the federal government has aid for almost any type pilot project municipalities can dream up.

If such government subsidy were found, either from local sources or those in Washington, D.C., it would be incumbent on the route operators to do a better job of winning customers. And with a little promotion, the route might become a paying operation.

Moats, Marier Win Harper Posts

Incumbent Larry Moats and Marilyn Marier won the Harper College Board of Trustees election by a wide margin.

Moats, of Mount Prospect, took the lead with an overwhelming 4,950 votes followed by Mrs. Marier, of Arlington Heights, with 3,544 votes.

Moats, an electrical contractor, was reelected to a second three-year term. Mrs. Marier's three-year term will be her first board experience.

Mount Prospect and Prospect Heights had the highest voter turnout in Dist. 512. Both communities showed strong support for Moats along with portions of Palatine and Barrington. Mrs. Marier, on the other hand, received fairly equal support from all of the precincts.

On hearing the election results, Mrs. Marier said she was "delighted and will

Larry Moats

Marilyn Marier

try not to disappoint the people who voted for me."

AN ACTIVE civic leader, Mrs. Marier has served on the League of Women Voters, Volunteer Service Bureau, Arlington Heights Historical Society and the Arlington Heights Cultural Commission.

Mrs. Marier advocates caution in long range planning, closer ties to the community and local-state cooperation. She is also interested in a campus cultural center, funded at least partially by private sources.

Moats stands on the same platform he took to the voters three years ago. He has called for greater communication between student-teacher groups and the board and between the college and the community. He contends communication is the answer to the polarization he sees on the campus today. He is also known for his lone stand against the salary hike granted college president Robert Lahti last fall.

Other election results include: Howard Pollard, 3,544, Le Roi Hutchings, 1526; Michael Huston, 1661; and Rochelle Veitch, 1140.

Glass Ready To Fight County Home Rule Taxes

The fight against Cook County's home rule powers and the three taxes enacted recently under those powers will move to the state legislative front this week.

State Rep. Bradley Glass, R-1st, has announced he will introduce a bill this week that would allow a recall vote on the county's home rule powers as early as next November. Current state law prohibits county voters from holding a recall election until 1975.

Glass made the announcement Thursday during a meeting in Prospect Heights at which he and three other area legislators received petitions with more than 3,000 names calling for a recall election as soon as possible on the county's home rule powers.

With Glass at the press conference were State Representatives Eugene Schlickman, David Regner and Robert Juckett. All indicated support of the legislation.

The signatures were collected by Northwest suburban area homeowners associations representing unincorporated areas. As well as the county's home rule powers, the groups are opposing three taxes the county enacted late last December under its home rule powers.

THE TAXES include one on vehicles in unincorporated areas, one on mobile homes and one on all new car sales. A suit has been filed against the tax on unincorporated area vehicles by the associations. The groups' attorneys are considering a similar suit against the mobile home tax. Several municipalities are challenging the new car tax in court.

"We hope to introduce the legislation (this) week," Glass said Thursday. He expressed optimism that it would be passed.

"I'm strongly in favor of home rule," Glass said. "But Cook County covers such a broad area and there are so many towns in the county that home rule is a farce."

Criticizing the three-year ban on voter reconsideration of the county's home rule powers, Glass said, "The state constitution is pretty clear when it says people should have the opportunity to vote home rule in or out."

Schlickman, who according to Glass will be one of his bill's cosponsors, said Thursday he thought the three-year ban could be removed quicker through judicial action than through legislation.

Schlickman sponsored the legislation that allowed the new constitution to be implemented. It included the three-year ban on voter recalls for home rule units. He supported the three-year ban at the time, saying that without it the legislation would never have been passed. According to Schlickman the Illinois Municipal League as well as many suburban mayors favor the ban. Even though he supported the legislation with the ban, he said Thursday the three-year prohibition on recalls is "clearly unconstitutional."

Urges Adoption Of New Reading Program Here

Mrs. Jo Telford, reading consultant for Schaumburg Township School Dist. 54 has urged adoption of a new district-wide reading program for pupils in fourth, fifth and sixth grades and abandonment of the present open court system for these grades.

The board of education members last Thursday were reluctant to act on her recommendations and referred the issue to further education committee discussion this Thursday.

Mrs. Telford stressed that the open court system, an innovative method that includes linguistics skill practice and literature content, is extremely desirable and working well in the lower primary grades. She wants open court used in those grades.

Her concern, which she said is shared by other teachers, is with the open court system in the intermediate grades. For those students in the lower 10 per cent bracket of reading ability, fourth, fifth and sixth grade reading becomes extremely difficult, she added.

She explained that after third grade, open court uses an unlimited vocabulary but no linguistic skill practice. Open court drops reading teaching skills and concentrates on unlimited vocabulary addition after third grade.

"For some students it becomes virtually impossible to read and the only way they can enjoy the text is for someone to read to them," she said.

Not all students are accomplished readers by the time they reach fourth grade and most require additional help to learn to read beyond third grade, she added.

THE PROPOSAL she urged for intermediate reading is the Ginn and Co. system, one of four tested by teachers and recommended by the education committee and teachers.

Mrs. Telford said the Ginn 360 reading system includes reading instruction, linguistics, creativity, psychology and literary analysis.

She said it is a comprehensive modern reading program divided into two levels that correspond with a pupil's reading ability not his grade placement. Teachers in the district recommend the Ginn program she added because it makes it easier to teach the child to read.

Board member Mrs. Diane Hart, Adam Jelen and George Lewin objected to a sweeping change in the present curriculum without any previous pilot testing of the method. The adoption of the program would cost approximately $30,000.

Lewis, demanded a guarantee from Mrs. Telford that Ginn 360 would produce better results than open court.

Mrs. Telford said no program could carry such a guarantee but added that this system is one the teachers believe in and it fulfills the districts needs.

PRESIDENT GORDON Thoren suggested the issue go to committee when it became apparent members were not ready for a decision and wanted further references. Mrs. Telford was unable to supply. Neighboring districts who use Ginn will be asked for comment before Thursday's meeting.

Thoren said any board member and district resident concerned about the proposal should attend the education committee meeting this Thursday.

The board plans to meet at 8 p.m. to canvass votes from the board of education election held Saturday. The education committee meeting will follow.

S & H Golden Group To See 'Angel Street'

The S & H Golden Group, a recently formed social club for residents aged 55 and over, will hold its monthly gathering at 3 p.m. Wednesday at the Tefft Junior High School in Streamwood.

Featured will be a Tri-Village Theatre Guild production of "Angel Street."

The Schaumburg Park District bus will pick up and return home residents. Information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Harlo Sartorius at 894-4794 or the Schaumburg Park District office, 894-4680. The group is sponsored by the park district.

Schaumburg High Pops Concert Set April 28

Selections ranging from popular tunes to marches and light classical works will highlight the second annual Pops Concert presented by the Schaumburg High School Bands at 8 p.m. April 28.

The concert band and wind ensemble will perform during the concert. Both groups are under the direction of Rollin R. Potter.

Dr. Thomas Fabish, director of bands at Chicago's DePaul University, will be guest conductor.

Elizabeth Baltas, a junior, will be featured soloist.

Part Of Parcel To Be Condemned

MSD Foils Plan For Condominiums

Developers of a 35-acre parcel at Algonquin and Quentin roads failed to reckon with the Metropolitan Sanitary District (MSD) and consequently appeared a third time before the Schaumburg Zoning Board of Appeals Wednesday.

The developers, Erich Kunze of Des Plaines and Palatine Service Co., want to erect 422 condominium ownership units at the site.

They received original zoning for 1,020 units on the entire parcel in 1969, were allowed a revised site plan for 716 units in 1971 and then were recently told by MSD that 16 acres in the parcel are to be condemned to allow construction of a flood control dam, part of the Upper Salt Creek Watershed Plan. The MSD also will use adjoining land that leaves 18 acres for the development.

SINCE SCHAUMBURG does not allow Planned Unit Development on less than 20 acres without a variance, the developers were obliged to make the third appearance.

Atty. Robert Heinze, representing the developers, said the new site plan will be a mixture of one-, two- and three-bedroom units with provisions for 50 per cent open space.

The request was continued to April 26. Zoning board chairman Russell Parker requested the developers try to work in more open space, clarify the size of the commercial building proposed for the property, give consideration to decreasing the density and provide layouts of the proposed underground parking facilities.

The prospective dam, called structure No. 2, will be built approximately 600 feet west of Quentin Road, crossing a small stream which is an "arm" of Salt Creek, said Richard Lanyon, MSD flood control engineer.

THE DAM WILL create a "permanent lake" of about 23 acres, he said. The lake will average out to about three feet deep, he added, though there will be a special excavation where it will deepen to 10 feet to provide a winter haven for fish it is to be stocked with, he said.

As presently planned, the lake site is to be developed recreationally by the Palatine Park District. The MSD will purchase or obtain flood control options on about 100 acres at the site for a flood plain, Lanyon said.

Fred Hall, director of the Palatine Park District, said the district has no definite plans for the site. Depending on the final terrain plans, the site may include picnic facilities with an open space area for such activities as tennis, softball, model airplane flying and other activities.

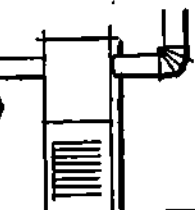

Hall said the recreation development will be financed and maintained by the Palatine Park District. Construction of the dam will be financed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture through its Soil Conservation Service, Lanyon said. Construction costs are estimated at $130,000.

The MSD will finance about $1.5 million of land acquisition for the project, Lanyon said. The date of construction is indefinite pending federal approval, he added.

Between the Lines

How Do You Aid Failing Bus Line?

by NANCY COWGER

Times are hard for public transportation all over the country.

Irony, isn't it. Complaints rise from all sides about traffic congestion, super highways rapping the landscape, pollution and dirt from motor traffic, the loss of clear blue skies to a cloudy haze and green growing things to concrete.

But all the while, people keep driving their own cars, building more roads, cutting trees and despoiling the landscape, while carefully plotting manicured "open space" where nature once provided open prairies.

The loss of bus service to Woodfield is a prime example of the contradiction between what man says and what he does. Residents of both Schaumburg and Hoffman Estates decry traffic jams at locations throughout the townships. Yet, when a bus is provided for a heavy traffic producer, with stops throughout the two villages, it cannot even recoup its expenses.

BUT THE BUS ROUTES' failure must be laid at the door of the bus company — not because the service was not good, but because not enough was done to promote its use. Persons who rode the line can say only good things about the service. One even described it as more of a taxi or limousine service than a bus route, since she found she could arrange for the bus to stop in front of her home.

But Schaumburg Transportation Co. did little or nothing to advertise. Leaflets could have been printed inexpensively to leave at the Woodfield information booth, grocery stores in the villages or the village halls. Signs identifying stops could have been installed along the routes. More could and should have been done to encourage bus use.

But laying blame is a useless gesture. The route is ended. Schaumburg's Mayor

Robert O. Atcher is making a constructive move in developing a plan to reinstate the service, although perhaps some points in the plan can be argued.

If Woodfield were to contribute to subsidize the system, as Atcher suggests, the mall could be pressured by other communities to do the same for them, and justifiably so. One also must question Woodfield's responsibility to subsidize the bus. Its employees work a variety of time schedules and many do not live in Hoffman Estates and Schaumburg. Unless the hours could be standardized, and employee residents of the village given enough incentive to use the bus, good business practices would oppose helping a failing bus route.

IF ANYONE HAS A responsibility to help the bus lines, it seems to be, the villages. It is village residents the routes are designed to serve. It is village government's responsibility to serve the residents, although not necessarily with public transportation.

But it would be difficult, for Hoffman Estates at least, to finance a subsidy. Depending on who you talk to, Schaumburg could easily afford it.

Why not seek federal or state mass transit funds for the two routes between the villages and the mall? Government officials have been heard to comment, "You can get any kind of grant you want, if you write a good enough application." While that may be an overstatement, it often seems the federal government has aid for almost any type pilot project municipalities can dream up.

If such government subsidy were found, either from local sources or those in Washington, D.C., it would be incumbent on the route operators to do a better job of winning customers. And with a little promotion, the route might become a paying operation.

Moats, Marier Win Harper Posts

Incumbent Larry Moats and Marilyn Marier won the Harper College Board of Trustees election by a wide margin.

Moats, of Mount Prospect, took the lead with an overwhelming 4,950 votes followed by Mrs. Marier, of Arlington Heights, with 3,544 votes.

Moats, an electrical contractor, was reelected to a second three-year term. Mrs. Marier's three-year term will be her first board experience.

Mount Prospect and Prospect Heights had the highest voter turnout in Dist. 512. Both communities showed strong support for Moats along with portions of Palatine and Barrington. Mrs. Marier, on the other hand, received fairly equal support from all of the precincts.

On hearing the election results, Mrs. Marier said she was "delighted and will try not to disappoint the people who voted for me."

AN ACTIVE civic leader, Mrs. Marier has served on the League of Women Voters,

Volunteer Service Bureau, Arlington Heights Historical Society and the Arlington Heights Cultural Commission.

Mrs. Marier advocates caution in long range planning, closer ties to the community and local-state cooperation. She is also interested in a campus cultural center, funded at least partially by private sources.

Moats stands on the same platform he took to the voters three years ago. He has called for greater communication between student-teacher groups and the board and between the college and the community. He contends communication is the answer to the polarization he sees on the campus today. He is also known for his lone stand against the salary hike granted college president Robert Lahti last fall.

Marilyn Marier

Other election results include: Howard Pollard, 3,544, Le Roi Hutchings, 1,925; Michael Huston, 1,661; and Rochelle Veitch, 1,140.

Glass Ready To Fight County Home Rule Taxes

The fight against Cook County's home rule powers and the three taxes enacted recently under those powers will move to the state legislature from this week.

State Rep. Bradley Glass, R-1st, has announced he will introduce a bill this week that would allow a recall vote on the county's home rule powers as early as next November. Current state law prohibits county voters from holding a recall election until 1975.

Glass made the announcement Thursday during a meeting in Prospect Heights at which he and three other area legislators received petitions with more than 3,000 names calling for a recall election as soon as possible on the county's home rule powers.

With Glass at the press conference were State Representatives Eugene Schlickman, David Regner and Robert Juckett. All indicated support of the legislation.

The signatures were collected by Northwest suburban area homeowners associations representing unincorporated areas. As well as the county's home rule powers, the groups are opposing three taxes the county enacted late last December under its home rule powers.

THE TAXES include one on vehicles in unincorporated areas, one on mobile homes and one on all new car sales. A suit has been filed against the tax on unincorporated area vehicles by the associations. The groups' attorneys are considering a similar suit against the mobile home tax. Several municipalities are challenging the new car tax in court.

"We hope to introduce the legislation (this) week," Glass said Thursday. He expressed optimism that it would be passed.

"I'm strongly in favor of home rule," Glass said. "But Cook County covers such a broad area and there are so many towns in the county that home rule is a farce."

Criticizing the three-year ban on voter reconsideration of the county's home rule powers, Glass said, "The state constitution is pretty clear when it says people should have the opportunity to vote home rule in or out."

Schlickman, who according to Glass will be one of his bill's cosponsors, said Thursday he thought the three-year ban could be removed quicker through judicial action than through legislation.

Schlickman sponsored the legislation that allowed the new constitution to be implemented. It included the three-year ban on voter recalls for home rule units. He supported the three-year ban at the time, saying that without it the legislation would never have been passed. According to Schlickman the Illinois Municipal League as well as many suburban mayors favor the ban. Even though he

Urges Adoption Of New Reading Program Here

Mrs. Jo Telford, reading consultant for Schaumburg Township School Dist. 54 has urged adoption of a new district-wide reading program for pupils in fourth, fifth and sixth grades and abandonment of the present open court system for these grades.

The board of education members last Thursday were reluctant to act on her recommendations and referred the issue to further education committee discussion this Thursday.

Mrs. Telford stressed that the open court system, an innovative method that includes linguistics skill practice and literature content, is extremely desirable and working well in the lower primary grades. She wants open court used in those grades.

Her concern, which she said is shared by other teachers, is with the open court system in the intermediate grades. For those students in the lower 10 per cent bracket of reading ability, fourth, fifth and sixth grade reading becomes extremely difficult, she added.

She explained that after third grade, open court uses an unlimited vocabulary but no linguistic skill practice. Open court drops reading teaching skills and concentrates on unlimited vocabulary addition after third grade.

"For some students it becomes virtually impossible to read and the only way they can enjoy the text is for someone to read to them," she said.

Not all students are accomplished readers by the time they reach fourth grade and most require additional help to learn to read beyond third grade, she added.

THE PROPOSAL she urged for intermediate reading is the Ginn and Co. system, one of four tested by teachers and recommended by the education committee and teachers.

Mrs. Telford said the Ginn 360 reading system includes reading instruction, linguistics, creativity, psychology and literary analysis.

She said it is a comprehensive modern reading program divided into two levels that correspond with a pupil's reading ability not his grade placement. Teachers in the district recommend the Ginn program she added because it makes it easier to teach the child to read.

Board member Mrs. Diane Hart, Adam Jelen and George Lewin objected to a sweeping change in the present curriculum without any previous pilot testing of the method. The adoption of the program would cost approximately $30,000.

Lewis, demanded a guarantee from Mrs. Telford that Ginn 360 would produce better results than open court.

Mrs. Telford said no program could carry such a guarantee but added that this system is one the teachers believe in and it fulfills the districts needs.

PRESIDENT GORDON Thoren suggested the issue go to committee when it became apparent members were not ready for a decision and wanted further references Mrs. Telford was unable to supply. Neighboring districts who use Ginn will be asked for comment before Thursday's meeting.

Thoren said any board member and district resident concerned about the proposal should attend the education committee meeting this Thursday.

The board plans to meet at 8 p.m. to canvass votes from the board of education election held Saturday. The education committee meeting will follow.

S &amp; H Golden Group To See 'Angel Street'

The S & H Golden Group, a recently formed social club for residents aged 55 and over, will hold its monthly gathering at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Tefft Junior High School in Streamwood.

Featured will be a Tri-Village Theatre Guild production of "Angel Street."

The Schaumburg Park District bus will pick up and return home residents. Information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Harlo Sartorius at 894-4794 or the Schaumburg Park District office, 894-4660. The group is sponsored by the park district.

Schaumburg High Pops Concert Set April 28

Selections ranging from popular tunes to marches and light classical works will highlight the second annual Pops Concert presented by the Schaumburg High School Bands at 8 p.m. April 28.

The concert band and wind ensemble will perform during the concert. Both groups are under the direction of Rollin R. Potter.

Dr. Thomas Fabish, director of bands at Chicago's DePaul University, will be guest conductor.

Elizabeth Baltas, a junior, will be featured soloist.

MSD Fails Plan For Condominiums

Developers of a 35-acre parcel at Algonquin and Quentin roads failed to reckon with the Metropolitan Sanitary District (MSD) and consequently appeared a third time before the Schaumburg Zoning Board of Appeals Wednesday.

The developers, Erich Kuntze of Des Plaines and Palatine Service Co., want to erect 422 condominium ownership units at the site.

They received original zoning for 1,020 units on the entire parcel in 1959, were allowed a revised site plan for 716 units in 1971 and then were recently told by MSD that 16 acres in the parcel are to be condemned to allow construction of a flood control dam, part of the Upper Salt Creek Watershed Plan. The MSD also will use adjoining land, that leaves 18 acres for the development.

SINCE SCHAUMBURG does not allow Planned Unit Development on less than 20 acres without a variance, the developers were obliged to make the third appearance.

Atty. Robert Heinze, representing the developers, said the new site plan will be a mixture of one-, two- and three-bedroom units with provisions for 50 per cent open space.

The request was continued to April 26. Zoning board chairman Russell Parker requested the developers try to work in more open space, clarify the size of the commercial building proposed for the property, give consideration to decreasing the density and provide layouts of the proposed underground parking facilities.

The prospective dam, called structure No. 2, will be built approximately 600 feet west of Quentin Road, crossing a small stream which is an "arm" of Salt Creek, said Richard Lanyon, MSD flood control engineer.

THE DAM WILL create a "permanent lake" of about 23 acres, he said. The lake will average out to about three feet deep, he added, though there will be a special excavation where it will deepen to 10 feet to provide a winter haven for fish it is to be stocked with, he said.

As presently planned, the lake site is to be developed recreationally by the Palatine Park District. The MSD will purchase or obtain flood control options on about 100 acres at the site for a flood plain, Lanyon said.

Fred Hall, director of the Palatine Park District, said the district has no definite plans for the site. Depending on the final terrain plans, the site may include picnic facilities with an open space area for such activities as tennis, softball, model airplane flying and other activities.

Hall said the recreation development will be financed and maintained by the Palatine Park District.

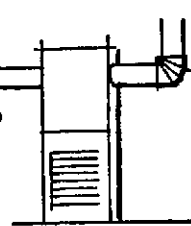

Construction of the dam will be financed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture through its Soil Conservation Service, Lanyon said. Construction costs are estimated at $130,000.

The MSD will finance about $1.5 million of land acquisition for the project, Lanyon said. The date of construction is indefinite pending federal approval, he added.

Graveyards Falling Victim To Urbanization

Land Loss Making 'High-Rise' Cemeteries Necessary

by DOUG RAY

The huge marble headstones, rolling and endless green and serenity of traditional cemeteries are disappearing. And the change in metropolitan cemeteries is less by choice than by necessity.

Graveyards are falling victim to the sweeping hand of urbanization. Many of them cannot expand anymore because surrounding property is being depleted by housing developments and industries and fast-moving highways.

"The land is being used up," said J. M. Teschke, vice president of Memory Gardens Cemetery and Mausoleum in Arlington Heights. "New burial techniques are necessary."

Memory Gardens is using a "double-crypt" burial, where one cement crypt is built on top of another to preserve available land. The two crypts are separated by a cement partition, Teschke said.

"We can't go out anymore so we have to go up," the cemetery official explained. "The sky is the limit."

IN NASHVILLE, Tenn., Teschke reported, "they are 20-stories high," adding that Arlington Heights village ordinances limit the height of structures (mausoleums) to four stories. "But that's going to have to change too."

He cited statistics that 1,000 persons a week die in the Chicago area and without proper use of land "there won't be any left. It can't be reproduced and the old-type customs will be forced to change."

He likened the multi-level burial to the dated attitude toward condominiums in the suburbs. "They didn't want condominiums to be built on Old Orchard Country Club a few years ago," he said, "but now they are there. The same thing will probably happen here."

The double-crypt burial at Memory Gardens is not only used by married couples. "We have single men and women buying them because it's cheaper," Teschke said.

The cost of a single gravesite at the Arlington Heights cemetery is between $75 and $825, while the double cryptorium is $715.

PARTLY BECAUSE of rising land value and its limited supply, the price of burial ground is increasing 10 per cent each year. Teschke predicts that 20 years from now Memory Gardens will be completely utilized, unless more over-ground burial is used.

In 1949, when Teschke joined the Memory Gardens staff, he said Arlington Heights had a population of 6,800. Today there are nearly 70,000 residents. "Burial is the law of supply and demand."

Memory Gardens is hemmed in on all sides and the purchase of additional land is not feasible, according to Teschke, who said villages frown on massive cemetery land because full taxes are not received.

He added that cemetery officials are taking steps to retain "as much green area as possible. Someday we may have the only green in town."

John Philbin, executive director of the Chicago Catholic Archdiocese, said "there is a big push for conservation of land . . . there seems to be this land hunger" by developers.

Philbin added that Midwesterners "are used to all of the land" and may be unaware that much of it is being developed. "In the east, they know how scarce the land is. Multi-burial is common there," he said.

Although the Catholic Church sanctions double burials, Philbin said, the majority of people are not using it thus far at the 37 Chicago-area cemeteries he supervises.

PATRICK QUINN, also a Catholic cemetery official, said "sections are being developed differently to conserve the land." He said larger sections of property are being sold to eliminate the number of roadways. "It used to be one-acre sections and now it is five, six or eight acres."

The older the cemetery, the more common multi-interments have become, he said. "At the Calvary Cemetery in Evanston there are approximately 60 per cent" double burials. Calvary Cemetery, which is more than 100 years old, has removed greenhouses to provide more land for burials.

The large shrines are being transformed to conserve space, he said. "A central religious feature is now used, with small lawn markers. The traditional family plot with large markers is less common."

A mausoleum taking four acres may accommodate 30,000 interments, two to four times more burials than the traditional cemetery, Quinn said.

The 140-acre Shalom Memorial Park near Palatine was purchased in 1955, an Herschel Auerbach, cemetery director, said "we'd have problems getting the land today. It would be very difficult and very costly."

PLANS ARE ON the drawing board for Shalom's first mausoleum to conserve space at the cemetery. "It gives us an opportunity to use less space and more interments. We can go up six or seven high," he said, adding that "people are very receptive to the concept."

About half of the lots at the adjacent Randhill Park Cemetery may be using double interments in future years, Auerbach said, although there are none there now.

Only level memorials are allowed, Auerbach said, to make the graveyard look more like "a park or country estate rather than coldness." He added that the large tombstones "take up a lot of land" and are not practical anymore because the cemetery property is extremely valuable.

MAUSOLEUMS ARE BECOMING commonplace in the Northwest suburbs, where much of the available land for cemetery expansion is being purchased by developers. Double burials also are being employed to conserve land and the elaborate burial markers may be a relic of the past because of their size. A Memory Gardens Cemetery and Mausoleum official looks over one of the mausoleums in Arlington Heights.

Pre-addressed Labels Helpful On Tax Forms

Many taxpayer errors, particularly those that delay refunds, can be eliminated by using the pre-addressed label on the tax package received in the mail. Peel the label from the tax package and place it on your Form 1040.

Income tax returns with labels can be quickly identified and processed since they contain necessary identifying information.

If your name or address has changed, make the necessary corrections on the label and lightly strike through the wrong pre-printed information. If you have a refund due, this will help insure delivery of the check to the correct address.

Taxpayers should also be certain that their correct Social Security number is entered on the label before they file their return.

The filing deadline for 1971 tax returns is April 17.

Although the Catholic Church sanctions double burials, Philbin said, the majority of people are not using it thus far at the 37 Chicagoland cemeteries he supervises.

PATRICK QUINN, also a Catholic cemetery official, said "sections are being developed differently to conserve the land." He said larger sections of property are being sold to eliminate the number of roadways. "It used to be one-acre sections and now it is five, six or eight acres."

The older the cemetery, the more common multi-interments have become, he said. "At the Calvary Cemetery in Evanston there are approximately 60 per cent" double burials. Calvary Cemetery, which is more than 100 years old, has removed greenhouses to provide more land for burials.

The large shrines are being transformed to conserve space, he said. "A central religious feature is now used, with small lawn markers. The traditional family plot with large markers is less common."

A mausoleum taking four acres may accommodate 30,000 interments, two to four times more burials than the traditional cemetery, Quinn said.

The 140-acre Shalom Memorial Park near Palatine was purchased in 1955, an Herschel Auerbach, cemetery director, said "we'd have problems getting the land today. It would be very difficult and very costly."

PLANS ARE ON the drawing board for Shalom's first mausoleum to conserve space at the cemetery. "It gives us an opportunity to use less space and more interments. We can go up six or seven high," he said, adding that "people are very receptive to the concept."

About half of the lots at the adjacent Randhill Park Cemetery may be using double interments in future years, Auerbach said, although there are none there now.

Only level memorials are allowed, Auerbach said, to make the graveyard look more like "a park or country estate rather than coldness." He added that the large tombstones "take up a lot of land" and are not practical anymore because the cemetery property is extremely valuable.

MAUSOLEUMS ARE BECOMING commonplace in the Northwest suburbs, where much of the available land for cemetery expansion is being purchased by developers. Double burials also are being employed to conserve land and the elaborate burial markers may be a relic of the past because of their size. A Memory Gardens Cemetery and Mausoleum official looks over one of the mausoleums in Arlington Heights.

Pre-addressed Labels Helpful On Tax Forms

Many taxpayer errors, particularly those that delay refunds, can be eliminated by using the pre-addressed label on the tax package received in the mail. Peel the label from the tax package and place it on your Form 1040.

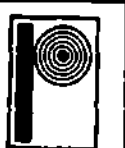

Income tax returns with labels can be quickly identified and processed since they contain necessary identifying information.

If your name or address has changed, make the necessary corrections on the label and lightly strike through the wrong pre-printed information. If you have a refund due, this will help insure delivery of the check to the correct address.

Taxpayers should also be certain that their correct Social Security number is entered on the label before they file their return.

The filing deadline for 1971 tax returns is April 17.

Cut Heart Attack Risk Factors

(Editor's Note: This is second of a series of articles based on the new book, "The Doctors' Save-Your-Heart Diet," by Aileen Claire, NEA Food Editor, and David Hendin, NEA Science Editor, published by Award Books.)

(Second of a Series.)
by AILEEN CLAIRE and DAVID HENDIN

NEW YORK — Some 3.1 million American adults between 18 and 79 years of age had definite coronary heart disease, according to the National Health Examination Survey of 1960 to 1962. Furthermore, an additional 2.4 million had suspected coronary heart disease.

Combined, these two groups represented about 5 per cent of the population. Of Americans younger than 65 years, it was estimated that nearly 1.8 million had coronary heart disease and 1.6 million were suspected of having the disease.

The Inter-Society Commission on Heart Disease, a government-sponsored group, has recommended basic changes in the American diet to help cut down on coronary heart disease in this country. The Doctors' Save Your Heart Diet is based upon these findings.

Of the 600,000 deaths due to heart disease each year in the United States, some 165,000 are "premature" or occurring in persons younger than 65. There is a greater toll among men than women by three to one.

"A North American man has about one chance in five of developing clinical coronary heart disease before age 60, mostly in the form of myocardial infarction (heart attack). About 25 per cent of those experiencing a first premature heart attack die within three hours of onset of symptoms, often prior to hospitalization and before medical care can be obtained. Another 10 per cent die within weeks after their attack," the ISCHD reported.

"THESE FACTS strongly indicate that major progress in controlling atherosclerotic diseases is possible only by primary prevention. This must be the main strategic thrust of a national effort to control coronary heart disease during the years ahead," the report concluded.

A number of risk factors for coronary heart disease have been identified. These include a diet that is regularly high in saturated fat, cholesterol and calories; high blood pressure; cigarette smoking; diabetes; obesity; sedentary living; psychosocial tensions, and high levels of fatty materials called lipids in the blood serum. Furthermore, a family history of premature atherosclerotic disease is also a risk factor.

The Doctors' Save-Your-Heart Diet contains many recipes designed to help reduce the risk of heart disease. Here are two of them:

SPICED WHIPPED SQUASH

- 2 medium acorn squash
- 1/3 cup orange juice
- 2 tablespoons diet margarine
- 2 tablespoons light brown sugar
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1/2 teaspoon grated orange peel
- 1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- 1/8 teaspoon ground cloves
- 1/8 teaspoon ground nutmeg

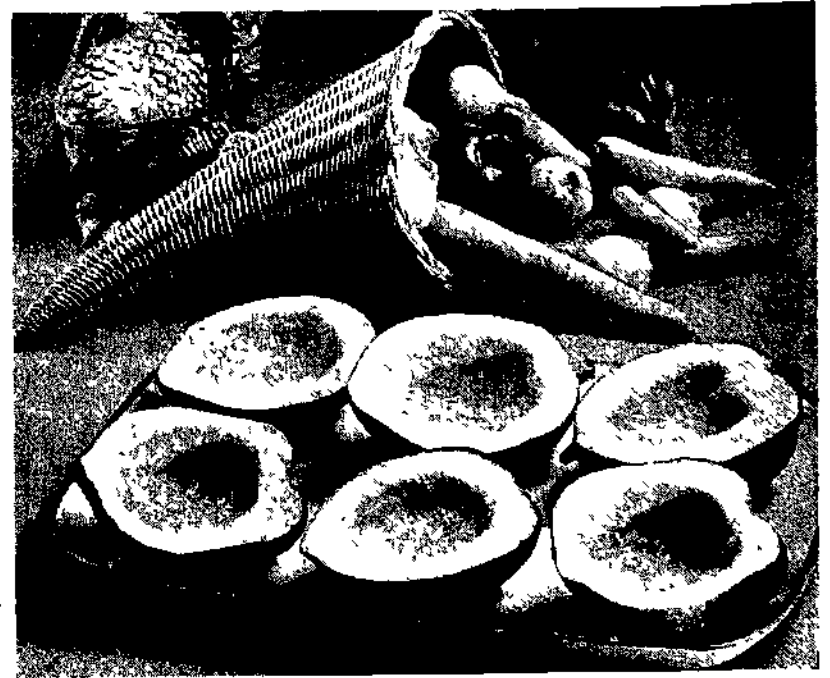

Split squash and remove seeds. Place cut side down on greased baking sheet. Bake in a hot (400 degrees) oven 30 minutes or until done. Scoop out squash. Combine squash in mixing bowl with orange juice, diet margarine, brown sugar, salt, orange peel, cinnamon, cloves and nutmeg. Whip until smooth and well-blended. Makes 4 servings.

ARTICHOKE HEARTS EN BROCHETTE

- 1 (9-ounce) package frozen artichoke hearts (large hearts cut in half)
- 1 large green pepper, cut in 16 pieces
- 24 cherry tomatoes
- 1/2 cup (1 stick) diet margarine
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon dill weed
- 1/2 teaspoon curry powder
- Hot cooked rice

Cook artichoke hearts and green pepper pieces according to package cooking directions for artichokes. Using 5-inch skewers, alternate vegetables, using about 3 pieces of artichoke, 3 tomatoes and 2 pieces of green pepper per skewer. Place in an oblong baking dish in a saucepan, melt margarine. Add lemon juice, salt, dill weed and curry powder. Pour lemon-margarine mixture over vegetables. Heat in a moderate (350 degrees) oven about 15 to 20 minutes, or until thoroughly heated. Serve vegetables over rice with lemon-margarine mixture. Makes 8 servings.

New Program A Year In The Making

St. Viator Tries 'Individual Learning'

Education is taking on a new dimension at St. Viator High School in Arlington Heights.

Although the same courses will be taught next fall, the emphasis will change. Students will choose the emphasis they want from among science and technology, humanities, and man and his social relations.

Students also will have the option to remain in the traditional St. Viator program.

"While the administrators and faculty are the creators of the new program, all suggestions from parents are taken seriously," said acting principal Rev. Patrick Rander. "We left in the option of the traditional program largely due to parental suggestions."

THE NEW PROGRAM, which will provide for much more individualized instruction than the school now provides, has evolved slowly during the past year. A three-man team of administrators who are mainly responsible for forming the program are making sure the faculty, parents and students understand the program, step by step.

"The main question asked is 'why are we changing the present method of education?'" said Father Rander. "We are trying, through coffee and assemblies, to explain that rather than changing the program, we are building onto it."

Father Rander said the new program will break the school into four smaller schools, and allow a student-teacher ratio of 150 to 5. At the present time some of the English teachers have up to 300 students per week.

"The whole program is based on an even split between the four schools," Rander said. "If more students choose one program over another, we will make modifications."

Father Rander, who believes that students learn best when they have a want, or need, to learn, says that the five "basics" will be taught within each of the disciplines. English, math, science, social science and religion are the five basics at St. Viator.

"OUR PROGRAM has been, and will be, geared to developing a total individual," Father Rander said. "Besides just developing students' brain, we want to help them develop emotionally and psychologically."

The idea, Father Rander said, is to build the educational process around an area that students are interested in, and broaden the program from that point. The traditional method of education, he says, tends to start from a broad base of many subjects from which students pick out portions in which they are talented and interested.

"Students in the science and technology program, for example, might have English classes with an emphasis on science fiction rather than Shakespeare." All students, however, will end their high school career with the same basic skills.

Another question parents often ask is, "Will my son be prepared for college?" and Father Rander answers with an emphatic yes.

Students will also have the option to change programs, through a switch will have to be made within guidelines, and probably at semester breaks.

St. Viator High School, with an enrollment of 1,073, has had a consistently rising enrollment over the past several years, as contrasted to a 1971 school study of the Catholic Archdiocese of Chicago which shows Catholic school enrollment declining at a rate of 5 to 10 per cent a year.

Even though the tuition rate is being upped from $450 this year to $550 next year, 336 eighth grade students took the St. Viator freshmen placement test, which is the largest number in recent history.

Busse Forest, Wauconda Bog, Volo Bog May Be 'Landmarks'

The Busse Forest Nature Preserve in Elk Grove Township, the Volo Bog and the Wauconda Bog are among nine areas being considered for natural landmark designation in Illinois.

The U.S. Department of the Interior announced recently those sites, along with six other areas in the state, will be evaluated for the designation by a group from Illinois State University. The work, to be funded by a $2,700 grant to the university, will be done for the National Park Service.

John Buffington, assistant professor of biological sciences at the university, said "natural landmark" designation is a new program of the park service. To qualify for the designation, he said, the area must possess exceptional value or quality in illustrating or interpreting the natural heritage of the nation.

Busse Forest is part of the Ned Brown Forest Preserve, which is bordered by Illinois Rts. 72 and 53, Arlington Heights Road and the Northwest Tollway. The Volo and Wauconda bogs are in Lake County.

Members of the university group reportedly have begun their work with visits to several of the proposed sites last week. They will examine the areas, prepare reports on them, evaluate and then recommend whether they should be given the designation.

The program is voluntary on the part of the owners of the respective properties. Registration as a landmark does not change the ownership, and the property remains the responsibility of the owner with respect to upkeep and development. There are no federal funds for land acquisition or to assist in maintenance of the property.

Buffington said he expects the final reports on the areas to be completed by October.

Wholesale Prices Down During March

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Wholesale prices for farm products and processed foods declined in March following steep increases in February, the government reported Friday.

Another key report showed that unemployment in the nation rose 0.2 per cent last month.

An increase in industrial commodity prices more than offset price declines for farm products and commodities ready for the consumer market, resulting in a 0.1 per cent over-all increase in the wholesale price index, the Bureau of Labor Statistics said.

But that was still down sharply from a 0.9 per cent increase in February and 0.8 per cent jumps in the two previous months.

THE BUREAU said unemployment increased in March to 5.9 per cent of the labor force, from 5.7 per cent in February despite a sharp rise of 620,000 in the number of employed persons. Total employment reached an all-time high of 81.2 million.

Wholesale prices for farm products and processed foods and feeds — as the administration had predicted — declined 0.4 per cent during February before seasonal adjustment and 0.3 per cent when seasonal factors were figured in.

That was a sharp reversal from a 1.9 per cent increase in February, a 1.3 per cent advance in January and a 2 per cent jump in December.

Foods ready for the consumer market showed a 1 per cent wholesale price decline before adjustment and a 0.7 per cent drop when seasonal factors were considered.

That compared with a 1.6 per cent unadjusted rise in February, and a 1.9 per cent adjusted increase the previous month.

But wholesale prices for industrial commodities continued their almost unbroken and steady climb upward. The 0.3 per cent increase in March, however, was down from the 0.5 per cent advances in the two preceding months.

State Unemployment Up .1 Pct. In March

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Illinois Labor Department announced Friday unemployment in the state rose from 4.8 per cent in February to 4.9 per cent in March, but remained steady at 4.6 per cent in the Chicago area.

The department said, however, that the percentages were based on seasonal adjustments and the actual number of unemployed persons in the state dropped by 10,000 in March to 243,000.

In the Chicago area the number dropped 5,000 to 145,000.

"All major areas of the state except Davenport-Rock Island-Moline and Decatur experienced a decline in unemployment between February and March," the department said.

"But the declines were slightly below average historically for this period and caused the seasonally adjusted rate in the state to show a slight rise."

Unemployment in Bloomington-Normal declined from 3.8 to 3.5 per cent, in Champaign-Urbana it went down from 4.2 to 3.5 per cent, in East St. Louis it was down from 8.6 to 7.9, in Rockford from 5.4 to 5.1 per cent and in Springfield from 4.4 to 3.9 per cent.

Davenport-Rock Island-Moline increased from 5.3 to 5.4 per cent and Decatur was steady at 5.0 per cent.

"All major areas of the state except Davenport-Rock Island-Moline and Decatur experienced a decline in unemployment between February and March," the department said.

"But the declines were slightly below average historically for this period and caused the seasonally adjusted rate in the state to show a slight rise."

Unemployment in Bloomington-Normal declined from 3.8 to 3.5 per cent, in Champaign-Urbana it went down from 4.2 to 3.5 per cent, in East St. Louis it was down from 8.6 to 7.9, in Rockford from 5.4 to 5.1 per cent and in Springfield from 4.4 to 3.9 per cent.

Davenport-Rock Island-Moline increased from 5.3 to 5.4 per cent and Decatur was steady at 5.4 per cent.

How Can Man Beat Machines?

Well, First You & (DKW-''?DLFK!)

by RALPH NOVAK

NEW YORK — This is another chapter in the continuing saga of man vs. machine.

Man doesn't win in this chapter, either. The triumphant machine this time is a "Brand X" copier that until only recently reigned in the Newspaper Enterprise Association office here.

Theoretically, its function was to make copies of articles, letters, memos and Great American Novels written by NEA staff members. But practically speaking, it didn't do much but eat paper.

If the Daniel Ellsbergs and Jack Andersons of the world had to rely on that machine to make their copies, Washington would never have to worry about straying secrets again, since our machine produced a usable copy about once every 72 tries and at that rate it would take 93 years to "Brand X" the Pentagon Papers and would require a pretty long time even to copy a confidential memo big enough to do anybody any real damage.

The machine was more malevolent than malfunctioning. Once, for example, it swallowed a spaghetti recipe that our food editor was trying to copy and never released it, perhaps holding the recipe against the time when somebody would insert something that showed how to make a good tomato sauce.

AT OTHER times — usually right at deadline hour — the machine would simply grind to a paper-ripping, gear-grinding, wire-burning halt, always trapping inside a page that nobody else in the universe had a copy of.

There were those staff members who swore that at times like these they could hear a distant sound of laughter emanating from the machine's mouth.

We tried all the traditional remedies, kicking, pounding, insulting the machine's parenthood, threatening to pull out the plug. We even tried calling the official "Brand X" repairman but that, of course, was futile.

The repair men are all obviously robots controlled by the machines. The first thing they always did when they arrived at the office was to cast a suspicious eye around the newsroom and say, "All right, what did you do to the machine?"

Of the approximately 173 "Brand X" repairmen who visited our office during the six months the machine was here, 172 of them accused us of conspiring to persecute the machine and the other one just said we didn't deserve one in the first place.

Finally, in desperation we sent one of our own staff writers to a special "Brand X" school to learn how to take care of the machine, just the way you go to school to learn to train your German shepherd or play the saxophone or find out how to win friends and influence people. This was apparently an attempt on the part of the machine to plant a brainwashed traitor in our midst since the school did not teach anything about the psychology of "Brand X" machines or karate chops that are effective against them.

All this time we had been trying to get a replacement machine but that, too, was futile. The repairmen kept saying, "There's nothing wrong with this machine; it's you people who are broken down." The people at "Brand X" seemed to be putting our requisitions into computers that promptly sent them to baby the machine for us in paper-shredding practice.

AND A SECRET plan we devised to end the problem by smashing the machine into oblivion with our fists was vetoed at the last minute when someone pointed out that the machine might retaliate by spitting out with its dying gasps all those personal projects we had spent company money trying to make copies of.

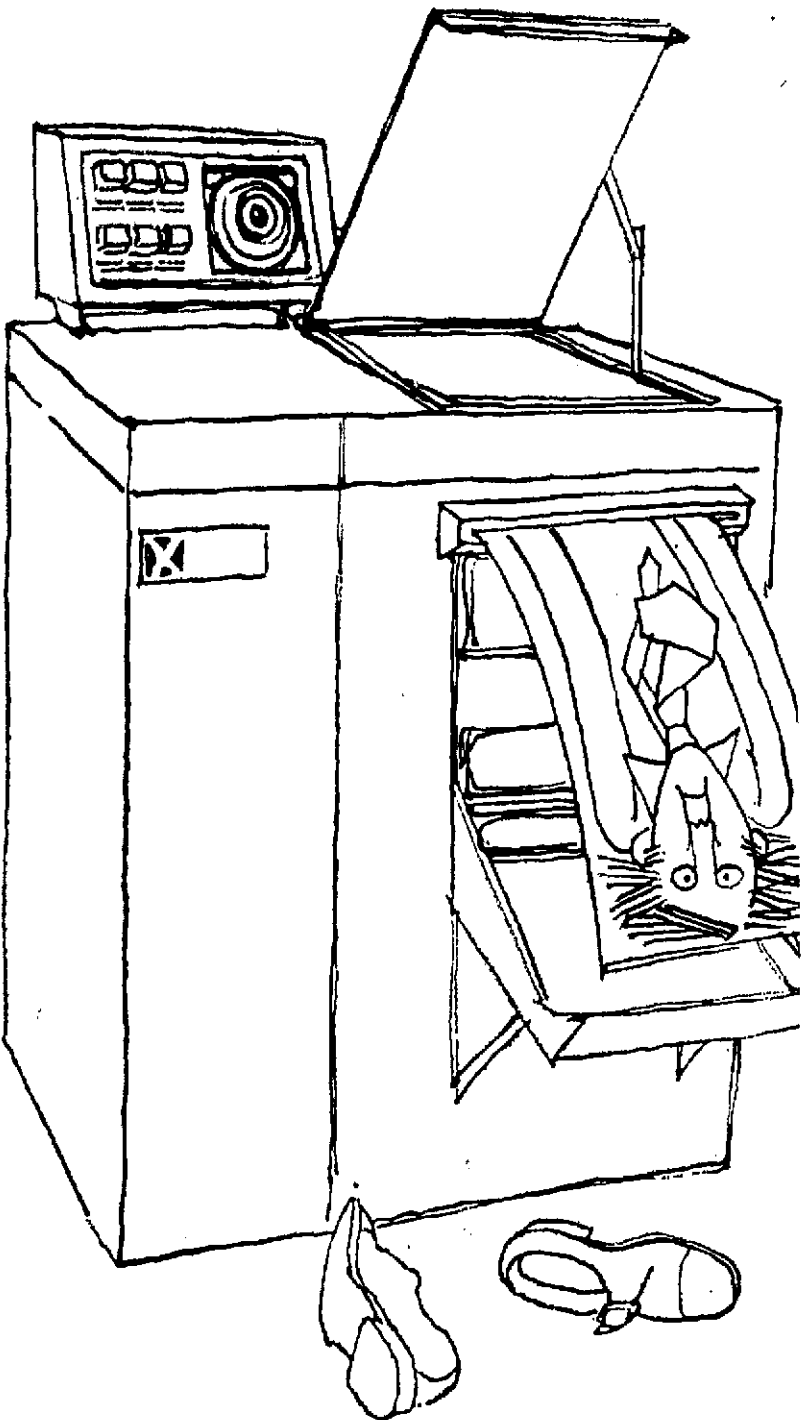

At last we were told we had been deemed worthy of getting a shiny new gadget-laden "Brand X." Many people breathed a sigh of relief. But others wondered if perhaps the old machine had not just decided we were broken in enough to let a younger machine take over.

They were right. The new machine didn't work either. A couple of us finally came up with the answer to all our machine problems, though, a new strategem that will enable us and all men to reassert our mastery over all machines everywhere.

So here it is, mankind, all you have to do to keep the machines under control is

33 Cases Of TB Are Reported In NW Suburbs

Figures released by the Illinois Department of Public Health show 223 new active cases of tuberculosis in 1971 for suburban Cook County.

There have been 33 cases reported in the Northwest Suburbs:

	1970	1972
Arlington Heights	6	6
Buffalo Grove	0	1
Des Plaines	7	7
Hoffman Estates	1	7
Mount Prospect	2	3
Palatine	5	5
Prospect Heights	0	0
Rolling Meadows	3	3
Schaumburg	3	1
Wheeling	5	1

According to Edward A. Piszczek, M.D., Field Director of the Suburban County Tuberculosis Sanitarium District, this is an increase of ten cases from the 1970 figure.

Dr. Piszczek added that the additional cases reflects little change in the attack rate, but is in keeping with the rapidly growing population in the suburbs.

While most people think of tuberculosis as a lung disease, it can also strike the skin, the bones, the lymphatic system and the larynx, he said.

Statistics show that there were a total of 216 typical infections and 7 atypical infections.

The youngest person with a reported case was 20 months old. The oldest was 97 years old. The average age of victims of the disease was 45 years old.

Other statistics show that 24.4% of the new cases were reported in the non-white population.

Unemployment Up Again; Food Prices On Way Down

by GENE CARLSON

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Unemployment rose again last month to 5.9 per cent of the labor force, the government reported Friday, but the first decline in wholesale food prices since September raised hopes that grocery bills will be cheaper this month.

The 0.3 per cent drop in wholesale prices for farm products and processed foods and feeds held the March advance in the Wholesale Price Index to only 0.1 per cent.

Herbert Stein, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, said he was "quite confident" that April would show a decline in food prices at the supermarket level, where they soared in February by their biggest margin in 14 years. The April retail price report will be published in late May.

As for jobs, the Labor Department said a swelling labor force, including job-hunting Vietnam veterans, helped push the unemployment rate up by 0.2 per cent from the February figure of 5.7 per cent.

AT THE SAME time, Stein said he was cheered by a gain of 620,000 last month in the ranks of Americans holding jobs, the largest increase in nearly five years, as portending a new stimulus to the economy, especially in retail sales.

Unemployment, which was 3.3 per cent when President Nixon took office, has remained above 5 per cent since July, 1970. Except for a slight dip in February, it hasn't dropped below 5.8 per cent since October, 1970, and has gone as high as 6.1 per cent.

Unemployment remained steady for adult men and dropped a little among teenagers last month, but rose sharply among veterans from 7.4 per cent to 8.6 per cent. An estimated 400,000 former servicemen were looking for work last month.

Although wholesale food prices dropped in March for the first time in six months, since the first full month of the wage-price freeze, industrial commodities rose by the same amount — 0.3 per cent — but even this was slower than the 0.5 per cent gains posted in the two previous months.

THE FOOD PRICE decline was led by a sharp drop in fresh and dried fruits and vegetables as well as hogs, and a smaller drop in livestock prices.

Wholesale prices rose at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 6 per cent in the first four months of Nixon's Phase II economic controls, compared to a 4.6 per cent annual rate the six months preceding the freeze and 0.8 per cent during the freeze.

In the past four months, wholesale food prices have risen 12 per cent at an annual rate, compared to 2.3 per cent in the six months before the freeze.

Obsolete Election System To Deny Millions Right To Vote

by MARGARET A. KILGORE
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Millions of Americans will be denied the right to vote in the November presidential election under an obsolete election system which works to the detriment of voters and candidates alike, an independent nationwide survey concluded Sunday.

"Considering the all too frequent occurrence of complex forms, unhelpful and poorly trained staff, machine breakdowns and inconveniently located registration and polling places, it is surprising that so many citizens do vote," the League of Women Voters Education Fund said in releasing the findings.

"That the system functions at all is a tribute to the sheer determination of citizens to overcome these inconveniences and obstacles."

The statement concerned a survey financed by the Ford Foundation and conducted by more than 3,000 members of the Independent League, who studied election practices in 251 communities in 50 states during the 1971 fall elections.

"Administrative behavior was observed in a non-presidential election year," the statement said, "in which various types of contests, some considerably more important and appealing than others, were at stake. This factor tends to mute the findings and conclusions drawn from this study. It is reasonable to conclude then that the findings contained might be an understatement of the problems citizens experience when participating in presidential elections."

THE STATEMENT SAID that in the presidential election year of 1968, some 73 million Americans, or 40 per cent of the total population of voting age, actually voted, while 47 million or about 40 per cent did not.

"Millions of citizens fail to vote not because they are disinterested, but because they are disenfranchised by the present election system," the surveyors concluded. "In the case of minorities, the poor, the uneducated and the aged, the system imposes complicated requirements which exclude them from the electoral process."

Recognizing that situation, the Supreme Court in March invalidated lengthy residence requirements and said that 30 days residency within a state was sufficient time to be eligible to vote.

The ruling could affect those in the "mainstream of American society" who accept a company transfer, go to college, get married and move out of state, or enter military service. There are 140 million Americans of voting age this year.

League Chairman Lucy Wilson Benson cited examples which suggested that local officials have failed to use tools allowed by law to make registration and voting easier.

For example, 52 per cent of the 458 registration places observed were not clearly identified, and 38 per cent of the communities had no additional registration hours available 30 days prior to the close of registration; 77 per cent of the communities studied had no Saturday registration in non-election months; 55 per cent of the communities charged a fee for providing registration lists; and 28 per cent of the communities surveyed gave poll workers either no training or minimal hours.

The survey recommended a series of remedial steps saying that "alternative strategies" would be considered at a Washington meeting April 20 of 60 citizens organizations. The league recommended that:

—THE CHIEF election official in each community use broad discretionary powers under current law to expand citizen opportunities to register and vote.

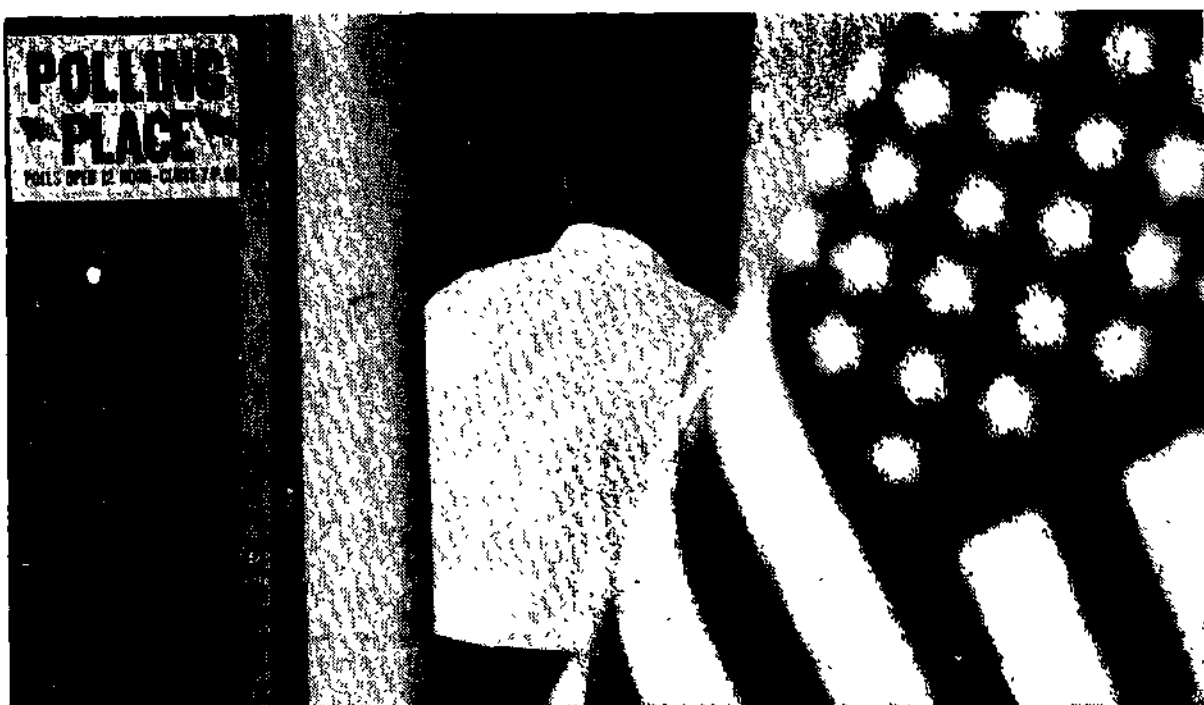

—The chief state election official ensure uniform interpretation and administration of state law by requiring local officials to comply with statewide standards.

—Identified voter needs be met through localized special services such as use of temporary and mobile registration units; expanded registration and polling hours; bilingual materials, and mandatory training sessions for poll workers.

—Citizen groups participate in selection of local election officials, monitor their decisions and work for specific administrative reforms.

—Political parties, the media and educational institutions use their influence to create and maintain a responsive and responsible election system.

"In a democratic society, no right is more fundamental than the right to vote. Regrettably, our election system is not working well," Mrs. Benson said.

WILL YOU BE disenfranchised this fall? According to a recent study by the League of Women Voters, millions of Americans may be prohibited from voting this year because of confusing and contradicting voting laws.

Dem Delegates To Convention Are Announced

Following are the official winners of the March 21 election for delegates to the Democratic Party National Nominating Convention.

Seven persons were elected to the convention from the 10th Congressional District, which includes all of Evanston, Maine, New Trier, Niles and Northfield townships.

Five delegates were named from the 12th Congressional District, which includes Palatine, Wheeling, Schaumburg, Elk Grove, Hanover and Barrington townships.

The delegates, their vote totals and the candidate to which they are committed are:

10TH CONG. DIST.
Newton Milow (Muskie) ..... 23,017
Harold Katz (Muskie) ..... 21,822
Michale Devorkin (McGovern) ..... 21,182
Aaron Jaffe (Muskie) ..... 20,915
Margaret Gordon (McGovern) ..... 20,481
Robert Elmer (McGovern) ..... 20,415
Frank Cicero Jr. (Muskie) ..... 19,669

12TH CONG. DIST.
Daniel Pierce (Muskie) ..... 13,388
Robert Grabitz (McGovern) ..... 12,837
Betty Spence (McGovern) ..... 12,887
Eugenia Chapman (Muskie) ..... 12,379
James McCabe (Muskie) ..... 12,189

The final tallies from the office of Cook County Clerk Edward J. Barrett indicate only one change from the early unofficial winners named soon after the election. Doris Conant, committed to McGovern, was initially declared a winner, but was replaced by Jaffe when the final count was made.

Delegates to the Republican Party Nominating Convention ran unopposed. They are: W. Clement Stone and Naomi Lee Burdick in the 10th Congressional District and Irl H. Marshall and Bernard E. Pedersen in the 12th District.

All four are committed to President Richard Nixon.

The results from the county clerk's office technically are still unofficial, pending final approval in Springfield.

Obsolete Election System To Deny Millions Right To Vote

by MARGARET A. KILGORE
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Millions of Americans will be denied the right to vote in the November presidential election under an obsolete election system which works to the detriment of voters and candidates alike, an independent nationwide survey concluded Sunday.

"Considering the all too frequent occurrence of complex forms, unhelpful and poorly trained staff, machine breakdowns and inconveniently located registration and polling places, it is surprising that so many citizens do vote," the League of Women Voters Education Fund said in releasing the findings.

"That the system functions at all is a tribute to the sheer determination of citizens to overcome these inconveniences and obstacles."

The statement concerned a survey financed by the Ford Foundation and conducted by more than 3,000 members of the independent League, who studied election practices in 251 communities in 50 states during the 1971 fall elections.

"Administrative behavior was observed in a non-presidential election year," the statement said, "in which various types of contests, some considerably more important and appealing than others, were at stake. This factor tends to mute the findings and conclusions drawn from this study. It is reasonable to conclude then that the findings contained might be an understatement of the problems citizens experience when participating in presidential elections."

THE STATEMENT SAID that in the presidential election year of 1968, some 73 million Americans, or 60 per cent of the total population of voting age, actually voted, while 47 million or about 40 per cent did not.

"Millions of citizens fail to vote not because they are disinterested, but because they are disenfranchised by the present election system," the surveyors concluded. "In the case of minorities, the poor, the uneducated and the aged, the system imposes complicated requirements which exclude them from the electoral process."

Recognizing that situation, the Supreme Court in March invalidated lengthy residence requirements and said that 30 days residency within a state was sufficient time to be eligible to vote.

The ruling could affect those in the "mainstream of American society" who accept a company transfer, go to college, get married and move out of state, or enter military service. There are 140 million Americans of voting age this year.

League Chairman Lucy Wilson Benson cited examples which suggested that local officials have failed to use tools allowed by law to make registration and voting easier.

For example, 52 per cent of the 458 registration places observed were not clearly identified, and 38 per cent of the communities had no additional registration hours available 30 days prior to the close of registration; 77 per cent of the communities studied had no Saturday registration in non-election months; 55 per cent of the communities charged a fee for providing registration lists; and 28 per cent of the communities surveyed gave poll workers either no training or minimal hours.

The survey recommended a series of remedial steps saying that "alternative strategies" would be considered at a Washington meeting April 20 of 60 citizens organizations. The league recommended that:

—THE CHIEF election official in each community use broad discretionary powers under current law to expand citizen opportunities to register and vote.

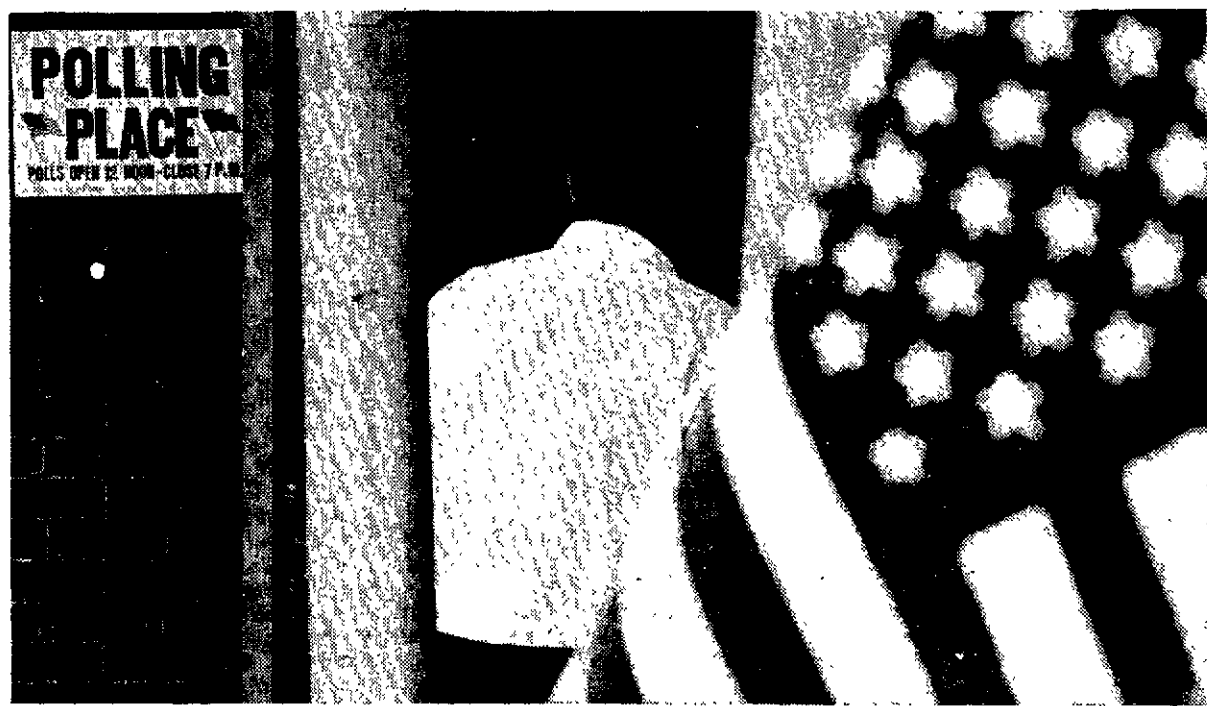

—The chief state election official ensure uniform interpretation and administration of state law by requiring local officials to comply with statewide standards.

—Identified voter needs be met through localized special services such as use of temporary and mobile registration units; expanded registration and polling hours; bilingual materials, and mandatory training sessions for poll workers.

—Citizen groups participate in selection of local election officials, monitor their decisions and work for specific administrative reforms.

—Political parties, the media and educational institutions use their influence to create and maintain a responsive and responsible election system.

"In a democratic society, no right is more fundamental than the right to vote. Regrettably, our election system is not working well," Mrs. Benson said.

WILL YOU BE disenfranchised this fall? According to a recent study by the League of Women Voters, millions of Americans may be prohibited from voting this year because of confusing and contradicting voting laws.

Dem Delegates To Convention Are Announced

Following are the official winners of the March 21 election for delegates to the Democratic Party National Nominating Convention.

Seven persons were elected to the convention from the 10th Congressional District, which includes all of Evanston, Maline, New Trier, Niles and Northfield townships.

Five delegates were named from the 12th Congressional District, which includes Palatine, Wheeling, Schaumburg, Elk Grove, Hanover and Barrington townships.

The delegates, their vote totals and the candidate to which they are committed are:

10TH CONG. DIST.
Newton Minow (Muskie) .....23,017
Harold Katz (Muskie) .....21,822
Michale Devorkin (McGovern) .....21,102
Aaron Jaffe (Muskie) .....20,915
Margaret Gordon (McGovern) .....20,481
Robert Eisner (McGovern) .....20,415
Frank Cicero Jr. (Muskie) .....19,669

12TH CONG. DIST.
Daniel Pierce (Muskie) .....13,306
Robert Grabitz (McGovern) .....12,837
Betty Spence (McGovern) .....12,687
Eugenia Chapman (Muskie) .....12,379
James McCabe (Muskie) .....12,189

The final tallies from the office of Cook County Clerk Edward J. Barrett indicate only one change from the early unofficial winners named soon after the election. Doris Conant, committed to McGovern, was initially declared a winner, but was replaced by Jaffe when the final count was made.

Delegates to the Republican Party Nominating Convention ran unopposed. They are: W. Clement Stone and Naomi Lee Burdick in the 10th Congressional District and Irl H. Marshall and Bernard E. Pedersen in the 12th District.

All four are committed to President Richard Nixon.

The results from the county clerk's office technically are still unofficial, pending final approval in Springfield.

The Lighter Side

Demos Much Like Laurel, Hardy

by DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The late Oliver Hardy was marvelously adept at summing up a chaotic situation.

"Well, Stanley," he would remark to his partner Stan Laurel, "this is a fine mess you've gotten us into."

It's a pity Hardy isn't around today to appraise the Democratic presidential race. But in his absence, we shall have to make do with less trenchant analysis.

If you are having any trouble figuring out how the campaign stands in the wake of the Wisconsin primary, it may be because you haven't followed all of the "ins" and "outs." Perhaps this resume will help:

SEN. EDMUND S. MUSKIE used to be so far "in" he had the nomination virtually sewed up. But that was before he became a candidate.

His victory in the New Hampshire primary hurt him badly and after he won the Illinois primary it began to appear he might be on the way "out."

The inescapable conclusion is that Muskies would be in better shape if he had never entered the race at all.

As best one can tell with the naked eye, former Sen. Eugene McCarthy is "in" but he doesn't want anybody to know it. Rep. Wilbur Mills is "in," which in his case is the same thing as being "out."

Sen. Vance Hartke is now "out," which in his case is the same thing as being "in."

SEN. FRED Harris got "out" before he ever got "in" and Sen. Harold Hughes was never "in" far enough to get "out." Sen. Birch Bayh would have been "in" but had to get "out" because of his wife's illness. Had he stayed "in" he still would have been "out."

Sen. George McGovern got "in" before anyone else. He was "in" so long he didn't realize he was "out," and now he is back "in" again.

Mayor John Lindsay is "out" without ever having been really "in." By staying "out," Sen. Edward Kennedy has kept himself "in."

Sen. Hubert Humphrey is "in" far enough to stay "in" until the bitter end. Sen. Henry Jackson is "in" but may be "out" before it's over.

Pat Paulson only got "in" far enough to test the television "equal time" rule. Reps Shirley Chisholm and Patsy Mink are "in" but most voters have found them invisible.

Gov. George Wallace is now so far "in" if he ever gets "out" he'll have to come back on the bus. But not in the back of the bus.

Laurel and Hardy, alas, are "out."

The Doctor Says

by Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb — We all read your column and find it very helpful. I would appreciate your view on the following: We have three cats and three dogs that are in the house day and night. I would like to know if so many animals are injurious to one's health. My eyes trouble me and I think it is the animals. Some say it is not. What is your opinion?

Dear Reader — Healthy animals usually do not cause diseases in humans. There are some exceptions, like cat-scratch fever. The truth of the matter is that the most dangerous animal to man is another human being. Many of the infections and illnesses of man are transmittable only from one human being to another. The same is true in animals.

Now, it is also true that a person can be allergic to some animals which, unfortunately, can include the family pet. It also can include animal materials (hair or feathers, for example) used to make pillows, rugs, mattresses and other common household items. In your case, if what you mean by your eyes troubling you is an allergic-like problem, I think it would be wise to see an allergist and find out for certain if you are allergic to dogs and cats before you go through the heart-ache of giving up your pets.

Dear Dr. Lamb — What precautions do doctors take with their families? We never hear of any of them having cancer.

Dear Reader — Unfortunately, doctors and doctors' families have just about as many cancers as other people. I suspect that you are just not acquainted with that many physicians and their families. There are really no secrets about preventing cancer. Almost anything that a doctor and his family might do, you can do as well. One thing is regular checkups and I might add that doctors aren't always too good about this in reference to their own families. Many a doctor's wife has complained that she needed to make an appointment at the office to find out what her own medical status was.

Incidentally, doctors as a group are not the most healthy segment of our population. This isn't too surprising. A good many of them, like other middle-class Americans, eat entirely too much of the wrong foods. Their profession, as such, does not permit them to enjoy a lot of physical activity and their daily practice involves long, hard hours, many of which are often stressful. Most doctors take a lot better care of their patients than they do of themselves, choosing to ignore the dictum, "Physician, heal thyself."

There are some exceptions and one of the most striking of these is the sharp decrease in smoking cigarettes that has occurred among doctors. You can go to many medical meetings today and in many sessions you will not see any doctors smoking at all. On the basis of available information, this probably decreases the incidence of lung cancer as well as eliminating a lot of other health hazards associated with smoking.

Some Must Report Social Security Spring Cleanup Set

Employees who received Social Security benefits for one or more months in 1971 and who earned over $1,680 during the year are required to report these earnings to the Social Security Administration unless they were age 72 throughout 1971 or the benefit they received was a disability benefit.

Even though a report of earnings or an estimate of expected earnings, was made some time during 1971 — say at the time you filed for benefits or when you returned to work — a final report of actual earnings must still be made after the end of the year. The report is due on or before April 17, 1972 and should be made on Form SSA-777.

Form SSA-777 is usually mailed to you by the Social Security Administration and you need take no action to get this form. However, failure to receive the form does not relieve you of the responsibility for making the report. If you did earn over $1,680 in 1971 and have not made an annual report because you did not get a form SSA-777, call your local Social Security office at once.

PTA Annual Mock Convention Set For April 17

The Seventh Annual Mock Convention of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers in PTA District 37 will be held at 7 15 p.m. on Monday, April 17, at Rand Junior High School, 2550 N. Arlington Heights Rd., Arlington Heights.

Mrs. Robert Dallstream, District 37 director, will preside at the meeting which is designed to be a practice workshop for delegates to the ICPT state convention. Legislation planned for the ICPT State Convention, to be held at the Conrad Hilton in Chicago, April, 26-29, will be voted on after "mock" speeches both pro and con have been given.

A highlight of the evening will be a presentation to the winner of the District 37 Golden Jubilee Scholarship. This annual $1,000 Award is given each year to a graduating senior from one of the public high schools in ICPT District 37.

A display of local PTA units' publicity record books and posters will be shown. Mrs. Leighton Jorgensen, District 37 publicity assistant, will award Certificates of Merit to those books and posters which will be displayed at the state convention.

Principals and superintendents from schools in ICPT District 37 have been invited as well as all area state legislators.

Religion Today

by Rev. Lester Kinsolving

The majority of the world's nearly one billion Christians observed on Good Friday the most notable case of capital punishment in world history.

A few conservative denominations such as the Lutheran Church - Missouri Synod are still resolved in favor of the death penalty, because it is justified in the Old Testament (along with execution of witches and stoning of adulterers).

Yet a considerable number of the larger denominations have resolved against the death penalty — such as Pope Paul VI, whose abolition of the Vatican city's death penalty law in 1969 was explained by Archbishop Giovanni Benelli as: "The thought of His Holiness on the matter is clearly expressed in this action."

Most of the leading Protestant denominations have also gone on record as opposing capital punishment. Several of them, such as Methodist, Presbyterian, Episcopal, United Church of Christ, Disciples of Christ, Unitarian-Universalist and Quakers, have filed briefs in the current hearings before the U.S. Supreme Court. Similar briefs have been filed by the Synagogue Council of America, as well as the American Jewish Congress.

In 1966, the United Press asked: "Do moral pronouncements by churches have any real impact on public opinion?"

THE UP COLUMN went on to note: "solid evidence is at hand that religious teaching can help bring about a major change in the attitudes of the American people. About 15 years ago, Protestant denominations began a campaign for abolition of capital punishment, which the public opinion polls showed that more than two thirds of the people approved."

In the early 1960's however, few of these denominations had resolved the issue of the death penalty. The campaign mentioned by UP was waged by just a few dedicated clergy, many of them prison chaplains, who touched the consciences of the denominations, as well as those of a number of state legislators.

One of these clergy is the Rev. William Gilbert of Ventura, Calif., who recently retired as rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

For five years, while rector of St. Paul's Church in Walla Walla, Washington, he had ministered to condemned men in the nearby Washington State Penitentiary.

Father Gilbert was acutely aware of the vicious manner in which Washington State demonstrated how much it opposed killing in cold blood (by killing in cold blood). He knew of the large white sheet which hung from the gallows to the floor in the prison's death house — because witnesses had been sprayed with the blood of men whose heads had nearly been torn off when hanged.

Father Gilbert was also aware of the existence of a sort of sled, with arm and leg straps, for use when the victim was either too paralyzed with fright — or was crippled — so that he was unable to stand up on the gallows trap door.

HE WAS ALSO aware of that special room downstairs and away from the gallows, where four guards were locked in, awaiting the signal of a red light. Under the red light were four electric switches, only one of which actually sprung the trap on the gallows — and which one of these switches no one knew — so that none of the four guards could be sure he was the executioner.

Realizing there is no scientific proof that capital punishment has ever lowered the homicide rate (rather than stimulating it by example), and there is always a possibility of executing the innocent by mistake, in a horrifying and irretrievable miscarriage of justice, Father Gilbert has testified dozens of times before the legislatures of four states. He also helped his Ventura parishioner, famed writer Erle Stanley Gardner, set up "The Court of Last Resort."

In retirement, Father Gilbert is far from inactive, currently serving as a jail chaplain as well as formulating a corrections study for eight Southern California counties.

He rejoiced when the California Supreme Court ruled that the death penalty is indeed cruel and unusual punishment — for among the victims of San Quentin Prison's gas chamber was Walter Byrd, for whose life Father Gilbert had pleaded repeatedly in Sacramento.

FORMER CALIFORNIA Governor Edmund C. Brown, after trying desperately to have the death penalty abolished, wrote one clergy abolitionist of "the certain knowledge that one day our cause must prevail."

And however long this takes, such pioneers of this cause as Father Gilbert have been more than sustained by the statement of one victim of the death penalty, who said: "Blessed are the merciful."

PTA Annual Mock Convention Set For April 17

The Seventh Annual Mock Convention of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers in PTA District 37 will be held at 7:15 p.m. on Monday, April 17, at Rand Junior High School, 2550 N. Arlington Heights Rd., Arlington Heights.

Mrs. Robert Dallstream, District 37 director, will preside at the meeting which is designed to be a practice workshop for delegates to the ICPT state convention. Legislation planned for the ICPT State Convention, to be held at the Conrad Hilton in Chicago, April 26-29, will be voted on after "mock" speeches both pro and con have been given.

A highlight of the evening will be a presentation to the winner of the District 37 Golden Jubilee Scholarship. This annual $1,000 Award is given each year to a graduating senior from one of the public high schools in ICPT District 37.

A display of local PTA units' publicity record books and posters will be shown. Mrs. Leighton Jorgensen, District 37 publicity assistant, will award Certificates of Merit to those books and posters which will be displayed at the state convention.

Principals and superintendents from schools in ICPT District 37 have been invited as well as all area state legislators.

Religion Today

by Rev. Lester Kinsolving

The majority of the world's nearly one billion Christians observed on Good Friday the most notable case of capital punishment in world history.

A few conservative denominations such as the Lutheran Church - Missouri Synod are still resolved in favor of the death penalty, because it is justified in the Old Testament (along with execution of witches and stoning of adulterers).

Yet a considerable number of the larger denominations have resolved against the death penalty — such as Pope Paul VI, whose abolition of the Vatican city's death penalty law in 1968 was explained by Archbishop Giovanni Benelli as: "The thought of His Holiness on the matter is clearly expressed in this action."

Most of the leading Protestant denominations have also gone on record as opposing capital punishment, several of them, such as Methodist, Presbyterian, Episcopal, United Church of Christ, Disciples of Christ, Unitarian-Universalist and Quakers, have filed briefs in the current hearings before the U.S. Supreme Court. Similar briefs have been filed by the Synagogue Council of America, as well as the American Jewish Congress.

In 1966, the United Press asked: "Do moral pronouncements by churches have any real impact on public opinion?"

THE UP COLUMN went on to note: "solid evidence is at hand that religious teaching can help bring about a major change in the attitudes of the American people. About 15 years ago, Protestant denominations began a campaign for abolition of capital punishment, which the public opinion polls showed that more than two thirds of the people approved."

In the early 1960's however, few of these denominations had resolved the issue of the death penalty. The campaign mentioned by UP was waged by just a few dedicated clergy, many of them prison chaplains, who touched the consciences of the denominations, as well as those of a number of state legislators.

One of these clergy is the Rev. William Gilbert of Ventura, Calif., who recently retired as rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

For five years, while rector of St. Paul's Church in Walla Walla, Washington, he had ministered to condemned men in the nearby Washington State Penitentiary.

Father Gilbert was acutely aware of the atrocious manner in which Washington State demonstrated how much it opposed killing in cold blood (by killing in cold blood). He knew of the large white sheet which hung from the gallows to the floor in the prison's death house — because witnesses had been sprayed with the blood of men whose heads had nearly been torn off when hanged.

Father Gilbert was also aware of the existence of a sort of sled, with arm and leg straps, for use when the victim was either too paralyzed with fright — or was crippled — so that he was unable to stand up on the gallows trap door.

HE WAS ALSO aware of that special room downstairs and away from the gallows, where four guards were locked in, awaiting the signal of a red light. Under the red light were four electric switches, only one of which actually sprung the trap on the gallows — and which one of these switches no one knew — so that none of the four guards could be sure he was the executioner.

Realizing there is no scientific proof that capital punishment has ever lowered the homicide rate (rather than stimulating it by example), and there is always a possibility of executing the innocent by mistake, in a horrifying and irretrievable miscarriage of justice, Father Gilbert has testified dozens of times before the legislatures of four states. He also helped his Ventura parishioner, famed writer Erle Stanley Gardner, set up "The Court of Last Resort."

In retirement, Father Gilbert is far from inactive, currently serving as a jail chaplain as well as formulating a corrections study for eight Southern California counties.

He rejoiced when the California Supreme Court ruled that the death penalty is indeed cruel and unusual punishment — for among the victims of San Quentin Prison's gas chamber was Walter Byrd, for whose life Father Gilbert had pleaded repeatedly in Sacramento.

FORMER CALIFORNIA Governor Edmund C. Brown, after trying desperately to have the death penalty abolished, wrote one clergy abolitionist of "the certain knowledge that one day our cause must prevail."

And however long this takes, such pioneers of this cause as Father Gilbert have been more than sustained by the statement of one victim of the death penalty, who said: "Blessed are the merciful."

She Lives With Chimps And Loves It

by DUSTON HARVEY

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Her name is Jane and she lives in Africa with the wild chimpanzees.

During the past 11 years, she has drastically altered man's conception of his nearest relative in the evolutionary family.

Jane Van Lawick-Goodall was a young English secretary with a deep interest in animals in 1960 when her boss, anthropologist Louis Leakey, arranged for her to study chimps on the shores of Lake Tanganyika.

After six months of frustrating and harrowing experiences, she was finally accepted as "a pale-skinned ape" by the chimps and began studying their behavior up close.

What she saw changed longheld views on the chimpanzee's life style, diet and abilities and provided new insights into the biological basis of human behavior and child-rearing.

MRS. VAN LAWICK-GOODALL, a

slim, intense Englishwoman of 37, married to Wildlife Photographer Hugo Van Lawick and the mother of a four-year-old boy, now lives nine months a year at Gombe Stream Research Center in Africa and the other three months at Stanford University in Palo Alto, Calif.

Stanford has started work on a new chimpanzee research center near its campus where scientists will compare studies on captive animals with those living in the wild at Gombe.

Mrs. Van Lawick-Goodall discussed her work, recounted in her recently published book, "In the Shadow of Man," during an interview.

She said her most significant findings were that chimpanzees made and used tools and that they engaged in hunting. The tools included twigs trimmed for use in grubbing for termites and leaves chewed up for use as a sponge.

"OVER THE LONG TERM, we may learn more from the tremendous length of time a child is dependent on its mother, the observational method of learning by the child, and very long duration of the affectionate bond between mother and children, and the similarities in communication between chimps and man which suggest a common ancestor millions of years ago," she said.

"We hope eventually to relate these to the biological basis of human behavior."

She said her firsthand studies of chimps in the wild have indicated a narrower biological gap between men and monkey than had been thought, but that they also have made her more appreciative of the differences, which seem to lie in the evolution of certain parts of the brain.

THE EVIDENCE of these differences include a spoken language, which allows communication about the past and future; an appreciation of beauty; the human emotions of love and hate; and man's deep self-awareness which results in philosophical ponderings for an explanation of his existence and the world

he lives in.

"I wonder where and when these emotions developed in man," Mrs. Van Lawick-Goodall said. "What evolutionary pressures caused them?"

In her book, she follows the lives of several chimps, especially an old female named Flo and her offspring, and makes them come alive as greatly varied individuals.

The Englishwoman, who received a doctorate from Cambridge University in 1964 on the basis of her primate research, said she and her husband modeled the raising of their son, nicknamed "Grub," on chimpanzee child-rearing methods.

CHIMP MOTHERS cuddle and cuddle their youngsters for years, breast-feeding them in moments of stress as well as at meal-time and allowing them to cling to them at all times.

"Our son absolutely thrived," she said. "People predicted he'd be a real mommy's boy, but he's four-and-a-half now and far from it." With a smile of pride: "He's very independent now."

Mrs. Van Lawick-Goodall said she expects to spend the rest of her life studying the chimpanzees at Gombe, following the entire life of some of the primates born since she arrived there.

"They have a life expectancy of 50 years, so it's a very long term study," she said.

She did her first teaching at Stanford last fall and found students interested because of "their urgency to learn about behavior."

AS FOR HERSELF, "It's my thing. I think I was born wanting to understand animals. When I was four, I spent five hours in a hen house watching the chickens. I think that's odd behavior for a child of four. It's something that was born in me."

"From age eight, when I read Dr. Doolittle books, I wanted to be a girl who watched animals in Africa and wrote books about them."

Donna Finkler's Interested In Your Good Dental Health

by GENIE CAMPBELL

The theory being tossed around in today's dentistry is very pleasing to the individual. Namely, that a set of teeth will last a life time . . . if properly taken care of.

And educating the masses to the finer points about tooth decay and gum neglect is up to dental hygienists like Mrs. Donna Finkler, whose entire career is oriented to preventive dentistry.

A recent addition to the dental hygiene staff of Harper College, the Chicago commuter instructs the students in such classes as community dentistry, "which is an umbrella for dental health education," said Mrs. Finkler. "It's oriented more toward the social aspects of dentistry as opposed to purely clinical skills."

"THERE IS CURRENTLY a big emphasis on prevention," she continued. "If you take care of your teeth, you can save them for life. Tooth loss is no longer considered inevitable."

With a degree in dental hygiene from the University of Iowa and a master's degree in public health from the University of Michigan, Mrs. Finkler is well versed in the field of dental health education.

After graduating from the University of Iowa, she served three years as a dental hygienist in a private practice in Des Moines, her home town, leaving finally for Iowa City to work with the Bureau of Dental Health, a branch of the Iowa State Health Department.

After receiving her master's degree and before accepting a position at Harper College, she worked with the American Dental Association in Chicago.

"I WAS ALWAYS interested in a health science career," she said. "It's really a good field for women and well . . . Iowa had a good program, so that's how I got started."

In trying to get Harper students involved in special programs offered by the American Dental Association, Mrs. Finkler was asked to fill a teaching vacancy in the dental hygiene program.

"I like it very much," she said about teaching. "I feel like I'm really accomplishing something. Public health is pretty solid. You don't see progress as fast as with students."

The role of the dental hygienist has become increasingly important with the great emphasis on preventive dentistry. Mrs. Finkler feels, for it is the dental hygienist who cleans teeth, takes the x-rays and generally educates the patient as to the care of his teeth, allowing the dentist extra freedom and time to concentrate on the restorative aspects of dentistry.

IN MAY Mrs. Finkler will be installed as president of the Illinois Dental Hygienists Association which works to upgrade the image and responsibilities of dental hygienists and also provide continuing education courses.

Ever since the role of the dental hygienist was created in the early 1900s, the field has been more or less designated as particularly geared for women. But the de-emphasis on job classifications according to sex is beginning to have its effect.

The freshman dental hygienists class at Harper currently boasts an enrollment of three men, and last June Harper graduated its first male dental hygienist . . . the first in the state as far as Mrs. Finkler is aware.

Group To 'Go See' Little City

The Suburban Service League of Little City in Palatine is planning a "go See" tour of the residential school for the handicapped Sunday afternoon. Members, their husbands and guests, Little City volunteers, and persons interested in Little City are invited.

Before the tour, the group will meet at Lancer's Steak House in Schaumburg for cocktails and dinner. The social hour begins at noon, and a roast beef dinner will be served at 1:30.

During cocktails, Donald Becker, superintendent of the school, will show slides and answer questions as an introduction to the tour.

TRANSPORTATION TO and from Little City will be provided by school bus for those wishing it. The tour of the buildings and grounds includes a stop at the newly decorated Sheltered Workshop.

The tour ends with a champagne hour at the school canteen.

Reservations for the dinner may be mailed to Mrs. Earl Ogier, chairman of the event, at 145 Old Dundee Road, Barrington, by Thursday. Checks for $5 per person should be made out to Suburban Service League of Little City.

Mrs. Robert Oram, 358-0031, can be called for further information.

Not everyone is pushing to get on the Chinese fashion junk. While most designers have utilized the Chinese influence very heavily in their spring and summer lines for both garments and accessories, others are merely shaking their heads.

One is Michel Goma who designs for the French fashion house of Jean Patou.

Even though one American firm is doing a sell-out business in authentic Chinese workers' uniforms, Goma thinks contemporary Eastern garb is a fly-by-night affair.

"The young can wear the workers' costume," he said. "It's fun but only a fad."

GOMA FEELS the main problem is that women have just gotten away from the costume route which the Chinese mode of dressing with its very distinctive designs and markings represents.

He instead sees the total rejection of the uniform look by mature women for colors instead, brightened to their fullest, swirling skirts and soft young silhouettes.

His words should be taken as an investment warning. If you like the Chinese look, by all means wear it . . . but also be selective and limiting in your choices. The costume look is always fun until it is overdone.

And for the men, Cardin is at it again. Always fashionably ahead, he just recently showed his 1973 collection.

THE CARDIN silhouette of the future stresses ultra wide stiffened shoulders standing away from the arms in sleeveless blouses. Hips are very slim with trouser tops built well above the waist.

The business executive will continue to go the route of the tailored suits which show the new widened shoulder lines and lapels, complete with collar and tie, wider trousers, a slightly shorter coat and center vent.

THE BUSINESSMAN is not forgotten in Pierre Cardin's new line. Most distinctive is the swashbuckling velvet hat.

And the businessman of 1973, only a year away, should never be without his Cardin broad-brimmed velvet felt hat in a very noticeable bronze or green.

Round And Round She Goes . . .

by MARY SHERRY

There is no better way to recall the thrill of getting a bicycle as a child than to get one as a birthday gift on one of those birthdays past thirty.

My husband had decided last summer that he needed the exercise and that bike riding would be a good thing for both of us to do. So he ordered two bikes — his and hers. However, at that time of the year, apparently a lot of husbands were thinking along the same lines because only one bike was delivered, and we were told it would take a couple of months to get the other.

"I hope it's yours," I said as my husband began to unpack the carton. I said it because his enthusiasm for bike riding had suddenly wanted, and I knew he was hoping it was mine. It turned out to be a man's bike.

FOR A WHILE HE didn't ride it very much, but soon I noticed he began to disappear after dinner, occasionally at first, then regularly, for a spin on the bike. Just as I started to indulge in my amusement over my husband's new plaything, it dawned on me that, I, too, had gradually begun to use it to run to the store and the post office. At first it was for fun and fresh air. Then I discovered using the bike saved time because by cutting through a field, I avoided two traffic lights that invariably kept me waiting in the car.

So, in the back of my mind I started to grow the thought that it would be nice to have my own bike, contrary to the impression I had given my husband. Apparently he had been thinking the same thing, because when this spring rolled around and with it my birthday, he thoroughly surprised me with a new bike.

"IT'S BEAUTIFUL," I said as he finished putting it together.

"I'm glad you like it."

"It's almost as exciting getting this as getting my first bike!" I exclaimed.

"Then maybe the salesman was right," he said, tightening the handlebars.

"What do you mean?"

"He wanted to sell me plastic streamers to go with it — and a headlight. I told him those would be good for next Christmas."

"Maybe a basket," I suggested seriously, "or tape for the handlebars, stirrups for the pedals and a number for my back," I suggested less seriously.

FOR A FEW DAYS after that I had been happily riding for fun, exercise and errands, thinking that I had to become an adult before I was able to really appreciate a bike. I had considered how different my outlook on cycling is now compared to that of the days of my first two-wheeler. Then, last Friday, when my husband came home from work, he roared as he opened the door, "WHO LEFT A BIKE IN THE DRIVEWAY?"

It has taken me 22 years to come full cycle.

THE BUSINESSMAN is not forgotten in Pierre Cardin's new line. Most distinctive is the swashbuckling velvet hat.

And the businessman of 1973, only a year away, should never be without his Cardin broad-brimmed velvet felt hat in a very noticeable bronze or green.

Round And Round She Goes . . .

by MARY SHERRY

There is no better way to recall the thrill of getting a bicycle as a child than to get one as a birthday gift on one of those birthdays past thirty.

My husband had decided last summer that he needed the exercise and that bike riding would be a good thing for both of us to do. So he ordered two bikes — his and hers. However, at that time of the year, apparently a lot of husbands were thinking along the same lines because only one bike was delivered, and we were told it would take a couple of months to get the other.

"I hope it's yours," I said as my husband began to unpack the carton. I said it because his enthusiasm for bike riding had suddenly wanted, and I knew he was hoping it was mine. It turned out to be a man's bike.

FOR A WHILE HE didn't ride it very much, but soon I noticed he began to disappear after dinner, occasionally at first, then regularly, for a spin on the bike. Just as I started to indulge in my amusement over my husband's new plaything, it dawned on me that, I, too, had gradually begun to use it to run to the store and the post office. At first it was for fun and fresh air. Then I discovered using the bike saved time because by cutting through a field, I avoided two traffic lights that invariably kept me waiting in the car.

So, in the back of my mind I started to grow the thought that it would be nice to have my own bike, contrary to the impression I had given my husband. Apparently he had been thinking the same thing, because when this spring rolled around and with it my birthday, he thoroughly surprised me with a new bike.

"IT'S BEAUTIFUL," I said as he finished putting it together.

"I'm glad you like it."

"It's almost as exciting getting this as getting my first bike!" I exclaimed.

"Then maybe the salesman was right," he said, tightening the handlebars.

"What do you mean?"

"He wanted to sell me plastic streamers to go with it — and a headlight. I told him those would be good for next Christmas."

"Maybe a basket," I suggested seriously, "or tape for the handlebars, stirrups for the pedals and a number for my back," I suggested less seriously.

FOR A FEW DAYS after that I had been happily riding for fun, exercise and errands, thinking that I had to become an adult before I was able to really appreciate a bike. I had considered how different my outlook on cycling is now compared to that of the days of my first two-wheeler. Then, last Friday, when my husband came home from work, he roared as he opened the door, "WHO LEFT A BIKE IN THE DRIVEWAY?"

It has taken me 22 years to come full cycle.

Couples Urged To Be Realistic

by ALISON GODDARD

Quite apart from the emotional upheavals they experience, most widows are "woefully unprepared" for the practical problems they face. Yet much "uncertainty, confusion and error" could be avoided if they and their husbands had earlier confronted the possibility of personal loss and planned for it accordingly.

This is the view of Alfred E. Wilson, co-author and publisher of a book, which candidly asks husbands: "If You Should Die — Can Your Wife Take Over?"

If the answer is "no," Wilson warns, then funeral arrangements can be haphazard and overly-expensive, life insurance benefits misspent, cash frequently lacking, investments mismanaged and estate taxes often excessive.

Yet most of these problems can be avoided, says Wilson, who, along with Bartlett W. Paulding Jr., has written the 90-page publication designed to help a man put his affairs in order. This combination textbook and workbook can enable him to evaluate his life insurance, calculate his Social Security, analyze the family's financial needs, prepare a will, determine the net worth of his estate and estimate its taxes.

BY USING IT as a workbook, a man can record in one specific place the factual information his survivors will need. And he's also encouraged to make a complete record of where he keeps his various documents and papers so they can be easily located, if necessary.

The authors recognize that the wife — on her own — may encounter various home maintenance problems, but state that "she can avoid being totally dependent on repairmen by understanding how various utilities work." They therefore include comprehensive checklists for the operation of such home utilities as the heating, hot water, electric, plumbing and air conditioning systems.

There's even a place for the husband to indicate "how to shut off the main water supply, should the need arise." Since repairmen are not entirely expendable, space is also provided to list their names, addresses and phone numbers.

Wilson and Paulding believe in facing — rather than evading — certain inevitable facts of life. They state flatly that the best time for a husband and wife to think about funeral arrangements is the present, since "they can then be emotionally relaxed and objective about the details." Not only does the book offer practical pointers on making such arrangements, it includes forms for preparing newspaper notices and provides a way as well to list those friends and relatives who should be notified.

WHEN IT COMES to income taxes, the authors recommend that the husband — who usually handles such matters — file all previous tax records, cancelled checks, income statements, etc. in one location. And they suggest that the wife complete the next tax return under his guidance "so she will not only gain valuable experience, but be able to decide if she wants to take care of it herself later, or hire someone else to do it."

"If You Should Die — Can Your Wife Take Over?" is available from the Stoney Brook Publishing Co., 136 Main St., West Chelmsford, Mass. 01863. Copies are $2.95 each postpaid (Information Center on Mature Woman)

The Home Line

by Dorothy Ritz

Dear Dorothy: A friend told me that you once recommended that Epsom salts be used on rosebushes in the spring. I've never seen this in any rose books and was wondering where you came upon this information. — Mrs. Jordan Rosson.

It came from an expert rose grower — Charles Dawson. In his book on growing roses he recommended two pounds of Epsom salts every spring for 100 square feet of bed surface or for 25 plants. The Epsom salts provide the magnesium needed to make plants grow strong new canes or bottom shoots. My neighbors and I drifted into the habit of putting 2 tablespoons around each rosebush in the spring — never later. Epsom salts, of course, is in addition to all the other rose feedings, not in place of them.

Dear Dorothy: You answer so many oddball questions, maybe you can handle this one, too. Why the custom of colored eggs at Easter-time? — Jenny H.

The custom is supposed to represent the fact that the egg stands for life and the perpetuation of life. The coloring of eggs imitates the brilliant colors that represent the onset of spring. One can go on for pages on how the customs vary in foreign countries, but, fundamentally, they are similar.

Dear Dorothy: Found a new use for the butter and margarine wrappers that I've always saved to grease casseroles, baking pans and so on. They're perfect to grease washed baking potatoes as there is just the right amount of shortening left on and the wrapper is just flexible enough to use easily. Maybe other pack rats haven't tried this one. — Helen R.

Use Care In Laundering

When there is sickness in your family, you need to give special attention to laundering clothing and household textiles.

Recent research by the USDA Agricultural Research Service shows that certain viruses persist for significant periods on laundered fabrics. In addition, viruses may be transferred from one fabric to another.

Carol Warfield, University of Illinois textiles instructor, explains that neither the water temperature nor the detergents used under today's home laundering conditions can be relied on to reduce the number of microorganisms to a safe level.

The USDA researchers carried out two complete series of laundries using the types of detergents available on the domestic market.

The detergents showed little difference in virus-removing ability, but the temperatures of the wash water did. Very little detectable virus remained after washing in hot water. Although washing in warm water or cold water decreased virus content, significant amounts of virus remained in most fabrics.

HOWEVER, THE heat involved in tumble drying, which generally fluctuates between 135 and 175 degrees F. in a home-type dryer, can also be effective in helping to reduce the number of microorganisms present.

Sterile fabrics laundered with fabrics that contained virus were often contaminated during the laundering process. But when hot water was used, the amount of virus detected on the original sterile fabrics was very low.

In each laundering, researchers removed water samples near the end of the rinse cycle. Analysis of these samples revealed no active virus when the fabrics were washed in hot water. When fabrics were washed in cold water or warm water, the rinse water contained some virus, indicating that waste water from laundering can be a source of contamination.

Mrs. Warfield points out that microorganisms can remain alive on the inner surface of the washing machine and be transferred from one load to another.

YOU CAN CONTROL microorganisms by using one of these disinfectants in laundering:

—liquid chlorine bleach. But follow the label instructions so that you do not damage the fibers and colors that may be sensitive to chlorine bleach.

—pine oil disinfectants with at least 70 per cent steam-distilled pine oil.

—phenolic disinfectants. Labels of such products should contain the words orthobenzyl-papachlorophenol or ortho-phenyl-chlorophenol.

Area accountants and guests are welcome. Social hour begins at 5:30, dinner at 6:30. Reservations may be made by calling the president, Mrs. William Ellbracht, CPA, of Arlington Heights, at 253-5540.

ST. THOMAS WOMEN

All women of St. Thomas parish in Palatine are invited to Thursday's meeting of St. Thomas Women's Club. It is scheduled after 7:30 p.m. Mass.

Ed Sauer of the Des Plaines Theater Guild will direct a melodrama, "No, No, A Thousand Times No."

PARENTS OF DIABETICS

Northwest Suburban Parents of Diabetic Children will hold their next meeting Thursday at 8 p.m. in Chippewa Junior High School, Des Plaines.

Mrs. Kenneth Deutsch will speak about the week's visit she and her daughter made to Joslin Clinic in Boston, a teaching hospital for diabetes.

The meeting is open to anyone interested in diabetes. Mrs. Claryce Wear-dahl, 902 Quince Lane, Mount Prospect, has further details.

LA LECHE LEAGUE

Mrs. Donald Oppermann, 1786 Taft Ave., Rolling Meadows, will be hostess to Thursday's meeting of Palatine-Rolling Meadows La Leche League. This is the last in a series of four sessions, the theme "Nutrition and Weaning."

Mrs. Quentin Ford will be discussion leader for the 8 p.m. meeting. All area women interested in breastfeeding are welcome.

Scott Digs Ecology

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI) — Actor George C. Scott was so impressed with a 30-minute ecology film he saw on television that he asked the documentary's producers for a copy for his personal library. The film, produced in Dallas by the Fort Worth-based Southern Baptist Radio and TV Commission, used a speech given by an Indian in the 1850s to go along with the pictures.

The Home Line

by Dorothy Ritz

Dear Dorothy: A friend told me that you once recommended that Epsom salts be used on rosebushes in the spring. I've never seen this in any rose books and was wondering where you came upon this information. — Mrs. Jordan Rosson.

It came from an expert rose grower — Charles Dawson. In his book on growing roses he recommended two pounds of Epsom salts every spring for 100 square feet of bed surface or for 25 plants. The Epsom salts provide the magnesium needed to make plants grow strong new canes or bottom shoots. My neighbors and I drifted into the habit of putting 2 tablespoons around each rosebush in the spring — never later. Epsom salts, of course, is in addition to all the other rose feedings. Is not in place of them.

Dear Dorothy: You answer so many oddball questions, maybe you can handle this one, too. Why the custom of colored eggs at Easter-time? — Jenny H.

The custom is supposed to represent the fact that the egg stands for life and the perpetuation of life. The coloring of eggs imitates the brilliant colors that represent the onset of spring. One can go on for pages on how the customs vary in foreign countries, but, fundamentally, they are similar.

Dear Dorothy: Found a new use for the butter and margarine wrappers that I've always saved to grease casseroles, baking pans and so on. They're perfect to grease washed baking potatoes as there is just the right amount of shortening left on and the wrapper is just flexible enough to use easily. Maybe other pack rats haven't tried this one. — Helen R.

(Mrs. Ritz welcomes questions and hints. If a personal reply is required, please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Write to Dorothy Ritz in care of Suburban Living, Paddock Publications, Box 280, Arlington Heights, Ill. 60005.)

FABRIC FLOWERS made by Mrs. Robert Jacks, Mrs. Herman Troppe and Mrs. James Arnold will decorate tables when Arlington Heights Branch, American Association of University Women, has a luncheon-fashion show Saturday at Methodist Church of the Incarnation.

Guests will be off to Nassau for "Twenty-One Days En Route" as Marilyn Moist of Marilee Fabrics models home-fashioned travel ensembles. Sewing hints, patterns and accessories are included. Tickets are available at 392-9118.

Palatine Couples To Sample Wines Thurs. Evening

Red or white, sweet or dry — there's a big difference in taste when it comes to wine, and a hostess should know when to serve the right one.

To give members of the Palatine newcomers a lesson on the proper selection of wines, the club is sponsoring its second annual wine tasting party Thursday evening at Arlington Elks Club. And the husbands are invited to join the sampling.

GUNTHER F. NATVEY of Widmer Industries will provide several wines from aperitif to sherry for everyone's personal evaluation and will give a short program on wines.

Reservations are necessary for this party. Those planning to attend should call Mrs. Brad Ayers, 359-8898, by Tuesday.

The newcomers' monthly get-together coffee for very new residents is April 19 at 8 p.m. in the Harry Kopp home, 1163 Sayles. Mrs. Robert Coppers, 359-3483, is making reservations.

Northwest Mental Health Clinic Offers Two Courses

Classes in communication with children and in marital life will be conducted at Northwest Mental Health Clinic, 1711 W. Campbell St., Arlington Heights, beginning Monday, April 24.

The eight-week communication course will be held from 7 to 8 p.m. and the marriage one from 8:30-9:30. There is a $15 fee. Instructor is Dr. Bruce Denner, formerly an associate professor of psychology at Indiana University now associated with the mental health center.

The course in communicating with children is a repeat of the one conducted earlier this year by Dr. Denner. It is aimed at parents, teachers and others dealing with children to help them communicate their feelings toward youngsters and to respond to children in everyday situations. There are no prerequisites.

The marital life class will include lectures, class discussion, small group experiences and special questionnaires and will cover these topics: Marriage as system in conflict and harmony, Impact of crisis and change, Marital patterns, Conlict in marriage, Suburban housewife with commuting husband, Women's liberation — men's liberation, Bridging the generation gap and Contractual marriages.

Registration may be in person at the clinic or by telephone, 392-1420.

Secretaries To Take A Journey

A "Sentimental Journey" will be taken by Park-Plaines Chapter of the National Secretaries Association during Secretaries Week April 23-28. The group won't go far, just to the Rodeway Inn, 5615 N. Cumberland Ave., Chicago, for a 10:30 a.m. brunch on Saturday, April 29. It honors the chapter's 14th anniversary.

Appropriately the "journey" follows the association's program of the year, "The Romance of Transportation," featuring the Lorraine Whittle Dancers of Des Plaines. The entertainers will take the audience around the world in song

Fremd's Golfers Young, Promising

by JIM COOK

"We're young, but we could make a mark in the Mid Suburban League this year."

Fremd head golf coach Len Flocca was sizing up his youthful Vikings prior to their scheduled season opener against Maine South this afternoon at 4.

"We've only been outside twice and really aren't completely sure of what we'll be working with or against," Flocca explained.

From an overall turnout of 42 candidates, the seven-year veteran is counting on Forest View transfer Joe Murken, soph Craig Falkenthal, Pat Rowworthy, Lach Frew, Brian Brown and Jim Benson to share most of the varsity burden.

Murken is only a junior, but was the frosh-soph medalist last year in the MSL conference meet. Murken was part of the underclass Vikings who finished at 500 for the season — best in their seven-year history.

Flocca is also eyeing freshman Cliff Garcia who has toured Palatine Hills Country Club in the mid 80's and "shows great promise."

Flocca does not believe in indoor nets for the simple reason that the golfer cannot see where his drives are headed. "You can be slicing or hooking and never know it," he said. "You may end up mastering something wrong."

The Vikings will call Palatine Hills home this year along with the Arlington and Palatine teams.

After graduating away four senior lettermen, Flocca is faced with a young band of linksmen, but they could develop into an important factor in the Mid Suburban League race.

"Arlington and Prospect look like the class of the league again," Flocca said. "It should be a horse race after that and we hope to be in it."

State Fish Contest Again

With the fishing season beginning for thousands of Illinois anglers, the Illinois Department of Conservation has announced that it will once again sponsor its Illinois Record Fish Contest.

The contest, sponsored for more than 10 years by the Department, runs on a calendar year basis — from Jan. 1 through Dec. 31 — with the winners receiving pins and certificates.

"We conduct the contest as a two-part affair," said Al Lopinot, chief fisheries biologist for the Department. "We have a category for state record fish and also for the biggest fish of a particular species that is not a record."

The rules for the contest are simple, Lopinot said. The fish must be caught by pole and line from Illinois waters and cannot be taken from a fee fishing area. The fish must be weighed to the nearest ounce on scales legal for trade in the presence of two witnesses. Length must be measured to the nearest 1/16 of an inch.

State record fish must be identified by a Department fishery biologist, who can be reached through the conservation officers in each county. If there is a delay in reaching the biologist, Lopinot suggests that the fish be frozen.

A photograph of the fish is necessary and the Department of Conservation must have permission to publish the photograph.

There are 32 fish listed with state record status. Last year the Department had 41 entries in the contest which produced seven new state record fish and 11 winners in the big fish category.

Entry forms are available at most sporting goods stores, from county law enforcement officers, or by writing to the Department. A listing of the state record fish, the record holders and the year the fish established the record can be obtained from: Department of Conservation, Division of Fisheries, 400 S. Spring St., Springfield, Ill. 62706.

Lion Golf Skein Continues

The St. Viator varsity golfers pushed their incredible dual-meet winning skein to 42 straight over the weekend with an outstanding 165-172 triumph over St. Patrick.

The Lions, competing in their initial match of the young season, mastered the Rob Roy front nine with the precision that has made their three-year streak possible.

Greg Muench and freshman Mickey Flitton paced Viator's impressive assault with solid 40's. Keith McDonald contributed a 42 and Terry McDonald and Ray Carroll each carded 43's.

The Shamrocks made it close on efforts like John Kloc's 40, John Schiebeck's 43, John Bartkiewicz's 44 and Al Oslecki's 45.

The meet also marked the opening of Suburban Catholic Conference competition for St. Viator — the circuit which they are heavily favored to dominate again.

The frosh-soph Lions were no less spectacular in whipping their St. Patrick counterparts, 164-193 over the back nine at Rob Roy.

Viator will be back in action tomorrow against both Palatine and Fremd at the Vikings' home course.

Saxon Netmen Top Norsemen

History repeated itself in the Schaumburg-Maine North meet Thursday.

The Norsemen, visiting the new Saxon courts for the season opener, lost a 4-1 decision. When these two new schools met last year, Schaumburg also won, its only victory of the 1971 season.

Schaumburg swept the singles matches in this manner — Randy Maddon over Lee Brenner, 6-1, 6-4; Dave Fenwick over Greg Polan, 6-2, 6-0; and Harvey Sharleu over Tim Tynan, 6-1, 6-2.

The Saxons also took the first doubles match behind Bill Hommoun and Larry Willer. They stopped Dave Hunter and Jenner, 6-1, 6-1.

Steve Bach and Rich Reese were stopped in their drive to make it a shut-out by Vames and Paytte, 6-2, 6-1.

The Schaumburg frosh-soph team also won by the same 4-1 score.

Rolling Meadows Nips Notre Dame, 3-2

The Rolling Meadows-Notre Dame tennis match was probably determined in the second singles showdown Thursday afternoon.

Don Bobac trailed Connie Trela of the Dons after the opening set, 6-4. Then the Mustang netman rallied to win the next two — 6-3, 6-1 — to give the new school a 2-1 edge after singles play.

Larry Pressl captured the other match with a 6-1, 6-0 conquest of Pat McDonald in third singles.

The two schools halved the doubles

duels as the Mustangs captured their season opener, 3-2.

Doing the damage to the Dons in doubles was the combination of Curt Anderson and Mark Shannon. They stopped John Huebsch and Ed Figura, 6-2, 8-6.

The Don's Jeff Leazer and Jamie Zimniewicz stopped Scott Skogen and Joe Dauven, 7-5, 6-2.

Winning for the visitors in singles was Rick Bava. He blanked Stan Hilde, 6-0, 6-0 in first singles.

Notre Dame captured the frosh-soph meet, 4-1.

Agase To Speak At Rotary Club

Alex Agase, head football coach at Northwestern University, will be the guest speaker on Thursday at the Arlington Heights Rotary Club meeting.

Alex Agase

The program will begin at 12:15 at the Starting Gate of Arlington Park Towers Hotel.

Guests of the club for the day will be football coaches Paul Jordan of Forest View, Joe Gliwa of Hersey, James Line of St. Viator, and Bob Walther of Arlington.

Agase is a Chicago born and raised native. During his college career, he played for the University of Illinois and Purdue and was named All-American three years in a row. He is a member of the College Football Hall of Fame.

Agase played professional football with Baltimore and Cleveland. He was named College Coach of the Year at Northwestern after the 1970 season.

Warriors Clip Knight Netters

Prospect won in No. 1 singles, but Maine West captured the other four matches as the Warriors posted a 4-1 victory Thursday.

Bob Zimmanck of Prospect defeated Steve Wild 6-3 and 6-4 in No. 1 singles, but the Knights were unable to win another match.

John Anderson of Maine West downed Jeff Risteen 6-0 and 6-3 in No. 2 singles and teammate Jack Semler defeated Mark Mavis 7-5 and 6-4 in No. 3 singles.

The Warriors won in No. 1 doubles with Joe Thimm and Roger Junge in a 6-0, 5-7 and 9-7 verdict and Doug Lauffenberger and Doug Meister defeated Chuck Ruckstaetter and Steve Ristow 7-5 and 6-3.

Maine West won the frosh-soph meet 3-2.

Vikings Lose Close Net Meet

If Fremd could have managed a win in singles in its first two matches of the season, its record would be perfect right now.

However, such was not the case as only the doubles teams won in the Vikings' opener and again in their second loss to Glenbrook North, 3-2, last week.

Winning first doubles was the combination of Kim Abbott and Carl Papp, 6-2, 3-6, 6-1. Rich Courtney and Jeff Leasing took the No. 2 title by scores of 6-3 and 6-2.

Chris Laffy dropped first singles 6-1, 6-0; Pat Erwin lost second singles, 7-5, 6-0; and George Jane fell in the final singles match, 6-3, 6-2.

The Fremd sophomore team won its second straight, 4-1.

West The Best

Jerry West of the Los Angeles Lakers has the best playoff history, putting in an average of 30.9 points over 120 games. West also leads in total points in play-off competition, with 3,708.

Motorcycle Racers Visit Washington Park Aug. 5

Washington Park, horse racing capital of Chicago's south side, will become home to America's top professional motorcycle racers on August 5 when Madison Square Garden and Don Brymer's Trojan Productions present the Yamaha Gold Cup, the first of two National Championship events scheduled this year in Chicago.

The second race tentatively is scheduled for September 9 at Arlington Park, where "big-time" professional motorcycle racing was introduced to the Chicago area last September before an Illinois record crowd of 21,167.

Washington Park is located at the Tri-State tollway (175th street) and Halsted in Homewood, Ill. and holds the state attendance record for horse racing with a top crowd of 57,036 that saw the races on Sept. 6, 1946.

The mile racing surface consists of a concrete-hard clay base with a minimal covering of silt and, though technically listed as a dirt track, should provide near speedway conditions for the 650 and 750 cc racing bikes.

The event is sanctioned by the American Motorcycle association and points earned will go toward the national championship, assuring the best riders in the country will compete, men such as Cal Rayborn, who won the Yamaha Gold Cup at Arlington last year.

A unique feature available at Washington Park will be the use of the dining room, which provides table settings for more than 1,000 directly overlooking the final portion of the "stretch run," including the start-finish line.

Ticket sales will be handled through all Ticketron outlets, Sears stores in Chicago and Joliet, and at the Arlington Park Towers hotel, the Arlington Park race track during racing season (May 31-August 5), and at Washington Park itself.

Further information on ticket prices, tickets by mail, and special party group prices will be announced later.

Legislators— Try It Again

Spring is a season of resurgence and optimism, and with these charitable thoughts in mind, we look with new hope to this morning's opening session of the Illinois General Assembly.

Despite the Illinois legislature's persistent and eternal tradition of inactivity and procrastination hope for this new session of the lawmakers is born anew.

Indeed, we hope the legislature is born anew both in spirit and diligence for there is much to be done in Illinois this year and a new charge to the General Assembly is well in order.

Much of the work to be done this year is concerned with crucial issues of the state which remain unfinished from last year's session.

Perhaps foremost among these is the Scenic Rivers Act, a measure which passed the House last term but now languishes in a Senate committee awaiting action.

Although hope for passage of this act appears dim, we urge the members of the Illinois State Senate to approve it and thereby make the state's commitments to selected rivers in Illinois more positive.

Also of high priority to the legislators should be the immediate enactment of a strong bill restricting billboards on Illinois highways. Not only is the state's share of federal highway funds in jeopardy because Illinois presently has no billboard law, the simple enhancement of public thoroughfares should call for passage of the bill.

Still awaiting confirmation by law is the whole issue of the implementation of the new state constitution and the serious questions which arose over the matter of home rule.

Incumbent on the legislature is a series of laws which further define the home rule powers of municipalities in the state. Quick court action in these areas of doubt would also do much to make the new constitution a workable document for Illinois.

Specific measures which should be enacted include the financing and thus the actual creation of the state Judicial Inquiry Board, a creature established by the new constitution but so far unable to operate because of the apprehension powerful blocs of legislators have over judicial inquiry in this state.

So, too, should adequate financing be given to Illinois community colleges, the state has promised these colleges 50 per cent financing but has consistently fallen short of that promise in actual funds. The least the state can do now is meet the campaign promises of Illinois politics and fund the colleges to the extent called for originally.

Another promise made but not met is the ludicrous case of the vanishing driver testing center for the Northwest suburbs. Although it seemed such a test center would come about, the state shifted its plans and abruptly cancelled the project.

Now it is up to the legislature to accommodate Northwest suburban residents with a testing facility in this area. Even if the original multi-million dollar site and building must be changed, some kind of test facility should be here in the suburbs. It is up to the legislature to see that such a facility is built.

If this list of charges to the Illinois General Assembly seems excessive, it is only because the needs of Illinois — and of this portion of the state — desperately need and deserve strong action in Springfield.

There are literally hundreds of measures and proposals awaiting legislators in the General Assembly. Of these pages and pages of laws there are many which can and will give direction to the entire state.

Much of the direction this year in Illinois must and should take into account the constant threat to the environment and the legislators' roles in seeking to preserve the state's resources.

Two important items for passage are the Lake Michigan Bill of Rights bill, now bottled up in a Senate committee, and a strong measure to control, or at least repair, the effects of strip mining in the state.

And so the list goes on, filled with possible boons for the state and its people and filled also with hazards born of inept legislation.

But, this is a time of hope. And hope is the killer of any pessimism. With today's opening gavel on the Illinois General Assembly, we look eagerly toward a full and productive session whose sole purpose is the welfare of the people of Illinois.

A Novel Driving TIP

Operating on the theory that if you can't lick 'em, join 'em — in this case motorists — the city of Montpellier, France, is testing a unique transportation system aimed at reducing urban congestion.

According to Traffic Safety magazine, the system is called "Transport Individuel Publique," or TIP, and allows drivers to travel about the city in publicly owned automobiles.

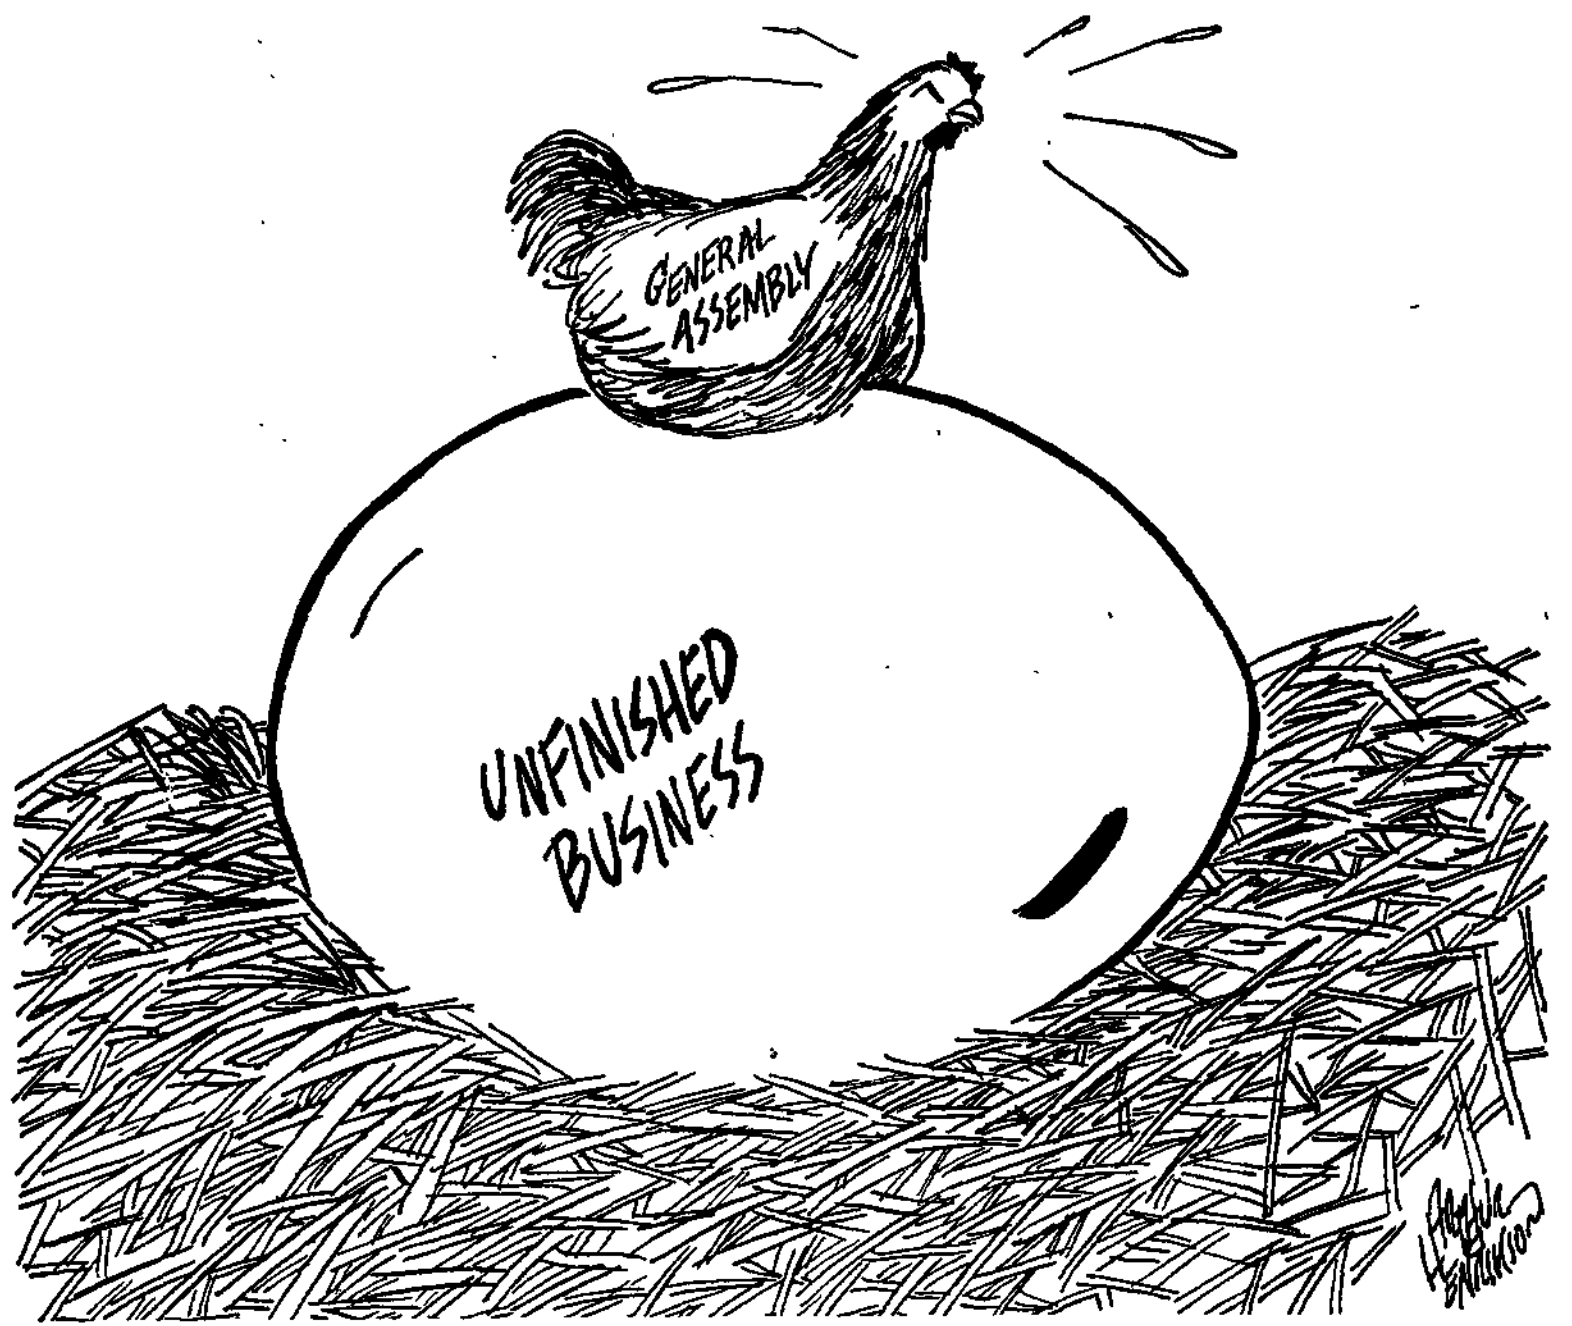

It works like this: A motorist pays a fee for an ignition key that will start any of the system's fleet of cars stationed at various locations in the city. Plastic tokens purchased at local stores allow a driver 11 miles of innercity driving on each token.

Upon reaching his destination, the driver merely drops the car off at a station for another driver to use. Later, he may return home in another TIP car.

The operators of the system claim that one-third of all vehicles could be removed from city streets if traffic were restricted to buses, taxis and TIP cars.

Great Moments In History

Politics Not Simple Enough For TV

by BRUCE BLOSSAT

The television folks, with their doom-crying over nearly every primary, may well have gone mad by July if somehow both Sens. Edmund Muskie and Hubert Humphrey are still battling hard for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The prospect is unlikely, and I am not predicting it. But it is not an impossibility. Things like that have happened before.

Given television's emotional, apocalyptic approach to politics today, it's probably just as well it wasn't providing the same lavish coverage in earlier nomination struggles.

Thus far this year, television, abetted by some of its "print media" brethren, has moderately underplayed Muskie's primary victory in New Hampshire, grossly overplayed Gov. George Wallace's triumph in Florida (here and there making him sound like a possible nominee), inflated New York Mayor John Lindsay's limited gains in some Arizona caucuses, and put the wrong focus on the Illinois primary (the big thing was Muskie's better than 4-to-1 delegate victory over Sen. George McGovern, not Muskie's 63-37 win over Eugene McCarthy in a popularity test).

With its present penchant for plunging candidates to the depths or lifting them to the clouds on the basis of single-shot performances, television would have had just a terrible time in the years 1952 through 1964.

Think what the electronic fellows would have done, for instance, with the Stevenson-Kefauver primary in Minnesota in 1958. The late Adlai Stevenson had the governor and all the other top people with him. No one sniffed real peril.

But old Sen. Estes Kefauver padded around that state and whomped Stevenson by 60,000 votes! It would have been burial rites for Adlai on TV's morning-after shows.

As it turned out, though Kefauver won some others (mostly unopposed), Stevenson won the big ones he needed in Florida, Oregon and California. After that, the wise types said Stevenson was in, and the Keef pulled out.

The year 1952 would have had the television boys in vertigo. First General Eisenhower won New Hampshire and piled up a big Minnesota write-in that almost stole the thing from favorite-son Harold Stassen. Then Sen. Robert Taft snapped back and took Wisconsin and Illinois.

In Round Three, Ike ran up blistering winning scores in New Jersey, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania. Taft counter-punched with victories in Ohio, West Virginia, Nebraska.

Eisenhower struck again in Oregon, and Taft slipped past him in a bitter South Dakota primary.

Today's television specialists would have buried those two so many times along the way they would have run out of black and purple.

They aren't equipped for drawn-out slugfests. They like to put 'em up and put 'em down quick. Show biz.

They couldn't have handled the fact that Taft beat Ike, 6 to 5, in primaries but lost the nomination on the first ballot; that Kefauver in 1956 won seven primaries to Stevenson's five but withdrew before convention time; that Barry Goldwater in 1964 went a weak 5-5 in primaries, looked bad in three of his victories, yet quickly swept the convention.

Then there was that lovely moment in the Los Angeles sports arena in 1960. John F. Kennedy, 7-0 in the primaries, was about to be nominated convincingly on the first ballot.

But galleries packed and shouting for Stevenson persuaded prestigious television commentators that a thunderous surf was about to wipe out Kennedy's castles of sand. It didn't. The tide went out and never came back.

Maybe that's when the television types really began to find their own marvelous world of apocalyptic politics. It's quite something.

Tells Why He Opposes Housing Plan

Thank you for your explanation of CMCC in the Herald of March 30, such as it is.

Your explanation of CMCC omits any rationale for their accusing the Des Plaines City Council of "unconscious racism on one hand and asking for racial justice for minorities" on the other hand. I assumed racial justice should be applied to all or it is not justice as we know it.

Was not such a statement just a blatant attempt to intimidate the Des Plaines City Council? Such tactics do not speak well of an organization committed to securing racial justice.

The FENCE POST Letters to the Editor

Now to answer some questions posed to me. I am opposing low and moderate-income housing in Des Plaines because:

1. The nature of federal funding being what it is, the citizenry of Des Plaines would have no written assurance that any low or moderate income housing built in Des Plaines would be used exclusively for the citizens of Des Plaines only, and not to allow some grandiose plan, such as Judge Austin's, to be foisted on this community.

2. I believe the local citizens, through their elected officials, should have the final voice in zoning, land use and housing for their community. I do not believe the federal government or outside social experts, whose failures are legion, should be allowed to further despoil local communities, considering their catastrophic results in Chicago and other large American cities.

Regarding your hypothesis for my real reason, suffice it to say that 500,000 middle class white Chicagoans plus some uncounted thousands of middle class black people were forced to flee Chicago proper during the past 10 years, due to several forms of chaotic living conditions, unsafe communities due to crime, a school system so troubled that I doubt even massive injections of monies can halt its decline.

Now, despite your preconceived opinion of me, I'm sure the majority of others did not abandon the inner city on the strength of one experience. They are simply seeking what should be theirs by birthright, a chance to raise their families in a stable environment without being unfairly blamed for any shortcomings that the American society may not have extended to all its people in the past.

CMCC in the Herald of March 30, such as it is.

Tomorrow...

—EDITORIAL: A school that provides special help.

I have personally experienced activist groups such as CMCC before. I have heard the arrogant demands. I know how persuasive their rhetoric can be to the unexperienced. I have seen many well-meaning people and community leaders mesmerized by their siren song. I have also noted their disappearance when the community problems really start. They are off in some other community selling their wares. Equality, yes! Community takeover, no!

Their opening statements traditionally bespeak racial justice, equality and such platitudes to disarm the people.

When the racial turnover occurs, then the original plea often changes from equality to community control, a subtle form of racism in reverse. Such devious acts do nothing for the majority of Americans who honestly seek an equitable society.

In our petition sheets we explicitly stated: We recognize the right of an individual whether or not he is a member of a minority group to purchase, rent and otherwise reside in the City of Des Plaines, provided he has the economic wherewithal. We will continue to stand by that statement.

Why The High Cost Of Meat

Two columns on food prices should be worth a little research. If you really are seeking reasons for the high cost of meat, please consider these facts:

In 1968, the federal government imposed quotas on meat imports. Prices have been rising faster than on other food products since then. The per cent increase varies on meat products but hamburger has jumped 29 per cent in this time.

You call for the administration to "weld us together." You must realize by now that campaign promise was mere rhetoric.

Rarely has the American public been more dissatisfied, bewildered and in many cases very angry. Much of the confusion is due to lack of sound information, which is the function of newspapers and other news media.

The National Restaurant Association, Bess Meyerson, consumer organizations and several Congressmen have opposed meat quotas because of the effect on prices. If the news media does its job, the administration will be forced to abandon its present policy of restricting supply while exempting prices from controls. Price control cannot work as presently applied.

One other fact to reflect on, beef sales went down in 1971 in the United States.

A 'Nightmare'

I appreciated your recent article discussing the dangerous condition of Palatine Road. Even though this would be a convenient road for me to take on a daily basis I have ceased to use it. Considering the millions of dollars spent on this highway the result has been a real nightmare. The concept was bad, the engineering terrible and the frequent changes mere band-aids.

One relatively inexpensive safety aid would be improved lighting. It is an extremely dark road and this coupled with all the confusing inlets, outlets, traffic signals, raised curbs, etc., compound the dangers. Extensive use of luminous paint on the road and improved overhead lighting could reduce the number of accidents on this highway considerably.

Praises Stand

You and your associates are to be complimented on the editorial position in opposition to the District 57 referendum which appeared in the Herald. It is, of course, difficult for a suburban newspaper with a positive outlook to take a controversial stand and what might appear to be a negative one in the eyes of some local citizens.

Mr. Akerson and Miss Rugen did a most thorough job in analyzing this situation and in helping to arrive at this sound policy decision.

Again, congratulations and best wishes.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A pilot program for what could be the "checkless society" of the future has been partially initiated in a group of California banks this year. But it's still in the testing stage.

The experiment, using computers and magnetic tapes, is being watched carefully by regional banks in at least 21 cities throughout the nation. It involves the computerized handling of debits and credits in automated clearing houses (ACH).

Sponsored by banks in San Francisco and Los Angeles under the auspices of the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco, the program is known as the Special Committee on Paperless Entries (SCOPE).

Russell L. Fenwick, a San Francisco banker, is chairman of SCOPE and also chairman of the operations-technology task force of the American Bankers Association's Monetary and Payments System Planning Committee.

HOW DOES SCOPE work?
"It involves five participants," Fenwick said. They are:

—The individual who, as customer or employee, authorized in advance the acceptance of debits or credits to his checking account.

—The company which, as seller or employer, generates such debits or credits.

—The originating bank, the company's bank, to which the company submits entries.

—The receiving bank authorized to receive entries.

—The ACH which receives entries from originating banks and distributes them to receiving banks.

For automatic payroll, for example, an employer first would make arrangements with his bank the originating bank to process paperless entries. Then the employer would distribute individual authorization agreements to his employee.

An employee wishing to participate would authorize the company to start automatic deposits to his account — at any bank he chooses in California. Through the same agreement, he authorizes his own bank to accept these paperless deposits.

At each pay period, the employer will deliver magnetic tape containing the employee account number information and net salary payments to the originating bank. The employer will continue to provide a statement of earnings to his employees, but the paycheck will not be attached since it already has been deposited.

FOLLOWING THIS, the originating bank will retain entries for the employee depositing in that bank and forward a tape containing entries for other banks in the ACH. The ACH will balance, sort and handle inter-bank settlements.

Fenwick said the advantages of the system are significant for all participants.

"For the individual," he explained, "the danger of a paycheck being lost or stolen is eliminated — there's no check involved. It also saves him a trip to the bank."

His wages are automatically deposited for him even during vacations or business trips. If he prearranges payment of some of his routine bills he will save time and postage involved by not writing and mailing checks each month.

For companies, the clerical work will be reduced. For banks, it will ease congestion on paydays and the reduction in the cost of handling regular checks.

Motorola Expects Upswing

Despite uncertainty in the international market, Motorola, Inc., executives predict a continuing improvement in the U.S. economy. Increased sales and earnings are foreseen for the coming year, the executives said, in a recent annual report for 1971.

Record sales were achieved in 1971 rising 16 per cent to $866,862,371. Earnings increased 24 per cent to $11,748,944 or $2.37 a share. This compares to earnings in 1970 of $1.83 a share before an extraordinary expense of $1,422,465. The 1971 earnings represent 7 cents a share gained from the revaluation of certain foreign balances to current exchange rates.

Although sales in the semiconductor division remained approximately constant, earnings declined, reflecting lower international volume and other factors. The communications division, based in Schaumburg, achieved record sales, up 10 per cent over the previous year.

Record color television sales helped to boost the consumer division to a profitable position in 1971. Sales of car radios accounted for significantly increased sales and earnings in the automotive division. Moderately increased sales and record earnings were reported for Motorola's government division.

MOTOROLA'S STRONG financial condition is indicated by the current ratio of $2.22 in assets for each $1 in liabilities. Assuming continued government limitation of direct foreign investment, overseas growth in the near future will be financed primarily with Eurodollars.

Capital expenditures of the company totaled $32 million in 1971. Foreign and domestic capital expenditures should reach $40 million this year.

An increase over the $65 million spent on product engineering and development programs is expected for this year.

Elmer H. Wavering will retire as vice chairman and chief operating officer in May of this year. A 41-year veteran with Motorola, he will remain on the board of directors.

William J. Wisz, now president and assistant chief operating officer, will become chief operating officer upon Wavering's retirement.

A comprehensive management reorganization plan was announced by Wavering; Meiss, and Robert W. Galvin, chairman of the board. Emphasis will be placed on long range planning; the elevation of additional key officers to senior positions in order to reduce the span of control of the chairman and president's office; rotation of top executives between line and staff positions; and development of increased delegation of responsibilities.

Increased sales and earnings in all divisions was projected for 1972. A continued improvement in the domestic economy was also forecast by the Motorola executives.

Five Area Companies Will Exhibit In NY Exposition

Five Northwest Suburban companies will be among the exhibitors at the American Management Association's 41st National Packaging Exposition opening in New York on April 17.

The four-day conference is expected to draw 30,000 visitors. Hundreds of exhibits will represent 26 states, the District of Columbia, Canada, Switzerland, Monaco and the British Trade Development Office.

Local exhibitors will include: Weber Marking Systems, Inc., Arlington Heights; Application Engineering Corp., Elk Grove Village; T&F Fluorocarbon Co., Rolling Meadows; Spotsnals, Inc., Rolling Meadows; and Love Controls Corp., Wheeling.

The Department of Commerce has made the exposition this year's focus of its "VIP" program which encourages exports by inviting overseas businessmen to visit, investigate and purchase American products.

Concurrent with the show at the New York Coliseum will be the association's three-day 41st National Packaging Conference opening at the Americana Hotel April 17. Speakers from 10 states and the District of Columbia will be among the participants. The theme for 1972 is Packaging in the Age of Controls: Increasing Creativity and Increasing Productivity.

Personal Finance

by CARLTON SMITH

Wouldn't it be a gas to be able to peer over shoulders as the householders of your community filled out their tax forms, to see what they're putting down on Line 18 — "adjusted gross income"? And what they're spending?

You might find it only depressing, if many of them were retirees. So we're told by a reader, a Mr. J. who's a retiree himself in a downstate Illinois community, and who supplements retirement income by preparing tax returns at this time of year.

"Retirees say that Social Security payments are too meager — and their tax forms prove it," he says. Citing figures on cost-of-living essentials and their continued rise, he says he doubts that many couples in retirement will be persuaded by the "new thinking" that advocates frugal spending of retirement funds.

That school of thought, as we reported recently, holds that many retirees lead unnecessarily pinched lives, because of a reluctance to use reserve funds for living expenses. In part, according to this view, the reluctance is an inheritance of fearfulness from past decades, before Social Security and Medicare, when personal means had to provide not just the amenities, but the bare necessities of life.

FROM HIS familiarity with retirees' tax forms, Mr. J. argues that inflation has made it impossible for anyone to regard the future with enough certainty for any planned spending of reserve funds.

"Ten years before we retired, a semi-private hospital room in this community cost $32.50 a day. Now it costs $52.50 — an increase of about 60 per cent. The charge for a doctor's office visit has increased 50 per cent. Premiums for medical and hospital insurance have increased proportionately."

What the tax forms show, he says, is that Medicare doesn't cover the basic needs, and retirees spend from private funds to pay the doctor and the hospital. Nor do Social Security benefits alone cover basic living costs, he maintains. Expenses for a couple in his community he puts at about $4,500 a year — "below which you're in the indigent class."

That figure is close to what the Department of Labor says will provide a "moderately good" living for a couple in the average U.S. metropolitan area. The average Social Security payment to husband and wife falls about $1,200 a year short of that.

"IT'S TRUE" that this fearful compulsion to conserve your capital tends to cast a pall over the retiree's style of living," says Mr. J. "But when you consider what another 50 per cent inflation in another 10 years would mean to the finances of retirement, that 'pall' might be a shadow that you really need and want."

Yes, perhaps someone like Mr. J. who knows what the realities are from looking at his neighbors' tax forms, has something to say to the theoreticians who think you'd enjoy life more if you spent more.

Certainly he has a message for those who are still wage-earners. Reserve funds, when you reach retirement age, are not just a nice thing to have — they're a necessity. It's better to pinch a little now, than be forced to pinch a lot later on.

Purchasing Management Parley Set

The Purchasing Management Association of Chicago will hold its regular monthly dinner meeting on Thursday, April 13.

The session will be held in the Walnut Room of the Bismarck Hotel, Chicago. Cost for the 6:30 p.m. meeting is $6 a person.

Value techniques in transportation will be the topic of the meeting. Following a slide and tape presentation developed by the National Association of Purchasing Management, a question and answer session will be held on transportation problems.

James J. Werner will lead this discussion. He is regional director, Bureau of Operations, Interstate Commerce Commission, Chicago. He is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania where he also served on the faculty for seven years. Werner served in the U.S. Army as a commissioned officer. During his 25-year career in the transportation industry, Werner has served with the former Bureau of Motor Carriers, Interstate Commerce Commission.

Assembly Ready For 'Action'

by JEFF SHELER

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UPI) — The Illinois General Assembly convenes today for a session that legislative leaders hope will be low on rhetoric and high on action.

But with Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie's controversial $7.4 billion state budget demanding action and with statewide elections only months away, odds favor an emotionally charged, politically cast session that could easily stretch into late June.

Sen. Cecil A. Partee, D-Chicago, president pro tem, said the Senate will restrict filing of new bills and will confine its actions to the budget, implementation of the new constitution and other major legislation.

"We won't be absolutely rigid," Partee said, "but if we are not somewhat restrictive we will open the door to a lot of action on things designed for personal aggrandizement. No doubt some will sacrifice time for their own political purposes."

Rep. Henry Hyde, R-Chicago, assistant minority leader, said he, too, hoped the lawmakers would hold down the rhetoric.

"But in an election year it is hard to imagine no political bills," Hyde said.

Unless this year is different from other years, the budget will go undecided until the pressure is on late in the session. But this year the lawmakers are under pressure at both ends.

FIRST ORDER of business will likely be a highway bill regulation bill that, unless acted upon by April 15, could cause the state to lose $32 million in federal funds.

The bill, to regulate placement of billboards along federal highways, was passed by the General Assembly, revised by the governor under his amendatory veto powers, and returned to the General Assembly for approval.

U.S. Department of Transportation Secretary John Volpe extended to April 15 a deadline requiring the state to meet federal standards or forfeit highway funds.

How Brinkley Lays It On The Line

by RICK DUBROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — There is no better writer in television news than David Brinkley. And, whether or not one agrees with all his views, there are few finer examples of his writing mastery and style, or his gift for succinct and direct expression, than his comments this week about the Wisconsin primary.

So here, courtesy of NBC-TV, is what Mr. Brinkley had to say on that subject: "The Wisconsin primary has some unusual issues. Some of direct, personal concern to the American people. And about time."

"One is the property tax. Who ever heard of candidates for President talking about that? The answer is: We haven't. But we should have. Across the country, property taxes have risen dramatically and are still rising, but as people pay more they don't get any more and often they get less. So there is a public outcry and every candidate here in the primary now talks about reforming a system so unfair it cannot be defended."

"Another issue is government itself. The fact it has become highly centralized and isolated... It has become increasingly self-centered and arrogant... There is a public irritation and resentment, not with the system, but with the way the politicians and bureaucrats have abused it. People simply feel they are not treated fairly. And they're right. They're not."

FURTHER PROOF of the liberating effect of CBS-TV's "All In the Family" on video material will be forthcoming next week on the same network's 90-minute "Friday Night Movie" series, in the form of three half-hour comedies.

One, "Man In the Middle," starring Van Johnson, concerns a "bewildered businessman and his wife in a household where her far-to-the-right mother studies karate and gunmanship and their daughter never misses a liberal protest meeting." A second half-hour, "Keep the Faith," is about a young rabbi and his older colleague, and the uproar created by the young man when he fires a caretaker whose wealthy relatives support the temple.

The third half-hour, "This Week In Nemtin," is a comedy with music which shows in a series of satirical skits the wacky goings-on in Nemtin, "described as a border surrounded by countries and occupied by countries and occupied by the outcasts of the world." Carl Reiner is among those taking part in this show.

And speaking of "All In the Family," young viewers may find that some of its influence has rubbed off on a new half-hour children's cartoon series, "The Barkleys," that will be on NBC-TV's Saturday morning schedule this fall. The cartoon concerns the comic adventures of "an opinionated, outspoken but lovable canine head of household and his middle-class family."

Win At Bridge

by Oswald and James Jacoby

Oswald: "The most skillful form of bridge competition is an IMP team match where a hand is played just twice and all you have to do is to play more successfully than opponents' partners."

Jim: "You said 'more successfully,' not 'better.' In other words there is still some luck involved."

Oswald: "Here is a hand from a match played a few years back. The bidding in the box took place at one table. North's three-heart call was an all-purpose modern cue bid. It could be the start of a slam try or it could be an invitation to South to try no-trump. South went to no-trump on the theory that maybe his queen of hearts would be a key."

Jim: "I imagine South was happy when he saw that Jack of hearts lead?"

Oswald: "He was! It looked as if his queen of hearts would be the ninth trick but when East produced the king and returned the suit, South had to go one down. At the other table, North just bid three no-trump after the two heart overcall. East opened his partner's suit and the queen of hearts became declarer's ninth trick."

Jim: "Real luck. Most of the time the king of hearts would be held by the bidder of the heart suit and South would have been the proper declarer. Of course, with no heart lead at all there would only be eight tricks since eventually West would get in and lead hearts toward the king."

It's A Crazy, Mixed-Up Baseball Season

Preps Fight The Weather; Pros Just Keep Fighting

by KEITH REINHARD

Baseball. According to Webster it's a two-syllable noun describing a game played with a bat and ball by two teams on a field with four bases arranged in a diamond.

More and more people will probably be turning to the dictionary this spring, however, to refresh their memory about the operation first laid out in Hoboken, N.J. back in 1846.

The professionals, of course, are fighting and striking. Here in northern Illinois on the other hand it is the weatherman who has struck, and struck hard, against prep baseball.

Some high school teams have managed to get a game or two in. Others have yet to get out on a genuine playing field. Practice sessions continue to be conducted in gymnasiums and fieldhouses and parking lots occasionally. Coaches can only sigh right now and think of a whole spring vacation virtually wiped out by Mother Nature.

If the mentors are just sighing about combat wiped out in the past, however, they're groaning over the prospects for the future. In the Mid-Suburban League, for example, not one of the dozen pilots polled Saturday evening really expected to play today and most had practically given up hope on Tuesday and Wednesday as well.

"Our field is shot for at least another week and maybe even longer unless the weather is exceptionally mild," Steve Chernicky of Hersey explained. Conant's Jerry Cunningham voiced a similar projection: "We couldn't play on our varsity field even before that last snowstorm hit on Friday and I'm doubtful we'll get on it at all this week."

The diamonds at Wheeling and Fremd are apparently in the best shape and even there the coaches are not the most optimistic of individuals. "We've kept our mound and the area around home plate covered so they've stayed dry," Ron DeBolt of the Wildcats explained. He hasn't ruled out the possibility of playing as soon as Tuesday although Wednesday would appear to be a more realistic date.

Viking helmetsman Terry Gellinger looks to be even better off. "We played on our field last Thursday and it was in good shape. With good weather we can be back on ours by Tuesday for sure."

Practically to a man, the surge of inclement weather has brought out strong sentiments over revamping the spring diamond slate. The coaches are saying that 1972 is just bringing more vividly to the surface what they've been subjected to all along... extremely poor playing conditions early in the season and a need for authorities to take a long, new, objective look at the needs of local prep baseball teams.

"There's no reason why everyone's schedule couldn't be moved back a couple of weeks," Gellinger pointed out. "We finish up our season in the middle of May when the real good weather is just beginning to break."

The Fremd pilot noted that last spring the MSL coaches voted unanimously for such a proposal only to find their new schedule moved even further up instead.

Larry Peddy of Elk Grove, who going into Monday was the only coach who did not have at least one non-conference game to make up, outlined some of the reasons why he feels the early start given prep baseball is anything but beneficial: "For one thing these early matches before the time change are invariably shortened ball games which give no true indication of team's strength. For another, there's no real chance for a team to gain some familiarity with their own field."

"A team may get a day or two of good, hard practice in on their field if they're lucky and then the schedule has them starting to play," Peddy added. "There are so many things that can't be simulated indoors such as working off a mound, relays, setting up your double plays, popups along the foul lines that you need a good two weeks or so to really get the feel of your own field."

Cunningham added another hazard of the early start: "There's a greater possibility of a youngster getting injured when your field is in less than the best possible playing shape. A kid is more apt to hurt his arm or pull up lame, too, when the weather is so cold."

Some coaches are already inspecting some of the alternatives. Peddy, DeBolt and Prospect's Larry Pohlman have been considering the feasibility of a southern road trip during spring vacation.

"It's ridiculous to just sit around during this break, watching the snow fall and not getting anything accomplished," Pohlman moaned. "The weather is that much better down south that you'd be certain to get your four exhibition games in and the cost wouldn't be at all that prohibitive."

Evidently, not. Warren High School in Gurnee, for example, went of Carbondale for their spring vacation where they were housed in dormitories on the SIU campus. They played games with Carbondale High, Meridian, Mounds City and Johnson City (winning all four) in 70-80 degree weather and the cost per player came to 12 dollars. A fund drive conducted by the players this past winter covered the rest of the expenses.

"When you think about the cost for buses and officials to play your games around here, there wouldn't be that much of a difference," DeBolt observed. "You could take two or three teams down state in one bus and by either having players down there take in the players from here or using college campuses that are pretty much vacated during spring vacation, leaves only food as a main expense."

As far as the climate further south, there is definitely an advantage. Arlington's Fran Somers, who coached in Bloomington just 100 miles or so south of Chicago previously, noted that even the fields there are a week or two further along at this time of the year.

Hopefully, a spring full of rain and snow in northern Illinois will open enough eyes along the pre diamond circuit to bring about some needed changes in slate-making policies. For the time being though, a policy of grin and bear it appears to be the only answer with snowball throwing rather than baseball throwing the chief preoccupation.

Here's a rundown on the MSL diamonds and playing schedules as divisional cross-over action is slated to get underway this afternoon with a full slate of games:

ARLINGTON — With perfect weather the Cards will still be fortunate to use their own diamond at all this week. Somers is considering the use of Recreation Field which drains somewhat better. Arlington has games with Ridgewood and Glenbrook South to make up and has yet to play its first contest to date.

ELK GROVE — Even without snow the Grove field was not in playing condition last Saturday and Peddy figured action there will be set back another week minimum.

CONANT — The Cougar arena is also in extreme doubt for the whole week. Conant, with a pair of victories under the belt already, has a doubleheader with Rockford Auburn reslated for Apr. 22.

FOREST VIEW — Coach Tom Seidel noted that his Falcons played on their field last Thursday and could be back in action there by this Wednesday with good weather. "That's not the varsity field though, which will take at least a week to return to playing shape," he said. Forest View has a rainout with New Trier East rescheduled for Thursday and a game with Stevenson to be made up later in the week hopefully.

FREMONT — With good weather the Vikings can play at home Tuesday. They'll be busy for a while then, with games to be made up against Grant, Glenbrook South and West Chicago in addition to their three MSL matches for this week.

GLENBARD NORTH — Last Thursday the sophomore field was ready to go according to new coach Bill Leighly. Now Wednesday or Thursday is the Panther target date for returning to action at home if the weather holds up. GBN lost their opener at Glenbard East, 5-3 and bouts for reslating against Lake Park, Fenton and West Chicago.

HERSEY — The Huskies may return to the field at MacArthur junior high where they played their first two seasons. They have yet to go on their own field, which has been set back more than another week now by the recent storms. Hersey has games with Grant, Barrington and Maine West to reschedule.

PALATINE — Friday is the most likely day the Pirate field in Maple Park will be playable again according to Roy Schodtler. Wednesday would be the very earliest under ideal conditions. Palatine has not played at all yet with games outstanding against Lake Park, Niles and North and Glenbrook North.

PROSPECT — Wednesday is possible but not very probable for the Knights. Pohlman suspects it will be Thursday or Friday before play is resumed at Prospect. His team has a makeup with Fenton earmarked for May 18 and a game with Maine North to be made up when possible later in the campaign.

ROLLING MEADOWS — Coach Al Otto's team has switched action to Pioneer Park in Arlington Heights for the entire season. That field could be ready by Wednesday with good weather. The Mustangs have games to make up with St. Viator and Fenton.

SCHAUMBURG — Saxon helmetsman Roy Hascup is projecting eight days from the time the snow is gone before his field can go into operation. "Our crew will do the best they can but I'm not going to be optimistic about any day through this week," he stated. Schaumburg has only one game to be rescheduled, against Maine North.

WHEELING — The Wildcats haven't played a game yet either. DeBolt hopes this situation will be rectified as soon as Tuesday or Wednesday. Deerfield, Niles North and Niles West all have games to make up with Wheeling.

Knight Golfers In Debut Today

by JIM COOK

"I'm walking into a lot of tradition," was the way George Bork described his move into the head coaching position for the Prospect golf team.

"That's all these kids know is winning over here and I hope my presence won't change that attitude."

Despite the fact that former Knight mentor Mike Nisen has since transferred to first-year Rolling Meadows, Bork will certainly not be lacking in the knowledge or playing of the game.

He's a one-handicapper and already has his application in for the U. S. Open Tournament where he missed qualifying by just one stroke last year.

From a whopping turnout of about 48 linksmen, Bork plans to carry about 10 on the varsity level. Heading the list of returning veterans are Scott Janusz, John von Berg, Don Tessmer, Bill Weinhofer, Scott Anderson and Bob Horwath.

"We've got a pretty good nucleus of talent returning this season," Bork understated. The Knights posted a 7-2 mark in the Mid Suburban League a year ago and deadlocked for second with Wheeling behind undefeated Arlington.

Prospect will host their meets at Mt. Prospect Country Club over the par 36 front nine layout. The Knights open today at East Leyden.

Suffers Tough 2-1 Loss In Opener

Harper Romps, 9-2; Records Split

Just about the time when Herald area high school teams were calling their games because of freezing temperatures, Harper College was beginning the second half of its day-night doubleheader.

The Hawks, through lucky scheduling, weren't around the area when the cold wave whipped through. They were at Mattoon's lighted field trying to gain a split on the day.

Coch Jim Eliasik's team shook off a 2-1 extra inning loss and hammered hosting Lakeland College in the nightcap, 9-2.

Harper came back with a vengeance after a "we was robbed" afternoon affair that went eight innings. With the score tied, 1-1, in the bottom of the eighth, two out and runners on second and third, the man on third was sent home. Pitcher Buzz Johnson delivered and the runner was tagged out. End of the inning, right? Wrong!

As the Harper players were jogging off the field, the Lakeland coach was coming on and calling balk. After a consultation with the infield umpire, Johnson was called for a balk and the runner scored. That officially not only ended the inning but the game as well.

Johnson pitched well in his season opener with nine strikeouts, five walks, no earned runs and nine scattered hits.

Harper could have won the game in regulation time if it hadn't been for a "twist" of fate in the top of the seventh. Lead off batter Bruce Eberle walked and then Tony Fricano pinch ran for him. Fricano scored on a double by Kim Boley. Bob Bain followed with a shot past third base. Boley might have scored but hesitated near third and sprained his ankle. He managed to get back to the bag but the Harper bats couldn't get the go-ahead run home.

Accounting for Harper's other two hits were Mike Honel and Bob Andreas.

SCORE BY INNINGS

Harper ..... 000 000 10-1-3-2

Lakeland ..... 000 100 01-2-0-0

Although Lakeland came back with its ace hurler for the second game, Harper would not be denied. The Hawks came out swinging at the offerings of one of the better fastball throwers in the state and never trailed.

Wally Wiener, Harper's leadoff man, smacked a single to start the rally. Following three more singles by Rich Gawron, Honel and Dean Sheridan along with a wild pitch, the Hawks were on top 4-0. They didn't sit on this lead.

Wiener started the second inning with a walk and moved to third when Gawron reached on an error. Wiener scored on a wild pitch. Honel and Eberle walked to fill the bases and then George Solomon drew another base on balls to send in the second run of the inning.

Lakeland bounced back with a pair in the third, so Harper added three insurance runs in the sixth. Wiener again ignited the inning by striking out and reaching on the catcher's passed ball, the third time he had reached base in this manner. He moved to second on the catcher's error and was joined on base as Gawron walked. Honel singled in Wiener. Then, two outs later, Solomon drove home both runners with a single to right.

Solomon led the Hawks with three RBIs while going 2-for-3 and stealing one base. Sheridan had one hit in four at bats which scored two runs. Honel was 2-for-3 with one RBI and a stolen base. Andreas had a double and a single in four trips with two RBIs.

Despite the nine hits, the Lakeland hurler managed to strikeout every one of the Harper starters at least once while recording 17 in the seven-inning game. All nine of the runs he gave up, however, were earned. Had he possessed a curve to go with his bullet, the Hawks could have been in real trouble.

John Macdonald, the second lefty to go the distance for Harper against Lakeland, had less than half the strikeout total of his competitor with eight, but he walked only two and allowed just six hits. Macdonald was sharp through the contest, but some bad luck ruined his bid for a shutout. A ball was lost in the lights for a double. And error and a wild pitch brought in the first third-inning run and a single scored the other.

Lakeland, a perennial power in that section of the state, entered the doubleheader with a 2-0 record. Harper was 1-0 before the day began.

The Hawks could have made the nightcap even more lopsided had their fifth-inning rally been successful. Solomon singled and Andreas doubled with no outs, but a shot back to the pitcher by Bain started a double play and the next Hawk was retired.

Harper was supposed to have played Danville Friday, but the bad weather finally reached downstate and rained out the contest.

The Hawks will be hoping to improve on their 2-1 record this week if the weather allows them to play.

Elk Grove, Meadows Finish 2-3 Behind St. Edward's Linksmen

Elk Grove and Rolling Meadows managed to get 16 holes of golf in last week before the miserable weather conditions blotted out the remainder of the week-end.

Host St. Edward of Elgin paced the three-team triangular over its home St. Andrews Country Club layout. St. Eds counted four of its eight scores for 350 total strokes. Elk Grove was eight shots back at 358 while first-year Rolling Meadows hit 390.

The Grenadiers countered scores of 84, 88, 89 and 89 by St. Edward with Keith Moore's 88, Mark Okuma's 89, Scott Walker's 90 and Todd Gander's 91.

The second Elk Grove quartet which was making its first appearance of the season included John Bishop (98), Ernie Woodard (100), Dave Chernick (101) and Tim Evans (109).

The Mustangs used Carl Schweikert's 92, Todd Sander's 98, Scott Werner's 98 and a 102 by Tom Carlstrom to derive their total. Other Meadows performers included John Stahl (105), Bruce Barnett (108), John Bullman (109) and Steve Nicoloff (117).

St. Edward also captured the frosh-soph competition with 414. Rolling Meadows landed second with 425 and Elk Grove third with 436.

Meadows Booster

Board To Meet

The Board of Directors of the Mustang Booster Club will hold their last meeting of the current school year on April 12 at 8:00 p.m. at Rolling Meadows High School.

A slate of officers for the Club's upcoming election in May will be announced by Frank Hogan, Nominating Committee Chairman.

Pucinski, Educators On Panel

School Funds Topic Of Talk

U.S. Rep. Roman C. Pucinski and educator Ben C. Hubbard will join other educational leaders Wednesday in Oak Brook to examine the financial plight of schools in Illinois.

The meeting will take place at the third annual seminar for school superintendents sponsored by Northern Illinois Gas Co. A panel discussion on various aspects of the financial problem is included in the program.

To be held from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., at the Sheraton-Oakbrook Motor Hotel, 1401 W. 22nd St., "Financial Survival in the Seventies" is designed to provide a close look at the fiscal well-being of our state's primary and secondary educational systems.

Pucinski

Ben
Hubbard

Pucinski, chairman of the congressional subcommittee on general education and author of the Federal Aid to Education Act, will speak from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. on "Federal Assistance to Local Schools."

DURING THE afternoon session, Hubbard, who is chairman of the educational administration department at Illinois State University and a member of the Illinois Commission on Schools Financial Task Force, will discuss "Financing of Education in Illinois" from 1:30 p.m. to 2:30 p.m.

A panel discussion on "Defining the Financial Problem" is scheduled from 10:30 a.m. to 11:45 a.m. Bob McBride, anchorman of WBBM-TV news, will moderate a panel consisting of:

—Miss Blanche Erst, a 20-year teaching veteran and current president of the Illinois Education Association (IEA).

—Mrs. Sidney Raikes, president of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers, and subcommittee member of Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie's Task Force on Education.

—Fred B. Lifton, a Chicago attorney specializing in school law, collective bargaining consultant to the National School Boards Association and former member of the Dist. 219 and 68 school boards in Niles Township.

—Robert Salisbury, superintendent of Rockford Public Schools and former teacher, high school principal and school superintendent in New Jersey and Ohio.

During the course of the seminar, to which some 500 Illinois school superintendents have been invited, issues ranging from school referendums to recent federal court decisions on taxation will be reviewed.

MORE THAN 300 paintings and other art works were on display this week in the Randhurst Shopping Center in Mount Prospect. The works were done by Boys Club members from five Midwestern states. Winners of the contest will have their work entered in the national finals in Washington, D. C.

Judge Bars City Veto Power Over Housing Sites

U.S. District Court Judge Richard B. Austin has suspended the Chicago City Council's veto power over public housing sites and ordered the Chicago Housing Authority to immediately begin construction of public housing in white areas.

Austin gave the oral order Thursday and was expected to enter a formal, written order today.

The order, issued because the City Council generally has refused to approve proposed sites in white areas, will immediately affect 1,500 public housing units.

Austin has ordered that the first 700 units be built exclusively in white areas. He has also ordered an additional 780 new units three-fourths of which must be in white areas.

The suspension order came after three days of hearings requested by the American Civil Liberties Union. ACLU attorney Alexander Polikoff said the order does not overturn a state law which gives the City Council veto power, but suspends use of that power in this case.

Fremd's Golfers Young, Promising

by JIM COOK

"We're young, but we could make a mark in the Mid Suburban League this year."

Fremd head golf coach Len Flocca was sizing up his youthful Vikings prior to their scheduled season opener against Maine South this afternoon at 4.

"We've only been outside twice and really aren't completely sure of what we'll be working with or against," Flocca explained.

From an overall turnout of 42 candidates, the seven-year veteran is counting on Forest View transfer Joe Murken, soph Craig Falkenthal, Pat Rowworthy, Lach Frew, Brian Brown and Jim Benson to share most of the varsity burden.

Murken is only a junior, but was the frosh-soph medalist last year in the MSL conference meet. Murken was part of the underclass Vikings who finished at .500 for the season — best in their seven-year history.

Flocca is also eyeing freshman Cliff Garcia who has toured Palatine Hills Country Club in the mid 80's and "shows great promise."

Flocca does not believe in indoor nets for the simple reason that the golfer cannot see where his drives are headed. "You can be slicing or hooking and never know it," he said. "You may end up mastering something wrong."

The Vikings will call Palatine Hills home this year along with the Arlington and Palatine teams.

After graduating away four senior lettermen, Flocca is faced with a young band of linksmen, but they could develop into an important factor in the Mid Suburban League race.

"Arlington and Prospect look like the class of the league again," Flocca said. "It should be a horse race after that and we hope to be in it."

Agase To Speak At Rotary Club

Alex Agase, head football coach at Northwestern University, will be the guest speaker on Thursday at the Arlington Heights Rotary Club meeting.

Alex Agase

The program will begin at 12:15 at the Starting Gate of Arlington Park Towers Hotel.

Guests of the club for the day will be football coaches Paul Jordan of Forest View, Joe Gliwa of Hersey, James Line of St. Viator, and Bob Walther of Arlington.

Agase is a Chicago born and raised native. During his college career, he played for the University of Illinois and Purdue and was named All-American three years in a row. He is a member of the College Football Hall of Fame.

Agase played professional football with Baltimore and Cleveland. He was named College Coach of the Year at Northwestern after the 1970 season.

Warriors Clip Knight Netters

Prospect won in No. 1 singles, but Maine West captured the other four matches as the Warriors posted a 4-1 victory Thursday.

Bob Zimmern of Prospect defeated Steve Wild 6-3 and 6-4 in No. 1 singles, but the Knights were unable to win another match.

John Anderson of Maine West downed Jeff Risteen 6-0 and 6-3 in No. 2 singles and teammate Jack Semler defeated Mark Mavis 7-5 and 6-4 in No. 3 singles.

The Warriors won in No. 1 doubles with Joe Thimm and Roger Junge in a 6-0, 5-7 and 9-7 verdict and Doug Lauffenberger and Doug Meister defeated Chuck Ruckstaetter and Steve Ristow 7-5 and 6-3.

Maine West won the frosh-soph meet 3-2.

Vikings Lose Close Net Meet

If Fremd could have managed a win in singles in its first two matches of the season, its record would be perfect right now.

However, such was not the case as only the doubles teams won in the Vikings' opener and again in their second loss to Glenbrook North, 3-2, last week.

Winning first doubles was the combination of Kim Abbott and Carl Papp, 6-2, 3-6, 6-1. Rich Cortney and Jeff Leasing took the No. 2 title by scores of 6-3 and 6-2.

Chris Laffy dropped first singles 6-1, 6-0; Pat Erwin lost second singles, 7-5, 6-0; and George Jane fell in the final singles match, 6-3, 6-2.

The Fremd sophomore team won its second straight, 4-1.

West The Best

Jerry West of the Los Angeles Lakers has the best playoff history, putting in an average of 30.9 points over 120 games. West also leads in total points in play-off competition, with 3,708.

Motorcycle Racers Visit Washington Park Aug. 5

Washington Park, horse racing capital of Chicago's south side, will become home to America's top professional motorcycle racers on August 5 when Madison Square Garden and Don Brymer's Trojan Productions present the Yamaha Gold Cup, the first of two National Championship events scheduled this year in Chicago.

The second race tentatively is scheduled for September 9 at Arlington Park, where "big-time" professional motorcycle racing was introduced to the Chicago area last September before an Illinois record crowd of 21,187.

Washington Park is located at the Tri-State tollway (175th street) and Halsted in Homewood, Ill. and holds the state attendance record for horse racing with a top crowd of 87,036 that saw the races on Sept. 6, 1946.

The mile racing surface consists of a concrete-hard clay base with a minimal covering of dirt and, though technically listed as a dirt track, should provide near speedway conditions for the 650 and 750 cc racing bikes.

The event is sanctioned by the American Motorcycle association and points earned will go toward the national championship, assuring the best riders in the country will compete, men such as Cal Rayborn, who won the Yamaha Gold Cup at Arlington last year.

A unique feature available at Washington Park will be the use of the dining room, which provides table settings for more than 1,000 directly overlooking the final portion of the "stretch run," including the start-finish line.

Ticket sales will be handled through all Ticketron outlets, Sears stores in Chicago and Joliet, and at the Arlington Park Towers hotel, the Arlington Park race track during racing season (May 31-August 5), and at Washington Park itself.

Further information on ticket prices, tickets by mail, and special party group prices will be announced later.

State Fish Contest Again

With the fishing season beginning for thousands of Illinois anglers, the Illinois Department of Conservation has announced that it will once again sponsor its Illinois Record Fish Contest.

The contest, sponsored for more than 10 years by the Department, runs on a calendar year basis — from Jan. 1 through Dec. 31 — with the winners receiving pins and certificates.

"We conduct the contest as a two-part affair," said Al Lopinot, chief fisheries biologist for the Department. "We have a category for state record fish and also for the biggest fish of a particular species that is not a record."

The rules for the contest are simple, Lopinot said. The fish must be caught by pole and line from Illinois waters and cannot be taken from a fee fishing area. The fish must be weighed to the nearest ounce on scales legal for trade in the presence of two witnesses. Length must be measured to the nearest 1/16 of an inch.

State record fish must be identified by a Department fishery biologist, who can be reached through the conservation officers in each county. If there is a delay in reaching the biologist, Lopinot suggests that the fish be frozen.

A photograph of the fish is necessary and the Department of Conservation must have permission to publish the photograph.

There are 32 fish listed with state record status. Last year the Department had 41 entries in the contest which produced seven new state record fish and 11 winners in the big fish category.

Entry forms are available at most sporting goods stores, from county law enforcement officers, or by writing to the Department. A listing of the state record fish, the record holders and the year the fish established the record can be obtained from: Department of Conservation, Division of Fisheries, 400 S. Spring St., Springfield, Ill. 62706.

Lion Golf Skein Continues

The St. Viator varsity golfers pushed their incredible dual-meet winning skein to 42 straight over the weekend with an outstanding 168-172 triumph over St. Patrick.

The Lions, competing in their initial match of the young season, mastered the Rob Roy front nine with the precision that has made their three-year streak possible.

Greg Muench and freshman Mickey Flitton paced Viator's impressive assault with solid 40's. Keith McDonald contributed a 42 and Terry McDonald and Ray Carroll each carded 43's.

The Shamrocks made it close on efforts like John Kloc's 40, John Schlebeck's 43, John Bartkiewicz's 41 and Al Oleski's 45.

The meet also marked the opening of Suburban Catholic Conference competition for St. Viator — the circuit which they are heavily favored to dominate again.

The frosh-soph Lions were no less spectacular in whipping their St. Patrick counterparts, 164-193 over the back nine at Rob Roy.

Viator will be back in action tomorrow against both Palatine and Fremd at the Vikings' home course.

Saxon Netmen Top Norsemen

History repeated itself in the Schaumburg-Maine North meet Thursday.

The Norsemen, visiting the new Saxon courts for the season opener, lost a 4-1 decision. When these two new schools met last year, Schaumburg also won, its only victory of the 1971 season.

Schaumburg swept the singles matches in this manner — Randy Maddon over Lee Brenner, 6-1, 6-4; Dave Fenwick over Greg Polan, 6-2, 6-0; and Harvey Sharkey over Tim Tynan, 6-1, 6-2.

The Saxons also took the first doubles match behind Bill Homomomum and Larry Willer. They stopped Dave Hunter and Jenner, 6-1, 6-1.

Steve Bach and Rich Reese were stopped in their drive to make it a shut-out by Vames and Paytte, 6-2, 6-1.

The Schaumburg frosh-soph team also won by the same 4-1 score.

Rolling Meadows Nips Notre Dame, 3-2

The Rolling Meadows-Notre Dame tennis match was probably determined in the second singles showdown Thursday afternoon.

Don Bohac trailed Connie Treia of the Dons after the opening set, 6-4. Then the Mustang netman rallied to win the next two — 6-3, 6-1 — to give the new school a 2-1 edge after singles play.

Larry Pressl captured the other match with a 6-1, 6-0 conquest of Pat McDonald in third singles.

The two schools halved the doubles

duels as the Mustangs captured their season opener, 3-2.

Doing the damage to the Dons in doubles was the combination of Curt Anderson and Mark Shannon. They stopped John Huebush and Ed Figna, 6-2, 6-4.

The Dons' Jeff Leazer and Jamie Zimniewicz stopped Scott Skogen and Joe Dauven, 7-5, 6-2.

Winning for the visitors in singles was Rick Bava. He blanked Stan Hilde, 6-0, 6-0 in first singles.

Notre Dame captured the frosh-soph meet, 4-1.

announces the most complete

OK warranty ever put on a used car.

Covers engine, transmission, rear axle, brake system and electrical system for 30 days or 2000 miles. And you get special savings on all parts and labor for the first 24 months.

We're announcing the most complete warranty ever put on a used car. Count your blessings. First, you're protected where it counts most: on the major mechanical parts of the car you buy. And that lasts a healthy 30 days or 2000 miles, whichever comes first.

Second, you get special savings on any parts or labor you need. From the day you buy for 24 months. Third, the special savings are good all across the country at most Chevrolet dealers. Say you're on a vacation trip and you need service. Just contact a participating Chevrolet dealership.

All you do is show an OK warranty identification card you receive when you buy your used car. Our new OK warranty. It takes the guesswork out of used car buying.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Pucinski, Educators On Panel

School Funds Topic Of Talk

U.S. Rep. Roman C. Pucinski and educator Ben C. Hubbard will join other educational leaders Wednesday in Oak Brook to examine the financial plight of schools in Illinois.

The meeting will take place at the third annual seminar for school superintendents sponsored by Northern Illinois Gas Co. A panel discussion on various aspects of the financial problem is included in the program.

To be held from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., at the Sheraton-Oakbrook Motor Hotel, 1401 W. 22nd St., "Financial Survival in the Seventies" is designed to provide a close look at the fiscal well-being of our state's primary and secondary educational systems.

Roman Pucinski

Ben
Hubbard

Pucinski, chairman of the congressional subcommittee on general education and author of the Federal Aid to Education Act, will speak from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. on "Federal Assistance to Local Schools."

DURING THE afternoon session, Hubbard, who is chairman of the educational administration department at Illinois State University and a member of the Illinois Commission on Schools Financial Task Force, will discuss "Financing of Education in Illinois" from 1:30 p.m. to 2:30 p.m.

A panel discussion on "Defining the Financial Problem" is scheduled from 10:30 a.m. to 11:45 a.m. Bob McBride, anchorman of WBBM-TV news, will moderate a panel consisting of:

—Miss Blanche Erst, a 20-year teaching veteran and current president of the Illinois Education Association (IEA).

—Mrs. Sidney Ralke, president of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers, and subcommittee member of Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie's Task Force on Education.

—Fred B. Lifton, a Chicago attorney specializing in school law, collective bargaining consultant to the National School Boards Association and former member of the Dist. 219 and 68 school boards in Niles Township.

—Robert Salisbury, superintendent of Rockford Public Schools and former teacher, high school principal and school superintendent in New Jersey and Ohio.

During the course of the seminar, to which some 500 Illinois school superintendents have been invited, issues ranging from school referendums to recent federal court decisions on taxation will be reviewed.

MORE THAN 300 paintings and other art works were on display this week in the Randhurst Shopping Center in Mount Prospect. The works were done by Boys Club members from five Midwestern states. Winners of the contest will have their work entered in the national finals in Washington, D.C.

Judge Bars City Veto Power Over Housing Sites

U.S. District Court Judge Richard B. Austin has suspended the Chicago City Council's veto power over public housing sites and ordered the Chicago Housing Authority to immediately begin construction of public housing in white areas.

Austin gave the oral order Thursday and was expected to enter a formal, written order today.

The order, issued because the City Council generally has refused to approve proposed sites in white areas, will immediately affect 1,500 public housing units.

Austin has ordered that the first 700 units be built exclusively in white areas. He has also ordered an additional 700 new units three-fourths of which must be in white areas.

The suspension order came after three days of hearings requested by the American Civil Liberties Union. ACLU attorney Alexander Polikoff said the order does not overturn a state law which gives the City Council veto power, but suspends use of that power in this case.

DR. STANLEY ZYDLO of Northwest Community Hospital lectures area firemen on cardio-pulmonary resuscitation. Firemen from Mount Prospect, Wheeling, Elk Grove Village, Hoffman Estates, Glenview Rural, Palatine, Rolling Meadows and Northbrook attended the session last week at a series designed to train the men as certified emergency medical technicians.

Moats, Marier Win Harper Posts

Incumbent Larry Moats and Marilyn Marier won the Harper College Board of Trustees election by a wide margin.

Moats, of Mount Prospect, took the lead with an overwhelming 4,950 votes followed by Mrs. Marier, of Arlington Heights, with 3,544 votes.

Moats, an electrical contractor, was reelected to a second three-year term. Mrs. Marier's three-year term will be her first board experience.

Mount Prospect and Prospect Heights had the highest voter turnout in Dist. 512. Both communities showed strong support for Moats along with portions of Palatine and Barrington. Mrs. Marier, on the other hand, received fairly equal support from all of the precincts.

On hearing the election results, Mrs. Marier said she was "delighted and will try not to disappoint the people who voted for me."

AN ACTIVE civic leader, Mrs. Marier has served on the League of Women Voters,

Volunteer Service Bureau, Arlington Heights Historical Society and the Arlington Heights Cultural Commission.

Mrs. Marier advocates caution in long range planning, closer ties to the community and local-state cooperation. She is also interested in a campus cultural center, funded at least partially by private sources.

Moats stands on the same platform he took to the voters three years ago. He has called for greater communication between student-teacher groups and the board and between the college and the community. He contends communication is the answer to the polarization he sees on the campus today. He is also known for his lone stand against the salary hike granted college president Robert Lahti last fall.

Marilyn Marier

Other election results include: Howard Pollard, 3,544; Le Roi Hutchings, 1,226; Michael Huston, 1,691; and Rochelle Veitch, 1,140.

Tax Bills To Differ Bit From Previous Period

by CINDY TEW

Wheeling Township residents' tax bills will differ slightly from last year even though a preliminary budget for the 1972-73 fiscal year has not yet been finalized. The actual budget will not be known until a court suit determines who will collect the money next year.

If the township takes over the tax collecting job, which is now handled by Cook County, the preliminary 1972-73 budget will increase nearly 15 per cent. Without the tax collecting job in the budget, the budget would decrease about seven per cent.

At the present time, the Wheeling Township portion of the real property tax bill is 3.2 cents per $100 assessed valuation. If property taxes are collected at the township level, the tax bill would increase one-half cent per $100 assessed valuation. Without tax collecting duties, the 1971-72 township tax rate would decrease one-tenth of one cent per $100 assessed valuation.

"The question of who should collect taxes is now the subject of a court suit, on which a decision should be made by May 2, when we take final action on the budget," said Ethel Kolerus, township supervisor. "If a decision is not made, we will delete the tax collection fee from the budget."

If the tax collecting is switched from a county job to a township job, the county budget should drop, which would keep the overall property tax bill constant for local residents.

TAX COLLECTING would cost $33,000 at the township level, according to the preliminary budget.

"What we're talking about is a change of about a nickel per tax bill," said Wheeling Township Assessor Marshall Theroux. "I can prove it would be much cheaper — between 33 and 50 per cent cheaper — to collect taxes at the township level."

Taxpayers can discuss the budget at the annual township meeting, to be held Tuesday at 8 p.m. at Wheeling Township Town Hall, 1818 E. Northwest Hwy. All township officials will report on their year's activities.

Other changes in the preliminary 1972-73 Wheeling Township budget includes a $14,000 reduction in election costs. The new budget includes about $10,000 for the election of township officers next April, as compared with a $24,000 expenditure for a mental health referendum held last year.

The only major increase in the budget is in the assessors expense which is climbing from $15,972 last year to $19,942 this year.

"The increase will include a temporary field inspector to help reassess suspicious areas of the township like parts of Wheeling and unincorporated Prospect Heights, and extra funds to assess personal property which the township has never had to do before," Theroux said.

BESIDES ASSESSING personal property, the township government is responsible for voter registration, township elections, public information and welfare services. The township is also the local governmental unit for unincorporated areas of Wheeling Township and therefore provides road maintenance.

The township also maintains a cemetery and provides for general assistance throughout the township.

3 Residents Seeking 2 Library Board Posts

Three residents of the Wheeling Public Library District will vie for two board seats in tomorrow's election.

Richard Roman, a member of the board from Buffalo Grove, and Wheeling residents Geno Menia and Lelani "Loni" Milz will be the only names on the ballot. Voters will be asked to pick two of the candidates to fill the open positions.

The seats open for the election are currently filled by Roman and Charlotte Dologopol, a board trustee for the past eight years. Both terms expire May 1.

Roman, a recent appointee to the board, took over the slot held by Thomas. However, Roman's appointment has never been confirmed by a judge of the Cook County Circuit Court.

This is customary procedure for a new board member according to state statutes.

Roman is sales manager of Sipi Metals in Chicago and has been a resident of Buffalo Grove for 3½ year. He is married and has five children.

MENIA IS MANAGER of the body shop at Arnie Yusim Chevrolet in Chicago. He has been a resident of Wheeling for 15 years. He is married and has three children.

Mrs. Milz is a homemaker and one of the founders of the Wheeling chapter of FISH Inc. She was a recipient of the Wheeling Jaycees "distinguished citizen" award earlier in the year.

A resident of Wheeling for four years, Mrs. Milz is married and has two children. She also applied for the seat vacated by Kelly.

Voters will be able to cast their ballots at the library on Jenkins Court just west of Elmhurst Rd. between 9 a.m. and 6:30 p.m., tomorrow. Trustees in this election will have six-year terms.

For Those Away From Home

A contract for construction of the outdoor swimming pool and park at "site 30" in the Lake County portion of Buffalo Grove has been awarded to Schaeffges Bros. of Wheeling. The Buffalo Grove Park District accepted the Schaeffges bid of $309,569 for the pool, bathhouse and park facilities. The bid was selected from a field of nine general contractors and eight subcontractors. The pool is expected to be open to the public this summer.

FIREMEN FROM Wheeling and Buffalo Grove are taking part in a special emergency training program sponsored by Northwest Community Hospital and Harper Junior College. Some 200 firemen from several villages are taking part in the 80-hour training program.

SCHOOL BOARD candidates entered their final week of campaigning for election in each public school. There were contested elections in Dist. 21, 23, 96 and 125, as well as 214 and Harper Junior College.

Buffalo Grove trustees studied a plan to transfer homes in Lake County to the Lake County sewer system by 1973, but have made no final decision. The transfer is expected to raise sewer fees for affected residents slightly.

BUFFALO GROVE is drawing nearer to having an official appearance commission to determine the aesthetic appearance of new buildings in the village. The village board directed its attorney to draw up an ordinance establishing the commission, which will in turn set up specific guidelines to govern future builders. The proposed ordinance is patterned after one in Glenview.

STATE HIGHWAY officials are hopeful that work on widening Dundee Road from Elmhurst Road to Ill. Rte. 53 can begin this year. The project is ready to begin once money for the work becomes available, hopefully this summer.

CHESTERFIELD Developers have submitted a proposed 300-unit townhouse development plan to the Buffalo Grove plan commission, seeking a variance on the preannexation agreement which allows only apartments on the site. The builders want to develop 32 acres at the corner of Arlington Heights and Lake-Cook roads, to be known as Promontory West. The plan includes provisions for a shopping center. Park District and School Dist. 96 officials feel the developers have not made sufficient allowances for recreational areas and schools.

Glass Ready To Fight County Home Rule Taxes

The fight against Cook County's home rule powers and the three taxes enacted recently under those powers will move to the state legislative front this week.

State Rep. Bradley Glass, R-1st, has announced he will introduce a bill this week that would allow a recall vote on the county's home rule powers as early as next November. Current state law prohibits county voters from holding a recall election until 1975.

Glass made the announcement Thursday during a meeting in Prospect Heights at which he and three other area legislators received petitions with more than 3,000 names calling for a recall election as soon as possible on the county's home rule powers.

With Glass at the press conference were State Representatives Eugene Schlickman, David Rogner and Robert Juckett. All indicated support of the legislation.

The signatures were collected by Northwest suburban area homeowners associations representing unincorporated areas. As well as the county's home rule powers, the groups are opposing three taxes the county enacted late last December under its home rule powers.

THE TAXES include one on vehicles in unincorporated areas, one on mobile homes and one on all new car sales. A suit has been filed against the tax on unincorporated area vehicles by the associations. The groups' attorneys are considering a similar suit against the mobile home tax. Several municipalities are challenging the new car tax in court.

"We hope to introduce the legislation (this) week," Glass said Thursday. He expressed optimism that it would be passed.

"I'm strongly in favor of home rule," Glass said. "But Cook County covers such a broad area and there are so many towns in the county that home rule is a farce."

Criticizing the three-year ban on voter reconsideration of the county's home rule powers, Glass said, "The state constitution is pretty clear when it says people should have the opportunity to vote home rule in or out."

Schlickman, who according to Glass will be one of his bill's cosponsors, said Thursday he thought the three-year ban could be removed quicker through judicial action than through legislation.

Schlickman sponsored the legislation that allowed the new constitution to be implemented. It included the three-year ban on voter recalls for home rule units. He supported the three-year ban at the time, saying that without it the legislation would never have been passed. According to Schlickman the Illinois Municipal League as well as many suburban mayors favor the ban. Even though he supported the legislation with the ban, he said Thursday the three-year prohibition on recalls is "clearly unconstitutional."

Obsolete Election System To Deny Millions Right To Vote

by MARGARET A. KILGORE
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Millions of Americans will be denied the right to vote in the November presidential election under an obsolete election system which works to the detriment of voters and candidates alike, an independent nationwide survey concluded Sunday.

"Considering the all too frequent occurrence of complex forms, unhelpful and poorly trained staff, machine breakdowns and inconveniently located registration and polling places, it is surprising that so many citizens do vote," the League of Women Voters Education Fund said in releasing the findings.

"That the system functions at all is a tribute to the sheer determination of citizens to overcome these inconveniences and obstacles."

The statement concerned a survey financed by the Ford Foundation and conducted by more than 3,000 members of the independent League, who studied election practices in 251 communities in 50 states during the 1971 fall elections.

"Administrative behavior was observed in a non-presidential election year," the statement said, "in which various types of contests, some considerably more important and appealing than others, were at stake. This factor tends to mute the findings and conclusions drawn from this study. It is reasonable to conclude then that the findings contained might be an understatement of the problems citizens experience when participating in presidential elections."

THE STATEMENT SAID that in the presidential election year of 1968, some 73 million Americans, or 60 per cent of the total population of voting age, actually voted, while 47 million or about 40 per cent did not.

"Millions of citizens fail to vote not because they are disinterested, but because they are disenfranchised by the present election system," the surveyors concluded. "In the case of minorities, the poor, the uneducated and the aged, the system imposes complicated requirements which exclude them from the electoral process."

Recognizing that situation, the Supreme Court in March invalidated lengthy residence requirements and said that 30 days residency within a state was sufficient time to be eligible to vote.

The ruling could affect those in the "mainstream of American society" who accept a company transfer, go to college, get married and move out of state, or enter military service. There are 140 million Americans of voting age this year.

League Chairman Lucy Wilson Benson cited examples which suggested that local officials have failed to use tools allowed by law to make registration and voting easier.

For example, 52 per cent of the 458 registration places observed were not clearly identified, and 38 per cent of the communities had no additional registration hours available 30 days prior to the close of registration; 77 per cent of the communities studied had no Saturday registration in non-election months; 55 per cent of the communities charged a fee for providing registration lists; and 28 per cent of the communities surveyed gave poll workers either no training or minimal hours.

The survey recommended a series of remedial steps saying that "alternative strategies" would be considered at a Washington meeting April 20 of 60 citizens organizations. The league recommended that:

—THE CHIEF election official in each community use broad discretionary powers under current law to expand citizen opportunities to register and vote.

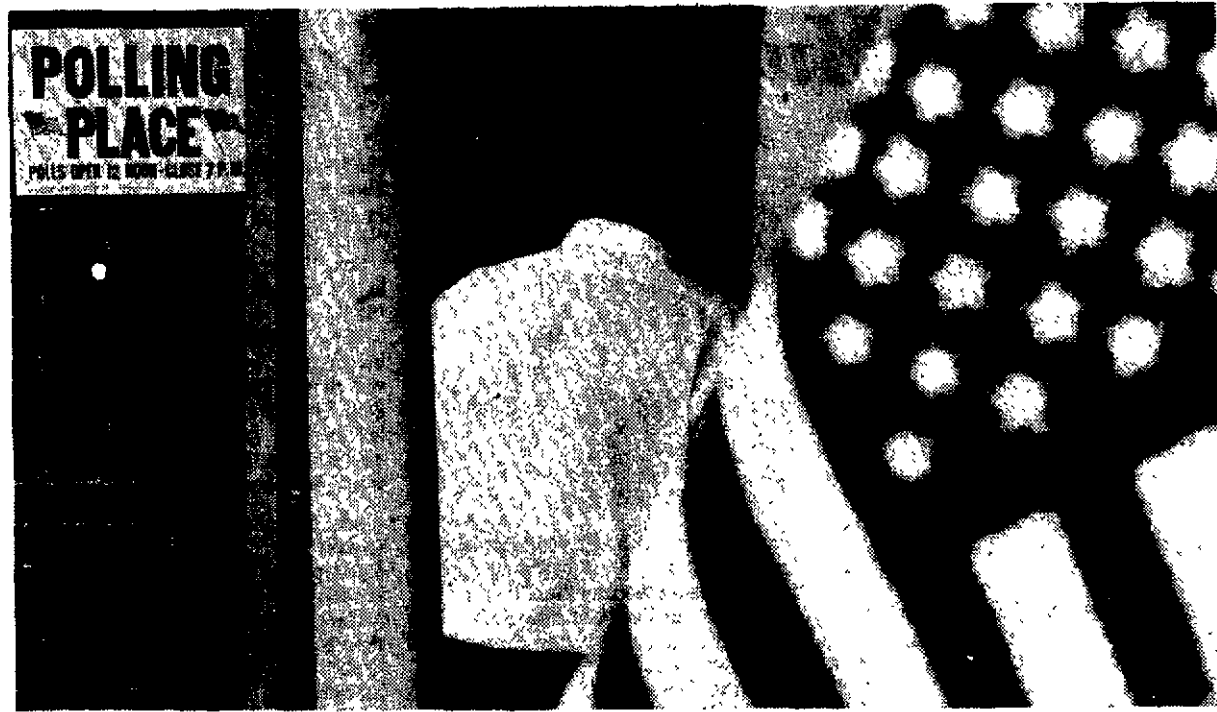

—The chief state election official ensure uniform interpretation and administration of state law by requiring local officials to comply with statewide standards.

—Identified voter needs be met through localized special services such as use of temporary and mobile registration units; expanded registration and polling hours; bilingual materials, and mandatory training sessions for poll workers.

—Citizen groups participate in selection of local election officials, monitor their decisions and work for specific administrative reforms.

—Political parties, the media and educational institutions use their influence to create and maintain a responsive and responsible election system.

"In a democratic society, no right is more fundamental than the right to vote. Regrettably, our election system is not working well," Mrs. Benson said.

WILL YOU BE disenfranchised this fall? According to a recent study by the League of Women Voters, millions of Americans may be prohibited from voting this year because of confusing and contradicting voting laws.

Dem Delegates To Convention Are Announced

Following are the official winners of the March 21 election for delegates to the Democratic Party National Nominating Convention.

Seven persons were elected to the convention from the 10th Congressional District, which includes all of Evanston, Maine, New Trier, Niles and Northfield townships.

Five delegates were named from the 12th Congressional District, which includes Palatine, Wheeling, Schaumburg, Elk Grove, Hanover and Barrington townships.

The delegates, their vote totals and the candidate to which they are committed are:

10TH CONG. DIST.
Newton Minow (Muskie) ..... 23,017
Harold Katz (Muskie) ..... 21,822
Michale Devorkin (McGovern) ..... 21,192
Aaron Jaffe (Muskie) ..... 20,915
Margaret Gordon (McGovern) ..... 20,481
Robert Eisner (McGovern) ..... 20,415
Frank Cicero Jr. (Muskie) ..... 19,669

12TH CONG. DIST.
Daniel Pierce (Muskie) ..... 13,306
Robert Grabitz (McGovern) ..... 12,837
Betty Spence (McGovern) ..... 12,687
Eugenia Chapman (Muskie) ..... 12,379
James McCabe (Muskie) ..... 12,189

The final tallies from the office of Cook County Clerk Edward J. Barrett indicate only one change from the early unofficial winners named soon after the election. Doris Conant, committed to McGovern, was initially declared a winner, but was replaced by Jaffe when the final count was made.

Delegates to the Republican Party Nominating Convention ran unopposed. They are: W. Clement Stone and Naomi Lee Burdick in the 10th Congressional District and Irl H. Marshall and Bernard E. Pedersen in the 12th District.

All four are committed to President Richard Nixon.

The results from the county clerk's office technically are still unofficial, pending final approval in Springfield.

Rolling out the news... 55,200 miles a year!

Keeping the people of the Northwest suburbs informed puts a lot of mileage on our presses. Throughout the year they will roll out 55,200 miles of news and advertising. Page to page, this would form a newsprint ribbon reaching twice around the world!

But more important than length is the depth of coverage our reporters strive to give the happenings of your dynamic suburbs ... a depth found in each of the nine daily Herald newspapers.

This is a boast you can share ... for it is your demand as a concerned, involved citizen for daily local news that keeps the Herald presses rolling.

She's A 'Talented Teen'

Cindee Kassel Dances Way To European Tour

by JOANN VAN WYE

"Dancing, dancing, dancing" is how Cindee Kassel describes her interests. Her interest in dancing started when she was three years old and paid off this spring when she was selected to participate in the Talented Teens Tour.

As a talented teen, Miss Kassel will be spending a month this summer in Europe performing before various groups. The tour will include stop in England, France, Holland, Switzerland, Germany and Austria.

Miss Kassel, of 2406 Willow, Rolling Meadows, was the only person from Rolling Meadows selected as a talented teen in the nationwide competition.

THIS SUMMER will be Miss Kassel's second tour as a talented teen. She also was selected seven years ago when she was only 13.

Asked why she decided to try out this year, Miss Kassel countered by asking, "Who doesn't like to travel?" She explained that the first tour had been such a good experience and she had had so much fun she has wanted to go back ever since.

"I knew this would probably be my last chance (to be a talented teen) because I am getting too old," said Miss Kassel.

The one disappointing thing about this year's tour, according to Miss Kassel, is that there won't be any stop in Ireland. This was her favorite country the first time she went on the tour. She has been corresponding with friends from Ireland since her first visit and hopes she will have a chance to see them in England.

There have not been any rehearsals for the tour yet so Miss Kassel does not know what kind of acts she will be performing or how many other teens will be going on the tour.

Encouraged by her sister, Sharon, to continue her endeavors in dancing, Miss Kassel now teaches at her sister's studio in Rolling Meadows. She has been teaching at the Sharon Kassel Dance Studio for the last two years since she graduated from Sacred Heart of Mary High School.

SKILLED AT JAZZ, ballet, toe, tap and character dancing, Miss Kassel said if she had to pick a favorite it would probably be ballet.

When she isn't teaching, Miss Kassel is taking classes at Harper College, where she is a psychology major, or taking dancing lessons herself. She currently takes lessons from Gus Giordano in Evanston and plans to continue lessons at Stone and Cameron in Chicago after she returns from the tour.

In 1967, Miss Kassel danced on the television show "Swinging Majority" for four months. She currently performs with the Northwest Performing Dance Co.

Miss Kassel said she kept on a pretty rigid schedule when she was younger but now works out mainly in her dance classes.

AS A TALENTED teen, Cindee Kassel of Rolling Meadows will perform in six countries this summer during a one-month tour of Europe.

"Teaching helps keep me in practice. By going over and over things, I learn things as well as the students."

Miss Kassel is a certified teacher by the National Association of Dance and Affiliated Artists. She also belongs to Dance Masters.

Ruling On Jayne Case Motion Today?

Closing arguments will be heard today in a hearing on a defense motion to suppress a confession made by Julius Barnes, the accused killer of wealthy Inverness horseman George Jayne.

Barnes, 37, of Chicago, is charged with murder and conspiracy to commit murder, along with Silas Jayne, 63, brother of the victim, and Joseph LaPlaca, 47, of Elgin.

The state has charged that Barnes was the man who pulled the trigger, shooting

Jayne through the basement window of his home at 1918 Banbury Ln. during a family card game Oct. 28, 1970.

Barnes, through his attorney, George Howard, has charged that he was not properly advised of his constitutional rights when he made the confession May 22, 1971.

THE HEARING on the defense motion went into its second day in the Criminal Courts Building Friday, as Barnes and an agent of the Illinois Bureau of Investigation testified.

Nicholas Motherway, assistant state's attorney, said Friday he expects there will be no additional testimony today. He said Judge Richard Fitzgerald scheduled today for closing arguments and his ruling.

The first witness Monday, IBI agent Lou Spence, was one of the officers who arrested Barnes May 22 at his home.

Spence said on the witness stand Friday that he warned Barnes of his rights and that Barnes signed a form listing his constitutional rights. Motherway introduced the form into evidence.

Barnes then took the stand and told the court that when he was taken to IBI headquarters the day of his arrest, police told him that "Melvin Adams had told them the entire story of the murder."

ADAMS, who originally was charged in connection with the alleged conspiracy, has been granted immunity by the state.

Barnes said that Adams was then brought into the room and Adams said, "I told them everything, Julius." Barnes said Friday he did not know what Adams was talking about.

Barnes admitted he was advised of his right to counsel and his right to remain silent. He said he was told if he spoke it would be used against him. He insisted, however, he was never told he had the right to a free attorney.

Hint $60,000 Ditch Work In Wheeling

Wheeling and state officials are currently working on plans to spend $60,000 in state funds for the Wheeling Drainage Ditch.

Village Mgr. George Passolt said that at a meeting with John Guillou, chief engineer for the Illinois Division of Waterways, plans for deepening and widening the ditch were discussed.

The ditch empties into the Des Plaines River at a point south of Wheeling.

Part of the plan for the ditch widening is to have the ditch empty the bulk of the runoff from a heavy rain into the river before the river reaches a level higher than the creek inlet. Wheeling also had a system of flood control basins designed to hold some of the rainwater until stream levels are reduced.

In past years with heavy rains the Des Plaines River has backed up into the ditch, resulting in flooding of Wheeling homes and streets.

Passolt said Harza Engineering Co., the village's consulting engineer on flood control programs is now working on plans for the work, which will have to be approved by the state before they can be implemented.

Passolt said Wheeling will also pay for a portion of the work. He said although he did not know how much the village's share would be, he expected it to be higher than the state's $60,000 contribution.

Passolt said state funds must be assigned to a specific project before June 30 or they will no longer be available.

PASSOLT SAID the village and the state want to use the funds in the best way possible to complement the existing Wheeling flood control program facilities.

Harza has told the village that dredging the creek is one solution to getting the Heritage Park West Basin to drain properly after a rain.

Currently the basin is not working up to its full flood control capacity because it does not drain fast enough.

The Metropolitan Sanitary District had proposed installation of a pumping station to speed the emptying of the basin as an alternative to the widening and dredging.

Dredging of the creek was originally included in the village flood control referendum funds, but the work was held up until it could be coordinated with state money to make the project as effective as possible.

Wheeling has not had a major flood since June, 1970. Village officials attribute part of the lack of floods to the new basin system now in operation, but also admit that last year was an unusually dry year.

Arndt, Park District Superintendent, Resigns

by ANNE SLAVICEK

Ferdinand Arndt has resigned as Wheeling Park District superintendent.

Arndt, the first full-time superintendent for the park district, gave reasons of health for submitting his resignation.

The 65-year-old Des Plaines resident asked the park board to relieve him of his duties as superintendent when his contract expires April 30.

Arndt told the Herald Friday that while he is resigning from his job he still plans to participate in civic activities. He currently is president of the Des Plaines Park District board, president of the Wheeling Rotary Club and a member of the board of directors of the Midwest Institute of Park Executives.

Wheeling park board members met in an executive session Thursday to discuss personnel and land acquisition. However, the board did not discuss Arndt's resignation in public and did not vote to accept it.

ARNDT FIRST became involved in park district work in the 1930s in Des Plaines. A former director of parks for the Des Plaines District, he currently is serving a second consecutive year as president of its board of commissioners.

In Wheeling Arndt has been instrumental in acquisition and development of all of the district's parks. The Community Church Building, Chamber of Commerce Park and North Side Park all were acquired during his time as superintendent. The district also passed a recreation tax to increase recreation programs, built the new Neptune's Pool adjacent to Wheeling High School, bought the Community Pool, and built its field-house and offices in Heritage Park during his tenure.

His job as superintendent has included supervising total operation of the district and acting as chief administrative officer responsible to the board.

A lifetime member of the Illinois Association of Park Districts, Arndt served on its board of directors for 25 years and served as its president for two years. He currently is Chaplain of the association.

Arndt will be leaving the district at the same time as Ray Kittendorf, aquatic director for the district.

The district board recently hired a new recreation director, David Phillips.

Jefferson Park-Randhurst Buses Set

United Motor Coach buses will begin to roll from Jefferson Park in Chicago to the Randhurst Shopping Center in Mount Prospect on Monday.

The project, aimed at increasing sales at Randhurst and providing some public transportation for Mount Prospect, is jointly sponsored for a month's trial by the bus company, the Randhurst Corp. and the Village of Mount Prospect. Each has agreed to share a third of the costs with Randhurst setting an upper limit of $725 and the village willing to go up to $800.

SHOULD IT prove financially feasible, the eight daily roundtrips, Monday through Saturday, will be continued indefinitely.

The buses, which will make stops at every intersection where they are flagged down, will run from the Jefferson Park CTA terminal to the shopping center's Apple Lane, with stops in Park Ridge and Des Plaines.

The bus route will run from the CTA terminal northwest on Milwaukee Avenue to Northwest Highway, continue to Potter Road, then north to Dempster Street, west to Northwest Highway again, then up Ill. Rte. 63 (Main and Elmhurst) to Randhurst. The fees will be from 35 to 59 cents depending on the length of the ride.

Bus company officials have figured a $9 an hour cost, which they hope will be offset by riders' fares. However, Mount Prospect Village Trustee Donald B. Furst has said that even if there were no riders for the first month, the total cost to each of the three participants would only be $958. As riders mount, the costs will decrease, officials said.

New Car Is Stolen

Thieves stole a 1972 Pontiac valued at $5,886 Thursday afternoon from a Des Plaines auto dealership.

According to police reports the auto was taken from a lot at Ridge Motors, 1533 Des Plaines Ave. between 2:30 and 5:30 p.m.

ACCORDING TO unofficial vote tallies, almost 26,000 votes were cast for the 10 candidates, compared with about 11,150 votes cast last year for four candidates running for two posts on the Oakton board.

Oakton officials said Saturday night that good weather and the controversial issues surrounding the election caused a heavy voter turnout.

Voting was light in the Dist. 62 and Dist. 207 elections because candidates ran unopposed for two posts on each board, officials said.

A total of 396 votes were cast in the Dist. 62 election, compared to 700 votes cast last year for three unopposed candidates.

Kremers, a personnel manager for Illinois Bell Telephone Co., received 368 votes. Miller, a lawyer, received 369 votes.

Claus, a lawyer, received 2,105 votes. Gregory, a public administration consultant, received 2,105 votes. In Des Plaines, Claus received 356 votes and Gregory received 342 votes.

She Lives With Chimps And Loves It

by DUSTON HARVEY

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Her name is Jane and she lives in Africa with the wild chimpanzees.

During the past 11 years, she has drastically altered man's conception of his nearest relative in the evolutionary family.

Jane Van Lawick-Goodall was a young English secretary with a deep interest in animals in 1960 when her boss, anthropologist Louis Leakey, arranged for her to study chimps on the shores of Lake Tanganyika.

After six months of frustrating and harrowing experiences, she was finally accepted as "a pale-skinned ape" by the chimps and began studying their behavior up close.

What she saw changed longheld views on the chimpanzee's life style, diet and abilities and provided new insights into the biological basis of human behavior and child-rearing.

MRS. VAN LAWICK-GOODALL, a

slim, intense Englishwoman of 37, married to Wildlife Photographer Hugo Van Lawick and the mother of a four-year-old boy, now lives nine months a year at Gombe Stream Research Center in Africa and the other three months at Stanford University in Palo Alto, Calif.

Stanford has started work on a new chimpanzee research center near its campus where scientists will compare studies on captive animals with those living in the wild at Gombe.

Mrs. Van Lawick-Goodall discussed her work, recounted in her recently published book, "In the Shadow of Man," during an interview.

She said her most significant findings were that chimpanzees made and used tools and that they engaged in hunting. The tools included twigs trimmed for use in grubbing for termites and leaves chewed up for use as a sponge.

"OVER THE LONG TERM, we may learn more from the tremendous length of time a child is dependent on its mother, the observational method of learning by the child, and very long duration of the affectionate bond between mother and children, and the similarities in communication between chimps and man which suggest a common ancestor millions of years ago," she said.

"We hope eventually to relate these to the biological basis of human behavior."

She said her firsthand studies of chimps in the wild have indicated a narrower biological gap between men and monkey than had been thought, but that they also have made her more appreciative of the differences, which seem to lie in the evolution of certain parts of the brain.

THE EVIDENCE of these differences include a spoken language, which allows communication about the past and future; an appreciation of beauty; the human emotions of love and hate; and man's deep self-awareness which results in philosophical ponderings for an explanation of his existence and the world

he lives in.

"I wonder where and when these emotions developed in man," Mrs. Van Lawick-Goodall said. "What evolutionary pressures caused them?"

In her book, she follows the lives of several chimps, especially an old female named Flo and her offspring, and makes them come alive as greatly varied individuals.

The Englishwoman, who received a doctorate from Cambridge University in 1964 on the basis of her primate research, said she and her husband modeled the raising of their son, nicknamed "Grub," on chimpanzee child-rearing methods.

CHIMP MOTHERS coddle and cuddle their youngsters for years, breast-feeding them in moments of stress as well as at meal-time and allowing them to cling to them at all times.

"Our son absolutely thrived," she said. "People predicted he'd be a real mommy's boy, but he's four-and-a-half now and far from it." With a smile of pride: "He's very independent now."

Mrs. Van Lawick-Goodall said she expects to spend the rest of her life studying the chimpanzees at Gombe, following the entire life of some of the primates born since she arrived there.

"They have a life expectancy of 50 years, so it's a very long term study," she said.

She did her first teaching at Stanford last fall and found students interested because of "their urgency to learn about behavior."

AS FOR HERSELF, "It's my thing. I think I was born wanting to understand animals. When I was four, I spent five hours in a hen house watching the chickens. I think that's odd behavior for a child of four. It's something that was born in me.

"From age eight, when I read Dr. Doolittle books, I wanted to be a girl who watched animals in Africa and wrote books about them."

Donna Finkler's Interested In Your Good Dental Health

by GENIE CAMPBELL

The theory being tossed around in today's dentistry is very pleasing to the individual. Namely, that a set of teeth will last a life time . . . if properly taken care of.

And educating the masses to the finer points about tooth decay and gum neglect is up to dental hygienists like Mrs. Donna Finkler, whose entire career is oriented to preventive dentistry.

A recent addition to the dental hygiene staff of Harper College, the Chicago commuter instructs the students in such classes as community dentistry, "which is an umbrella for dental health education," said Mrs. Finkler. "It's oriented more toward the social aspects of dentistry as opposed to purely clinical skills.

"THERE IS CURRENTLY a big emphasis on prevention," she continued. "If you take care of your teeth, you can save them for life. Tooth loss is no longer considered inevitable."

With a degree in dental hygiene from the University of Iowa and a master's degree in public health from the University of Michigan, Mrs. Finkler is well versed in the field of dental health education.

After graduating from the University of Iowa, she served three years as a dental hygienist in a private practice in Des Moines, her home town, leaving finally for Iowa City to work with the Bureau of Dental Health, a branch of the Iowa State Health Department.

After receiving her master's degree and before accepting a position at Harper College, she worked with the American Dental Association in Chicago.

"I WAS ALWAYS interested in a health science career," she said. "It's really a good field for women and well . . . Iowa had a good program, so that's how I got started."

In trying to get Harper students involved in special programs offered by the American Dental Association, Mrs. Finkler was asked to fill a teaching vacancy in the dental hygiene program.

"I like it very much," she said about teaching. "I feel like I'm really accomplishing something. Public health is pretty solid. You don't see progress as fast as with students."

The role of the dental hygienist has become increasingly important with the great emphasis on preventive dentistry, Mrs. Finkler feels, for it is the dental hygienist who cleans teeth, takes the x-rays and generally educates the patient as to the care of his teeth, allowing the dentist extra freedom and time to concentrate on the restorative aspects of dentistry.

IN MAY Mrs. Finkler will be installed as president of the Illinois Dental Hygienists Association which works to upgrade the image and responsibilities of dental hygienists and also provide continuing education courses.

Ever since the role of the dental hygienist was created in the early 1900s, the field has been more or less designated as particularly geared for women. But the de-emphasis on job classifications according to sex is beginning to have its effect.

The freshman dental hygienists class at Harper currently boasts an enrollment of three men, and last June Harper graduated its first male dental hygienist . . . the first in the state as far as Mrs. Finkler is aware.

Group To 'Go See' Little City

The Suburban Service League of Little City in Palatine is planning a "go See" tour of the residential school for the handicapped Sunday afternoon. Members, their husbands and guests, Little City volunteers, and persons interested in Little City are invited.

Before the tour, the group will meet at Lancer's Steak House in Schaumburg for cocktails and dinner. The social hour begins at noon, and a roast beef dinner will be served at 1:30.

During cocktails, Donald Becker, superintendent of the school, will show slides and answer questions as an introduction to the tour.

TRANSPORTATION TO and from Little City will be provided by school bus for those wishing it. The tour of the buildings and grounds includes a stop at the newly decorated Sheltered Workshop. The tour ends with a champagne hour at the school canteen.

Reservations for the dinner may be mailed to Mrs. Earl Ogier, chairman of the event, at 145 Old Dundee Road, Barrington, by Thursday. Checks for $5 per person should be made out to Suburban Service League of Little City.

Mrs. Robert Oram, 358-0031, can be called for further information.

Fashion by Genie

Not everyone is pushing to get on the Chinese fashion junk. While most designers have utilized the Chinese influence very heavily in their spring and summer lines for both garments and accessories, others are merely shaking their heads.

One is Michel Goma who designs for the French fashion house of Jean Patou.

Even though one American firm is doing a sell-out business in authentic Chinese workers' uniforms, Goma thinks contemporary Eastern garb is a fly-by-night affair.

"The young can wear the workers' costume," he said. "It's fun but only a fad."

GOMA FEELS the main problem is that women have just gotten away from the costume route which the Chinese mode of dressing with its very distinctive designs and markings represents.

He instead sees the total rejection of the uniform look by mature women for colors instead, brightened to their fullest, swirling skirts and soft young silhouettes.

His words should be taken as an investment warning. If you like the Chinese look, by all means wear it . . . but also be selective and limiting in your choices. The costume look is always fun until it is overdone.

And for the men, Cardin is at it again. Always fashionably ahead, he just recently showed his 1973 collection.

THE CARDIN silhouette of the future stresses ultra wide stiffened shoulders standing away from the arms in sleeveless blouses. Hips are very slim with trouser tops built well above the waist.

The business executive will continue to go the route of the tailored suits which show the new widened shoulder lines and lapels, complete with collar and tie, wider trousers, a slightly shorter coat and center vent.

THE BUSINESSMAN is not forgotten in Pierre Cardin's new line. Most distinctive is the swashbuckling velour hat.

And the businessman of 1973, only a year away, should never be without his Cardin broad-brimmed velour felt hat in a very noticeable bronze or green.

Suburban Living

Especially for the Family

MRS. DONNA FINKLER guides students enrolled in the dental hygiene program at Harper College in the proper cleaning of the teeth. In May she will be installed as president of the Illinois Dental Hygienists Association.

Round And Round She Goes . . .

by MARY SHERRY

There is no better way to recall the thrill of getting a bicycle as a child than to get one as a birthday gift on one of those birthdays past thirty.

My husband had decided last summer that he needed the exercise and that bike riding would be a good thing for both of us to do. So he ordered two bikes — his and hers. However, at that time of the year, apparently a lot of husbands were thinking along the same lines because only one bike was delivered, and we were told it would take a couple of months to get the other.

"I hope it's yours," I said as my husband began to unpack the carton. I said it because his enthusiasm for bike riding had suddenly wanted, and I knew he was hoping it was mine. It turned out to be a man's bike.

FOR A WHILE HE didn't ride it very much, but soon I noticed he began to disappear after dinner, occasionally at first, then regularly, for a spin on the bike. Just as I started to indulge in my amusement over my husband's new plaything, it dawned on me that, I, too, had gradually begun to use it to run to the store and the post office. At first it was for fun and fresh air. Then I discovered using the bike saved time because by cutting through a field, I avoided two traffic lights that invariably kept me waiting in the car.

So, in the back of my mind I started to grow the thought that it would be nice to have my own bike, contrary to the impression I had given my husband. Apparently he had been thinking the same thing, because when this spring rolled around and with it my birthday, he thoroughly surprised me with a new bike.

"IT'S BEAUTIFUL," I said as he finished putting it together.

"I'm glad you like it."

"It's almost as exciting getting this as getting my first bike!" I exclaimed.

"Then maybe the salesman was right," he said, tightening the handlebars.

"What do you mean?"

"He wanted to sell me plastic streamers to go with it — and a headlight. I told him those would be good for next Christmas."

"Maybe a basket," I suggested seriously, "or tape for the handlebars, stirrups for the pedals and a number for my back," I suggested less seriously.

FOR A FEW DAYS after that I had been happily riding for fun, exercise and errands, thinking that I had to become an adult before I was able to really appreciate a bike. I had considered how different my outlook on cycling is now compared to that of the days of my first two-wheeler. Then, last Friday, when my husband came home from work, he roared as he opened the door, "WHO LEFT A BIKE IN THE DRIVEWAY?"

It has taken me 22 years to come full cycle.

Northwest Mental Health Clinic Offers Two Courses

Classes in communication with children and in marital life will be conducted at Northwest Mental Health Clinic, 1711 W. Campbell St., Arlington Heights, beginning Monday, April 24.

The eight-week communication course will be held from 7 to 8 p.m. and the marriage one from 8:30-9:30. There is a $15 fee. Instructor is Dr. Bruce Denner, formerly an associate professor of psychology at Indiana University now associated with the mental health center.

The course in communicating with children is a repeat of the one conducted earlier this year by Dr. Denner. It is aimed at parents, teachers and others dealing with children to help them communicate their feelings toward youngsters and to respond to children in everyday situations. There are no prerequisites.

The marital life class will include lectures, class discussion, small group experiences and special questionnaires and will cover these topics: Marriage as system in conflict and harmony, Impact of crisis and change, Marital patterns, Conflict in marriage, Suburban housewife with commuting husband, Women's liberation - men's liberation, Bridging the generation gap and Contractual marriages.

Registration may be in person at the clinic or by telephone, 392-1420.

Miss Marion Butzow, district manager of Elmwood Park Office of the Department of Health Education and Welfare, will speak on Medicare at Wednesday's dinner meeting of the American Society of Women Accountants. It will be held at Louis Restaurant in Addison.

Miss Butzow will discuss the 1972 changes in Social Security-Medicare benefits and the latest Medicare rules.

Area accountants and guests are welcome. Social hour begins at 5:30, dinner at 6:30. Reservations may be made by calling the president, Mrs. William Ellbracht, CPA, of Arlington Heights, at 253-5540.

PARENTS OF DIABETICS

Northwest Suburban Parents of Diabetic Children will hold their next meeting Thursday at 8 p.m. in Chippewa Junior High School, Des Plaines.

Mrs. Kenneth Deutsch will speak about the week's visit she and her daughter made to Joslin Clinic in Boston, a teaching hospital for diabetes.

The meeting is open to anyone interested in diabetes. Mrs. Claryce Wear-dahl, 902 Quince Lane, Mount Prospect, has further details.

CHAPTER HL — PEO

Chapter HL of the PEO Sisterhood of Des Plaines will meet tonight in the home of Mrs. Edward Hennrickson. Mrs. Lommen Eley will assist as co-hostess.

Mrs. C. C. Parriott will present a program on historic Illinois.

Antiquer At Carson's

Homer Formby, Florida antique dealer and furniture refinishing expert, will be in the housewares department of Carson's Randhurst Store Thursday.

Formby says "the proper care of furniture is an investment in the future when there may be no more new wood furniture due to the shortage of woods." He predicts today's furniture will be tomorrow's antiques.

Dear Dorothy: A friend told me that you once recommended that Epsom salts be used on rosebushes in the spring. I've never seen this in any rose books and was wondering where you came upon this information. — Mrs. Jordan Rosson.

It came from an expert rose grower — Charles Dawson. In his book on growing roses he recommended two pounds of Epsom salts every spring for 100 square feet of bed surface or for 25 plants. The Epsom salts provide the magnesium needed to make plants grow strong new canes or bottom shoots. My neighbors and I drifted into the habit of putting 2 tablespoons around each rosebush in the spring — never later. Epsom salts, of course, is in addition to all the other rose feedings, not in place of them.

Dear Dorothy: You answer so many oddball questions, maybe you can handle this one, too. Why the custom of colored eggs at Easter-time? — Jenny H.

The custom is supposed to represent the fact that the egg stands for life and the perpetuation of life. The coloring of eggs imitates the brilliant colors that represent the onset of spring. One can go on for pages on how the customs vary in foreign countries, but, fundamentally, they are similar.

Dear Dorothy: Found a new use for the butter and margarine wrappers that I've always saved to grease casseroles, baking pans and so on. They're perfect to grease washed baking potatoes as there is just the right amount of shortening left on and the wrapper is just flexible enough to use easily. Maybe other pack rats haven't tried this one. — Helen R.

Use Care In Laundering When Illness In Family

When there is sickness in your family, you need to give special attention to laundering clothing and household textiles.

Recent research by the USDA Agricultural Research Service shows that certain viruses persist for significant periods on laundered fabrics. In addition, viruses may be transferred from one fabric to another.

Carol Warfield, University of Illinois textiles instructor, explains that neither the water temperature nor the detergents used under today's home laundering conditions can be relied on to reduce the number of microorganisms to a safe level.

The USDA researchers carried out two complete series of launderings using the types of detergents available on the domestic market.

The detergents showed little difference in virus-removing ability, but the temperatures of the wash water did. Very little detectable virus remained after washing in hot water. Although washing in warm water or cold water decreased virus content, significant amounts of virus remained in most fabrics.

HOWEVER, THE heat involved in tumble drying, which generally fluctuates between 135 and 175 degrees F. in a home-type dryer, can also be effective in helping to reduce the number of microorganisms present.

Sterile fabrics laundered with fabrics that contained virus were often contaminated during the laundering process.

But when hot water was used, the amount of virus detected on the originally sterile fabrics was very low.

In each laundering, researchers removed water samples near the end of the rinse cycle. Analysis of these samples revealed no active virus when the fabrics were washed in hot water. When fabrics were washed in cold water or warm water, the rinse water contained some virus, indicating that waste water from laundering can be a source of contamination.

Mrs. Warfield points out that microorganisms can remain alive on the inner surface of the washing machine and be transferred from one load to another.

YOU CAN CONTROL microorganisms by using one of these disinfectants in laundering:

—liquid chlorine bleach. But follow the label instructions so that you do not damage the fibers and colors that may be sensitive to chlorine bleach.

—pine oil disinfectants with at least 70 per cent steam-distilled pine oil.

—phenolic disinfectants. Labels of such products should contain the words ortho-benzyl-papachlorophenol or ortho-phenyl-chlorophenol.

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI) — Actor George C. Scott was so impressed with a 30-minute ecology film he saw on television that he asked the documentary's producers for a copy for his personal library. The film, produced in Dallas by the Fort Worth-based Southern Baptist Radio and TV Commission, used a speech given by an Indian in the 1850s to go along with the pictures.

Village-Centered Efforts Put Domanico, Smiley Over

A concentrated campaign in Elk Grove Village resulted in the election of two village residents Saturday for three-year terms on the board of education of Elk Grove Township Dist. 59.

Albert Domanico, of 7 Grange Pl., and Gerald Smiley, of 1156 Chellenham Rd., were elected by wide margins over three opponents.

Domanico was high vote getter in the race, polling 1,021. Smiley finished with 652 votes, well ahead of the third highest candidate, James Sheldon of Des Plaines. Sheldon had 489 votes.

Incumbent Paul Neuhauser finished a poor fourth with 417 votes and Irene (Dolly) Burton of Mount Prospect was low vote getter with 200.

Sound trucks urging Elk Grove Village residents to vote for "your Elk Grove Village candidates" made the rounds in the village for most of the afternoon, possibly the reason that Elk Grove Village's eight precincts accounted for 1,546 of the 2,779 votes cast in the election.

Al
Domanico

Gerald
Smiley

IN THE EIGHT precincts outside of the village, in Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect and Des Plaines, turn-out was generally much lighter, with Sheldon running ahead of Smiley for second place. Neuhauser carried only one precinct, his home precinct in Mount Prospect.

Domanico, who served on the board for 16 months during 1969 and 1970, was defeated by a little over 200 votes last year in an attempt to gain reelection to the board. As the votes were coming in Saturday night, showing him running strongly in all parts of the district, he quipped, "This sure beats last year."

Smiley, who has lived in the village for four years and been defeated in one previous run for the school board and in tries for the village board of trustees and park board, said, when it became apparent that he had won, "It's nice to win an election once in a while."

Domanico and Smiley were both endorsed by the Elk Grove Teachers Council political action organization. Members of the teachers council including president Robert Beaupre, provided campaign help during the past week.

Leah Cummins, former member of the board of High School Dist. 214 and a village resident, also received support from the group campaigning for Elk Grove Village candidates. In her case, however, the appeal was less successful, with victories going to two incumbents.

The Dist. 59 board will meet at 8 p.m. today in the administration building to reorganize and elect a president for the coming year. Because of the election, Elk Grove Village residents now hold a majority of seats on the board.

CLIFF CLIMBING techniques are demonstrated by a scout from Explorer Post 101 at the Scout-O-Rama over the weekend in Arlington Heights.

Moats, Marier Win Harper Board Posts

Incumbent Larry Moats and Marilyn Marier won the Harper College Board of Trustees election by a wide margin.

Moats, of Mount Prospect, took the lead with an overwhelming 4,950 votes followed by Mrs. Marier, of Arlington Heights, with 3,544 votes.

Moats, an electrical contractor, was reelected to a second three-year term.

Larry
Moats

Mrs. Marier's three-year term will be her first board experience.

Mount Prospect and Prospect Heights had the highest voter turnout in Dist. 512. Both communities showed strong support for Moats along with portions of Palatine and Barrington. Mrs. Marier, on the other hand, received fairly equal support from all of the precincts.

On hearing the election results, Mrs. Marier said she was "delighted and will try not to disappoint the people who voted for me."

AN ACTIVE civic leader, Mrs. Marier has served on the League of Women Voters, Volunteer Service Bureau, Arlington Heights Historical Society and the Arlington Heights Cultural Commission.

Marilyn
Marier

Mrs. Marier advocates caution in long range planning, closer ties to the community and local-state cooperation. She is also interested in a campus cultural center, funded at least partially by private sources.

Moats stands on the same platform he took to the voters three years ago. He has called for greater communication between student-teacher groups and the board and between the college and the community. He contends communication is the answer to the polarization he sees on the campus today. He is also known for his lone stand against the salary hike granted college president Robert Lahti last fall.

Other election results include: Howard Pollard, 3,544; Le Roi Hutchings, 1,606; Michael Huston, 1,661; and Rochelle Veitch, 1,140.

Firm Burglarized

Burglars took office equipment of undetermined value from the Holly Development Co., 1880 Busse Rd., last week. Elk Grove Village police said the burglars apparently entered through a window left of the door.

Artemenko, Aronson, Greenfield

Dist. 214 Election 'Close'

Two incumbents, Gene Artemenko and Arthur Aronson, and one newcomer, Richard Greenfield, won the High School Dist. 214 Board election.

Aronson, of unincorporated Arlington Heights, took the lead with 2,709 votes. Artemenko, of Des Plaines, came in with 2,566 votes, followed by Greenfield, of Buffalo Grove with 2,402 votes.

The incumbents were both elected to three year terms, while Greenfield will serve only one year. Aronson's election fulfills a state requirement for a representative on the board from an unincorporated area.

School officials reported the election results came in "close all evening long." Aronson's strongest support came from his hometown Arlington Heights and neighboring Prospect Heights and Wheeling. Greenfield did very well in Arlington Heights and Buffalo Grove. Artemenko's support, on the other hand, was fairly equal in all of the precincts.

GREENFIELD, an attorney, attributed his Arlington Heights support to a vote "for Aronson and against Don McGlothlin for the unincorporated seat." McGlothlin, of Wheeling, ran against Greenfield for the one-year term, and against Aronson for the unincorporated seat.

Arthur
Aronson

Richard
Greenfield

Aronson said his reelection was a vote of confidence for the present board. He said he had been concerned during the election that "the voters thought the board wasn't doing its job."

Aronson ran for his fourth term on a platform calling for the continuation of the Northwest Education Cooperative. In protest to campaign charges of over spending, the industrial engineer advocated continuation of present budget practices.

Coming to the board with no experience, Greenfield took a stand for local district control, more student voice and a strong vocational education program.

Artemenko, assistant manager of United Air Line's employment credit union, was appointed to the high school board last fall to fill a vacancy. He stands in favor of the 12 month school year, a stronger vocational education program, and contribution of public services to private schools. He praises the district administration and teaching staff.

Other election results include: Don McGlothlin, 2,101; Leah Cummins, 1,993; Leo Floros, 1,980; and Barb Storter, 821.

School Will Get Its 'Right' Name

The Albert Einstein School in Des Plaines will finally get a plaque with its correct name.

The board of education of Elk Grove Township Dist. 59 agreed Monday to buy a new plaque, with the correct name on it, to replace the present plaque, which indicates the facility is named Herzog School.

The name of the school was changed several years ago at the request of residents of the Waycinden Park subdivision. The school was originally named Herzog after the developer of the area.

In other action the board accepted a survey from architect Fred Johnson calling for approximately $145,000 in work to bring the district's 20 schools into compliance with the Illinois Life Safety Code. The survey must be approved by County School Supt. Richard Martwick before the district can accept bids for the improvements.

The life safety code allows districts to wait until their buildings are 10 years old before doing work to bring schools in compliance. However, last year the Dist. 59 board decided to do all required work on all schools as soon as possible.

Herald Subscription Increased To 55 Cents

An increase in home delivery price for The Herald, effective this week, has been announced by Charles E. Hayes, editor and publisher.

The published home delivery rate will be 55 cents per week.

"This price change is necessary to offset recent price increases authorized by the federal government," said Hayes. He said that during the past six months, the newspaper has been faced with substantially higher costs in newsprint, news services, printing supplies and manufacturing.

Elk Horn

Cutting Budget
No Easy Task

by HARRY WEINER

The Elk Grove Village Board of Trustees' decision to hold expenditures at the present level of expected revenue is one that can hardly be argued with.

In deciding to hold expenditures to the $2.6 million expected in revenue, the board tacitly rejected the arguments of village department heads, who generally defended their requests (totaling about $3.6 million) as necessary to maintain the present level of services.

But even those department heads would have to agree that the board was open-minded in listening to the requests. The board made no decision until hearing all departmental requests. And as the elected representatives of the people of the village, the board made a decision with which most taxpayers probably agree fully.

To pay for the budget requests the village would have had to come up with some additional tax, such as one on utility bills. Such a tax would not have been too small if all the requests were accepted, since the requests were more than $1 million greater than revenue expected from present sources.

IN DECIDING against increased taxes, the board made a decision that will involve elimination of a number of major requests from village departments.

Among requested budget items almost sure to be eliminated is a fire department request for construction of a temporary fire station west of Rte. 53. Although actual purchase of property for the fire station would be financed by a 1959 bond issue, nearly $100,000 from the present budget would be needed to pay salaries of nine new men needed for the temporary station.

Beyond that request, however, village officials will have a tough time finding areas from which to cut the additional amounts.

A police department request of $971,065 — a 40 per cent increase from the $692,469 approved last year — is one possible area, as is a street department requested increase of nearly 50 per cent.

But wherever Village Mgr. Charles Willis and Finance Director George Cony look to make the cuts, they are likely to find cutting $1 million from budget requests no easy matter.

3 Gain Seats On Dist. 211 Board

Glenn Hargrave, Anna Countryman and Bill Stenstrom will take their seats on the High School Dist. 211 board Thursday evening.

The three Palatine residents won election Saturday over six other candidates. Running uncontested for the unincorporated seat, Hargrave led with 945 votes. Mrs. Countryman received 732 votes, followed by Stenstrom with 708 votes.

All three candidates will serve a three-year term on the school board. None of the winners have run for public office before.

Hargrave, who didn't do any campaigning apart from appearing at "candidate night," said he was quite surprised at the election results. "Since I was running uncontested, I thought the voters would pass me over."

HARWOOD, manager of the midwest region for Columbia Plywood Corp., ran on a platform citing his ability in the construction industry. He advocates a stronger vocational education program, local district control, and more communication in the schools. However he takes a stand against countywide busing and parochialism.

Also supporting a stronger vocational education program, Stenstrom said he plans to join the board with a positive attitude. "We have a marvelous program in the district now and I am looking forward to an even better program in the future."

Pointing to his experience as a personnel manager at Interstate National

Bill StenstromAnna
CountrymanGlenn

Corp., Stenstrom said he should be helpful in areas such as salary negotiations. He lists curriculum and counseling as top priorities. And he advocates greater cooperation between taxing districts and state aid to parochial schools.

An active volunteer in PTA and other civic groups, Mrs. Countryman also called for stronger vocational education and counseling programs. She said she is interested in studying proposals for a 12-month school year and district consolidation, and she called for the establishment of lay advisory boards.

Other vote totals showed Edward Krause, 231, Edwin Johnson, 298; Walter Anderson, 500, William Langbauer, 389; Ray Barber, 550, and Boyd Saum, 230.

Voters Choose 2 For Dist. 54 Board

Incumbent School Board Pres. Gordon Thoren easily won reelection to one of two 3-year seats available on the Schaumburg Township Dist. 54 Board of Education.

During Saturday's election Schaumburg Township residents also seated Arlene Czajkowski, the only candidate who came close to Thoren's total 536 vote.

Mrs. Czajkowski was greeted as the apparent winner when she arrived at district administrative headquarters as the last precinct was being tallied. Final tallies showed her total vote to be 417.

"It's official now," said Mrs. Czajkowski who spent ten years working within the district active in PTA and committee work.

Mrs. Czajkowski joked with her new fellow board members present at the office and said "now instead of sitting in the back and making faces I can vote."

OTHER CANDIDATES who were unsuccessful in their bid for election and the total votes cast for them are as follows:

Connie Schoeld, 271; James A. Rogers, 212; Dr. Bernard J. Powell, 202, and Maurice G. Julius, 193.

The total vote cast in the district was light The sum of all nine precincts was 1,831.

Gordon T.
ThorenArlene
Czajkowski

Precinct 8, the Thomas Dooley School in Schaumburg with a total of 302 votes cast, had the heaviest vote in the district.

In Precinct 8 Mrs. Czajkowski led with 157 votes, Dr. Powell received 114 and Thoren 111.

A Schaumburg United Party (SUP) letter sent out to members urged a vote for SUP member Dr. Powell.

The letter stated that if Powell were to fail in his bid for election Schaumburg would be without a voice on the board of education. Thoren of Hoffman Estates, has held a seat on the school board for the past three years. He said he will continue to work hard on the board as he has in the past.

Mrs. Czajkowski, a resident of an unincorporated part of Schaumburg Township said she will strive to achieve those campaign promises she made.

Mrs. Czajkowski is in favor of a broader curriculum, especially on a junior high school level and wants to lengthen kindergarten sessions while eliminating the middle session.

School Artists Display At Conant

A traveling exhibition of work by outstanding Illinois high school artists will be on display in the James B. Conant High School library until April 20.

Twenty individual examples of work in conte, acrylic, pencil, ink, collage, lighter fluid transfer, air brush drawing and prints are included.

The artists were among 231 high school juniors and seniors selected to attend the 1970 summer Allerton Park Art Schools, co-sponsored by the University of Illinois and the Illinois Federation of Woman's Clubs.

Instruction and facilities are furnished by the U of I Division of University Extension and Department of Art; room and board tuition scholarships and supervision are provided by the Woman's Clubs.

PARTICIPANTS ARE chosen on the basis of their promise in art; each is sponsored by his local federated club.

Pupils attend a one-week session. Instruction includes the areas of painting, graphic design, drawing and 3-D studio work. The students make full use of Allerton Park's scenic vistas, statuary, and landscapes.

This exhibit is sponsored by the Conant art department. Area residents are invited to view the art work during the hours of 7:30 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Conant High School is located on Cougar Trail off Plum Grove Road, in Hoffman Estates.

Forced Land Donation: Would Such A Law Work Here?

by STEVE FORSYTH

"The Naperville Ordinance is a form of tax, directed toward new people coming into a town," said Fred Hillman, executive vice president of Chesterfield Inc. He spoke Thursday night to members of the village board and plan commission as part of a village program to study the feasibility of adopting an ordinance similar to one in Naperville.

The Naperville ordinance requires developers to donate land or money to villages and school districts according to a formula based on number of people in a development.

Village Pres. Gary Armstrong invited builders who have worked in the village to the informal discussion session, and eight representatives attended. Hillman's company is presently negotiating with the plan commission to approve plans for 300 townhouses at Arlington Heights and Lake-Cook roads.

The builders also voiced their opinion that the Naperville ordinance is unconstitutional because it forcefully takes private land from owners.

AL RILEY, president of Hasbrook Corp., cited a few instances in which courts have overruled mandatory donations by builders. He cited a case in 1961 in Mount Prospect when the Illinois Supreme Court ruled in favor of Pioneer Trust & Savings, saying donations of land could not be required.

Riley also was present as chairman of a special task force studying land donations, organized by the Homebuilders Association of Greater Chicago.

Riley offered other solutions to the problems which result as builders add large groups of people to a community. "We like state support of education, with local control. We are backing efforts on the part of state government to reduce these taxes and shift them to a broader base," said Riley.

"These people buying homes are not strangers from some other land, and we feel these charges are quite discriminating. We feel the education of the community is the responsibility of the total community and shouldn't be heaped on the newcomer," he said.

WILLIAM KAPLAN, an attorney representing the builders, asked the village board to defer any action until the Naperville ordinance has been tested in court. "We believe under Illinois laws that exist today the ordinance is illegal. I assure you the decision will come very quickly," Kaplan said.

Armstrong asked the builders what they would suggest as a solution to the problem in light of the fact that new developments do place certain demands on communities.

"As builders we have no recommendations. This is a government problem. We are providing the service of building homes," Hillman said.

Armstrong replied, "New people usually live in homes 12 to 18 months tax-free. If the development doesn't participate, you are taxing the people who are already here (in the village)."

"We feel this should be corrected," Riley said. The property on the tax rolls should not get a free ride. He indicated that state government should find a solution for the tax lag problem, perhaps by quarterly billing.

ANOTHER DEVELOPER, Richard J. Brown, said, "I don't think this concept could be legislated by ordinance because of the variety of developments. Each one is unique."

Armstrong said, "I think some contribution must be forthcoming from you or them (the new residents), because it does cost money and the new residents immediately become part of the community."

Riley said, "We agree the need is there, but the question is, who is to pay for it? If the community can take land from a builder they can take it from anyone." Riley said he also feels school districts have not planned enough for the future, when they know growth is going to happen.

Armstrong asked Robert Craig of Levitt & Sons if his Naperville development is suffering because of the ordinance there.

Craig said, "Naperville is the least successful of our Chicago developments. It has been a burden. I do object in principle to the part that borders on confiscation."

Trustee Charles Vogt summed up the meeting by saying, "The real issue is how we can get together to create a good community where people will want to live. I think we're running the real risk of polluting the community landscape with houses." Vogt asked that a task force be organized with representatives from the builders, park district, school districts and the village to arrive at a satisfactory solution to the problem.

Armstrong said he also will continue his plan to talk with the park district and the school districts individually to learn their viewpoints on the issue, with a final meeting of all interests to work out a possible ordinance, if one is needed.

Charge 13 Cheated
On Cigarette Tax

Illinois Atty Gen William Scott filed suits this week asking $155,160 in fines against 13 retailers charged with cheating on cigarette taxes.

Among those named as defendants in the suit was a Mount Prospect man, Joseph Marto of 213 Graylyn Rd.

The suit alleges that each of the defendants had at their businesses more than 100 cigarette packages without Illinois cigarette stamps.

Scott said that Illinois law provides for a fine of $100 for each unexpired package of cigarettes in excess of 100 found in the possession of the vendor. Scott is seeking a $700 judgment against Marto. The largest fine being sought by Scott's office is $53,000 against a Chicago resident, Morton Nectman.

Closing Arguments Today In Jayne Case Motion

Closing arguments will be heard today in a hearing on a defense motion to suppress a confession made by Julius Barnes, the accused killer of wealthy Inverness horseman George Jayne.

Barnes, 37, of Chicago, is charged with murder and conspiracy to commit murder, along with Silas Jayne, 63, brother of the victim, and Joseph LaPlaca, 47, of Elgin.

The state has charged that Barnes was the man who pulled the trigger, shooting Jayne through the basement window of his home at 1918 Banbury Ln. during a family card game Oct. 28, 1970.

Barnes, through his attorney, George Howard, has charged that he was not properly advised of his constitutional rights when he made the confession May 22, 1971.

THE HEARING on the defense motion went into its second day in the Criminal Court Building Friday, as Barnes and an agent of the Illinois Bureau of Investigation testified.

Nicholas Motherway, assistant state's attorney, said Friday he expects there will be no additional testimony today. He said Judge Richard Fitzgerald scheduled today for closing arguments and his ruling.

The first witness Monday, IBI agent Lou Spence, was one of the officers who arrested Barnes May 22 at his home.

Spence said on the witness stand Friday that he warned Barnes of his rights and that Barnes signed a form listing his constitutional rights. Motherway introduced the form into evidence.

Barnes then took the stand and told the court that when he was taken to IBI headquarters the day of his arrest, police told him that Melvin Adams had told them the entire story of the murder.

ADAMS, who originally was charged in connection with the alleged conspiracy, has been granted immunity by the state. Barnes said that Adams was then brought into the room and Adams said, "I told them everything, Julius." Barnes said Friday he did not know what Adams was talking about.

Barnes admitted he was advised of his right to counsel and his right to remain silent. He said he was told if he spoke it would be used against him. He insisted, however, he was never told he had the right to a free attorney.

Wheeling Cafe Operator Is Arrested On Gaming Charge

The operator of a Wheeling restaurant and bar was among 21 men arrested by the FBI last week in connection with an organized gambling ring.

Frank Miramonti, who operates Alexander's Hartmann House, 393 S. Milwaukee Ave., was arrested on charges of running an illegal gambling business.

Miramonti, 58, was arrested at his home in Northbrook April 3 by FBI agents. He had been indicted along with 22 other men on March 30, and warrants for the arrest of the 22 had been issued.

Miramonti is the former owner of the Union Hotel in Wheeling.

He was released from custody on $4,500 bond. No court hearing date on the charge has been set.

The charge, which is a violation of the Organized Crime Control Act, carries penalties as high as five years imprisonment, a $20,000 fine or both.

The men arrested by the FBI were allegedly involved in a million-dollar-a-month illegal gambling business. The gambling activities included bookmaking on horse races and football games as well as other forms of gambling.

Some of the men arrested were charged with interstate gambling violations in connection with a link to a similar operation in Florida. Miramonti was not among those charged with the interstate violations, however.

One man involved in the gambling ring is still being sought, FBI officials said last week.

Miramonti was tied to the gambling operation through court-authorized tapping of phone lines, the Herald learned.

Man, 2 Youths Get
6-Month Supervision

A Des Plaines man and two youths were placed on six months supervision Thursday after they pleaded guilty to theft charges in connection with a strong armed robbery Feb. 13 at a south side Des Plaines service station.

Patrick Wohlwend, 20, of 6922 Mannheim Rd., Ronald Moncath, 17, of 2050 Pine St., and Ronald Fuller, 17, of 1314 Fargo Ave., all in Des Plaines, had been charged with the theft of Mollie's Standard Station, 1990 Mannheim Rd. The theft reportedly netted the thieves $225.

Associate Judge Marvin J. Peters also told the trio that they would be required to return the money to the station owner. The case was heard at the Des Plaines branch of Cook County Circuit court.

Another juvenile allegedly involved in the theft has been turned over to juvenile authorities.

Maine West Rips Shots In Victory

After one game of the 1972 baseball season, Maine West had a team batting average of — hold on to your hats — .444.

Actually, the average slipped somewhat after the first inning, when, after six batters, the Warriors were averaging 1.000.

"We were out there stinging the ball today," said Warrior coach Al Carstens. "Most of those hits were real shots."

A pair of Prospect pitchers knew for sure that the Warriors were ripping out line shots as Maine West dumped the host Knights 13-0 in a non-conference game Thursday.

Maine West opened the season in a manner to please the heart of any coach.

Ackerman's blast carried at least 350 feet in the air in dead center field. Since there is no fence at Prospect, the ball rolled half way to Mayor Daley's office and so he scored with relative ease.

In the second inning, Blumer led off with a walk and scored on a double to left-center by Wolfgram. Wolfgram scored on a single down the left field line by Schroeder to make it 8-0.

Bill Heyse was hit by a pitch, Bill Slapke walked. Blumer singled, Wolfgram reached the bases on an error and Schroeder did the same to account for three more runs to make it 11-0.

Two Warriors were thrown out at the plate in the fourth inning (four Warriors were thrown out at the plate during the game) and Maine West did not score in that frame.

Maine West added a run in the fifth inning as Blumer cracked a triple to right-center and scored on a sacrifice fly by Wolfgram. Ackerman scored the game's final run on a fielder's choice, a wild pitch, a passed ball and an error.

Among the notable stickhandlers Thursday were Bouchee, who went 4-for-4; Blumer, who went 3-for-3; Wolfgram, who went 2-for-3; and Schroeder, who went 2-for-4.

The slugging outburst somewhat overshadowed (if there had been a sun) the pitching of Frank Mitchell and Ackerman. Mitchell hurled four innings, allowed only three hits and struck out seven. Ackerman worked two innings, gave up one hit and fanned four.

In the cold, damp and, later, rain (which ended the contest in the sixth inning), the game was a typical opener — nine wild pitches, four passed balls, five errors and one hit batsman.

Conference Play Opens? That's What Schedule Says

With one eye on lineup cards and another eye on the sky above and the mud below, baseball coaches in the area are anticipating their first conference games of the season.

Maine West is slated to open its Central Suburban League campaign against Niles West in an important contest for both clubs. The two squads are expected to make runs at the conference championship. The Warriors' Saturday scheduled game with Evanston was washed out and a new date has not been selected. A game with Oak Park, which has been postponed twice, has been rescheduled for Thursday, April 13.

If the weather and the fields are conducive to baseball, the Warriors will play Niles West at 4:30 p.m. today.

Maine North is scheduled to play its first official Central Suburban League game ever today at Deerfield at 4:15 p.m. The Norsemen were forced to postpone Saturday's game with Niles East to an undetermined date.

Oakton College is slated to play its first Skyway Conference baseball game ever today at Elgin at 3 p.m.

Maine East is scheduled to host Evanston, in a game which was rained out once before, today at 3:45 p.m. in a non-conference confrontation. The Demons were washed out of a game with Maine South Saturday. No new date has been set.

Notre Dame is slated to host Carmel in a Suburban Catholic Conference game today at 4 p.m. Scheduled doubleheaders with St. Joseph and Luther North were postponed over the weekend.

In other sports action today, Notre Dame will be home with Luther North in a golf match at 4 p.m. and Maine East will host Niles North in a golf meet at 3:50 p.m.

Other postponements over the weekend were the Moline Relays (which was rescheduled for this coming Saturday), a tennis meet between St. Ignatius and Notre Dame and a tennis meet between Prospect and Maine East.

St. Viator Takes Pair From Dons By 5-0, 8-5

St. Viator found its batting eye in the fifth inning of the first game at Notre Dame by smashing six straight hits and batting around during a five-run barrage that resulted in a 5-0 conference conquest last week.

The Lions then relied on southpaw Mike Cook, who two-hit the Dons, walking three and fanning 13.

Joe Bombicino singled sharply up the middle before Stan Bobowski rifled a two-run triple over the right fielder's head. Ed Hellesen capped the rally with a run-scoring base hit over the bag at third.

Cook was in complete command over the seven-inning affair. The six Notre Dame base runners he did allow, failed to get past second base. He struck out four straight once and five in a row later on Joe Saccomano and Randy Kamowski were the only Dons to solve the strong left-hander.

Martin and Hellesen paced the victors with two hits apiece.

The Lions completed a sweep by rallying for three runs in the final two innings for an 8-5 decision.

Craig Zander went the distance for St. Viator, walking two and striking seven and contributing two key hits.

St. Viator is now 2-1 on the season and 1-1 in Suburban Catholic League play while Notre Dame lost its first two decisions against two victories.

Warriors Clip Knight Netters

Prospect won in No. 1 singles, but Maine West captured the other four matches as the Warriors posted a 4-1 victory Thursday.

Bob Zimmanek of Prospect defeated Steve Wild 6-3 and 6-4 in No. 1 singles, but the Knights were unable to win another match.

John Anderson of Maine West downed Jeff Risteen 6-0 and 6-3 in No. 2 singles and teammate Jack Semler defeated Mark Mavis 7-5 and 6-4 in No. 3 singles.

The Warriors won in No. 1 doubles with Joe Thimm and Roger Junge in a 6-0, 5-7 and 9-7 verdict and Doug Lauffenberger and Doug Meister defeated Chuck Ruckstaetter and Steve Ristow 7-5 and 6-3.

Maine West won the frosh-soph meet 3-2.

DOWN THE STRETCH. Notre Dame first baseman Viator, Walsh later contributed a key hit in the Notre Dame to just two hits, walking only three Rich Padi reaches for throw from second sacker Lions' five-run fifth inning that clipped the Dons, and fanning 13.

Saxon Netmen Top Norsemen

History repeated itself in the Schaumburg-Maine North meet Thursday.

The Norsemen, visiting the new Saxon courts for the season opener, lost a 4-1 decision. When these two new schools met last year, Schaumburg also won, its only victory of the 1971 season.

Schaumburg swept the singles matches in this manner — Randy Maddon over Lee Brenner, 6-1, 6-4; Dave Fenwick over Greg Polan, 6-2, 6-0; and Harvey Sharleu over Tim Tynan, 6-1, 6-2.

The Saxons also took the first doubles match behind Bill Hommoun and Larry Willer. They stopped Dave Hunter and Jenner, 6-1, 8-1.

Steve Bach and Rich Reese were stopped in their drive to make it a shut-out by Vames and Paytte, 6-2, 6-1.

The Schaumburg frosh-soph team also won by the same 4-1 score.

Norsemen Romp To 14-4 Victory

by DON FRISKE

The Norsemen of Maine North didn't wait too long to see what potential their baseball team has. In their season opener last Thursday they defeated the hosting Rolling Meadows Mustangs, 14-4.

The Mustangs could only collect four hits off of a Maine North pitcher-shortstop combination. Norsemen Gary Halls started on the mound yielding only two hits and one run. In the fourth inning Halls was moved to shortstop, opening the mound spot for starting shortstop Dave Helton. Helton was touched for three runs in the first frame he pitched, but he settled down after that, shutting out the Mustangs the rest of the route.

The Norsemen bats were not kept quiet until the final two innings when Mustang reliever Tom Ashby shut them out. Aside from the sixth and seventh inning, the Norsemen scored in every other frame.

Their biggest run production for one inning was the first when they scored four runs off losing pitcher Dave Thorsontson. Mark Harloff and Helton led off with singles. Halls then reached base on an error, loading the bases. Ken Spain followed with a sacrifice fly to right field, scoring Harloff. Helton scored while Halls moved to second on a double steal. Jim Kozlowski followed with a single that drove in Halls and Micky Drewes reached on an error to bring in Kozlowski, thus ending the scoring for Norsemen in the first inning.

Only three of the total 17 hits were of the extra base variety and one of them came in the third inning. Norseman second baseman Mark Straessle hit a Texas league double to left field driving in two of his teammates.

Both of the other extra base clouts were long triples to deep centerfield. The first one came off the bat of Mustang rightfielder Jim Freres driving in runners from second and third. Spain tripled in the fifth inning off Mustang reliever Greg Bubltz. Spain scored on a Mustang error, scoring the Norsemen's 12th run.

Spain had a perfect day at the plate going three-for-three, with a walk, a run scored, and two RBIs. Straessle brought the most men home as four players touched the plate as a result of his hitting.

Both teams had their share of errors with the Norsemen booting five while the Mustangs were dropping four. The Mustangs only capitalized once on the Norsemen miscues. The Norsemen did, however, use the Mustangs' mistakes to their advantage as only five of the Norsemen's 14 runs were earned.

Florida Trip Successful Against Stiff Competition

Oakton College's baseball team had a measure of success against stiff competition in a five-game set in St. Petersburg last week.

The Raiders opened with an 11-9 victory over Florida Presbyterian behind the hitting of Dan Moss and Larry Gavaluch. Moss went 3-for-5 and Gavaluch connected for two hits in four trips to the plate. Rick Miller was the winning pitcher.

Oakton battled St. John's of New York to a 2-2 tie as Raider hurlers Scott Johnson and Frank Kochevar came up with splendid performances.

Despite a 2-for-3 effort at the plate by Bob Ebebrecht, Oakton lost to St. Petersburg Junior College, a team which entered the contest with 40 games under its belt already this season, 9-4.

In a second meeting with St. Petersburg, Oakton held a 4-0 lead until the ninth inning when the hosts rallied for five runs and earned the win. Jim Buchholz went 2-for-3 in the loss.

The Raiders closed out their Florida trip with a 2-2 record by blanking State University of New York at Binghamton 5-0. Larry Teschner was the winning hurler while throwing four shutout innings.

Oakton will open Skyway Conference play against Elgin at Lord's Park in Elgin today at 3 p.m.

Lane Defeats Herman By 58 Votes For Board Post

School Dist. 21 incumbent Jack Lane defeated caucus-supported candidate Ben Herman by 58 votes, 301 to 243, in Saturday's school board election. Both men were battling for a two-year opening on the board.

Two other incumbents, Mary Joan Reid and Lillian Stiller, ran unopposed in their bid for two three-year openings on the board. They received 506 and 500 votes respectively.

Lane picked up most of his 58-vote margin in the second precinct. He beat Herman in that precinct 128 to 63.

The remaining four precincts went as expected. Neither candidate held a strong lead in those precincts totals.

Precincts 1 and 5 went to Herman by slight margins. He won them with vote totals of 28 and 19 to Lane's 25 and 18.

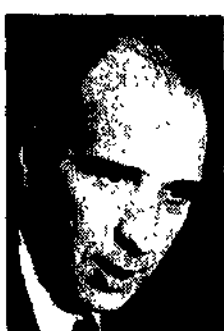

Lane, who was a resident of Buffalo Grove, carried precinct 3 with a margin of 106 to 28. Herman, a resident of Mount Prospect, carried precinct 4 by 105 to 24.

Lane and Herman began their battle in February when the Dist. 21 General Caucus dropped Lane to support Herman. Lane said at the time he thought he could win as an independent.

After learning of his victory, Lane said he was satisfied with the way the voting went. "I really think the voters in Buffalo Grove and those who voted at

Mary Joan
Reid

Jack Lane

Lillian Stiller

London School made my work pay off," he said.

Lane said he felt caucus worked hard for Herman in the other precincts and it showed. "I'm satisfied though, with the way things went. However, I wish the voter turnout had been better," said Lane.

A total of 544 residents voted in Dist. 21. Kenneth Gill, superintendent of Dist. 21 schools, said the showing was poor mainly because there were no real issues and there was no referendum in the election.

Other members of the Dist. 21 school board are Edwin Smith, Ronald Cole, Jeremiah Crise and L. James Wylie.

Artemenko, Aronson, Greenfield

Dist. 214 Election 'Close'

Two incumbents, Gene Artemenko and Arthur Aronson, and one newcomer, Richard Greenfield, won the High School Dist. 214 Board election.

Aronson, of unincorporated Arlington Heights, took the lead with 2,709 votes. Artemenko, of Des Plaines, came in with 2,566 votes, followed by Greenfield, of Buffalo Grove with 2,402 votes.

The incumbents were both elected to three year terms, while Greenfield will serve only one year. Aronson's election fulfills a state requirement for a representative on the board from an unincorporated area.

School officials reported the election results came in "close all evening long." Aronson's strongest support came from his hometown Arlington Heights and neighboring Prospect Heights and Wheeling. Greenfield did very well in Arlington Heights and Buffalo Grove. Artemenko's support, on the other hand, was fairly equal in all of the precincts.

GREENFIELD, an attorney, attributed

Arthur
Aronson

Richard
Greenfield

his Arlington Heights support to a vote "for Aronson and against Don McGlothlin for the unincorporated seat." McGlothlin, of Wheeling, ran against Greenfield for the one-year term, and against Aronson for the unincorporated seat.

Aronson said his reelection was a vote of confidence for the present board. He said he had been concerned during the election that "the voters thought the board wasn't doing its job."

Aronson ran for his fourth term on a platform calling for the continuation of the Northwest Education Cooperative. In protest to campaign charges of over spending, the industrial engineer advocated continuation of present budget practices.

Coming to the board with no experience, Greenfield took a stand for local district control, more student voice and a strong vocational education program.

Artemenko, assistant manager of United Air Line's employment credit union, was appointed to the high school board last fall to fill a vacancy. He stands in favor of the 12 month school year, a stronger vocational education program, and contribution of public services to private schools. He praises the district administration and teaching staff.

Other election results include: Don McGlothlin, 2,101; Leah Cummins, 1,988; Leo Floros, 1,980; and Barb Storter, 821.

CLIFF CLIMBING techniques are demonstrated by a scout from Explorer Post 101 at the Scout-O-Rama over the weekend in Arlington Heights.

Sowatzke, Poch And Stull Elected To Dist. 23 Board

Ronald Sowatzke, Carl Poch and incumbent John Stull were elected to three-year terms on the Dist. 23 School Board Saturday in an election marked by a heavier than normal turnout.

The three, who live in Prospect Heights, all had been endorsed by the Citizens Committee for Better Schools, a group made up primarily of Prospect Heights "old town" area residents.

In winning school board posts Sowatzke and Poch unseated the two incumbents, Alan Krinsky of Arlington Heights and Robert LeForge of Prospect Heights. Krinsky was running for his second three-year term. LeForge, appointed last summer to fill a board vacancy, also was running for a three-year term.

Almost 560 ballots were cast compared to last year's total of 421. Stull was the highest vote-getter with a total of 424. Sowatzke was second with 412. Poch finished third with 360. Next was LeForge, 214, and Krinsky, 179.

One election official termed the voter turnout Saturday "heavy and solid" and attributed it at least in part to the citizens committee.

Max Lyle, a Prospect Heights Park District commissioner and one of the group's members, said the committee was "just a group who wanted to support three candidates for the school board. We felt they (Stull, Sowatzke and Poch) pledged themselves to things we wanted for Prospect Heights. I was for them primarily because they favor better cooperation with other taxing agencies and their backgrounds make them all qualified for the school board."

Parks Chief Ferd Arndt Resigns

by ANNE SLAVICEK

Ferdinand Arndt has resigned as Wheeling Park District superintendent.

Arndt, the first full-time superintendent for the park district, gave reasons of health for submitting his resignation.

The 65-year-old Des Plaines resident asked the park board to relieve him of his duties as superintendent when his contract expires April 30.

Arndt told the Herald Friday that while he is resigning from his job he still plans to participate in civic activities. He currently is president of the Des Plaines Park District board, president of the Wheeling Rotary Club and a member of the board of directors of the Midwest Institute of Park Executives.

Wheeling park board members met in an executive session Thursday to discuss personnel and land acquisition. However, the board did not discuss Arndt's resignation in public and did not vote to accept it.

ARNDT ANNOUNCED his resignation Friday morning. In the letter to park commissioners he explained, "I feel that since my recent heart attack I am governed as to what I can do, and this is very unfair to the Wheeling Park District. I also feel it may be to your best interest to look for a younger man with new ideas," he wrote.

Arndt suffered a severe heart attack last Aug. 31, while working in the yard of his home at 1475 Oakwood Ave., Des Plaines. He came back to work part time last winter and recently has been working full-time for the district. "My doctor informed me to take it easy and inasmuch as the good Lord has given me a second chance, I had better abide with his orders," Arndt wrote to the board.

Arndt began his job with the Wheeling park district in 1966 when the district was six years old.

"I have enjoyed being a part of this progressive organization for the past 5½ years and have enjoyed many of the challenges and working with the fine boards. There are many projects to be done which will help the Wheeling Park District present even more facilities," he told the board.

ARNDT FIRST became involved in park district work in the 1930s in Des Plaines. A former director of parks for the Des Plaines District, he currently is serving a second consecutive year as president of its board of commissioners.

In Wheeling Arndt has been instrumental in acquisition and development of all of the district's parks. The Community Church Building, Chamber of Commerce Park and North Side Park all were acquired during his time as superintendent. The district also passed a recreation tax to increase recreation programs, built the new Neptune's Pool adjacent to Wheeling High School, bought the Community Pool, and built its fieldhouse and offices in Heritage Park during his tenure.

His job as superintendent has included supervising total operation of the district and acting as chief administrative officer responsible to the board.

A lifetime member of the Illinois Association of Park Districts, Arndt served on its board of directors for 25 years and served as its president for two years. He currently is Chaplain of the association.

New Developments On Board Agenda

Two new planned developments and an industrial development in southern Wheeling are on tonight's 8:30 Wheeling Village board agenda. The meeting will be at the Municipal Building, 255 W. Dundee Rd.

A rezoning request for property adjacent to the already approved Pleasant Run planned development asks that property running from that development west to Elmhurst Road also be given planned development zoning. Originally that property was scheduled for development as a business district or shopping center.

A massive planned development of more than 60 acres is proposed on the southwest corner of Hintz Road and Wheeling Road on property known as the "Old Lemke Estate."

Owned through a bank trust, the property borders on Hintz Road and Wheeling Road.

3 Residents Seeking 2 Library Board Posts

Three residents of the Wheeling Public Library District will vie for two board seats in tomorrow's election.

Richard Roman, a member of the board from Buffalo Grove, and Wheeling residents Geno Menia and Leilani "Loni" Milz will be the only names on the ballot. Voters will be asked to pick two of the candidates to fill the open positions.

The seats open for the election are currently filled by Roman and Charlotte Dologopol, a board trustee for the past eight years. Both terms expire May 1.

Roman, a recent appointee to the board, took over the slot held by Thomas. However, Roman's appointment has never been confirmed by a judge of the Cook County Circuit Court.

This is customary procedure for a new board member according to state statutes.

Roman is sales manager of Sipi Metals in Chicago and has been a resident of Buffalo Grove for 3½ years. He is married and has five children.

MENIA IS MANAGER of the body shop at Arnie Yusim Chevrolet in Chicago. He has been a resident of Wheeling for 15 years. He is married and has three children.

Mrs. Milz is a homemaker and one of the founders of the Wheeling chapter of FISH Inc. She was a recipient of the Wheeling Jaycees "distinguished citizen" award earlier in the year.

A resident of Wheeling for four years, Mrs. Milz is married and has two children. She also applied for the seat vacated by Kelly.

Voters will be able to cast their ballots at the library on Jenkins Court just west of Elmhurst Rd. between 9 a.m. and 6:30 p.m., tomorrow. Trustees in this election will have six-year terms.

For Those Away From Home

A contract for construction of the outdoor swimming pool and park at "site 30" in the Lake County portion of Buffalo Grove has been awarded to Schaeffes Bros. of Wheeling. The Buffalo Grove Park District accepted the Schaeffes bid of $309,569 for the pool, bathhouse and park facilities. The bid was selected from a field of nine general contractors and eight subcontractors. The pool is expected to be open to the public this summer.

BUFFALO GROVE is drawing nearer to having an official appearance commission to determine the aesthetic appearance of new buildings in the village. The village board directed its attorney to draw up an ordinance establishing the commission, which will in turn set up specific guidelines to govern future builders. The proposed ordinance is patterned after one in Glenview.

STATE HIGHWAY officials are hopeful that work on widening Dundee Road from Elmhurst Road to Ill. Rte. 53 can begin this year. The project is ready to begin once money for the work becomes available, hopefully this summer.

CHESTERFIELD Developers have submitted a proposed 300-unit townhouse development plan to the Buffalo Grove plan commission, seeking a variance on the preannexation agreement which allows only apartments on the site. The builders want to develop 32 acres at the corner of Arlington Heights and Lake-Cook roads, to be known as Promontory West. The plan includes provisions for a shopping center. Park District and School Dist. 96 officials feel the developers have not made sufficient allowances for recreational areas and schools.

SCHOOL BOARD candidates entered their final week of campaigning for election in each public school. There were contested elections in Dist. 21, 23, 96 and 125, as well as 214 and Harper Junior College.

Buffalo Grove trustees studied a plan to transfer homes in Lake County to the Lake County sewer system by 1973, but have made no final decision. The transfer is expected to raise sewer fees for affected residents slightly.

WHEELING HIGH School band members took part in a basketball marathon to raise money for their trip to Winnipeg, Canada, this summer. All members of the band participated in the Wheeling High School gym. Several other fundraising projects have also been announced to pay the band's way to Germany, also planned for this summer. For that trip they will need $140,000, of which they now have $27,500.

THE WHEELING village board officially adopted a design by Wheeling High School student Dan Van Loon as the official village flag. Van Loon's design was the winner in a recent Wheeling Jaycee contest to select a flag for the village. The flag has a green background with white, blue and yellow on its face.

Moats, Marier Win Harper Posts

Incumbent Larry Moats and Marilyn Marier won the Harper College Board of Trustees election by a wide margin.

Moats, of Mount Prospect, took the lead with an overwhelming 4,950 votes followed by Mrs. Marier, of Arlington Heights, with 3,544 votes.

Moats, an electrical contractor, was reelected to a second three-year term. Mrs. Marier's three-year term will be her first board experience.

Mount Prospect and Prospect Heights had the highest voter turnout in Dist. 512. Both communities showed strong support for Moats along with portions of Palatine and Barrington. Mrs. Marier, on the other hand, received fairly equal support from all of the precincts.

On hearing the election results, Mrs. Marier said she was "delighted and will try not to disappoint the people who voted for me."

AN ACTIVE civic leader, Mrs. Marier has served on the League of Women Voters,

Volunteer Service Bureau, Arlington Heights Historical Society and the Arlington Heights Cultural Commission.

Mrs. Marier advocates caution in long range planning, closer ties to the community and local-state cooperation. She is also interested in a campus cultural center, funded at least partially by private sources.

Moats stands on the same platform he took to the voters three years ago. He has called for greater communication between student-teacher groups and the board and between the college and the community. He contends communication is the answer to the polarization he sees on the campus today. He is also known for his lone stand against the salary hike granted college president Robert Lahti last fall.

Marilyn Marier

Other election results include: Howard Pollard, 3,544; Le Roi Hutchings, 1526; Michael Huston, 1661; and Rochelle Veitch, 1140.

Tax Bills To Differ Bit From Previous Period

by CINDY TEW

Wheeling Township residents' tax bills will differ slightly from last year even though a preliminary budget for the 1972-73 fiscal year has not yet been finalized. The actual budget will not be known until a court suit determines who will collect the money next year.

If the township takes over the tax collecting job, which is now handled by Cook County, the preliminary 1972-73 budget will increase nearly 15 per cent. Without the tax collecting job in the budget, the budget would decrease about seven per cent.

At the present time, the Wheeling Township portion of the real property tax bill is 3.2 cents per $100 assessed valuation. If property taxes are collected at the township level, the tax bill would increase one-half cent per $100 assessed valuation. Without tax collecting duties, the 1971-72 township tax rate would decrease one-tenth of one cent per $100 assessed valuation.

"The question of who should collect taxes is now the subject of a court suit, on which a decision should be made by May 2, when we take final action on the budget," said Ethel Kolerus, township supervisor. "If a decision is not made, we will delete the tax collection fee from the budget."

If the tax collecting is switched from a county job to a township job, the county budget should drop, which would keep the overall property tax bill constant for local residents.

TAX COLLECTING would cost $33,000 at the township level, according to the preliminary budget.

"What we're talking about is a change of about a nickel per tax bill," said Wheeling Township Assessor Marshall Theroux. "I can prove it would be much cheaper — between 33 and 50 per cent cheaper — to collect taxes at the township level."

Taxpayers can discuss the budget at the annual township meeting, to be held Tuesday at 8 p.m. at Wheeling Township Town Hall, 1818 E. Northwest Hwy. All township officials will report on their year's activities.

Other changes in the preliminary 1972-73 Wheeling Township budget includes a $14,000 reduction in election costs. The new budget includes about $10,000 for the election of township officers next April, as compared with a $24,000 expenditure for a mental health referendum held last year.

The only major increase in the budget is in the assessors expense which is climbing from $15,972 last year to $19,842 this year.

"The increase will include a temporary field inspector to help reassess suspicious areas of the township like parts of Wheeling and unincorporated Prospect Heights, and extra funds to assess personal property which the township has never had to do before," Theroux said.

BESIDES ASSESSING personal property, the township government is responsible for voter registration, township elections, public information and welfare services. The township is also the local governmental unit for unincorporated areas of Wheeling Township and therefore provides road maintenance.

The township also maintains a cemetery and provides for general assistance throughout the township.

Glass Ready To Fight County Home Rule Taxes

The fight against Cook County's home rule powers and the three taxes enacted recently under those powers will move to the state legislative front this week.

State Rep. Bradley Glass, R-Ill., has announced he will introduce a bill this week that would allow a recall vote on the county's home rule powers as early as next November. Current state law prohibits county voters from holding a recall election until 1975.

Glass made the announcement Thursday during a meeting in Prospect Heights at which he and three other area legislators received petitions with more than 3,000 names calling for a recall election as soon as possible on the county's home rule powers.

With Glass at the press conference were State Representatives Eugene Schlickman, David Regner and Robert Juckett. All indicated support of the legislation.

The signatures were collected by Northwest suburban area homeowners associations representing unincorporated areas. As well as the county's home rule powers, the groups are opposing three taxes the county enacted late last December under its home rule powers.

THE TAXES include one on vehicles in unincorporated areas, one on mobile homes and one on all new car sales. A suit has been filed against the tax on unincorporated area vehicles by the associations. The groups' attorneys are considering a similar suit against the mobile home tax. Several municipalities are challenging the new car tax in court.

"We hope to introduce the legislation (this) week," Glass said Thursday. He expressed optimism that it would be passed.

"I'm strongly in favor of home rule," Glass said. "But Cook County covers such a broad area and there are so many towns in the county that home rule is a farce."

Criticizing the three-year ban on voter reconsideration of the county's home rule powers, Glass said, "The state constitution is pretty clear when it says people should have the opportunity to vote home rule in or out."

Schlickman, who according to Glass will be one of his bill's cosponsors, said Thursday he thought the three-year ban could be removed quicker through judicial action than through legislation.

Schlickman sponsored the legislation that allowed the new constitution to be implemented. It included the three-year ban on voter recalls for home rule units. He supported the three-year ban at the time, saying that without it the legislation would never have been passed. "According to Schlickman the Illinois Municipal League as well as many suburban mayors favor the ban. Even though he supported the legislation with the ban, he said Thursday the three-year prohibition on recalls is "clearly unconstitutional."

Obsolete Election System To Deny Millions Right To Vote

by MARGARET A. KILGORE
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Millions of Americans will be denied the right to vote in the November presidential election under an obsolete election system which works to the detriment of voters and candidates alike, an independent nationwide survey concluded Sunday.

"Considering the all too frequent occurrence of complex forms, unhelpful and poorly trained staff, machine breakdowns and inconveniently located registration and polling places, it is surprising that so many citizens do vote," the League of Women Voters Education Fund said in releasing the findings.

"That the system functions at all is a tribute to the sheer determination of citizens to overcome these inconveniences and obstacles."

The statement concerned a survey financed by the Ford Foundation and conducted by more than 3,000 members of the independent League, who studied election practices in 251 communities in 50 states during the 1971 fall elections.

"Administrative behavior was observed in a non-presidential election year," the statement said, "in which various types of contests, some considerably more important and appealing than others, were at stake. This factor tends to mute the findings and conclusions drawn from this study. It is reasonable to conclude then that the findings contained might be an understatement of the problems citizens experience when participating in presidential elections."

THE STATEMENT SAID that in the presidential election year of 1968, some 73 million Americans, or 60 per cent of the total population of voting age, actually voted, while 47 million or about 40 per cent did not.

"Millions of citizens fail to vote not because they are disinterested, but because they are disenfranchised by the present election system," the surveyors concluded. "In the case of minorities, the poor, the uneducated and the aged, the system imposes complicated requirements which exclude them from the electoral process."

Recognizing that situation, the Supreme Court in March invalidated lengthy residence requirements and said that 30 days residency within a state was sufficient time to be eligible to vote.

The ruling could affect those in the "mainstream of American society" who accept a company transfer, go to college, get married and move out of state, or enter military service. There are 140 million Americans of voting age this year.

League Chairman Lucy Wilson Benson cited examples which suggested that local officials have failed to use tools allowed by law to make registration and voting easier.

For example, 52 per cent of the 458 registration places observed were not clearly identified, and 38 per cent of the communities had no additional registration hours available 30 days prior to the close of registration; 77 per cent of the communities studied had no Saturday registration in non-election months; 55 per cent of the communities charged a fee for providing registration lists; and 28 per cent of the communities surveyed gave poll workers either no training or minimal hours.

The survey recommended a series of remedial steps saying that "alternative strategies" would be considered at a Washington meeting April 20 of 60 citizens organizations. The league recommended that:

—THE CHIEF election official in each community use broad discretionary powers under current law to expand citizen opportunities to register and vote.

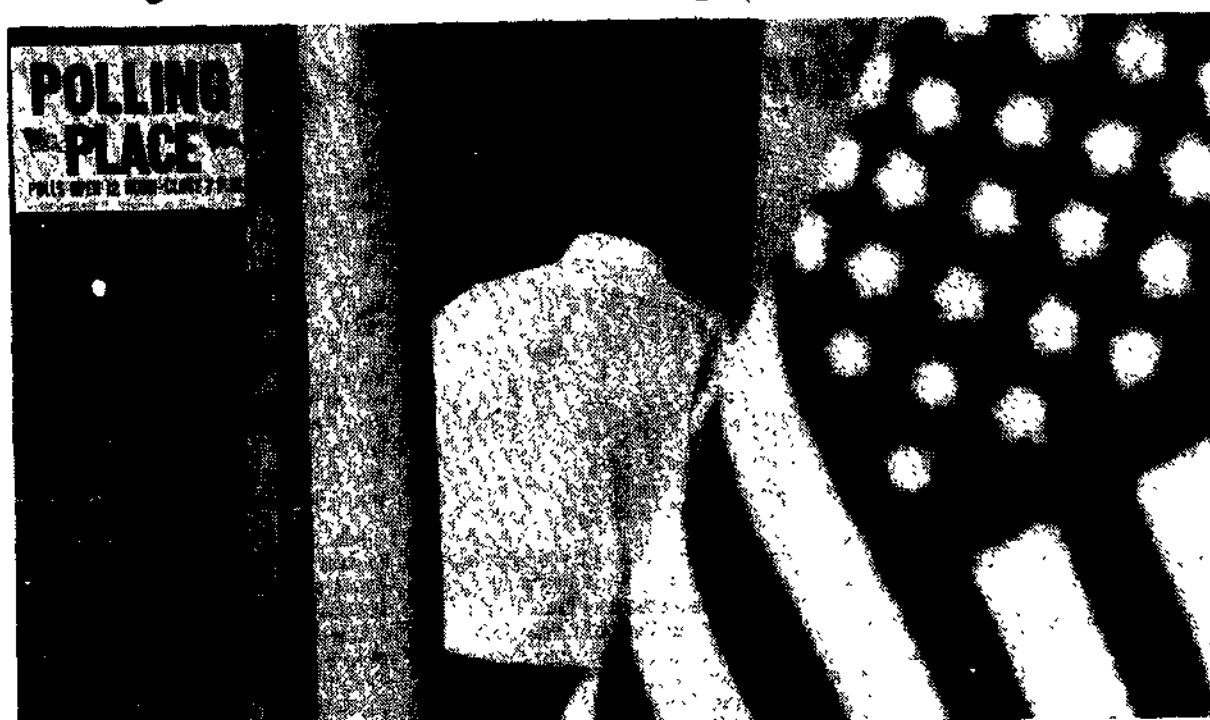

—The chief state election official ensure uniform interpretation and administration of state law by requiring local officials to comply with statewide standards.

—Identified voter needs be met through localized special services such as use of temporary and mobile registration units; expanded registration and polling hours; bilingual materials, and mandatory training sessions for poll workers.

—Citizen groups participate in selection of local election officials, monitor their decisions and work for specific administrative reforms.

—Political parties, the media and educational institutions use their influence to create and maintain a responsive and responsible election system.

"In a democratic society, no right is more fundamental than the right to vote. Regrettably, our election system is not working well," Mrs. Benson said.

WILL YOU BE disenfranchised this fall? According to a recent study by the League of Women Voters, millions of Americans may be prohibited from voting this year because of confusing and contradicting voting laws.

Dem Delegates To Convention Are Announced

Following are the official winners of the March 21 election for delegates to the Democratic Party National Nominating Convention.

Seven persons were elected to the convention from the 10th Congressional District, which includes all of Evanston, Maine, New Trier, Niles and Northfield townships.

Five delegates were named from the 12th Congressional District, which includes Palatine, Wheeling, Schaumburg, Elk Grove, Hanover and Barrington townships.

The delegates, their vote totals and the candidate to which they are committed are:

10TH CONG. DIST.
Newton Minow (Muskie) ..... 23,017
Harold Katz (Muskie) ..... 21,822
Michale Devorkin (McGovern) ..... 21,192
Aaron Jaffe (Muskie) ..... 20,915
Margaret Gordon (McGovern) ..... 20,481
Robert Eisner (McGovern) ..... 20,415
Frank Cicero Jr. (Muskie) ..... 19,669

12TH CONG. DIST.
Daniel Pierce (Muskie) ..... 13,306
Robert Grabitz (McGovern) ..... 12,837
Betty Spence (McGovern) ..... 12,687
Eugenia Chapman (Muskie) ..... 12,379
James McCabe (Muskie) ..... 12,189

The final tallies from the office of Cook County Clerk Edward J. Barrett indicate only one change from the early unofficial winners named soon after the election. Doris Conant, committed to McGovern, was initially declared a winner, but was replaced by Jaffe when the final count was made.

Delegates to the Republican Party Nominating Convention ran unopposed. They are: W. Clement Stone and Naomi Lee Burdick in the 10th Congressional District and Irl H. Marshall and Bernard E. Pedersen in the 12th District.

All four are committed to President Richard Nixon.

The results from the county clerk's office technically are still unofficial, pending final approval in Springfield.

Congregation Slates A 'Mystery Night'

A "Mystery Night" will be sponsored on April 22 by the Mr. and Mrs. Club of the Beth Tikvah Congregation of Hoffman Estates.

Transportation will be provided for the evening. Tickets for member couples will be $15 and guests will be charged $18 per couple.

Couples are advised to wear casual dress for the evening. Reservations must be made by April 15.

More information about the evening can be obtained by calling Mrs. Peggy Needel at 885-1368. Checks may be mailed to 185 Meyer Rd., Hoffman Estates.

Rolling out the news... 55,200 miles a year!

Keeping the people of the Northwest suburbs informed puts a lot of mileage on our presses. Throughout the year they will roll out 55,200 miles of news and advertising. Page to page, this would form a newsprint ribbon reaching twice around the world!

But more important than length is the depth of coverage our reporters strive to give the happenings of your dynamic suburbs ... a depth found in each of the nine daily Herald newspapers.

This is a boast you can share ... for it is your demand as a concerned, involved citizen for daily local news that keeps the Herald presses rolling.

Lane Defeats Herman By 58 Votes For Board Post

School Dist. 21 incumbent Jack Lane defeated caucus-supported candidate Ben Herman by 58 votes, 301 to 243, in Saturday's school board election. Both men were battling for a two-year opening on the board.

Two other incumbents, Mary Joan Reid and Lillian Stiller, ran unopposed in their bid for two three-year openings on the board. They received 506 and 500 votes respectively.

Lane picked up most of his 58-vote margin in the second precinct. He beat Herman in that precinct 128 to 63.

The remaining four precincts went as expected. Neither candidate held a strong lead in those precincts totals.

Precincts 1 and 5 went to Herman by slight margins. He won them with vote totals of 28 and 19 to Lane's 25 and 18.

Lane, who was a resident of Buffalo Grove, carried precinct 3 with a margin of 106 to 28. Herman, a resident of Mount Prospect, carried precinct 4 by 105 to 24.

LANE and Herman began their battle in February when the Dist. 21 General Caucus dropped Lane to support Herman. Lane said at the time he thought he could win as an independent.

After learning of his victory, Lane said he was satisfied with the way the voting went. "I really think the voters in Buffalo Grove and those who voted at

Mary Joan Reid

Jack Lane

Lillian Stiller

London School made my work pay off," he said.

Lane said he felt caucus worked hard for Herman in the other precincts and it showed. "I'm satisfied though, with the way things went. However, I wish the voter turnout had been better," said Lane.

A total of 544 residents voted in Dist. 21. Kenneth Gill, superintendent of Dist. 21 schools, said the showing was poor mainly because there were no real issues and there was no referendum in the election.

Other members of the Dist. 21 school board are Edwin Smith, Ronald Cole, Jeremiah Crise and L. James Wylie.

CLIFF CLIMBING techniques are demonstrated by a scout from Explorer Post 101 at the Scout-O-Rama over the weekend in Arlington Heights.

5 Incumbents, Newcomer Win Seats

Five incumbents and one newcomer won school board seats in Lake County School Districts 96 and 125.

In Elementary Dist. 96, incumbents Arthur Edmunds, with 259 votes, and Dr. Woody Janssen with 215 votes, overcame a strong bid by Jack Landue, 176 votes, to retain their seats.

In Precinct 1, which covers all except the Buffalo Grove portion of Dist. 96, Edmunds and Dr. Janssen were easy winners. They received 175 and 157 votes respectively. Landue picked up 72 votes in that precinct.

However, in the Buffalo Grove precinct Landue topped the incumbents with 104 votes. Edmunds and Dr. Janssen received 84 and 58 votes respectively in that precinct.

Edmunds will begin his 10th year on board and Dr. Janssen his fifth. Other members of the Dist. 96 board include Dolores Richmond, Tony Berg and Thomas Risk of Long Grove, and Frank Clayton and James Duncan of Buffalo Grove.

IN HIGH SCHOOL Dist. 125, newcomer, Marion Slaga won a three-year post and kept the incumbents from sweeping the slate. He was the top vote-getter with 527 votes.

Finishing second and also winning a three-year seat was incumbent Robert Anderson with 487 votes. Losing out on three-year terms were Elin Van Demerkt and six-year incumbent Lorenz Schmidt. They received 470 and 385 votes respectively.

Two other incumbents in Dist. 125 retained their seats for two and one-year terms. William Tobin and John Baines ran unopposed for their positions and received 843 and 741 votes respectively.

A total of 650 voters went to the polls in Dist. 96 and 1,075 in Dist. 125. Dist. 125 only includes Adlai E. Stevenson High School in Prairie View.

Artemenko, Aronson, Greenfield

Dist. 214 Election 'Close'

Two incumbents, Gene Artemenko and Arthur Aronson, and one newcomer, Richard Greenfield, won the High School Dist. 214 Board election.

Aronson, of unincorporated Arlington Heights, took the lead with 2,709 votes. Artemenko, of Des Plaines, came in with 2566 votes, followed by Greenfield, of Buffalo Grove with 2,402 votes.

The incumbents were both elected to three year terms, while Greenfield will serve only one year. Aronson's election fulfills a state requirement for a representative on the board from an unincorporated area.

School officials reported the election results came in "close all evening long." Aronson's strongest support came from his hometown Arlington Heights and neighboring Prospect Heights and Wheeling. Greenfield did very well in Arlington Heights and Buffalo Grove. Artemenko's support, on the other hand, was fairly equal in all of the precincts.

GREENFIELD, an attorney, attributed his Arlington Heights support to a vote "for Aronson and against Don McGlothlin for the unincorporated seat." McGlothlin, of Wheeling, ran against Greenfield for the one-year term, and against Aronson for the unincorporated seat.

Other election results include: Don McGlothlin, 2,101; Leah Cummins, 1,988; Leo Floros, 1,900; and Barb Storter, 821.

Forced Land Donation: Would Such A Law Work Here?

by STEVE FORSYTH

"The Naperville Ordinance is a form of tax, directed toward new people coming into a town," said Fred Hillman, executive vice president of Chesterfield Inc. He spoke Thursday night to members of the village board and plan commission as part of a village program to study the feasibility of adopting an ordinance similar to one in Naperville.

The Naperville ordinance requires developers to donate land or money to villages and school districts according to a formula based on number of people in a development.

Village Pres. Gary Armstrong invited builders who have worked in the village to the informal discussion session, and eight representatives attended. Hillman's company is presently negotiating with the plan commission to approve plans for 300 townhouses at Arlington Heights and Lake-Cook roads.

The builders also voiced their opinion that the Naperville ordinance is unconstitutional because it forcefully takes private land from owners.

AL RILEY, president of Hasbrook Corp., cited a few instances in which courts have overruled mandatory donations by builders. He cited a case in 1961 in Mount Prospect when the Illinois Supreme Court ruled in favor of Pioneer Trust & Savings, saying donations of land could not be required.

Riley also was present as chairman of a special task force studying land donations, organized by the Homebuilders Association of Greater Chicago.

Riley offered other solutions to the problems which result as builders add large groups of people to a community.

"We like state support of education, with local control. We are backing efforts on the part of state government to reduce these taxes and shift them to a broader base," said Riley.

"These people buying homes are not strangers from some other land, and we feel these charges are quite discriminating. We feel the education of the community is the responsibility of the total community and shouldn't be heaped on the newcomer," he said.

WILLIAM KAPLAN, an attorney representing the builders, asked the village board to defer any action until the Naperville ordinance has been tested in court. "We believe under Illinois laws that exist today the ordinance is illegal. I assure you the decision will come very quickly," Kaplan said. Armstrong asked the builders what they would suggest as a solution to the problem in light of the fact that new developments do place certain demands on communities.

"As builders we have no recommendations. This is a government problem. We are providing the service of building homes," Hillman said.

Armstrong replied, "New people usually live in homes 12 to 18 months tax-free. If the development doesn't participate, you are taxing the people who are already here (in the village)."

"We feel this should be corrected," Riley said. The property on the tax rolls should not get a free ride." He indicated that state government should find a solution for the tax lag problem, perhaps by quarterly billing.

ANOTHER DEVELOPER, Richard J. Brown, said, "I don't think this concept could be legislated by ordinance because of the variety of developments. Each one is unique."

Armstrong said, "I think some contribution must be forthcoming from you or them (the new residents), because it does cost money and the new residents immediately become part of the community."

Riley said, "We agree the need is there, but the question is, who is to pay for it. If the community can take land from a builder they can take it from anyone." Riley said he also feels school districts have not planned enough for the future, when they know growth is going to happen.

Armstrong asked Robert Craig of Levitt & Sons if his Naperville development is suffering because of the ordinance there.

Craig said, "Naperville is the least successful of our Chicago developments. It has been a burden. I do object in principle to the part that borders on confiscation."

Trustee Charles Vogt summed up the meeting by saying, "The real issue is how we can get together to create a good community where people will want to live. I think we're running the real risk of polluting the community landscape with houses." Vogt asked that a task force be organized with representatives from the builders, park district, school districts and the village to arrive at a satisfactory solution to the problem.

Armstrong said he also will continue his plan to talk with the park district and the school districts individually to learn their viewpoints on the issue, with a final meeting of all interests to work out a possible ordinance, if one is needed.

3 Palatine Residents Win High School Board Seats

Glenn Hargrave, Anna Countryman and Bill Stenstrom will take their seats on the High School Dist. 211 board Thursday evening.

The three Palatine residents won election Saturday over six other candidates. Running uncontested for the unincorporated seat, Hargrave led with 945 votes. Mrs. Countryman received 732 votes, followed by Stenstrom with 706 votes.

All three candidates will serve a three-year term on the school board. None of the winners have run for public office before.

Hargrave, who didn't do any campaigning apart from appearing at "candidate nights," said he was quite surprised at the election results. "Since I was running uncontested, I thought the voters would pass me over."

HARWOOD, manager of the midwest region for Columbia Plywood Corp., ran on a platform citing his ability in the construction industry. He advocates a stronger vocational education program, local district control, and more communication in the schools. However he takes a stand against countywide busing and parochialism.

Also supporting a stronger vocational education program, Stenstrom said he plans to join the board with a positive attitude. "We have a marvelous program

Glenn Hargrave

Bill Stenstrom

Anna Countryman

in the district now and I am looking forward to an even better program in the future."

Pointing to his experience as a personnel manager at Interstate National Corp., Stenstrom said he should be helpful in areas such as salary negotiations. He lists curriculum and counseling as top priorities. And he advocates greater cooperation between taxing districts and state aid to parochial schools.

An active volunteer in PTA and other civic groups, Mrs. Countryman also called for stronger vocational education and counseling programs. She said she is interested in studying proposals for a 12-month school year and district consolidation, and she called for the establishment of lay advisory boards.

Other vote totals showed Edward Krause, 231; Edwin Johnson, 298; Walter Anderson, 500; William Langbauer, 389; Ray Barber, 550, and Boyd Saum, 230.

CLIFF CLIMBING techniques are demonstrated by a scout from Explorer Post 101 at the Scout-O-Rama over the weekend in Arlington Heights.

Moats, Marier Win Harper Board Posts

Incumbent Larry Moats and Marilyn Marier won the Harper College Board of Trustees election by a wide margin.

Moats, of Mount Prospect, took the lead with an overwhelming 4,950 votes followed by Mrs. Marier, of Arlington Heights, with 3,544 votes.

Moats, an electrical contractor, was reelected to a second three-year term. Mrs. Marier's three-year term will be her first board experience.

Mount Prospect and Prospect Heights had the highest voter turnout in Dist. 512. Both communities showed strong support for Moats along with portions of Palatine and Barrington. Mrs. Marier, on the other hand, received fairly equal support from all of the precincts.

Larry Moats

On hearing the election results, Mrs. Marier said she was "delighted and will try not to disappoint the people who voted for me."

AN ACTIVE civic leader, Mrs. Marier has served on the League of Women Voters, Volunteer Service Bureau, Arlington Heights Historical Society and the Arlington Heights Cultural Commission.

Mrs. Marier advocates caution in long range planning, closer ties to the community and local-state cooperation. She is also interested in a campus cultural center, funded at least partially by private sources.

Moats stands on the same platform he took to the voters three years ago. He

2 Dist. 15 Incumbents Win

Incumbents Joel Meyer and Otto Eilerling were returned to their seats on the Palatine-Rolling Meadows Dist. 15 Board of Education by voters in Saturday's election.

Meyer, of 2406 George St., Rolling Meadows, was the high vote getter with 796 votes. He will be serving his sixth three-year term on the board.

Winning his first election as a write-in candidate in 1967, Meyer has been elected as a first ballot candidate every three years since 1967.

Eilerling, of 927 Marsha Dr., Palatine, received 780 votes in his successful bid for a fourth term on the board.

Werner D. Kronau of 2009 Grouse Ln., Rolling Meadows, in his first bid for a school board seat, tallied 310 votes.

AFTER THE RESULTS were in, Eilerling said, "I am very elated and thankful for the confidence of the people." He cited keeping enough schools open to meet the enrollment growth as one of the major problems facing the board.

Meyer also said he was very pleased with the results of the election, but a little disappointed about the low voter turnout.

A total of 1,004 voters cast ballot in Saturday's election. This was 766 less than in the 1971 election when 1,770 voters voted.

Heaviest voter turnout was in Precinct 6 at Winston Churchill School in Palatine.

Breakdown in that precinct was Eilerling 309; Kronau 120; Meyer 317.

Voting in other precincts went as follows:

Precinct 1, Kimball Hill School in Rolling Meadows: Eilerling 56; Kronau 21; Meyer 64.

Precinct 2, Jonas Salk School in Rolling Meadows: Eilerling 40; Kronau 43;

Meyer 53. Precinct 3, Gray M. Sanborn School in Palatine: Eilerling 106; Kronau 32; Meyer 103.

Precinct 4, Stuart R. Paddock School in Palatine: Eilerling 186; Kronau 68; Meyer 170.

Precinct 5, Inverness Field House in Inverness: Eilerling 89; Kronau 28; Meyer 89.

Both incumbents waited at the Dist. 15 administration building after the polls closed at 7 p.m. Saturday to find out the election results.

Fire District Annex Delayed

It is unlikely the annexation of the Rolling Meadows Fire Protection District by the city will be completed by the time the city adopts its 1972-73 budget.

City Mgr. James Watson said questions raised by aldermen at a recent closed city council meeting that dealt with fire department personnel will necessitate further study.

While those questions are answered and more meetings are held, it is probable the April 30 deadline for approving the new budget will pass.

A strong indication of the city missing the "wire" on the fire district is that the trustees have been instructed to prepare their own budget and levy their own taxes for 1972-73.

Even if the problems aren't solved by April 30, the city won't have to wait until the next fiscal year to incorporate the fire department.

Watson said if, for example, the annexation agreement is worked out in June, the city could then assume the assets and liabilities of the fire district and proceed with the incorporation.

Residents' Property Tax Questions Answered Tonight

Palatine residents will have an opportunity to question village trustees tonight on their plans to raise property taxes next year.

A public hearing on the 1972-73 budget is to be held at 8 p.m. in village hall, preceding the regular board meeting.

Without further cuts in the $1.6 million budget, which the trustees have been reluctant to make, taxes are expected to be increased approximately 14 cents per $100 assessed valuation, from .5535 to .6952.

This means the owner of property assessed at $10,000 and equalized at about $18,000 will pay $130 in property taxes next year, an increase of $22 over this year's anticipated tax bill.

IN ADDITION, the trustees have indicated annual sewer charges will be raised from $20 to $30, to make the operation self-sustaining. The proposed budget is intended to maintain the same level of services provided in this year's $1.6 million budget.

Village Mgr. Berton G. Braun has blamed the need for more money for the same services largely on cost increases for equipment and supplies and salary increases for village employees. Employees are expected to get a cost-of-living wage increase.

The original $1.7 budget proposal was trimmed by some $95,000 in nonessential items, but still had a projected $66,500 deficit which the trustees chose to counter with a tax hike.

The village receives about 7.2 per cent of residents' property taxes, and gives 43 per cent of it to the Palatine Public Library.

Marilyn Marier

has called for greater communication between student-teacher groups and the board and between the college and the community. He contends communication is the answer to the polarization he sees on the campus today. He is also known for his lone stand against the salary hike granted college president Robert Lahti last fall.

Other election results include: Howard Pollard, 3,544; Le Roi Hutchings, 1,926; Michael Huston, 1,661; and Rochelle Veitch, 1,140.

Yvonne Storer

Members of Virginia Lake PTA will not want to miss the meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the school gym. Slides will be shown that have been taken of all the children and their various activities throughout school.

Richard Schmidt, Virginia Lake principal, and several teachers will discuss next year's multi-age individualized learning program. All parents should come out and hear the presentation.

Fore! or Five or whatever they say. This is to serve warning to anyone living in the vicinity of Buffalo Grove Country Club that I am starting golf lessons tomorrow. The lessons are sponsored by the Palatine Junior Woman's Club.

When I told my husband (bless his heart) he immediately reminded me of the time I started bowling lessons a few (and only a few!) years ago in college. My turn came. I picked up the ball, took careful aim, moved perfectly through a delivery swing and let the ball go. However, it seems I let it go on the back swing rather than the usual way. The ball crashed behind me scattering several spectators and leaving the scorekeeper with a permanently twitching eyebrow.

Remember, I warned you Buffalo Grove!

Pollution is one of our favorite topics these days — how to lessen it, how to live with it, whether it can be reduced. Just for fun, look at these quotations from centuries back:

As one who long in populous city pent,
Where houses thick and sewers annoy the air.

—Milton, 1667

Our wasted oil unprofitably burns.

—Cowper, 1782

The river Rhine, it is well known,
Doth wash your city of Cologne;
But tell me nymphs what power divine Shall henceforth wash the river Rhine?

—Coleridge, 1828

The sedge is withered from the lake,
And no birds sing.

—Keats, 1819

Fair is foul, and foul is fair;
Hover through the fog and filthy air.

—Shakespeare, 1605

Current problem? Yes, but not necessarily a new one!

The kids are back in school now and though it may take a day or two to get house back to a normal state don't you think we can begin that spring house cleaning now? Or will we still be having more winter like weather?

I am home now and waiting for your call. I need lots of news so call me today at 358-1025.

Glass Ready To Fight County Home Rule Taxes

The fight against Cook County's home rule powers and the three taxes enacted recently under those powers will move to the state legislative front this week.

State Rep. Bradley Glass, R-1st, has announced he will introduce a bill this week that would allow a recall vote on the county's home rule powers as early as next November. Current state law prohibits county voters from holding a recall election until 1975.

Glass made the announcement Thursday during a meeting in Prospect Heights at which he and three other area legislators received petitions with more than 3,000 names calling for a recall election as soon as possible on the county's home rule powers.

With Glass at the press conference were State Representatives Eugene Schlickman, David Regner and Robert Juckett. All indicated support of the legislation.

The signatures were collected by Northwest suburban area homeowners associations representing unincorporated areas. As well as the county's home rule powers, the groups are opposing three taxes the county enacted late last December under its home rule powers.

THE TAXES include one on vehicles in unincorporated areas, one on mobile homes and one on all new car sales. A suit has been filed against the tax on unincorporated area vehicles by the associations. The groups' attorneys are considering a similar suit against the mobile home tax. Several municipalities are challenging the new car tax in court.

"We hope to introduce the legislation (this week)," Glass said Thursday. He expressed optimism that it would be passed.

"I'm strongly in favor of home rule," Glass said. "But Cook County covers such a broad area and there are so many towns in the county that home rule is a farce."

Criticizing the three-year ban on voter reconsideration of the county's home rule powers, Glass said, "The state constitution is pretty clear when it says people should have the opportunity to vote home rule in or out."

Schlickman, who according to Glass will be one of his bill's cosponsors, said Thursday he thought the three-year ban could be removed quicker through judicial action than through legislation.

Schlickman sponsored the legislation that allowed the new constitution to be implemented. It included the three-year ban on voter recalls for home rule units. He supported the three-year ban at the time, saying that without it the legislation would never have been passed. According to Schlickman the Illinois Municipal League as well as many suburban mayors favor the ban. Even though he supported the legislation with the ban, he said Thursday the three-year prohibition on recalls is "clearly unconstitutional."

DR. STANLEY ZYDLO of Northwest Community Hospital lectures area firemen on cardio-pulmonary resuscitation. Firemen from Mount Prospect, Wheeling, Elk Grove Village, Hoffman Estates, Glenview Rural, Palatine, Rolling Meadows and Northbrook attended the session last week at a series designed to train the men as certified emergency medical technicians.

Forced Land Donation: Would Law Work Here?

by STEVE FORSYTH

"The Naperville Ordinance is a form of tax. Directed toward new people coming into a town," said Fred Hillman, executive vice president of Chesterfield Inc. He spoke Thursday night to members of the village board and plan commission as part of a village program to study the feasibility of adopting an ordinance similar to one in Naperville.

The Naperville ordinance requires developers to donate land or money to villages and school districts according to a formula based on number of people in a development.

Village Pres. Gary Armstrong invited builders who have worked in the village to the informal discussion session, and eight representatives attended. Hillman's company is presently negotiating with the plan commission to approve plans for 300 townhouses at Arlington Heights and Lake-Cook roads.

The builders also voiced their opinion that the Naperville ordinance is unconstitutional because it forcefully takes private land from owners.

AL RILEY, president of Hasbrook Corp., cited a few instances in which courts have overruled mandatory donations by builders. He cited a case in 1961 in Mount Prospect when the Illinois Supreme Court ruled in favor of Pioneer Trust & Savings, saying donations of land could not be required.

Riley also was present as chairman of a special task force studying land donations, organized by the Homebuilders Association of Greater Chicago.

Riley offered other solutions to the problems which result as builders add large groups of people to a community. "We like state support of education, with local control. We are backing efforts on the part of state government to reduce these taxes and shift them to a broader base," said Riley.

"These people buying homes are not strangers from some other land, and we feel these charges are quite discriminating. We feel the education of the community is the responsibility of the total community and shouldn't be heaped on the newcomer," he said.

WILLIAM KAPLAN, an attorney representing the builders, asked the village board to defer any action until the Naperville ordinance has been tested in court. "We believe under Illinois laws that exist today the ordinance is illegal. I assure you the decision will come very quickly," Kaplan said.

Armstrong asked the builders what they would suggest as a solution to the problem in light of the fact that new developments do place certain demands on communities.

"As builders we have no recommendations. This is a government problem. We are providing the service of building homes," Hillman said.

Armstrong replied, "New people usually live in homes 12 to 18 months tax-free. If the development doesn't participate, you are taxing the people who are already here (in the village)."

"We feel this should be corrected," Riley said. The property on the tax rolls should not get a free ride." He indicated that state government should find a solution for the tax lag problem, perhaps by quarterly billing.

ANOTHER DEVELOPER, Richard J. Brown, said, "I don't think this concept could be legislated by ordinance because of the variety of developments. Each one is unique."

Armstrong said, "I think some contribution must be forthcoming from you or them (the new residents), because it does cost money and the new residents immediately become part of the community."

Riley said, "We agree the need is there, but the question is, who is to pay for it. If the community can take land from a builder they can take it from anyone." Riley said he also feels school districts have not planned enough for the future, when they know growth is going to happen.

Armstrong asked Robert Craig of Levitt & Sons if his Naperville development is suffering because of the ordinance there.

Craig said, "Naperville is the least successful of our Chicago developments. It has been a burden. I do object in principle to the part that borders on confiscation."

Trustee Charles Vogt summed up the meeting by saying, "The real issue is how we can get together to create a good community where people will want to live. I think we're running the real risk of polluting the community landscape with houses." Vogt asked that a task force be organized with representatives from the builders, park district, school districts and the village to arrive at a satisfactory solution to the problem.

Armstrong said he also will continue his plan to talk with the park district and the school districts individually to learn their viewpoints on the issue, with a final meeting of all interests to work out a possible ordinance, if one is needed.

248-Unit Forest Grove Plan Told

Plans were revealed Friday for a 248-unit apartment-townhouse development, including an 11-story tower, on a questionable site north of Palatine.

The Forest Grove complex would be on a 10-acre tract west of Hicks Road between Dundee and Rand roads in Northwest Palatine Township, bounded on the south and west by the Cook County Forest Preserve District.

Chicago developers Joel Robert Hillman and Richard Stein acknowledged in a presentation before the Cook County Zoning Board of Appeals that part of the land is contained in a flood plain area, but maintained that proper engineering provisions could alleviate any damage resulting from flooding.

The North Cook County Soil and Water Conservation District, which had been asked by the zoning board to test the soil, contended, however, in written testimony, that 70 per cent of the property — twice as much as the developers said — is in the flood plain zone.

TOM HAMILTON, chairman of the conservation district, indicated development of the tract "will result in the filling of existing flood plain storage areas and increased flood crests downstream (in Buffalo Creek)."

He also stated soil tests indicate the presence of soil type No. 69, Milford silty clay loam, on 5.6 acres of the property. This soil has a "severe rating" for urban development and from a soil resource viewpoint, is "best suited for use as wetland wildlife habitat or agricultural uses," according to Hamilton.

He said the remaining 4.4 acres are suitable for development "with only slight to moderate limitations."

The attorney for the developers, Harold Siegel of Chicago, told the zoning board he will submit an analysis of the soil prepared by a civil engineer, D. J. Friedman of Waukegan, which evidently conflicts with the soil conservation district's study.

The developers are seeking a rezoning classification of the property from R3, single-family residence, to R6, planned development for multifamily.

The proposed complex, designed by Hillman and Associates of Chicago, consists of six 2-story buildings containing a total of 60 two-bedroom apartments; eight 2-story townhouses containing 68 three-bedroom units; and an 11-story "midrise" with 80 one-bedroom and 40 two-bedroom apartments.

The first floor of the 100-foot tower, which would be one of the tallest buildings in the township, would contain a swimming pool and clubhouse.

PLANNERS SAID the $6 million complex was designed to blend in with the nearby forest preserve and indicated more than half of the site "would remain green." The parking area would be shielded by landscaping.

Palatine Village Mgr. Berton G. Braun said the village may exercise its option of submitting comments on the rezoning request within the allotted 21 days after Friday's hearing.

The zoning board's recommendation on the petition would then go to the Cook County Board of Commissioners for final action.

In another hearing Friday, Leo C. Jeffre, 1110 Grissom Dr., Palatine, sought rezoning to build a 132-unit apartment complex in northeast Palatine Township.

The 11 buildings, containing 44 one-bedroom and 88 two-bedroom units, would be on a 4.5-acre site northwest of Baldwin and Rand roads.

The petitioner is seeking a rezoning classification from R3, single-family residence, to R6, general residence district for multifamily dwellings.

Civil engineer James J. Muldowney, vice president of Fletcher Engineering Co., Des Plaines, said sewer and water services for the complex could be adequately provided by the Ferndale Heights Utility Co., Mount Prospect.

PALATINE VILLAGE Mgr. Berton G. Braun said, however, the testimony is "in direct contrast" to the village's information regarding the capacity of sewer lines to which the proposed development would be hooked up.

A clarification on the Rohlfing Road sewer lines is to be sought from the Metropolitan Sanitary District of Greater Chicago.

In a third rezoning hearing, permission was sought to build apartments above an existing business near Inverness.

The site is on the south side of Baldwin Road, west of Sterling Avenue.

Ruling On Jayne Case Motion Today?

Closing arguments will be heard today in a hearing on a defense motion to suppress a confession made by Julius Barnes, the accused killer of wealthy Inverness horseman George Jayne.

Barnes, 37, of Chicago, is charged with murder and conspiracy to commit murder, along with Silas Jayne, 63, brother of the victim, and Joseph LaPlace, 47, of Elgin.

The state has charged that Barnes was the man who pulled the trigger, shooting Jayne through the basement window of his home at 1918 Banbury Ln. during a family card game Oct. 28, 1970.

Barnes, through his attorney, George Howard, has charged that he was not properly advised of his constitutional rights when he made the confession May 22, 1971.

THE HEARING on the defense motion went into its second day in the Criminal Courts Building Friday, as Barnes and an agent of the Illinois Bureau of Investigation testified.

Nicholas Motherway, assistant state's attorney, said Friday he expects there will be no additional testimony today. He said Judge Richard Fitzgerald scheduled today for closing arguments and his ruling.

The first witness Monday, IBI agent Lou Spence, was one of the officers who arrested Barnes May 22 at his home.

Spence said on the witness stand Friday that he warned Barnes of his rights and that Barnes signed a form listing his constitutional rights. Motherway introduced the form into evidence.

Barnes then took the stand and told the court that when he was taken to IBI headquarters the day of his arrest, police told him that Melvin Adams had told them the entire story of the murder.

ADAMS, who originally was charged in connection with the alleged conspiracy, has been granted immunity by the state.

Barnes said that Adams was then brought into the room and Adams said, "I told them everything, Julius." Barnes said Friday he did not know what Adams was talking about.

Barnes admitted he was advised of his right to counsel and his right to remain silent. He said he was told if he spoke it would be used against him. He insisted, however, he was never told he had the right to a free attorney.

Artemenko, Aronson, Greenfield

2 Incumbents, Newcomer Elected In District 214

Two incumbents, Gene Artemenko and Arthur Aronson, and one newcomer, Richard Greenfield, won the High School Dist. 214 Board election.

Aronson, of unincorporated Arlington Heights, took the lead with 2,709 votes. Artemenko, of Des Plaines, came in with 2,566 votes, followed by Greenfield, of Buffalo Grove with 2,402 votes.

The incumbents were both elected to three year terms, while Greenfield will serve only one year. Aronson's election fulfills a state requirement for a representative on the board from an unincorporated area.

School officials reported the election results came in "close all evening long." Aronson's strongest support came from his hometown Arlington Heights and neighboring Prospect Heights and Wheeling. Greenfield did very well in Arlington Heights and Buffalo Grove. Artemenko's support, on the other hand, was fairly equal in all of the precincts.

GREENFIELD, an attorney, attributed his Arlington Heights support to a vote "for Aronson and against Don McGlothlin for the unincorporated seat." McGlothlin, of Wheeling, ran against Greenfield for the one-year term, and

Arthur
Aronson

Richard
Greenfield

against Aronson for the unincorporated seat.

Aronson said his reelection was a vote of confidence for the present board. He said he had been concerned during the election that "the voters thought the board wasn't doing its job."

Aronson ran for his fourth term on a platform calling for the continuation of the Northwest Education Cooperative. In protest to campaign charges of over spending, the industrial engineer advocated continuation of present budget practices.

Coming to the board with no experience, Greenfield took a stand for local district control, more student voice and a strong vocational education program.

Artemenko, assistant manager of United Air Line's employment credit union, was appointed to the high school board last fall to fill a vacancy. He stands in favor of the 12 month school year, a stronger vocational education program, and contribution of public services to private schools. He praises the district administration and teaching staff.

Other election results include: Don McGlothlin, 2,101; Leah Cummins, 1,988; Leo Floros, 1,980; and Barb Storter, 621.

2 Dist. 15 Incumbents Win

Incumbents Joel Meyer and Otto Eilerling were returned to their seats on the Palatine-Rolling Meadows Dist. 15 Board of Education by voters in Saturday's election.

Fire District Annex Delayed

It is unlikely the annexation of the Rolling Meadows Fire Protection District by the city will be completed by the time the city adopts its 1972-73 budget.

City Mgr. James Watson said questions raised by aldermen at a recent closed city council meeting that dealt with fire department personnel will necessitate further study.

While those questions are answered and more meetings are held, it is probable the April 30 deadline for approving the new budget will pass.

A strong indication of the city missing the "wire" on the fire district is that the trustees have been instructed to prepare their own budget and levy their own taxes for 1972-73.

Even if the problems aren't solved by April 30, the city won't have to wait until the next fiscal year to incorporate the fire department.

Watson said if, for example, the annexation agreement is worked out in June, the city could then assume the assets and liabilities of the fire district and proceed with the incorporation.

Meyer, of 2406 George St., Rolling Meadows, was the high vote getter with 796 votes. He will be serving his sixth three-year term on the board.

Winning his first election as a write-in candidate in 1957, Meyer has been elected as a first ballot candidate every three years since 1957.

Eilerling, of 927 Marsha Dr., Palatine, received 780 votes in his successful bid for a fourth term on the board.

Werner D. Kronau of 2009 Grouse Ln., Rolling Meadows, in his first bid for a school board seat, tallied 310 votes.

AFTER THE RESULTS were in, Eilerling said, "I am very elated and thankful for the confidence of the people." He cited keeping enough schools open to meet the enrollment growth as one of the major problems facing the board.

Meyer also said he was very pleased with the results of the election, but a little disappointed about the low voter turnout.

A total of 1,004 voters cast ballot in Saturday's election. This was 766 less than in the 1971 election when 1,770 voters voted.

Heaviest voter turnout was in Precinct 6 at Winston Churchill School in Palatine.

Breakdown in that precinct was Eilerling 309; Kronau 120; Meyer 317.

Voting in other precincts went as follows:

Precinct 1, Kimball Hill School in Rolling Meadows: Eilerling 56; Kronau 21; Meyer 64.

Precinct 2, Jonas Salk School in Rolling Meadows: Eilerling 40; Kronau 43;

Meyer 53.

Precinct 3, Gray M. Sanborn School in Palatine: Eilerling 100; Kronau 32; Meyer 103.

Precinct 4, Stuart R. Paddock School in Palatine: Eilerling 186; Kronau 68; Meyer 170.

Precinct 5, Inverness Field House in Inverness: Eilerling 89; Kronau 26; Meyer 89.

Both incumbents waited at the Dist. 15 administration building after the polls closed at 7 p.m. Saturday to find out the election results.

Herald Subscription Increased To 55 Cents

An increase in home delivery price for The Herald, effective this week, has been announced by Charles E. Hayes, editor and publisher.

The published home delivery rate will be 55 cents per week.

"This price change is necessary to offset recent price increases authorized by the federal government," said Hayes. He said that during the past six months, the newspaper has been faced with substantially higher costs in newsprint, news services, printing supplies and manufacturing.

Raise $102 For Northwest Opportunity Center Here

Some $105 has been raised in Palatine for the Northwest Opportunity Center in Rolling Meadows.

A special account for contributions to the center was set up two weeks ago by Palatine trustees.

The trustees turned down a request for $4,100 in municipal funds by the center for fear it would set an unwise precedent. Instead, they set up a fund at the First Bank and Trust Co. of Palatine for donations, and were the first to contribute to it.

Letters have been sent to local civic groups and churches seeking additional funds, especially the week of April 17, which has been designated Northwest Opportunity Center Week in Palatine.

Trustee Tom Ahern, an organizer of the fund drive, said a goal has not been set but hopes to obtain the amount the center sought from the village.

The $4,100 figure was based on the cost of financing the 192 Palatine families who are served by the center.

Donations to the fund made at the bank, 35 N. Brockway St., should be made payable to the Northwest Opportunity Center.

Firm Burglarized

Burglars took office equipment of undetermined value from the Holly Development Co., 1880 Busse Rd., last week. Elk Grove Village police said the burglars apparently entered through a window left of the door.

Moats, Marier Win Harper Board Posts

Incumbent Larry Moats and Marilyn Marier won the Harper College Board of Trustees election by a wide margin.

Moats, of Mount Prospect, took the lead with an overwhelming 4,960 votes followed by Mrs. Marier, of Arlington Heights, with 3,544 votes.

Moats, an electrical contractor, was reelected to a second three-year term. Mrs. Marier's three-year term will be her first board experience.

Mount Prospect and Prospect Heights had the highest voter turnout in Dist. 512. Both communities showed strong support for Moats along with portions of Palatine and Barrington. Mrs. Marier, on the other hand, received fairly equal support from all of the precincts.

Larry
Moats

On hearing the election results, Mrs. Marier said she was "delighted and will try not to disappoint the people who voted for me."

AN ACTIVE civic leader, Mrs. Marier has served on the League of Women Voters, Volunteer Service Bureau, Arlington Heights Historical Society and the Arlington Heights Cultural Commission.

Mrs. Marier advocates caution in long range planning, closer ties to the community and local-state cooperation. She is also interested in a campus cultural center, funded at least partially by private sources.

Moats stands on the same platform he took to the voters three years ago. He has called for greater communication between student-teacher groups and the board and between the college and the community. He contends communication is the answer to the polarization he sees on the campus today. He is also known for his lone stand against the salary hike granted college president Robert Lahti last fall.

Marilyn

Other election results include: Howard Pollard, 3,544; Le Roi Hutchings, 1,926; Michael Huston, 1,661; and Rochelle Veitch, 1,140.

This Morning In Brief

The Nation

A 25-year-old law enforcement student who was a helicopter pilot in Vietnam and amateur parachutist, was arrested on charges of hijacking a United Air Lines jet and bailing out with half a million dollars ransom. The suspect, Richard Floyd McCoy, Jr., was picked up by FBI agents at his home in Provo, Utah.

Tammy Meade

The boys track team at Rolling Meadows High School will really have to stay on their toes now that they have some competition from the opposite sex. Sue Wrenn, a sophomore, joined the boys' track team last month due to the fact there is no girls' track team. Sue has been interested in running since she was in sixth grade at Kimball Hill School. In fact, she still holds the record at that school for the 60-yard dash.

While attending Carl Sandburg School, Sue was probably most encouraged by her gym teacher, Mildred Brower, who, seeing Sue's interest in track, saved clippings about other girls interested in running. Miss Brower emphasized the fact that Sue need not become known as a "tomboy" to pursue this interest.

One article in particular was about a very attractive 16-year-old girl who participated in the Olympics in track which inspired Sue to set her goals for the 1976 Olympics.

When Sue inquired about track in high school she found there was no girls' track team. She was very disappointed and mentioned it to some of her friends. One boy talked to the coach, Joseph Vinton, and she has been going to practice with the team since March 15.

Although Sue's scores will not be added to the team's score, she is still very dedicated about her running and enjoys being treated as an equal to the other members of the team. Through her efforts, the high school may start a girls' track team if enough girls show an interest.

SUE HAS ALREADY signed up for the summer track program at the high school, so she'll be running all summer, too.

Sue lives at 2407 George St. with her parents, John and Shirley, and her sister, Nancy, a sixth grade student at Kimball Hill School.

The Wrenns moved to our city "when Rolling Meadows wasn't," remarked Shirley. "That was about 18 years ago."

"We just love Rolling Meadows and are planning to stay," Shirley continued. "That's why we put on our room addition."

Sue may have inherited her running ability from her mother, who, although she used to run, now walks just about everywhere, not having a car. "I love to hike around," she remarked.

When asked about hobbies, Shirley said, "We each have our own thing." Shirley collects salt and pepper shakers, John collects cartoons, Nancy collects coins and aside from collecting ribbons for her running, Sue collects hippos. She has pictures, pins, and stuffed hippos.

Sue's sister, Nancy, is "no athlete" according to Shirley but she is president of her class and enjoys playing the organ, along with her father, who is taking organ lessons at one of our high schools.

SHIRLEY MENTIONED there may be running programs at the high school for the whole family from jogging for dad down to running programs for the younger members of the family.

See you at the track this next summer and if you should see a streak zip by, it will more than likely be Sue Wrenn, the future Olympics champion. Let's hope so.

Glass Ready To Fight County Home Rule Taxes

The fight against Cook County's home rule powers and the three taxes enacted recently under those powers will move to the state legislative front this week.

State Rep. Bradley Glass, R-1st, has announced he will introduce a bill this week that would allow a recall vote on the county's home rule powers as early as next November. Current state law prohibits county voters from holding a recall election until 1975.

Glass made the announcement Thursday during a meeting in Prospect Heights at which he and three other area legislators received petitions with more than 3,000 names calling for a recall election as soon as possible on the county's home rule powers.

With Glass at the press conference were State Representatives Eugene Schlickman, David Regner and Robert Juckett. All indicated support of the legislation.

The signatures were collected by Northwest suburban area homeowners associations representing unincorporated areas. As well as the county's home rule powers, the groups are opposing three taxes the county enacted late last December under its home rule powers.

THE TAXES include one on vehicles in unincorporated areas, one on mobile homes and one on all new car sales. A suit has been filed against the tax on unincorporated area vehicles by the associations. The groups' attorneys are considering a similar suit against the mobile home tax. Several municipalities are challenging the new car tax in court.

"We hope to introduce the legislation (this) week," Glass said Thursday. He expressed optimism that it would be passed.

"I'm strongly in favor of home rule," Glass said. "But Cook County covers such a broad area and there are so many towns in the county that home rule is a farce."

Criticizing the three-year ban on voter reconsideration of the county's home rule powers, Glass said, "The state constitution is pretty clear when it says people should have the opportunity to vote home rule in or out."

Schlickman, who according to Glass will be one of his bill's cosponsors, said Thursday he thought the three-year ban could be removed quicker through judicial action than through legislation.

Schlickman sponsored the legislation that allowed the new constitution to be implemented. It included the three-year ban on voter recalls for home rule units. He supported the three-year ban at the time, saying that without it the legislation would never have been passed. According to Schlickman the Illinois Municipal League as well as many suburban mayors favor the ban. Even though he supported the legislation with the ban, he said Thursday the three-year prohibition on recalls is "clearly unconstitutional."

Forced Land Donation: Would Law Work Here?

by STEVE FORSYTH

"The Naperville Ordinance is a form of tax, directed toward new people coming into a town," said Fred Hillman, executive vice president of Chesterfield Inc. He spoke Thursday night to members of the village board and plan commission as part of a village program to study the feasibility of adopting an ordinance similar to one in Naperville.

The Naperville ordinance requires developers to donate land or money to villages and school districts according to a formula based on number of people in a development.

Village Pres. Gary Armstrong invited builders who have worked in the village to the informal discussion session, and eight representatives attended. Hillman's company is presently negotiating with the plan commission to approve plans for 300 townhouses at Arlington Heights and Lake-Cook roads.

The builders also voiced their opinion that the Naperville ordinance is unconstitutional because it forcefully takes private land from owners.

AL RILEY, president of Hasbrook Corp., cited a few instances in which courts have overruled mandatory donations by builders. He cited a case in 1961 in Mount Prospect when the Illinois Supreme Court ruled in favor of Pioneer Trust & Savings, saying donations of land could not be required.

Riley also was present as chairman of a special task force studying land donations, organized by the Homebuilders Association of Greater Chicago.

Riley offered other solutions to the problems which result as builders add large groups of people to a community. "We like state support of education, with local control. We are backing efforts on the part of state government to reduce these taxes and shift them to a broader base," said Riley.

"These people buying homes are not strangers from some other land, and we feel these charges are quite discriminating. We feel the education of the community is the responsibility of the total community and shouldn't be heaped on the newcomer," he said.

WILLIAM KAPLAN, an attorney representing the builders, asked the village board to defer any action until the Naperville ordinance has been tested in court. "We believe under Illinois laws that exist today the ordinance is illegal. I assure you the decision will come very quickly," Kaplan said.

Armstrong asked the builders what they would suggest as a solution to the problem in light of the fact that new developments do place certain demands on communities.

"As builders we have no recommendations. This is a government problem. We are providing the service of building homes," Hillman said.

Armstrong replied, "New people usually live in homes 12 to 18 months tax-free. If the development doesn't participate, you are taxing the people who are already here (in the village)."

"We feel this should be corrected," Riley said. The property on the tax rolls should not get a free ride. He indicated that state government should find a solution for the tax lag problem, perhaps by quarterly billing.

ANOTHER DEVELOPER, Richard J. Brown, said, "I don't think this concept could be legislated by ordinance because of the variety of developments. Each one is unique."

Armstrong said, "I think some contribution must be forthcoming from you or them (the new residents), because it does cost money and the new residents immediately become part of the community."

Riley said, "We agree the need is there, but the question is, who is to pay for it. If the community can take land from a builder they can take it from anyone." Riley said he also feels school districts have not planned enough for the future, when they know growth is going to happen.

Armstrong asked Robert Craig of Levitt & Sons if his Naperville development is suffering because of the ordinance there.

Craig said, "Naperville is the least successful of our Chicago developments. It has been a burden. I do object in principle to the part that borders on confiscation."

248-Unit Forest Grove Plan Told

Plans were revealed Friday for a 248-unit apartment-townhouse development, including an 11-story tower, on a questionable site north of Palatine.

The Forest Grove complex would be on a 10-acre tract west of Hicks Road between Dundee and Rand roads in North-west Palatine Township, bounded on the south and west by the Cook County Forest Preserve District.

Chicago developers Joel Robert Hillman and Richard Stein acknowledged in a presentation before the Cook County Zoning Board of Appeals that part of the land is contained in a flood plain area, but maintained that proper engineering provisions could alleviate any damage resulting from flooding.

The North Cook County Soil and Water Conservation District, which had been asked by the zoning board to test the soil, contended, however, in written testimony, that 70 per cent of the property — twice as much as the developers said — is in the flood plain zone.

TOM HAMILTON, chairman of the conservation district, indicated development of the tract "will result in the filling of existing flood plain storage areas and increased flood crests downstream (in Buffalo Creek)."

He also stated soil tests indicate the presence of soil type No. 69, Milford silty clay loam, on 5.6 acres of the property. This soil has a "severe rating" for urban development and from a soil resource viewpoint, is "best suited for use as wetland wildlife habitat or agricultural uses," according to Hamilton.

He said the remaining 4.4 acres are suitable for development "with only slight to moderate limitations."

The attorney for the developers, Harold Siegel of Chicago, told the zoning board he will submit an analysis of the soil prepared by a civil engineer, D. J. Friedman of Waukegan, which evidentially conflicts with the soil conservation district's study.

The developers are seeking a rezoning classification of the property from R3, single-family residence, to R6, planned development for multifamily.

The proposed complex, designed by Hillman and Associates of Chicago, consists of six 2-story buildings containing a total of 60 two-bedroom apartments; eight 2-story townhouses containing 68 three-bedroom units; and an 11-story "midrise" with 80 one-bedroom and 40 two-bedroom apartments.

The first floor of the 100-foot tower, which would be one of the tallest buildings in the township, would contain a swimming pool and clubhouse.

PLANNERS SAID the $6 million complex was designed to blend in with the nearby forest preserve and indicated more than half of the site "would remain green." The parking area would be shielded by landscaping.

Palatine Village Mgr. Berton G. Braun said the village may exercise its option of submitting comments on the rezoning request within the allotted 21 days after Friday's hearing.

The zoning board's recommendation on the petition would then go to the Cook County Board of Commissioners for final action.

In another hearing Friday, Leo C. Jeffere, 1110 Grissom Dr., Palatine, sought rezoning to build a 132-unit apartment complex in northeast Palatine Township.

The 11 buildings, containing 44 one-bedroom and 88 two-bedroom units, would be on a 4.5-acre site northwest of Baldwin and Rand roads.

The petitioner is seeking a rezoning classification from R3, single-family residence, to R6, general residence district for multifamily dwellings.

Civil engineer James J. Muldowney, vice president of Fletcher Engineering Co., Des Plaines, said sewer and water services for the complex could be adequately provided by the Ferndale Heights Utility Co., Mount Prospect.

PALATINE VILLAGE Mgr. Berton G. Braun said, however, the testimony is "in direct contrast" to the village's information regarding the capacity of sewer lines to which the proposed development would be hooked up.

A clarification on the Rohlwing Road sewer lines is to be sought from the Metropolitan Sanitary District of Greater Chicago.

In a third rezoning hearing, permission was sought to build apartments above an existing business near Inverness.

The site is on the south side of Baldwin Road, west of Sterling Avenue.

Ruling On Jayne Case Motion Today?

Closing arguments will be heard today in a hearing on a defense motion to suppress a confession made by Julius Barnes, the accused killer of wealthy Inverness horseman George Jayne.

Barnes, 37, of Chicago, is charged with murder and conspiracy to commit murder, along with Silas Jayne, 63, brother of the victim, and Joseph LaPlaca, 47, of Elgin.

The state has charged that Barnes was the man who pulled the trigger, shooting Jayne through the basement window of his home at 1918 Banbury Ln. during a family card game Oct. 28, 1970.

Barnes, through his attorney, George Howard, has charged that he was not properly advised of his constitutional rights when he made the confession May 22, 1971.

THE HEARING on the defense motion went into its second day in the Criminal Courts Building Friday, as Barnes and an agent of the Illinois Bureau of Investigation testified.

Nicholas Motherway, assistant state's attorney, said Friday he expects there will be no additional testimony today. He said Judge Richard Fitzgerald scheduled today for closing arguments and his ruling.

The first witness Monday, IBI agent Lou Spence, was one of the officers who arrested Barnes May 22 at his home.

Spence said on the witness stand Friday that he warned Barnes of his rights and that Barnes signed a form listing his constitutional rights. Motherway introduced the form into evidence.

Barnes then took the stand and told the court that when he was taken to IBI headquarters the day of his arrest, police told him that Melvin Adams had told them the entire story of the murder.

ADAMS, who originally was charged in connection with the alleged conspiracy, has been granted immunity by the state.

Barnes said that Adams was then brought into the room and Adams said, "I told them everything, Julius." Barnes said Friday he did not know what Adams was talking about.

Barnes admitted he was advised of his right to counsel and his right to remain silent. He said he was told if he spoke it would be used against him. He insisted, however, he was never told he had the right to a free attorney.

Holloway, Ward Win Race For 3-Year Dist. 57 Seats

William Holloway and Michael Ward were winners Saturday in the race for two 3-year seats on the Mount Prospect Dist. 57 school board.

Also on the ballot were Peter Olesen, 126 Bobby Ln.; Albert Moeser, 1006 Golfhurst Ave.; and Alex Casper, 207 W. Orchard Pl. Holloway, Olesen and Casper were backed by the Dist. 57 caucus.

According to unofficial tally, 1,657 Dist. 57 voters went to the polls. Asst. Supt. J. C. Busenhart said the turnout was "little higher" than normal.

Holloway was the highest vote-getter with 891, followed by Ward with 756. Holloway did the best in the Fairview School precinct; while Ward, got the most votes in the Lions Park precinct.

Other unofficial results are Olesen, 679; Moeser, 585 and Casper 200.

"I'D LIKE TO thank all the people who supported me," said Holloway, who lives at 917 S. Maple St. "I will try to do my best for the children of Mount Prospect. I'll try to merit the confidence the people showed in me."

During his campaign, Holloway, 44, said he wanted to protect the non-academic programs now offered in Dist. 57. He also advocates public hearings by the board to determine the feelings of the community on certain issues.

William Holloway

Michael Ward

Ward, 38, said the first action he will take as a board member is to send out a "provocative questionnaire" to all Dist. 57 residents. "I will try to get all the board members interested in it. But if they're not, I'll do it anyway," he said.

Ward, 400 S. Main St. said he would also work for unity among school board members. "If the board is going to be a board, it should start acting as a unit. The board should counter whenever there is any grandstanding by one board member in the future, even if executive sessions have to be held first."

Ward also advocates using professional people in the community as advisors when the board has to make an important decision. weeks a Dist. 57 39-cent tax hike referendum. In the highest turnout in district history, the proposed hike was defeated by nearly 3 to 1.

Moats, Marier Win Harper Board Posts

Incumbent Larry Moats and Marilyn Marier won the Harper College Board of Trustees election by a wide margin.

Moats, of Mount Prospect, took the lead with an overwhelming 4,950 votes followed by Mrs. Marier, of Arlington Heights, with 3,544 votes.

Moats, an electrical contractor, was reelected to a second three-year term. Mrs. Marier's three-year term will be her first board experience.

Mount Prospect and Prospect Heights had the highest voter turnout in Dist. 512. Both communities showed strong support for Moats along with portions of Palatine and Barrington. Mrs. Marier, on the other hand, received fairly equal support from all of the precincts.

On hearing the election results, Mrs. Marier said she was "delighted and will try not to disappoint the people who voted for me."

AN ACTIVE civic leader, Mrs. Marier has served on the League of Women Voters, Volunteer Service Bureau, Arlington Heights Historical Society and the Arlington Heights Cultural Commission.

Mrs. Marier advocates caution in long range planning, closer ties to the community and local-state cooperation. She is also interested in a campus cultural center, funded at least partially by private sources.

Moats stands on the same platform he took to the voters three years ago. He has called for greater communication between student-teacher groups and the board and between the college and the community. He contends communication is the answer to the polarization he sees on the campus today. He is also known for his lone stand against the salary hike granted college president Robert Lahti last fall.

Other election results include: Howard Pollard, 3,544; Le Roi Hutchings, 1566; Michael Huston, 1661; and Rochelle Veitch, 1140.

Pair Win Seats In Dist. 59

A concentrated campaign in Elk Grove Village resulted in the election of two village residents Saturday for three-year terms on the board of education of Elk Grove Township Dist. 59.

Albert Domanico, of 7 Grange Pl., and Gerald Smiley, of 1156 Cheltenham Rd., were elected by wide margins over three opponents.

Domanico was high vote getter in the race, polling 1,021. Smiley finished with 852 votes, well ahead of the third highest candidate, James Sheldon of Des Plaines. Sheldon had 489 votes.

Incumbent Paul Neuhauser finished a poor fourth with 417 votes and Irene (Dolly) Burton of Mount Prospect was low vote getter with 290.

Sound trucks urging Elk Grove Village residents to vote for "your Elk Grove Village candidates" made the rounds in the village for most of the afternoon, possibly the reason that Elk Grove Village's eight precincts accounted for 1,548 of the 2,779 votes cast in the election.

IN THE EIGHT precincts outside of the village. In Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect and Des Plaines, turnout was generally much lighter, with Sheldon running ahead of Smiley for second place. Neuhauser carried only one precinct, his home precinct in Mount Prospect.

Domanico, who served on the board for 16 months during 1969 and 1970, was defeated by a little over 200 votes last year in an attempt to gain reelection to the board. As the votes were coming in Saturday night, showing him running strongly in all parts of the district, he quipped, "This sure beats last year."

Smiley, who has lived in the village for four years and been defeated in one pre-

Gerald
Smiley

Al

vious run for the school board and in tries for the village board of trustees and park board, said, when it became apparent that he had won, "It's nice to win an election once in a while."

Domanico and Smiley were both endorsed by the Elk Grove Teachers Council political action organization. Members of the teachers council including president Robert Beaupre, provided campaign help during the past week.

Leah Cummins, former member of the board of High School Dist. 214 and a village resident, also received support from the group campaigning for Elk Grove Village candidates. In her case, however, the appeal was less successful, with victories going to two incumbents.

The Dist. 59 board will meet at 8 p.m. today in the administration building to reorganize and elect a president for the coming year. Because of the election, Elk Grove Village residents now hold a majority of seats on the board.

Students To Exhibit Work At Lincoln

Students from the seven Mount Prospect Dist. 57 schools will exhibit their work tonight at Lincoln Junior High School in Mount Prospect.

The projects on display will be selected from those done by students as part of their regular assignments throughout the year. The exhibits will be set up in the boys gym, lunchroom and school corridors from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. Lincoln is located at 700 W. Lincoln St.

The event is open to the public and is sponsored by the Dist. 57 PTA Coordinating Council, which consists of representatives of seven schools. Administrative coordinators for the event are Cyril Kozel, Fairview School principal and Dwight Hall, Lincoln principal.

Artemenko, Aronson, Greenfield

Dist. 214 Election 'Close'

Two incumbents, Gene Artemenko and Arthur Aronson, and one newcomer, Richard Greenfield, won the High School Dist. 214 Board election.

Aronson, of unincorporated Arlington Heights, took the lead with 2,709 votes. Artemenko, of Des Plaines, came in with 2565 votes, followed by Greenfield, of Buffalo Grove with 2,402 votes.

The incumbents were both elected to three year terms, while Greenfield will serve only one year. Aronson's election fulfills a state requirement for a representative on the board from an unincorporated area.

School officials reported the election results came in "close all evening long." Aronson's strongest support came from his hometown Arlington Heights and neighboring Prospect Heights and Wheeling. Greenfield did very well in Arlington Heights and Buffalo Grove. Artemenko's support, on the other hand, was fairly equal in all of the precincts.

GREENFIELD, an attorney, attributed his Arlington Heights support to a vote "for Aronson and against Don McGlothlin for the unincorporated seat." McGlothlin, of Wheeling, ran against Greenfield for the one-year term, and against Aronson for the unincorporated seat.

Aronson said his reelection was a vote of confidence for the present board. He said he had been concerned during the election that "the voters thought the board wasn't doing its job."

Aronson ran for his fourth term on a platform calling for the continuation of the Northwest Education Cooperative. In protest to campaign charges of over spending, the industrial engineer advocated continuation of present budget practices.

Coming to the board with no experience, Greenfield took a stand for local district control, more student voice and a strong vocational education program.

Artemenko, assistant manager of United Air Line's employment credit union, was appointed to the high school board last fall to fill a vacancy. He stands in favor of the 12 month school year, a stronger vocational education program, and contribution of public services to private schools. He praises the district administration and teaching staff.

Other election results include: Don McGlothlin, 2,101; Leah Cummins, 1,988; Leo Floros, 1,960; and Barb Storter, 821.

Sowatzke, Poch And Stull Elected To Dist. 23 Board

Ronald Sowatzke, Carl Poch and incumbent John Stull were elected to three-year terms on the Dist. 23 School Board Saturday in an election marked by a heavier than normal turnout.

The three, who live in Prospect Heights, all had been endorsed by the Citizens Committee for Better Schools, a group made up primarily of Prospect Heights "old town" area residents.

John Stull

Carl Poch

In winning school board posts Sowatzke and Poch unseated the two incumbents, Alan Krinsky of Arlington Heights and Robert LeForge of Prospect Heights. Krinsky was running for his second three-year term. LeForge, appointed last summer to fill a board vacancy, also was running for a three-year term.

Almost 560 ballots were cast compared to last year's total of 421. Stull was the highest vote-getter with a total of 424. Sowatzke was second with 412. Poch finished third with 360. Next was LeForge, 214, and Krinsky, 179.

One election official termed the voter turnout Saturday "heavy and solid" and attributed it at least in part to the citizens committee.

Max Lyle, a Prospect Heights Park District commissioner and one of the group's members, said the committee was "just a group who wanted to support three candidates for the school board. We felt they (Stull, Sowatzke and Poch) pledged themselves to things we wanted for Prospect Heights. I was for them primarily because they favor better cooperation with other taxing agencies and their backgrounds make them all qualified for the school board."

Lane Defeats Herman In District 21

School Dist. 21 incumbent Jack Lane defeated caucus-supported candidate Ben Herman by 58 votes, 301 to 243, in Saturday's school board election. Both men were battling for a two-year opening on the board.

Two other incumbents, Mary Joan Reid and Lillian Stiller, ran unopposed in their bid for two three-year openings on the board. They received 508 and 500 votes respectively.

Lane picked up most of his 58-vote margin in the second precinct. He beat Herman in that precinct 128 to 63.

The remaining four precincts went as expected. Neither candidate held a strong lead in those precincts totals.

Precincts 1 and 5 went to Herman by slight margins. He won them with vote totals of 28 and 19 to Lane's 25 and 18.

Lane, who was a resident of Buffalo Grove, carried precinct 3 with a margin of 106 to 28. Herman, a resident of Mount Prospect, carried precinct 4 by 105 to 24.

Lane and Herman began their battle in February when the Dist. 21 General Caucus dropped Lane to support Herman. Lane said at the time he thought he could win as an independent.

After learning of his victory, Lane said he was satisfied with the way the voting went. "I really think the voters in Buffalo Grove and those who voted at London School made my work pay off,"

3 Elected To Dist. 26 Board Posts

Incumbent Ted Wattenberg, Leora Rosen and Lloyd Demel were elected Saturday to three-year terms on the River Trails Dist. 26 School Board, defeating independent William Kurman.

James Bowes, who ran uncontested, was elected to fill a two-year vacancy. He and the other winners were supported by the Dist. 26 caucus.

According to the unofficial tally, 383 residents went to River Trails Junior High School in Mount Prospect to cast their votes.

"It's probably the highest turnout we've ever had," said Jean Meister, business manager.

In the three-year race, Wattenberg, appointed last summer to fill a vacancy, was the highest vote-getter with 311. Other unofficial results are Mrs. Rosen, 299;

Demel, 292 and Kurman, 146. Bowes received 306 votes.

Wattenberg, who lives at 1807 Tano Ln. in Mount Prospect, is a corporation attorney. During his campaign, he called for tight money control and decentralization of the budget. He voted recently to open bargaining sessions to the public and opposed hiring of a professional negotiator for the board.

MRS. ROSEN, a former high school biology teacher, would like to see more curriculum changes in the district. The mother of two children, she lives at 1805 Apache Ln. in Mount Prospect.

Demel, during his campaign, listed his priorities as improvement in teacher motivation and communication with taxpayers. A marketing development manager, for Universal Oil Products he lives at 13 Leon Ln. East in Prospect Heights.

Bowes, who lives at 1307 Mulberry Ln. in Mount Prospect, is a division general manager at the Atlas Handling Corp. in Schiller Park. He sees his role on the school board as a "jack of all trades."

Caucus Candidates Win 2 Seats On Dist. 25 Board

Both School Dist. 25 caucus candidates, Nicholas J. Raino and Richard A. Soby, more than doubled the votes of independent James R. DeVuono to win 3-year terms on the board of education.

Raino received 756 votes, Soby took 620 votes and DeVuono won 272 votes. There were 908 ballots cast in the election which is about 40 more than were cast in last year's school board election.

"There was no hard campaigning by any candidate, so we expected the 5 per cent citizen turnout, which is normal for a school board election," said Dan Suffoletto, school district business manager.

SINCE ITS inception in 1954, the school district caucus has endorsed winning candidates. DeVuono was the fourth man to challenge the caucus in 18 years.

"I'm still glad I ran, at least it was a race this year," DeVuono said.

Raino, who lives at 436 S. Lincoln with his wife and three children, said it is an honor and privilege to be elected to the school board.

"I will do everything in my power to justify the confidence of the people who suggested I run, and those who voted for me," Raino said. "As a board member, I am going to try to stimulate a broader interest in education in the district, and get people out of their apathetic posture."

Richard
Soby

Raino, the vice president of a financial advertising firm, Dale, Smith and Associates, was formerly a math teacher in both the Chicago public school system and in Dist. 214.

Soby, who lives at 1014 E. Jules St. with his wife and three children, said that a vote for him was a vote of confidence for the caucus.

"It (the caucus) has endorsed many very well qualified people to serve on the board during the past 17 years, and I intend to do my utmost to prove it hasn't erred this time," Soby said.

"I AM EAGERLY looking forward to serving on the board, and invite any suggestions to better our program so that all of our children have an equal opportunity to reach their potential," said Soby, who is a self-employed decorating contractor.

Voting was heaviest at Miner Jr. High School where 323 ballots were cast. The totals were, Raino 240, Soby 196 and DeVuono 118.

At South Jr. High School, 319 ballots were marked and Raino received 288 votes, Soby 231 and DeVuono 68.

Raino was also top vote-getter at Thomas Jr. High School, where 188 ballots were cast. The totals were, Raino 166, Soby 145 and DeVuono 56.

At Rand Jr. High School, 77 ballots were cast, 62 for Raino, 48 for Soby and 30 for DeVuono.

Moats, Marier Win Harper Board Posts

Incumbent Larry Moats and Marilyn Marier won the Harper College Board of Trustees election by a wide margin.

Moats, of Mount Prospect, took the lead with an overwhelming 4,950 votes followed by Mrs. Marier, of Arlington Heights, with 3,544 votes.

Moats, an electrical contractor, was reelected to a second three-year term. Mrs. Marier's three-year term will be her first board experience.

Mount Prospect and Prospect Heights had the highest voter turnout in Dist. 512. Both communities showed strong support for Moats along with portions of Palatine and Barrington. Mrs. Marier, on the other hand, received fairly equal support from all of the precincts.

On hearing the election results, Mrs. Marier said she was "delighted and will try not to disappoint the people who voted for me."

AN ACTIVE civic leader, Mrs. Marier has served on the League of Women Voters, Volunteer Service Bureau, Arlington Heights Historical Society and the Arlington Heights Cultural Commission.

Mrs. Marier advocates caution in long range planning, closer ties to the community and local-state cooperation. She is also interested in a campus cultural center, funded at least partially by private sources.

Moats stands on the same platform he took to the voters three years ago. He has called for greater communication between student-leader groups and the board and between the college and the community. He contends communication is the answer to the polarization he sees on the campus today. He is also known for his lone stand against the salary hike granted college president Robert Lahti last fall.

Other election results include: Howard Pollard, 3,544; Le Roi Hutchings, 1,526; Michael Huston, 1,661; and Rochelle Veitch, 1,140.

Artemenko, Aronson, Greenfield

Dist. 214 Election 'Close'

Two incumbents, Gene Artemenko and Arthur Aronson, and one newcomer, Richard Greenfield, won the High School Dist. 214 Board election.

Aronson, of unincorporated Arlington Heights, took the lead with 2,709 votes. Artemenko, of Des Plaines, came in with 2,586 votes, followed by Greenfield, of Buffalo Grove with 2,402 votes.

The incumbents were both elected to three year terms, while Greenfield will serve only one year. Aronson's election fulfills a state requirement for a representative on the board from an unincorporated area.

School officials reported the election results came in "close all evening long." Aronson's strongest support came from his hometown Arlington Heights and neighboring Prospect Heights and Wheeling. Greenfield did very well in Arlington Heights and Buffalo Grove. Artemenko's support, on the other hand, was fairly equal in all of the precincts.

GREENFIELD, an attorney, attributed his Arlington Heights support to a vote "for Aronson and against Don McGlothlin for the unincorporated seat." McGlothlin, of Wheeling, ran against Greenfield for the one-year term, and against Aronson for the unincorporated seat.

Aronson said his reelection was a vote of confidence for the present board. He said he had been concerned during the election that "the voters thought the board wasn't doing its job."

Aronson ran for his fourth term on a platform calling for the continuation of the Northwest Education Cooperative. In protest to campaign charges of over spending, the industrial engineer advocated continuation of present budget practices.

Coming to the board with no experience, Greenfield took a stand for local district control, more student voice and a strong vocational education program.

Artemenko, assistant manager of United Air Line's employment credit union, was appointed to the high school board last fall to fill a vacancy. He stands in favor of the 12 month school year, a stronger vocational education program, and contribution of public services to private schools. He praises the district administration and teaching staff.

Other election results include: Don McGlothlin, 2,101; Leah Cummins, 1,988; Leo Floros, 1,980; and Barb Storter, 821.

Tax Bills To Differ Bit From Previous Period

by CINDY TEW

Wheeling Township residents' tax bills will differ slightly from last year even though a preliminary budget for the 1972-73 fiscal year has yet to be finalized. The actual budget will not be known until a court suit determines who will collect the money next year.

If the township takes over the tax collecting job, which is now handled by Cook County, the preliminary 1972-73 budget will increase nearly 15 per cent. Without the tax collecting job in the budget, the budget would decrease about seven per cent.

At the present time, the Wheeling Township portion of the real property tax bill is 3.2 cents per $100 assessed valuation. If property taxes are collected at the township level, the tax bill would increase one-half cent per $100 assessed valuation. Without tax collecting duties, the 1971-72 township tax rate would decrease one-tenth of one cent per $100 assessed valuation.

"The question of who should collect taxes is now the subject of a court suit, on which a decision should be made by May 2, when we take final action on the budget," said Ethel Kolerus, township supervisor. "If a decision is not made, we will delete the tax collection fee from the budget."

If the tax collecting is switched from a county job to a township job, the county budget should drop, which would keep the overall property tax bill constant for local residents.

TAX COLLECTING would cost $33,000 at the township level, according to the

Herald Subscription Increased To 55 Cents

An increase in home delivery price for The Herald, effective this week, has been announced by Charles E. Hayes, editor and publisher.

The published home delivery rate will be 55 cents per week.

"This price change is necessary to offset recent price increases authorized by the federal government," said Hayes. He said that during the past six months, the newspaper has been faced with substantially higher costs in newsprint, news services, printing supplies and manufacturing.

Lane Defeats Herman In Dist. 21

School Dist. 21 incumbent Jack Lane defeated caucus-supported candidate Ben Herman by 58 votes, 301 to 243, in Saturday's school board election. Both men were battling for a two-year opening on the board.

Two other incumbents, Mary Joan Reid and Lillian Stiller, ran unopposed in their bid for two three-year openings on the board. They received 508 and 500 votes respectively.

Lane picked up most of his 58-vote margin in the second precinct. He beat Herman in that precinct 128 to 63.

The remaining four precincts went as expected. Neither candidate held a strong lead in those precincts totals.

Precincts 1 and 5 went to Herman by slight margins. He won them with vote totals of 28 and 19 to Lane's 25 and 18.

Lane, who was a resident of Buffalo Grove, carried precinct 3 with a margin of 106 to 28. Herman, a resident of Mount Prospect, carried precinct 4 by 105 to 24.

LANE and Herman began their battle in February when the Dist. 21 General Caucus dropped Lane to support Herman. Lane said at the time he thought he could win as an independent.

After learning of his victory, Lane said he was satisfied with the way the voting went. "I really think the voters in Buffalo Grove and those who voted at London School made my work pay off," he said.

Lane said he felt caucus worked hard for Herman in the other precincts and it showed. "I'm satisfied though, with the way things went. However, I wish the voter turnout had been better," said Lane.

A total of 544 residents voted in Dist.

21. Kenneth Gill, superintendent of Dist. 21 schools, said the showing was poor mainly because there were no real issues and there was no referendum in the election. Other members of the Dist. 21 school board are Edwin Smith, Ronald Cole, Jeremiah Crise and L. James Wylie.

Pair Win Seats In Dist. 59

A concentrated campaign in Elk Grove Village resulted in the election of two village residents Saturday for three-year terms on the board of education of Elk Grove Township Dist. 59.

Albert Domanico, of 7 Grange Pl., and Gerald Smiley, of 1156 Cheltenham Rd., were elected by wide margins over three opponents.

Domanico was high vote getter in the race, polling 1,021. Smiley finished with 652 votes, well ahead of the third highest candidate, James Sheldon of Des Plaines. Sheldon had 488 votes.

Incumbent Paul Neuhauser finished a poor fourth with 417 votes and Irene (Dolly) Burton of Mount Prospect was low vote getter with 200.

Sound trucks urging Elk Grove Village residents to vote for "your Elk Grove Village candidates" made the rounds in the village for most of the afternoon, possibly the reason that Elk Grove Village's eight precincts accounted for 1,548 of the 2,779 votes cast in the election.

IN THE EIGHT precincts outside of the village, in Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect and Des Plaines, turn-out was generally much lighter, with Sheldon running ahead of Smiley for second place. Neuhauser carried only one precinct, his home precinct in Mount Prospect.

Domanico, who served on the board for 16 months during 1969 and 1970, was defeated by a little over 200 votes last year in an attempt to gain reelection to the board. As the votes were coming in Saturday night, showing him running strongly in all parts of the district, he quipped, "This sure beats last year."

Smiley, who has lived in the village for four years and been defeated in one previous run for the school board and in tries for the village board of trustees and park board, said, when it became apparent that he had won, "It's nice to win an election once in a while."

Domanico and Smiley were both endorsed by the Elk Grove Teachers Council political action organization. Members of the teachers council including president Robert Beaupre, provided campaign help during the past week.

Leah Cummins, former member of the board of High School Dist. 214 and a village resident, also received support from the group campaigning for Elk Grove Village candidates. In her case, however, the appeal was less successful, with victories going to two incumbents.

The Dist. 59 board will meet at 8 p.m. today in the administration building to reorganize and elect a president for the coming year. Because of the election, Elk Grove Village residents now hold a majority of seats on the board.

Tax Bills To Differ Bit From Previous Period

preliminary budget.

"What we're talking about is a change of about a nickel per tax bill," said Wheeling Township Assessor Marshall Theroux. "I can prove it would be much cheaper — between 33 and 50 per cent cheaper — to collect taxes at the township level."

Taxpayers can discuss the budget at the annual township meeting, to be held Tuesday at 8 p.m. at Wheeling Township Town Hall, 1818 E. Northwest Hwy. All township officials will report on their year's activities.

Other changes in the preliminary 1972-73 Wheeling Township budget includes a $14,000 reduction in election costs. The new budget includes about $10,000 for the election of township officers next April, as compared with a $24,000 expenditure for a mental health referendum held last year.

The township also maintains a cemetery and provides for general assistance throughout the township.

The only major increase in the budget is in the assessors expense which is climbing from $15,972 last year to $19,842 this year.

"The increase will include a temporary field inspector to help reassess suspicious areas of the township like parts of Wheeling and unincorporated Prospect Heights, and extra funds to assess personal property which the township has never had to do before," Theroux said.

BESIDES ASSESSING personal property, the township government is responsible for voter registration, township elections, public information and welfare services. The township is also the local governmental unit for unincorporated areas of Wheeling Township and therefore provides road maintenance.

crying for teachers, we had more than 400 applications," Bodzewski says.

Looking back, Bardwell, who left Dist. 59 to become superintendent of schools in Ithaca, N.Y., says, "We hired young, vibrant people who had vision. The things we were doing were basically sound. They were the things people were talking about doing now and they worked. I didn't realize then how good our people were. I didn't realize what a unique combination of people and buildings we had."

(Next: The hidden traps that led to the district's problems.)

center for gifted children brought in $185,000 between 1967 and 1971; $25,000 came from the federal government in 1968 for a personality adjustment program and $49,000 from the Kettering Foundation launched "model school" programs first at Salt Creek and later at Juliette Low school.

The grants, according to Bodzewski, "gave us the money to hire outstanding talent to accomplish our objectives. There were so many people from all over the country who wanted to come and see our schools, we had to set up visiting hours."

"The momentum created by the innovation attracted many teachers and administrators to the district."

"At times, when other districts were out windows or heat, but that was not all a negative thing because it created a spirit in the district and people knew we were really trying," he said.

At the same time Bardwell and his business manager, William Mann, who is now business manager for Harper College in Palatine, plunged the district down what turned out to be the never-ending path of tax anticipation warrants (TAWs).

Using TAWs the district borrowed against the following year's tax base, allowing educational programs to expand as new residents moved in instead of waiting until the new houses and industries showed up on the assessed valuation. Each year, more borrowing was needed to keep up with the spiral.

Under the leadership of Bardwell and Ludwig Bodzewski, his assistant superintendent who is now an associate dean of the graduate school at the National College of Education, the district also built a school system using many of the newest theories of education.

Schools were built with "learning centers" containing both library materials and audio-visual aids where children could work independently. The concept of the centers had been developed at Harvard University. With Charlotte Levis, who came from Harvard and became principal of Salt Creek School, the district became one of the first in the country to adopt the concept.

ONCE THE FIRST learning center was established, the district stuck with the concept, building the centers into each school. Finally, in 1966, the district built Juliette Low School, with classroom areas without walls. The school was the first of its kind in the country.

"The learning centers came at a price — none of the buildings, even the junior high schools, had cafeterias suitable for hot lunch programs."

"That was a very conscious decision," Bardwell says. "We really had the choice of investing in cafeterias or libraries and we knew we didn't have the assessed value to do both."

The district's personnel also threw themselves into writing proposals for state, federal and private grants. During the early 1960s the federal government made millions of dollars available for education, and Dist. 59 cashed in.

Between 1965 and 1970, the grant proposals brought $1.5 million into the district, including the $1.2 million training and development grant which provided teacher training for Dist. 59 and other Northwest suburban districts.

IN ADDITION, the district received $72,400 between 1966 and 1968 for the Brentwood Experimental Project, which placed Individualized Instruction (IFI) in the Des Plaines school. A demonstration

Sowatzke, Poch And Stull Elected To Dist. 23 Board

Ronald Sowatzke, Carl Poch and incumbent John Stull were elected to three-year terms on the Dist. 23 School Board Saturday in an election marked by a heavier than normal turnout.

The three, who live in Prospect Heights, all had been endorsed by the Citizens Committee for Better Schools, a group made up primarily of Prospect Heights "old town" area residents.

In winning school board posts Sowatzke and Poch unseated the two incumbents, Alan Krinsky of Arlington Heights and Robert LeForge of Prospect Heights. Krinsky was running for his second three-year term. LeForge, appointed last summer to fill a board vacancy, also was running for a three-year term.

Almost 560 ballots were cast compared to last year's total of 421. Stull was the highest vote-getter with a total of 424. Sowatzke was second with 412. Poch finished third with 380. Next was LeForge, 214, and Krinsky, 179.

One election official termed the voter turnout Saturday "heavy and solid" and attributed it at least in part to the citizens committee.

Max Lyle, a Prospect Heights Park District commissioner and one of the group's members, said the committee was "just a group who wanted to support three candidates for the school board. We felt they (Stull, Sowatzke and Poch) pledged themselves to things we wanted for Prospect Heights. I was for them primarily because they favor better cooperation with other taxing agencies and their backgrounds make them all qualified for the school board."

20 Schools In Four Suburbs

District Problems Seemed Endless

(This is the first of a five-part series which will examine the history and problems of Elk Grove Township Elementary Dist. 59, which has 20 schools in Elk Grove Village, Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect and Des Plaines.)

by WANDALYN RICE

For the last several years the troubles seemed endless.

The district has had a business manager and superintendent fired by the school board, has been accused of fiscal mismanagement and irresponsibility and has seen its innovative educational programs fall victim to conservative criticism and budget cutbacks.

Parents have attacked the district's administrators for insensitivity; teachers have attacked the school board on the issue of class size, and throughout the district a distinct credibility gap has emerged between those running the district and the community.

IN THE MIDST of all these problems, it has sometimes been difficult to remember that the district is the wealthiest elementary district in the Northwest suburbs and has, over the years, received more than $1.5 million in special grants from the federal and state governments and private groups.

The district's problems, both with its finances and with its relationship with its public and teachers, have grown slowly over the last 10 years.

The problems are the accumulated result of rapid growth, instability in staff, the constant drive for innovation, and errors by boards and administrators now long gone from the district. The effects have been far-reaching and difficult to change.

In the early 1960s, the district completed a series of annexations which combined several small, rural school districts into the present district, nearly township wide.

At the same time, Roger Bardwell, who served as superintendent until 1966, recalls the district's enrollment was doubling, tripling and quadrupling each year as developers built Elk Grove Village out of farm land and built up portions of Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect, and Des Plaines.

Faced with this growth, the district built schools at the rate of one, and sometimes two, each year — issuing bonds to pay for the buildings at such a rate they were constantly at the legal limit of 5 per cent of their assessed value.

"BECAUSE WE were at the top of the bonding limit all the time, we could never issue new contracts until our new assessed value came out each March. As a result we built nearly all our buildings between March and September," he said. "We opened buildings half done, with-

Adventures of your Garbageman

"Spring Clean-Up" Today on Monday Routes

Today, on Monday garbage routes, we'll pick up discarded furniture, appliances, etc., without extra charge, if available at the curb. (Tomorrow, the same service will be given Tuesday routes — and on Wednesday, to Wednesday routes.)

On all 3 days, there will be curb service only.

These will be rough days for our men. They'll start at 6:00 am on all 3 days, and make many extra dumping trips to the landfill. We hope they don't have to handle a lot of garbage, along with the "Clean-Up" items. However, if holding back on your garbage until your second service day this week will cause you great inconvenience, we'll pick up your garbage, too, if your cans are at the curb.

Thanks for your cooperation.

Student Joins 3 Incumbents In Oakton Bd. Win

Three incumbents and a student won election to the Oakton Community College Board of Trustees, according to unofficial vote tallies late Saturday night.

The board now has an apparent majority opposed to the college's handling of a current dispute over a permanent campus site.

Incumbent LeRoy Wauck of Park Ridge defeated current Oakton Board Pres. Milton Falkoff of Lincolnwood for a one-year term on the junior college board.

Incumbent Griffith MacDonald of Park Ridge was elected to a two-year term, defeating Chester Gulinski of Niles and Oakton student Barry Benveniste of Des Plaines.

Elected to three-year terms on the board were incumbent Meyer Kamin of Skokie and Oakton student Robert Gutschick of Morton Grove. They defeated John Swalec of Park Ridge, Leonard Estrin of Skokie and Alex Gordon of Niles.

In other elections, unopposed caucus-endorsed candidates won election to the Des Plaines Elementary School Dist. 62 and the Maine Township High School Dist. 207 boards of education.

Elected to the Dist. 62 board were incumbent James Kremers and Robert Miller, both of Des Plaines. Robert Claus of Des Plaines, current Dist. 62 board president, was elected to the Dist. 207 board. Also elected to the high school board was Edward Gregory of Park Ridge.

According to unofficial vote tallies in the Oakton races, Wauck received 3,665 votes and Falkoff received 3,112 votes.

According to the tallies, MacDonald received 2,622 votes, Gulinski received 2,697 votes and Benveniste received 912 votes.

Also according to the unofficial tallies, Kamin received 3,329 votes, Gutschick received 2,877 votes, Estrin received 2,563 votes, Swalec received 2,286 votes and Gordon received 1,733 votes.

In Des Plaines, the vote was Wauck, 240; Falkoff, 124; MacDonald, 200; Gulinski, 151; Benveniste, 55; Kamin, 170; Gutschick, 169; Swalec, 163; Estrin, 142 and Gordon, 93.

The official vote canvass will be held at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the college's interim campus in Morton Grove.

WINNERS WAUCK, MacDonald, Kamin and Gutschick were unavailable for comment.

Wauck, 51, has led a minority faction of the seven-member board opposed to its recent decisions to sue the Illinois Junior College Board for rescinding its approval of a 105-acre site adjacent to Maryhill Cemetery in Niles for Oakton's permanent campus and to continue condemnation proceedings against the Chicago Catholic Archdiocese to purchase the land.

A psychology professor at Chicago's Loyola University, Wauck could have run for reelection to a full three-year term. However, he chose to run for a one-year term against Falkoff, who resigned to protest the state decision and decided to run for reelection to the remaining year of his own term.

Falkoff campaigned on a "local control" platform, while Wauck campaign-

MacDonald and Kamin campaigned alongside Falkoff. MacDonald, 36, an insurance executive, is currently chairman of the board's personnel committee and formerly chairman of the site committee. MacDonald also resigned and later decided to seek reelection. Kamin, 47, an insurance company president, is currently vice president of the Oakton board.

A sociology major and future teacher, Gutschick, 22, campaigned with Wauck on a state endorsed by the Concerned Citizens of Maine and Niles Townships, a group of residents opposed to the col-

Could Begin Study In 2 Weeks

Eye Firm To Ponder Bus Purchase

A Des Plaines City Council committee Tuesday will discuss hiring a Chicago-based consulting firm to determine whether the city should purchase the financially-ailing United Motor Coach bus company.

The finance committee, expected to make a recommendation on a feasibility study at the April 17 council meeting, will examine a proposal for an 8-to-10-week $8,500 study by Ernst and Ernst, a large accounting and consultant firm that has conducted several surveys for state transportation agencies.

Des Plaines Mayor Herbert Behrel and members of the Des Plaines Mass Transit district are also expected to attend.

According to Ernst and Ernst letters to the city, three alternatives have been suggested by city officials and members of the city's mass transit district.

THESE INCLUDE district subsidy grants to the present, privately-owned company based in Des Plaines; purchase of the company and renting of buses to a management firm, or district purchase of the company and its operation by district employees.

The study would include a survey of all possible revenue sources available to the district from other suburbs, the state or federal governments. It would determine what financial advantages and disadvantages would be created under various means of ownership or control.

The study would include examinations of the services now provided by the bus company, the letters state.

Preliminary recommendations will include "the most feasible alternatives (which) would . . . assist in determining the most economical method for providing continuous, dependable, timely bus service to the citizens of Des Plaines and the surrounding communities at the lowest cost."

"We believe we are uniquely qualified to undertake this assignment because of our experience in assisting companies in the transit industry and in working with governmental agencies on related transportation projects."

ERNST AND ERNST is now assisting the state office of Mass Transportation in a financial study of bus companies and Chicago commuter railroads to help evaluate the eligibility of these companies for state grants, a letter states.

During that project, Ernst and Ernst representatives have visited the United Motor Coach offices and are familiar "with many of its financial problems and have had an opportunity to work with some of its key personnel."

The consulting firm "realizing the urgency" could begin the study within two weeks of its authorization by the council and could complete the study in 8 to 10 weeks, a letter states.

The estimate cost "would range from $7,500 to $8,500, depending on the amount of time required to make the study. The maximum cost would be $8,500, the letter states.

Ronald Jack, and Stephen Holstad, both of the management consulting services staff, would conduct the study.

A FEASIBILITY study had been proposed by Behrel and aldermen soon after bus company officials offered to sell the company last January.

Mayor Behrel has said the city is seeking factual, documented information on whether it should take over the company.

He also has said part of the funds for the study may be provided by federal and state transportation agencies.

The city council recently voted to turn over $20,000 in motor fuel tax funds to the city's mass transit district, with $16,520 earmarked as a subsidy for the bus company and the remainder for the feasibility study of the firm's take-over by the district.

The only other recent study of the impact of possible ending of bus service was reported recently to Behrel. Maine Township High School Dist. 207, whose students now use the bus service, estimated that if discontinued public bus service were discontinued township taxpayers would have to pay $208,416 a year to bus high school students.

A new tax would have to be levied to hire a bus company, possibly a reformed United Motor Coach Co., to provide private service.

This new tax would cost the average taxpayer, whose home is assessed at $12,000, an additional $3.06 a year.

However, the survey also indicated that at present, Maine Township parents pay $81 in bus fare each year for each of their high-school age children.

She's A 'Talented Teen'

Cindee Kassel Dances Way To European Tour

by JOANN VAN WYE
"Dancing, dancing, dancing" is how Cindee Kassel describes her interests. Her interest in dancing started when she was three years old and paid off this spring when she was selected to participate in the Talented Teens Tour.
As a talented teen, Miss Kassel will be spending a month this summer in Europe performing before various groups. The tour will include stops in England, France, Holland, Switzerland, Germany and Austria.
Miss Kassel, of 2406 Willow, Rolling Meadows, was the only person from Rolling Meadows selected as a talented teen in the nationwide competition.
THIS SUMMER will be Miss Kassel's second tour as a talented teen. She also was selected seven years ago when she was only 13.
Asked why she decided to try out this year, Miss Kassel countered by asking, "Who doesn't like to travel?" She explained that the first tour had been such a good experience and she had had so much fun she has wanted to go back ever since.
"I knew this would probably be my last chance (to be a talented teen) because I am getting too old," said Miss Kassel.
The one disappointing thing about this year's tour, according to Miss Kassel, is that there won't be any stop in Ireland. This was her favorite country the first time she went on the tour. She has been corresponding with friends from Ireland since her first visit and hopes she will have a chance to see them in England.

There have not been any rehearsals for the tour yet so Miss Kassel does not know what kind of acts she will be performing or how many other teens will be going on the tour.
Encouraged by her sister, Sharon, to continue her endeavors in dancing, Miss Kassel now teaches at her sister's studio in Rolling Meadows. She has been teaching at the Sharon Kassel Dance Studio for the last two years since she graduated from Sacred Heart of Mary High School.
SKILLED AT JAZZ, ballet, toe, tap and character dancing, Miss Kassel said if she had to pick a favorite it would probably be ballet.
When she isn't teaching, Miss Kassel is taking classes at Harper College, where she is a psychology major, or taking dancing lessons herself. She currently takes lessons from Gus Giordano in Evanston and plans to continue lessons at Stone and Cameron in Chicago after she returns from the tour.
In 1967, Miss Kassel danced on the television show "Swinging Majority" for four months. She currently performs with the Northwest Performing Dance Co.
Miss Kassel said she kept on a pretty rigid schedule when she was younger but

AS A TALENTED teen, Cindee Kassel of Rolling Meadows will perform in six countries this summer during a one-month tour of Europe.

now works out mainly in her dance classes.
"Teaching helps keep me in practice. By going over and over things, I learn things as well as the students."
Miss Kassel is a certified teacher by the National Association of Dance and Affiliated Artists. She also belongs to Dance Masters.

Ruling On Jayne Case Motion Today?

Closing arguments will be heard today in a hearing on a defense motion to suppress a confession made by Julius Barnes, the accused killer of wealthy Inverness horseman George Jayne.
Barnes, 37, of Chicago, is charged with murder and conspiracy to commit murder, along with Silas Jayne, 63, brother of the victim, and Joseph LaPlaca, 47, of Elgin.
The state has charged that Barnes was the man who pulled the trigger, shooting

Jayne through the basement window of his home at 1918 Banbury Ln. during a family card game Oct. 28, 1970.
Barnes, through his attorney, George Howard, has charged that he was not properly advised of his constitutional rights when he made the confession May 22, 1971.

THE HEARING on the defense motion went into its second day in the Criminal Courts Building Friday, as Barnes and an agent of the Illinois Bureau of Investigation testified.

Nicholas Motherway, assistant state's attorney, said Friday he expects there will be no additional testimony today. He said Judge Richard Fitzgerald scheduled today for closing arguments and his ruling.

The first witness Monday, IBI agent Lou Spence, was one of the officers who arrested Barnes May 22 at his home.
Spence said on the witness stand Friday that he warned Barnes of his rights and that Barnes signed a form listing his constitutional rights. Motherway introduced the form into evidence.

Barnes then took the stand and told the court that when he was taken to IBI headquarters the day of his arrest, police told him that Melvin Adams had told them the entire story of the murder.

ADAMS, who originally was charged in connection with the alleged conspiracy, has been granted immunity by the state.

Barnes said that Adams was then brought into the room and Adams said, "I told them everything, Julius." Barnes said Friday he did not know what Adams was talking about.

Barnes admitted he was advised of his right to counsel and his right to remain silent. He said he was told if he spoke it would be used against him. He insisted, however, he was never told he had the right to a free attorney.

Hint $60,000 Ditch Work In Wheeling

Wheeling and state officials are currently working on plans to spend $60,000 in state funds for the Wheeling Drainage Ditch.

Village Mgr. George Passolt said that at a meeting with John Guillou, chief engineer for the Illinois Division of Waterways, plans for deepening and widening the ditch were discussed.

The ditch empties into the Des Plaines River at a point south of Wheeling.

Part of the plan for the ditch widening is to have the ditch empty the bulk of the runoff from a heavy rain into the river before the river reaches a level higher than the creek inlet. Wheeling also had a system of flood control basins designed to hold some of the rainwater until stream levels are reduced.

In past years with heavy rains the Des Plaines River has backed up into the ditch, resulting in flooding of Wheeling homes and streets.

Passolt said Harza Engineering Co., the village's consulting engineer on flood control programs is now working on plans for the work, which will have to be approved by the state before they can be implemented.

Passolt said Wheeling will also pay for a portion of the work. He said although he did not know how much the village's share would be, he expected it to be higher than the state's $60,000 contribution.

Passolt said state funds must be assigned to a specific project before June 30 or they will no longer be available.

PASSOLT SAID the village and the state want to use the funds in the best way possible to complement the existing Wheeling flood control program facilities.

Harza has told the village that dredging the creek is one solution to getting the Heritage Park West Basin to drain properly after a rain.

Currently the basin is not working up to its full flood control capacity because it does not drain fast enough.

The Metropolitan Sanitary District had proposed installation of a pumping station to speed the emptying of the basin as an alternative to the widening and dredging.

Dredging of the creek was originally included in the village flood control referendum funds, but the work was held up until it could be coordinated with state money to make the project as effective as possible.

Wheeling has not had a major flood since June, 1970. Village officials attribute part of the lack of floods to the new basin system now in operation, but also admit that last year was an unusually dry year.

Arndt, Park District Superintendent, Resigns

by ANNE SLAVICEK

Ferdinand Arndt has resigned as Wheeling Park District superintendent.

Arndt, the first full-time superintendent for the park district, gave reasons of health for submitting his resignation.

The 65-year-old Des Plaines resident asked the park board to relieve him of his duties as superintendent when his contract expires April 30.

Arndt told the Herald Friday that while he is resigning from his job he still plans to participate in civic activities. He currently is president of the Des Plaines Park District board, president of the Wheeling Rotary Club and a member of the board of directors of the Midwest Institute of Park Executives.

Wheeling park board members met in an executive session Thursday to discuss personnel and land acquisition. However, the board did not discuss Arndt's resignation in public and did not vote to accept it.

ARNDT ANNOUNCED his resignation Friday morning. In the letter to park commissioners he explained, "I feel that since my recent heart attack I am governed as to what I can do, and this is very unfair to the Wheeling Park District. I also feel it may be to your best interest to look for a younger man with new ideas," he wrote.

Arndt suffered a severe heart attack last Aug. 31, while working in the yard of his home at 1475 Oakwood Ave., Des Plaines. He came back to work part time last winter and recently has been working full-time for the district. "My doctor informed me to take it easy and inasmuch as the good Lord has given me a second chance, I had better abide with his orders," Arndt wrote to the board.

Arndt began his job with the Wheeling park district in 1966 when the district was six years old.

"I have enjoyed being a part of this progressive organization for the past 5½ years and have enjoyed many of the challenges and working with the fine boards. There are many projects to be done which will help the Wheeling Park District present even more facilities," he told the board.

Jefferson Park-Randhurst Buses Set

United Motor Coach buses will begin to roll from Jefferson Park in Chicago to the Randhurst Shopping Center in Mount Prospect on Monday.
The project, aimed at increasing sales at Randhurst and providing some public transportation for Mount Prospect, is jointly sponsored for a month's trial by the bus company, the Randhurst Corp. and the Village of Mount Prospect. Each has agreed to share a third of the costs with Randhurst setting an upper limit of $725 and the village willing to go up to $800.

SHOULD IT prove financially feasible, the eight daily roundtrips, Monday through Saturday, will be continued indefinitely.

The buses, which will make stops at every intersection where they are flagged down, will run from the Jefferson Park CTA terminal to the shopping center's Apple Lane, with stops in Park Ridge and Des Plaines.

The bus route will run from the CTA terminal northwest on Milwaukee Avenue to Northwest Highway, continue to Potter Road, then north to Dempster Street, west to Northwest Highway again, then up Ill. Rte. 83 (Main and Elmhurst) to Randhurst. The fees will be from 35 to 50 cents depending on the length of the ride.

Bus company officials have figured a $9 an hour cost, which they hope will be offset by riders' fares. However, Mount Prospect Village Trustee Donald B. Furst has said that even if there were no riders for the first month, the total cost to each of the three participants would only be $658. As riders mount, the costs will decrease, officials said.

New Car Is Stolen

Thieves stole a 1972 Pontiac valued at $5,886 Thursday afternoon from a Des Plaines auto dealership.

According to police reports the auto was taken from a lot at Ridge Motors, 1533 Des Plaines Ave. between 2:30 and 5:30 p.m.

ACCORDING TO unofficial vote tallies, almost 26,000 votes were cast for the 10 candidates, compared with about 11,150 votes cast last year for four candidates running for two posts on the Oakton board.

Oakton officials said Saturday night that good weather and the controversial issues surrounding the election caused a heavy voter turnout.

Voting was light in the Dist. 62 and Dist. 207 elections because candidates ran unopposed for two posts on each board, officials said.

A total of 396 votes were cast in the Dist. 62 election, compared to 700 votes cast last year for three unopposed candidates.

Kremers, a personnel manager for Illinois Bell Telephone Co., received 368 votes. Miller, a lawyer, received 369 votes.

Claus, a lawyer, received 2,105 votes. Gregory, a public administration consultant, received 2,105 votes. In Des Plaines, Claus received 356 votes and Gregory received 342 votes.

She Lives With Chimps And Loves It

by DUSTON HARVEY

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Her name is Jane and she lives in Africa with the wild chimpanzees.

During the past 11 years, she has drastically altered man's conception of his nearest relative in the evolutionary family.

Jane Van Lawick-Goodall was a young English secretary with a deep interest in animals in 1960 when her boss, anthropologist Louis Leakey, arranged for her to study chimps on the shores of Lake Tanganyika.

After six months of frustrating and harrowing experiences, she was finally accepted as "a pale-skinned ape" by the chimps and began studying their behavior up close.

What she saw changed longheld views on the chimpanzee's life style, diet and abilities and provided new insights into the biological basis of human behavior and child-rearing.

MRS. VAN LAWICK-GOODALL, a

slim, intense Englishwoman of 37, married to Wildlife Photographer Hugo Van Lawick and the mother of a four-year-old boy, now lives nine months a year at Gombe Stream Research Center in Africa and the other three months at Stanford University in Palo Alto, Calif.

Stanford has started work on a new chimpanzee research center near its campus where scientists will compare studies on captive animals with those living in the wild at Gombe.

Mrs. Van Lawick-Goodall discussed her work, recounted in her recently published book, "In the Shadow of Man," during an interview.

She said her most significant findings were that chimpanzees made and used tools and that they engaged in hunting. The tools included twigs trimmed for use in grubbing for termites and leaves chewed up for use as a sponge.

"OVER THE LONG TERM, we may learn more from the tremendous length of time a child is dependent on its mother, the observational method of learning by the child, and very long duration of the affectionate bond between mother and children, and the similarities in communication between chimps and man which suggest a common ancestor millions of years ago," she said.

"We hope eventually to relate these to the biological basis of human behavior."

She said her firsthand studies of chimps in the wild have indicated a narrower biological gap between men and monkey than had been thought, but that they also have made her more appreciative of the differences, which seem to lie in the evolution of certain parts of the brain.

THE EVIDENCE of these differences include a spoken language, which allows communication about the past and future; an appreciation of beauty; the human emotions of love and hate; and man's deep self-awareness which results in philosophical ponderings for an explanation of his existence and the world

he lives in.

"I wonder where and when these emotions developed in man," Mrs. Van Lawick-Goodall said. "What evolutionary pressures caused them?"

In her book, she follows the lives of several chimps, especially an old female named Flo and her offspring, and makes them come alive as greatly varied individuals.

The Englishwoman, who received a doctorate from Cambridge University in 1964 on the basis of her primate research, said she and her husband modeled the raising of their son, nicknamed "Grub," on chimpanzee child-rearing methods.

CHIMP MOTHERS coddle and cuddle their youngsters for years, breast-feeding them in moments of stress as well as at meal-time and allowing them to cling to them at all times.

"Our son absolutely thrived," she said. "People predicted he'd be a real mommy's boy, but he's four-and-a-half now and far from it." With a smile of pride: "He's very independent now."

Mrs. Van Lawick-Goodall said she expects to spend the rest of her life studying the chimpanzees at Gombe, following the entire life of some of the primates born since she arrived there.

"They have a life expectancy of 50 years, so it's a very long term study," she said.

She did her first teaching at Stanford last fall and found students interested because of "their urgency to learn about behavior."

AS FOR HERSELF, "It's my thing. I think I was born wanting to understand animals. When I was four, I spent five hours in a hen house watching the chickens. I think that's odd behavior for a child of four. It's something that was born in me."

"From age eight, when I read Dr. Doolittle books, I wanted to be a girl who watched animals in Africa and wrote books about them."

Donna Finkler's Interested In Your Good Dental Health

by GENIE CAMPBELL

The theory being tossed around in today's dentistry is very pleasing to the individual. Namely, that a set of teeth will last a life time . . . if properly taken care of.

And educating the masses to the finer points about tooth decay and gum neglect is up to dental hygienists like Mrs. Donna Finkler, whose entire career is oriented to preventive dentistry.

A recent addition to the dental hygiene staff of Harper College, the Chicago commuter instructs the students in such classes as community dentistry, "which is an umbrella for dental health education," said Mrs. Finkler. "It's oriented more toward the social aspects of dentistry as opposed to purely clinical skills."

"THERE IS CURRENTLY a big emphasis on prevention," she continued. "If you take care of your teeth, you can save them for life. Tooth loss is no longer considered inevitable."

With a degree in dental hygiene from the University of Iowa and a master's degree in public health from the University of Michigan, Mrs. Finkler is well versed in the field of dental health education.

After graduating from the University of Iowa, she served three years as a dental hygienist in a private practice in Des Moines, her home town, leaving finally for Iowa City to work with the Bureau of Dental Health, a branch of the Iowa State Health Department.

After receiving her master's degree and before accepting a position at Harper College, she worked with the American Dental Association in Chicago.

"I WAS ALWAYS interested in a health science career," she said. "It's really a good field for women and well . . . Iowa had a good program, so that's how I got started."

In trying to get Harper students involved in special programs offered by the American Dental Association, Mrs. Finkler was asked to fill a teaching vacancy in the dental hygiene program.

"I like it very much," she said about teaching. "I feel like I'm really accomplishing something. Public health is pretty solid. You don't see progress as fast as with students."

The role of the dental hygienist has become increasingly important with the great emphasis on preventive dentistry, Mrs. Finkler feels, for it is the dental hygienist who cleans teeth, takes the x-rays and generally educates the patient as to the care of his teeth, allowing the dentist extra freedom and time to concentrate on the restorative aspects of dentistry.

IN MAY Mrs. Finkler will be installed as president of the Illinois Dental Hygienists Association which works to upgrade the image and responsibilities of dental hygienists and also provide continuing education courses.

Ever since the role of the dental hygienist was created in the early 1900s, the field has been more or less designated as particularly geared for women. But the de-emphasis on job classifications according to sex is beginning to have its effect.

The freshman dental hygienists class at Harper currently boasts an enrollment of three men, and last June Harper graduated its first male dental hygienist . . . the first in the state as far as Mrs. Finkler is aware.

MRS. DONNA FINKLER guides students enrolled in the dental hygiene program at Harper College in the proper cleaning of the teeth. In May she will be installed as president of the Illinois Dental Hygienists Association.

Fashion by Genie

Not everyone is pushing to get on the Chinese fashion junk. While most designers have utilized the Chinese influence very heavily in their spring and summer lines for both garments and accessories, others are merely shaking their heads.

One is Michel Goma who designs for the French fashion house of Jean Patou.

Even though one American firm is doing a sell-out business in authentic Chinese workers' uniforms, Goma thinks contemporary Eastern garb is a fly-by-night affair.

"The young can wear the workers' costume," he said. "It's fun but only a fad."

GOMA FEELS the main problem is that women have just gotten away from the costume route which the Chinese mode of dressing with its very distinctive designs and markings represents.

He instead sees the total rejection of the uniform look by mature women for colors instead, brightened to their fullest, whirling skirts and soft young silhouettes.

His words should be taken as an investment warning. If you like the Chinese look, by all means wear it . . . but also be selective and limiting in your choices. The costume look is always fun until it is overdone.

And for the men, Cardin is at it again. Always fashionably ahead, he just recently showed his 1973 collection.

THE CARDIN silhouette of the future stresses ultra wide stiffened shoulders standing away from the arms in sleeveless blouses. Hips are very slim with trouser tops built well above the waist.

The business executive will continue to go the route of the tailored suits which show the new widened shoulder lines and lapels, complete with collar and tie, wider trousers, a slightly shorter coat and center vent.

THE BUSINESSMAN is not forgotten in Pierre Cardin's new line. Most distinctive is the swashbuckling velour hat.

And the businessman of 1973, only a year away, should never be without his Cardin broad-brimmed velour felt hat in a very noticeable bronze or green.

Group To 'Go See' Little City

The Suburban Service League of Little City in Palatine is planning a "go see" tour of the residential school for the handicapped Sunday afternoon. Members, their husbands and guests, Little City volunteers, and persons interested in Little City are invited.

Before the tour, the group will meet at Lancer's Steak House in Schaumburg for cocktails and dinner. The social hour begins at noon, and a roast beef dinner will be served at 1:30.

During cocktails, Donald Becker, superintendent of the school, will show slides and answer questions as an introduction to the tour.

TRANSPORTATION to and from Little City will be provided by school bus for those wishing it. The tour of the buildings and grounds includes a stop at the newly decorated Sheltered Workshop.

The tour ends with a champagne hour at the school canteen.

Reservations for the dinner may be mailed to Mrs. Earl Ogier, chairman of the event, at 145 Old Dundee Road, Barrington, by Thursday. Checks for $5 per person should be made out to Suburban Service League of Little City.

Mrs. Robert Oram, 358-0031, can be called for further information.

Round And Round She Goes . . .

by MARY SHERRY

There is no better way to recall the thrill of getting a bicycle as a child than to get one as a birthday gift on one of those birthdays past thirty.

My husband had decided last summer that he needed the exercise and that bike riding would be a good thing for both of us to do. So he ordered two bikes — his and hers. However, at that time of the year, apparently a lot of husbands were thinking along the same lines because only one bike was delivered, and we were told it would take a couple of months to get the other.

"I hope it's yours," I said as my husband began to unpack the carton. I said it because his enthusiasm for bike riding had suddenly wanted, and I knew he was hoping it was mine. It turned out to be a man's bike.

FOR A WHILE HE didn't ride it very much, but soon I noticed he began to disappear after dinner, occasionally at first, then regularly, for a spin on the bike. Just as I started to indulge in my amusement over my husband's new plaything, it dawned on me that, I, too, had gradually begun to use it to run to the store and the post office. At first it was for fun and fresh air. Then I discovered using the bike saved time because by cutting through a field, I avoided two traffic lights that invariably kept me waiting in the car.

So, in the back of my mind I started to grow the thought that it would be nice to have my own bike, contrary to the impression I had given my husband. Apparently he had been thinking the same thing, because when this spring rolled around and with it my birthday, he thoroughly surprised me with a new bike.

"IT'S BEAUTIFUL," I said as he finished putting it together.

"I'm glad you like it."

"It's almost as exciting getting this as getting my first bike!" I exclaimed.

"Then maybe the salesman was right," he said, tightening the handlebars.

"What do you mean?"

"He wanted to sell me plastic streamers to go with it — and a headlight. I told him those would be good for next Christmas."

"Maybe a basket," I suggested seriously, "or tape for the handlebars, stirrups for the pedals and a number for my back," I suggested less seriously.

FOR A FEW DAYS after that I had been happily riding for fun, exercise and errands, thinking that I had to become an adult before I was able to really appreciate a bike. I had considered how different my outlook on cycling is now compared to that of the days of my first two-wheeler. Then, last Friday, when my husband came home from work, he roared as he opened the door, "WHO LEFT A BIKE IN THE DRIVEWAY?"

It has taken me 22 years to come full cycle.

Northwest Mental Health Clinic Offers Two Courses

Classes in communication with children and in marital life will be conducted at Northwest Mental Health Clinic, 1711 W. Campbell St., Arlington Heights, beginning Monday, April 24.

The eight-week communication course will be held from 7 to 8 p.m. and the marriage one from 8:30-9:30. There is a $15 fee. Instructor is Dr. Bruce Denner, formerly an associate professor of psychology at Indiana University now associated with the mental health center.

The course in communicating with children is a repeat of the one conducted earlier this year by Dr. Denner. It is aimed at parents, teachers and others dealing with children to help them communicate their feelings toward youngsters and to respond to children in everyday situations. There are no prerequisites.

The marital life class will include lectures, class discussion, small group experiences and special questionnaires and will cover these topics: Marriage as system in conflict and harmony, Impact of crisis and change, Marital patterns, Conflict in marriage, Suburban housewife with commuting husband, Women's liberation - men's liberation, Bridging the generation gap and Contractual marriages.

Registration may be in person at the clinic or by telephone, 392-1420.

Next On The Agenda

BETA SIGMA PHI

Xi Zeta Epsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi meets Wednesday evening at 8 in the Jack Gowan home, 524 S. Prindle St., Arlington Heights. Final arrangements for the Founders Day banquet will be detailed by Mrs. Richard Fleming, vice president.

The evening program is "Friendships in Beta Sigma Phi," to be given by Mrs. Kenneth Shirley, and "Examples of Friendship" by Mrs. Warren Bristow.

Xi Eta Rho Chapter will meet Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. L. D. Legg, 1132 Haddow, Arlington Heights. The program will be given by Mrs. Frank Rhoback.

New officers were recently announced for the chapter. Mrs. Harry Traun, Des Plaines, is president; Mrs. Legg is vice president; Mrs. John Holm, Hoffman Estates, recording secretary; Mrs. Mickey Redmond, Mount Prospect, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Albert Kalivoda, Rolling Meadows, treasurer.

WOMEN ACCOUNTANTS

Miss Marion Butzow, district manager of Elmwood Park Office of the Department of Health Education and Welfare, will speak on Medicare at Wednesday's dinner meeting of the American Society of Women Accountants. It will be held at Louis Restaurant in Addison.

Miss Butzow will discuss the 1972 changes in Social Security-Medicare benefits and the latest Medicare rules.

Area accountants and guests are welcome. Social hour begins at 5:30, dinner at 6:30. Reservations may be made by calling the president, Mrs. William Ellbracht, CPA, of Arlington Heights, at 253-5540.

PARENTS OF DIABETICS

Northwest Suburban Parents of Diabetic Children will hold their next meeting Thursday at 8 p.m. in Chippewa Junior High School, Des Plaines.

Mrs. Kenneth Deutsch will speak about the week's visit she and her daughter made to Joslin Clinic in Boston, a teaching hospital for diabetes.

The meeting is open to anyone interested in diabetes. Mrs. Clarence Weardahl, 802 Quince Lane, Mount Prospect, has further details.

CHAPTER HL - PEO

Chapter HL of the PEO Sisterhood of Des Plaines will meet tonight in the home of Mrs. Edward Hennrichson. Mrs. Lommen Eley will assist as co-hostess.

Mrs. C. C. Parriott will present a program on historic Illinois.

Antiquer At Carson's

Home Formby, Florida antique dealer and furniture refinishing expert, will be in the housewares department of Carson's Randhurst Store Thursday.

Formby says "the proper care of furniture is an investment in the future when there may be no more new wood furniture due to the shortage of woods." He predicts today's furniture will be tomorrow's antiques.

Scott Digs Ecology

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI) — Actor George C. Scott was so impressed with a 30-minute ecology film he saw on television that he asked the documentary's producers for a copy for his personal library. The film, produced in Dallas by the Fort Worth-based Southern Baptist Radio and TV Commission, used a speech given by an Indian in the 1850s to go along with the pictures.

Secretaries To Take A Journey

A "Sentimental Journey" will be taken by Park-Plains Chapter of the National Secretaries Association during Secretaries Week April 23-29. The group won't go far, just to the Rodeway Inn, 5615 N. Cumberland Ave., Chicago, for a 10:30 a.m. brunch on Saturday, April 29. It honors the chapter's 14th anniversary.

Appropriately the "journey" follows the association's program of the year, "The Romance of Transportation," featuring the Lorraine Whittle Dancers of Des Plaines. The entertainers will take the audience around the world in song and dance.

Members of the secretaries group will also model fashions suitable for travel through the courtesy of Michelle Gabrielle of Rosemont.

All area secretaries are invited to the brunch. They should call Mrs. Leroy Gander, 391-2389 days, before April 22.

Watch for the country-city effect in boys' clothing for fall of '72. The look, says the Boys' and Young Men's Apparel Manufacturing Association, is handsome, not tricky; more tailored. The two-button, single-breasted suit is shaped but not extreme, still has wide lapels. The choice of accessories gives it either the country or the city look. Many will have matching vests.

For spring the bootmakers have come up with a beauty in white burlap. This pair of boots has big silver eyelets, natural burlap lacing and an espadrille sole.

With the return of the ladylike classics, Kenneth Jay Lane brings back the important button earring — golden knots with centers of pearl, jade, coral, turquoise and jet — simple buttons the size of a nickel in an endless range of colors.

With backs bared for evening this spring, watch for rhinestone everywhere. On necklaces, earrings, bracelets worn in pairs.

The majority of the silhouettes in Adele Simpson's spring collection are slender, slightly fitted and flared at the hem. This outline is adapted to coat costumes, to suits with various jacket lengths.

Ever-flattering white runs throughout the summer fashion collection. Stiff white linen with a slightly glazed surface run through collections from Paris. White jackets were worn with printed dresses, trousers or pleated skirts. Or, they were shown over ankle length dinner dresses, skirts and formal evening gowns.

White shoes are "in" with everything. Yves St. Laurent used white patent wing-toed pumps with three inch built-up leather heels. Ankle strapped sandals are all over the lot.

The Celanese fabrics people, after covering the European couture collections, listed some items no fashionable female should be without come summer. These included the white jacket, a striped shirtwaist dress with matching Windsor tie, two pleated skirts preferably navy, one to the knee, one just above the ankle, a printed shirtmaker dress with pleated skirt, one red outfit, and something green, something yellow.

The Home Line

by Dorothy Ritz

Dear Dorothy: A friend told me that you once recommended that Epsom salts be used on rosebushes in the spring. I've never seen this in any rose books and was wondering where you came upon this information. — Mrs. Jordan Rosson.

It came from an expert rose grower — Charles Dawson. In his book on growing roses he recommended two pounds of Epsom salts every spring for 100 square feet of bed surface or for 25 plants. The Epsom salts provide the magnesium needed to make plants grow strong new canes or bottom shoots. My neighbors and I drifted into the habit of putting 2 tablespoons around each rosebush in the spring — never later. Epsom salts, of course, is in addition to all the other rose feedings, not in place of them.

Dear Dorothy: You answer so many oddball questions, maybe you can handle this one, too. Why the custom of colored eggs at Easter-time? — Jenny H.

The custom is supposed to represent the fact that the egg stands for life and the perpetuation of life. The coloring of eggs imitates the brilliant colors that represent the onset of spring. One can go on for pages on how the customs vary in foreign countries, but, fundamentally, they are similar.

Dear Dorothy: Found a new use for the butter and margarine wrappers that I've always saved to grease casseroles, baking pans and so on. They're perfect to grease washed baking potatoes as there is just the right amount of shortening left on and the wrapper is just flexible enough to use easily. Maybe other pack rats haven't tried this one. — Helen R.

Use Care In Laundering When Illness In Family

When there is sickness in your family, you need to give special attention to laundering clothing and household textiles.

Recent research by the USDA Agricultural Research Service shows that certain viruses persist for significant periods on laundered fabrics. In addition, viruses may be transferred from one fabric to another.

Carol Warfield, University of Illinois textiles instructor, explains that neither the water temperature nor the detergents used under today's home laundering conditions can be relied on to reduce the number of microorganisms to a safe level.

The USDA researchers carried out two complete series of launderings using the types of detergents available on the domestic market.

The detergents showed little difference in virus-removing ability, but the temperatures of the wash water did. Very little detectable virus remained after washing in hot water. Although washing in warm water or cold water decreased virus content, significant amounts of virus remained in most fabrics.

HOWEVER, THE heat involved in tumble drying, which generally fluctuates between 135 and 175 degrees F. in a home-type dryer, can also be effective in helping to reduce the number of microorganisms present.

Sterile fabrics laundered with fabrics that contained virus were often contaminated during the laundering process.

But when hot water was used, the amount of virus detected on the originally sterile fabrics was very low.

In each laundering, researchers removed water samples near the end of the rinse cycle. Analysis of these samples revealed no active virus when the fabrics were washed in hot water. When fabrics were washed in cold water or warm water, the rinse water contained some virus, indicating that waste water from laundering can be a source of contamination.

Mrs. Warfield points out that microorganisms can remain alive on the inner surface of the washing machine and be transferred from one load to another.

YOU CAN CONTROL microorganisms by using one of these disinfectants in laundering:

—liquid chlorine bleach. But follow the label instructions so that you do not damage the fibers and colors that may be sensitive to chlorine bleach.

—pine oil disinfectants with at least 70 per cent steam-distilled pine oil.

—phenolic disinfectants. Labels of such products should contain the words orthobenzyl-papachlorophenol or ortho-phenyl-chlorophenol.

Maine West Rips Shots In Victory

After one game of the 1972 baseball season, Maine West had a team batting average of — hold on to your hats — .444.

Actually, the average slipped somewhat after the first inning, when, after six batters, the Warriors were averaging 1.000.

"We were out there stinging the ball today," said Warrior coach Al Carstens. "Most of those hits were real shots."

A pair of Prospect pitchers knew for sure that the Warriors were ripping out line shots as Maine West dumped the host Knights 13-0 in a non-conference game Thursday.

Maine West opened the season in a manner to please the heart of any coach.

Ackerman's blast carried at least 350 feet in the air in dead center field. Since there is no fence at Prospect, the ball rolled half way to Mayor Daley's office and so he scored with relative ease.

In the second inning, Blumer led off with a walk and scored on a double to left-center by Wolfgram. Wolfgram scored on a single down the left field line by Schroeder to make it 8-0.

Bill Heyse was hit by a pitch, Bill Stapke walked, Blumer singled, Wolfgram walked the bases on an error and Schroeder did the same to account for three more runs to make it 11-0.

Two Warriors were thrown out at the plate in the fourth inning (four Warriors were thrown out at the plate during the game) and Maine West did not score in that frame.

Maine West added a run in the fifth inning as Blumer cracked a triple to right-center and scored on a sacrifice fly by Wolfgram. Ackerman scored the game's final run on a fielder's choice, a wild pitch, a passed ball and an error.

Among the notable stickhandlers Thursday were Bouchee, who went 4-for-4; Blumer, who went 3-for-3; Wolfgram, who went 2-for-3; and Schroeder, who went 2-for-4.

The slugging outburst somewhat overshadowed (if there had been a sun) the pitching of Frank Mitchell and Ackerman. Mitchell hurled four innings, allowed only three hits and struck out seven. Ackerman worked two innings, gave up one hit and fanned four.

In the cold, damp and, later, rain (which ended the contest in the sixth inning), the game was a typical opener — nine wild pitches, four passed balls, five errors and one hit batsman.

Saxon Netmen Top Norsemen

History repeated itself in the Schaumburg-Maine North meet Thursday. The Norsemen, visiting the new Saxon courts for the season opener, lost a 4-1 decision. When these two new schools met last year, Schaumburg also won, its only victory of the 1971 season. Schaumburg swept the singles matches in this manner — Randy Madden over Lee Brenner, 6-1, 6-4; Dave Fenwick over Greg Polan, 6-2, 6-0; and Harvey Sharley over Tim Tynan, 6-1, 6-2. The Saxons also took the first doubles match behind Bill Hommowun and Larry Willer. They stopped Dave Hunter and Jenner, 6-1, 6-1. Steve Bach and Rich Reese were stopped in their drive to make it a shut-out by Vames and Payette, 6-2, 6-1. The Schaumburg frosh-soph team also won by the same 4-1 score.

Norsemen Romp To 14-4 Victory

by DON FRISKE

The Norsemen of Maine North didn't wait too long to see what potential their baseball team has. In their season opener last Thursday they defeated the host Rolling Meadows Mustangs, 14-4.

The Mustangs could only collect four hits off of a Maine North pitcher-shortstop combination. Norsemen Gary Halls started on the mound yielding only two hits and one run. In the fourth inning Halls was moved to shortstop, opening the mound spot for starting shortstop Dave Helton. Helton was touched for three runs in the first frame he pitched, but he settled down after that, shutting out the Mustangs the rest of the route.

The Norsemen bats were not kept quiet until the final two innings when Mustang reliever Tom Asby shut them out. Aside from the sixth and seventh innings, the Norsemen scored in every other frame.

Their biggest run production for one inning was the first when they scored four runs off losing pitcher Dave Thorsen. Mark Harloff and Helton led off with singles. Halls then reached base on an error, loading the bases. Ken Spain followed with a sacrifice fly to right field, scoring Harloff. Helton scored while Halls moved to second on a double steal. Jim Kozlowski followed with a single that drove in Halls and Micky Drewes reached on an error to bring in Kozlowski, thus ending the scoring for Norsemen in the first inning.

Only three of the total 17 hits were of the extra base variety and one of them came in the third inning. Norseman second baseman Mark Straessle hit a Texas league double to left field driving in two of his teammates.

Both of the other extra base clouts were long triples to deep centerfield. The first one came off the bat of Mustang rightfielder Jim Freres driving in runners from second and third. Spain tripled in the fifth inning off Mustang reliever Greg Bublit. Spain scored on a Mustang error, scoring the Norsemen's 12th run. Spain had a perfect day at the plate going three-for-three, with a walk, a run scored, and two RBIs. Straessle brought the most men home as four players touched the plate as a result of his hitting.

Both teams had their share of errors with the Norsemen booting five while the Mustangs were dropping four. The Mustangs only capitalized once on the Norsemen miscues. The Norsemen did, however, use the Mustangs' mistakes to their advantage as only five of the Norsemen's 14 runs were earned.

Florida Trip Successful Against Stiff Competition

Oakton College's baseball team had a measure of success against stiff competition in a five-game set in St. Petersburg last week.

The Raiders opened with an 11-9 victory over Florida Presbyterian behind the hitting of Dan Moss and Larry Gawaluch. Moss went 3-for-5 and Gawaluch connected for two hits in four trips to the plate. Rick Miller was the winning pitcher.

Oakton battled St. John's of New York to a 2-2 tie as Raider hurlers Scott Johnson and Frank Kochevar came up with splendid performances.

Despite a 2-for-3 effort at the plate by Bob Ebebrecht, Oakton lost to St. Petersburg Junior College, a team which entered the contest with 40 games under its belt already this season, 9-4.

In a second meeting with St. Petersburg, Oakton held a 4-0 lead until the ninth inning when the hosts rallied for five runs and earned the win. Jim Buchholz went 2-for-3 in the loss.

The Raiders closed out their Florida trip with a 2-2-1 record by blanking State University of New York at Binghamton 5-0. Larry Teschner was the winning hurler while throwing four shutout innings.

Oakton will open Skyway Conference play against Elgin at Lord's Park in Elgin today at 3 p.m.

Conference Play Opens? That's What Schedule Says

With one eye on lineup cards and another eye on the sky above and the mud below, baseball coaches in the area are anticipating their first conference games of the season.

Maine West is slated to open its Central Suburban League campaign against Niles West in an important contest for both clubs. The two squads are expected to make runs at the conference championship. The Warriors' Saturday scheduled game with Evanston was washed out and a new date has not been selected. A game with Oak Park, which has been postponed twice, has been rescheduled for Thursday, April 13.

If the weather and the fields are conducive to baseball, the Warriors will play Niles West at 4:30 p.m. today.

Maine North is scheduled to play its first official Central Suburban League game ever today at Deerfield at 4:15 p.m. The Norsemen were forced to postpone Saturday's game with Niles East to an undetermined date.

Oakton College is slated to play its first Skyway Conference baseball game ever today at Elgin at 3 p.m.

Maine East is scheduled to host Evanston, in a game which was rained out once before, today at 3:45 p.m. in a non-conference confrontation. The Demons were washed out of a game with Maine South Saturday. No new date has been set.

Notre Dame is slated to host Carmel in a Suburban Catholic Conference game today at 4 p.m. Scheduled doubleheaders with St. Joseph and Luther North were postponed over the weekend.

In other sports action today, Notre Dame will be home with Luther North in a golf match at 4 p.m. and Maine East will host Niles North in a golf meet at 3:50 p.m.

Other postponements over the weekend were the Moline Relays (which was rescheduled for this coming Saturday), a tennis meet between St. Ignatius and Notre Dame and a tennis meet between Prospect and Maine East.

St. Viator Takes Pair From Dons By 5-0, 8-5

St. Viator found its batting eye in the fifth inning of the first game at Notre Dame by smashing six straight hits and batting around during a five-run barrage that resulted in a 5-0 conference conquest last week.

The Lions then relied on southpaw Mike Cook, who two-hit the Dons, walking three and fanning 13.

Joe Bombicino singled sharply up the middle before Stan Bobowski rifled a two-run triple over the right fielder's head. Ed Heilesen capped the rally with a run-scoring base hit over the bag at third.

Cook was in complete command over the seven-inning affair. The six Notre Dame base runners he did allow, failed to get past second base. He struck out four straight once and five in a row later on. Joe Saccamano and Randy Kamowski were the only Dons to solve the strong left-hander.

Martin and Heilesen paced the victors with two hits apiece.

The Lions completed a sweep by rallying for three runs in the final two innings for an 8-5 decision.

Craig Zander went the distance for St. Viator, walking two and striking seven and contributing two key hits.

St. Viator is now 2-1 on the season and 1-1 in Suburban Catholic League play while Notre Dame lost its first two decisions against two victories.

Warriors Clip Knight Netters

Prospect won in No. 1 singles, but Maine West captured the other four matches as the Warriors posted a 4-1 victory Thursday.

Bob Zimmman of Prospect defeated Steve Wild 6-3 and 6-4 in No. 1 singles, but the Knights were unable to win another match.

John Anderson of Maine West downed Jeff Risteen 6-0 and 6-3 in No. 2 singles and teammate Jack Semler defeated Mark Mavis 7-5 and 6-4 in No. 3 singles.

The Warriors won in No. 1 doubles with Joe Thimm and Roger Junge in a 6-0, 5-7 and 9-7 verdict and Doug Lauffenberger and Doug Meister defeated Chuck Ruckstaetter and Steve Ristow 7-5 and 6-3.

Maine West won the frosh-soph meet 3-2.
